Last week we noted in these columns that the armed services needed recruits, for their strengths were more than 8,000 below the maximums presently authorized and 20,000 below those ultimately provided for in their full organization. The international situation is grave, and many people and newspapers have been raising an alarm that our army, navy and air force are dangerously under-manned. A total strength of 33,827 is insignificant compared with the United States' or with our war-time forces. Since the organization is geared to cope now with 42,000, that strength should be immediately reached. It is not, however, desirable to launch a grandiose recruiting drive with a view to doubling or tripling the size of the armed forces merely because war-clouds seem to be lowering.

Before the costly services of tens of thousands of men are enlisted the Department of National Defence and the Chiefs of Staff have to make tactical and strategic decisions about their employment in the light of modern (not 1939-45) military knowledge. They must try to have answers to questions like: Is a large ground force outmoded? Are large bombing planes, cruisers, anti-aircraft guns likely to be useless in a third war? A further condition to a rapid increase in the size of our forces is this: there is little to be gained from pouring men into uniform unless there are adequate and suitable training facilities available.

Mr. Claxton, the Minister of National Defence, said last month that Canada "must ensure positive security" under her own arms. It has not yet been demonstrated that our security can best be provided for by a relatively huge standing army, air force and navy in a country whose limited population makes even our biggest army meagre in numbers when compared with that of the United States or Soviet Russia. The Active and Reserve forces need to be strengthened, but not in panicky proportions.

NOTE AND COMMENT

We read of a new piggy bank which says "Oink!" when a coin is dropped in it. We are content with the old-fashioned kind which says "Clink!"

Diary Of A Hellenist

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Did some research into the nature of sleep this afternoon. Too many people take sleep for granted, not realizing that it is one of Nature's great mysteries. They are unable to distinguish between a light doze and the most profound slumber. I spend a good deal of time investigating sleep, and some day I shall publish my findings in a learned book... It occurs to me that what the world needs is a satisfactory substitute for fresh air. Everybody is supposed to need fresh air, but in order to get it one must now waste valuable time wandering about out-of-doors. It is possible to aerate water by dropping a little chemical pill into it; could we not have little pills which, if taken internally, would give the same benefit as an hour's brisk walk? Here is something for scientists to get their teeth into, instead of fussing over atomic energy. I simply can't bother with fresh air and do my research on sleep in the same Sunday afternoon.

MONDAY: Read in a magazine tonight that gout is just as prevalent today as it was in the eighteenth century, although some doctors do not recognize it when they see it, believing the disease to be extinct. It seems to me that several other diseases are in the same anomalous position. For instance, in "The Anatomy of Melancholy" Robert Burton makes frequent reference to a disease which he calls "crudity", the symptoms of which were distress in the stomach, wind, and a sensation of having swallowed hot pennies. Lots of people that I know have these symptoms; if they are poor they consume patent medicines; if they are rich they permit surgeons to do fancy whittling and knot-tying in their entrails. They give the ailment many names, but it is just plain crudity, and I should think that doctors would recognize it. A sure sign of crudity, says Burton, is what he calls "hard, sour and sharp belching". Everybody knows how common this is; at service club luncheons you can hardly hear the speaker because of it. I have even heard it mentioned on the radio. Crudity numbers its victims by the millions, yet doctors refuse to acknowledge its existence.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: Did a lot of 'phoning today, and time after time the busy signal halted me when I badly wanted to speak. There ought to be a gadget on telephones which would make it plain that somebody else wanted to say a few words to one of the parties of the existing conversation. The busy signal goes "buzz-buzz, buzz-buzz"; suppose this were changed to "shut-up, shut-up" — that would do the trick . . . My trouble is that when I get the busy signal on the telephone I waste valuable time trying to imagine who has the number I want to talk to; my fevered fancy calls into being all sorts of witless and inconsequent conversations which certainly have no existence in fact. The notion which most enrages me is that young people are using a line which I want for pressing business reasons in order to make love. Dimly, through the "buzz-buzz" of the busy signal I seem to hear such terms of endearment as "cup-cake," "dream-boat," "lambie-pie" and the repulsive like. It is well known that the telephone wires carry an incalculable freight of romance every day, and the idea that they are doing so when I want to talk about something quite different causes me well-nigh to strangle on my own bile.

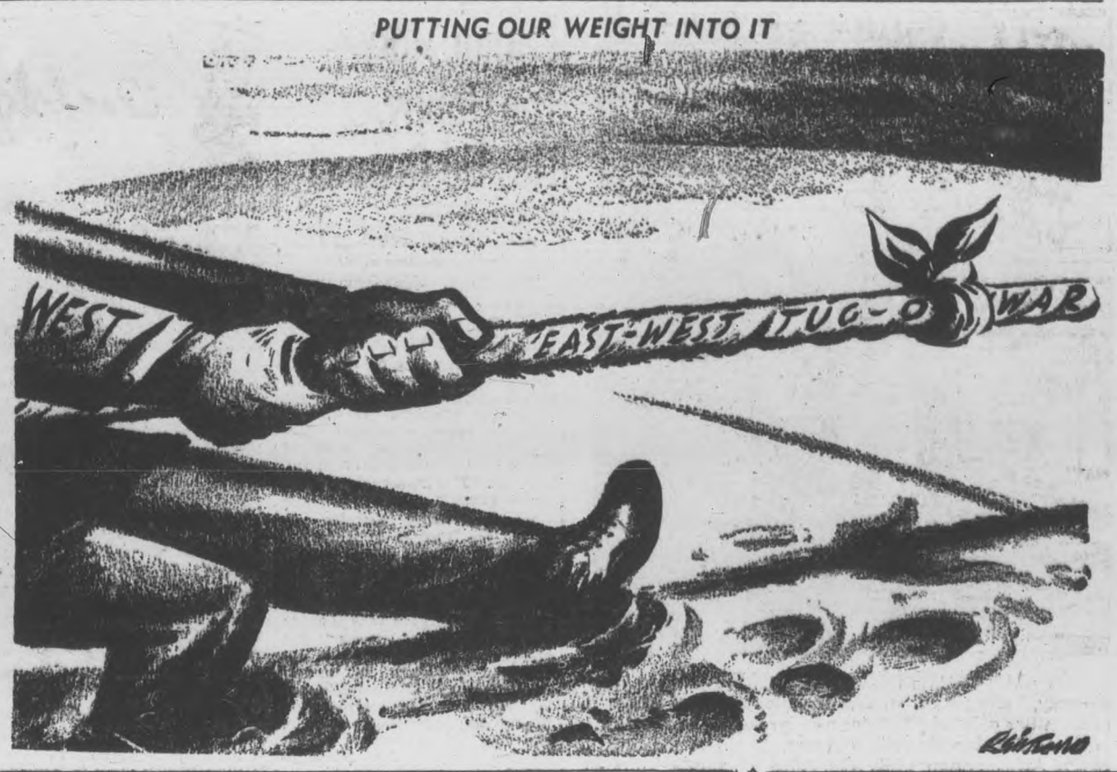
✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: It is a curious fact that some people can create a great deal more stench, fog, dirt and annoyance with a single cigarette than most people can make with a bonfire. The common cigarette smoker is not much of a nuisance; he keeps most of his smoke to himself, and what he spreads about is not too offensive. But there are fellows who blow out cubic feet of rank gas after a single inhalation, infecting the air around them for several yards. They also cough, rackingly and nauseatingly, until you wonder if they are getting ready to throw up. They blow ashes over everything, and when they have done with a cigarette they allow the butt to smoulder. What is more, their smoke has not the ordinary smoky smell; it is sour and bitter, and their clothes smell like ash-heaps. Had to do some work today in a room with one of these people, and for a time I watched him fascinated: he sucked in third of his fag at one gasp, gulped, looked sick, and then blew out a great greenish cloud; when this had dispersed he was racked with coughing; then the whole noisy, dirty business was repeated. What could such a man not do with a big pipe? He would be a secret weapon in himself.

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: Business called me to Montreal today, and while I was getting something to eat on the train someone dropped a tract on my seat. I seem to have an uncommon attraction for distributors of such literature. This thing was labelled a "railway tract" and seemed to have been specially written for train riders. It described how the writer of the tract had met and argued with "a Romish priest' on a train, and had (according to his own account) made the priest look pretty silly. Now I have no special brief for Romish priests; I merely include them in the awe-stricken, cringing admiration which I extend toward all clergymen. But if anything were to make me a champion of the Church of Rome it would be nasty little pamphlets like this one, sneaked into my book on a train.

✧ ✧ ✧



FRIDAY: In intervals of my business today I viewed some of the antiquities and amenities of Montreal, including a fashion show of Parisian models. About a third of the audience at this affair was composed of men, which I do not think would have been the case in Ontario. But what could be more sensible than for a man to pass an hour watching a group of pretty girls walking about in beautiful clothes? At performances where the girls wear no clothes at all the spectators are entirely male; does the wearing of clothes make such a great difference? Not to the Philosopher Marchbanks . . . The studied charm of mannequins is a curious manifestation; they smile, with a kind of deep yearning, at nobody in particular, and when they happen to let their eyes fall upon you, you have a sudden feeling of being transparent, like Marley's Ghost . . . I am told that when these girls change their clothes, they put their heads in bags, like horses being led out of a burning stable, in order not to disarrange their hair, and that they rest leaning flat against inclined ironing boards, so as not to muss their clothes—unlike Philosopher Marchbanks, who likes to sleep in his one presentable suit, on a too-small sofa.

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: The differences between Montreal and Toronto are basic and significant. In Montreal I see dozens of men wearing wigs, and almost as many who obviously wear corsets. In the Queen City of the Trillium Province wigs are a great rarity, and prolapsed abdomens are commonplace. The shiny dome, the swaying paunch—these are marks of respectability in Toronto, and are carefully cultivated; a special wax is used by Toronto barbers for polishing those heads, and the tailors cut the trousers in such a way as to throw the bay window into prominence. They seem to say: "I am a plain, blunt fellow and I scorn subterfuge; the flesh may be weak, but the spirit is of brass." In Montreal, on the contrary, fanciful wigs are worn by old men, and cruel stays are endured by them, as a tribute to the charm of youth and beauty. Your Montreal man, at thirty or so, cries to the Fleeting Moment in the words of Faust, "Ah, stay, thou art so fair!" and then he buys anything he can get which will keep up a pretence — however scarecrow-like — of youth. It is the old conflict of Hebraism and Hellenism, and upon the whole I plump for Hellenism, even when it means wigs and circingles.

PUTTING OUR WEIGHT INTO IT

Letter To The Editor

A TIME FOR CAUTION

Sir: As a worker at CGE and a member of the Union since its organization may I have space in your paper to express my views on the new contract which is getting under way.

First in regards to the 30 cents an hour wage increase, (which I feel sure, is far above what we'd ever get) it is ridiculous anyway. We have surely learned by now that the cost of living only goes up in accordance, so actually no matter what we make we won't be much better off financially. And if we have to go on strike to get it, we'll only lose the gain we made last year. And we'll be farther behind than ever.

Looking the contract of last year over from all angles I think we have pretty fair working conditions and that we can't go far wrong in asking our negotiating committee to simply renew it for another year at least, and by then perhaps world conditions in general will be more settled and we'll know what better things we should ask for.

Of course there may be a few minor details in the old contract to remedy, but on the whole I, for one, think it's very fair.

As for the 40-hour week, well I don't think anyone is really very much bothered by the extra hour we work a day now. So to argue or fuss over that seems a waste of time. If we had that extra hour of leisure from work, we really wouldn't accomplish any more in life with or without it, so it doesn't really matter anyway.

I ask every worker a. CGE to look around them at their fellow-workers. Are there really so many dissatisfied people around you. Don't they all look,—well,—as contented as any one at work? And when you meet them uptown of an evening, can you spot a CGE worker, because of the poorly dressed, dejected individual he or she may be because they have to work at CG for such low wages as our union would have us believe?

I think not. I think you'll find them as well off, and perhaps better than a good majority of those who work in other factories right here in our own City of Peterborough.

I certainly think the union has done a wonderful job for us in the past two years, but I feel we can't go much farther, without losing some of what we've already gained, so it is up to us, fellow-workers, to try for a renewal of our last year's contract and let well enough alone for the time being. In view of all the labor disruptions and rumors of the real reason behind them being a Communist plan worked out long ago, we must at this time be extra cautious.

Thank you.

UNION MEMBER.

A Scots girl obtained a situation in the South. One day her mistress asked her what particular part of Scotland she came from.

"I come from near Aberdeen," was the reply.

"Oh," said her mistress, "I'm sorry you didn't tell me so before. I had some friends staying there, and I would have asked you if you knew them."

"It's like this," retorted the girl, "When I was leaving home my mother said, 'Dinna boast'."

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word.

But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care, that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things: but one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her. (Luke 10: 38-42.)

Therefore, my brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved....

Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice....

Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.

And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus. (Phil. 4: 1, 4, 6, 7.)

A BRITISH OPINION

At Blacksmithing Trade 60 Years Veteran Has Nailed On 750,000 Shoes

By BOB BUCHANAN

About sixty-two years ago, a 16-year-old youth walked into a blacksmithing shop in Ashburnham to learn the trade of his father and three uncles. The youth learned his work well. For today, at 78, Simon Clancy is still smithing and can regard with satisfaction a useful present as well as a varied and happy past.

Mr. Clancy, who lives at 459 Rogers St., feels that his choice of work a pastime one. He declares positively that if he were able to take his choice again, it would be the same.

He comes by his ability and affinity for smithing through inheritence and the fact that the work has led him through a life of travel and interesting locales.

Simon Clancy was born in 1870 in Ashburnham, in a big building which housed the families' living quarters and the blacksmith shop. It stood at the corner of Mark and Elizabeth (now Hunter East) St. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clancy. When he was about six years of age, he can recall the night the building burned. He and his sister escaped the flames and were taken in for the night by neighbours. Their parents did not know of the transfer for the night, and believed that the two children had died in the burning house. However the next morning, they cheerfully reappeared.

At 16, he made his first full-time venture into the adult world. He started one morning to work with a tailoring establishment over a George St. store. Seated cross-legged on a table, he stitched cloth for two hours that morning. Then he was sent to a well for a pail of water. Returning to the shop, he placed the pail inside the door and walked away — quickly. That ended his tailoring career.

The second tentative choice of a life-work by the youth did not end quite so abruptly, but after only a short time, too. He worked briefly for a cooper named Wright. The shop, he recalls, was somewhere off Burnham St.

After these two flings, he entered the family business. The shop was operated by his father and his three uncles — Con Clancey, William Clancy and Peter Clancy. He worked for each of the four in turn, wherever his services were needed.

The first three years there netted him a total of $100. The fourth year, due to his increasing profession standards brought him a raise — to 65 cents a day.

Peterborough, at that time, had 10 or 12 big blacksmithing shops, he recalls, all principally engaged in work with horses. It cost about 10 cents to have a shoe "set" at that time. New shoes cost "three York shillings" — about 37 cents. The shops made their own shoes, nails and calks, materials which are now purchased.

The shops were kept humming then, too, for the horse "population" was much large than today. Then too, horses were used more regularly and required more frequent "upkeep" attention.

Of course, today, Mr. Clancy points out, most of the functions of the horses have been taken over by machinery. One field, he is confident, will remain in Dobbin's domain—that of bread and milk delivery. Experiments of firms in the larger cities, he points out, have shown that it takes two men on a truck to keep up with one man and a horse-wagon.

"They haven't yet worked out a truck which will stop at the right houses and follow the driver," he commented with a twinkle.

In 1890, after four years with the family shop to gain a thorough knowledge of the work, Mr. Clancy moved to Toronto, where he shod the horses of the Queen City for two years. Pay was $9 a week.

The Chicago World Fair in 1892 took him to the Windy City for the big show, shoeing four-and six-horse teams of the aristocracy of that city. Pay had doubled to $18 in that era of prosperity.

He joined the Barnum and Bailey Circus in the next year, as a full-time shoer for the horses of that travelling circus. He covered most of the major cities and towns of the United States during his stay with them.

He recalls working in a shop in Buffalo at the time the horse-drawn trams were being replaced with the electric system. Although the new method was delayed somewhat by the annoying habit of the third rail electrocuting somebody every once in a while, it was there to stay. With the change, thousands of expert horsemen, blacksmiths and shoers were thrown out of work and forced to spread out where their services were still needed or change to other forms of work.

Sailing experience formed the next block in the checkerboard pattern of Mr. Clancy's experience, as he sailed with the old passenger and cargo steamship "Chicora" in the summer of 1894, between Toronto and Lewiston, New York. That fall, he helped paint the old vessel. Then he turned his steps back to Peterborough.

Since that time, his life has been centred here, although in many cases, it could only be called a "headquarters", for his travelling habits continue to a slightly lesser degree. He has been on many winter jobs in lumber and mining camps in the north and in north-western Ontario.

During his life in Peterborough he has worked for a number of shops here. His present location — Charlton's, on Rubidge St. has been his work for the past 10 years.

He has made a number of trips back to the United States and other parts of Canada to visit his fellow-workers of the days of the big smithing shops. Many, however, were old when he was young in the game, and are no longer there.

At a conservative estimate, Mr Clancy has nailed on more than three-quarter of a million horseshoes. Naturally enough, the steady experience has gained him a valuable skill and knowledge. He tells of a fea he could do in his younger days — nail eight nails into a horse's shoe while the town clock sounded eight. And, he adds, the man who doubted that it could be done, have paid him sizeable bets in this city, Toronto, Buffalo and other centres. He admits he could not do it now, but affirms that he could teach a younger man the secret.

Another outstanding display he (Continued on Page 8)

FROM 16 TO 78 — Simon Clancy has been engaged in blacksmith work for 62 years. He is shown at the forge of his present employment in the city. His career—which includes an estimated 750,000 shoes nailed on horses—covers a tour with a big circus as shoer of their show horses and much lumber and mining camp work. He has been in Peterborough fairly regularly for the past 40 years. He was born here, into a family of blacksmiths. —Examiner Staff Photo

Outdoors

With PETE McGILLEN

ONE DAY IN EARLY DECEMBER, years ago, a hunter was walking through the woods, north of Madoc. The forest floor was carpeted with light snow. He carried a rifle, because he had set a trap for a bear, and a trapped bear can be an ugly customer. Suddenly he noticed a deer standing in a sunny spot. He walked closer, but the deer didn't move. Then he saw what was wrong. The deer was crippled. Both hind legs were stiff, paralysed by an injury. The month before a hunter's bullet had passed through both limbs, close to the first joint, and the only way the deer could move was by using the front feet, and dragging the hind legs at the same time. "I couldn't let it suffer, so I shot it at once". That's the way the hunter ended his story. I often think of that incident. How logical and sensible it is to do something for an animal when it is crippled. But how often do we pass crippled children on the street without a second thought? True, we can't kill them, we wouldn't want to, but there is something we can do. We can give as much thought to their condition as we always give to a crippled animal. Dig down for two dollars, five dollars, ten dollars and buy Easter seals from any member of the Rotary Club. If you don't know any Rotarian, see Roy Girven at Hood and Cumming Motors. Do it tonight before you forget. The appeal for aid to crippled children in Ontario is on now—and every cent you donate will help some crippled youngster get the treatment he needs.

THERE ARE RUMBLINGS of discontent among the resort owners. They resent the demands of sportsmen for increases in none-resident hunting and fishing license fees. There is no guarantee that the Government will hearken to these demands, but whether they do or not, I learned via the grapevine that organized resort owners will throw their lot in with the Northern Outfitters, and will seek the imposition of a one dollar resident fishing license fee for all anglers in Ontario over 16 years of age. They claim this money can then be used to carry out more extensive restocking. The resort owners too, so I am advised, will have delegates attend the spring meeting of the fish and game committee of the legislature to protect their interests. In short, the claim is that recent demands by conservationists and sportsmen are unreasonable and likely to hurt the tourist trade.

I DON'T AGREE with either the resort owners or the sportsmen. First, what have the resort owners done as a body in the past ten years to protect and perpetuate the fishing and hunting—in many cases their bread and butter. I know of many cases where they have tolerated violations of the bag limits and the size limits. They have allowed tourists to put fish into the icehouses and let them rot. They have not bothered to see if the tourist had a license, they have permitted their chore boys to clean under-sized fish. I could enumerate dozens of shortcomings. Suffice to say I am glad something has happened to make these people realize, that they too, have an obligation and responsibility to see that fish and game laws are enforced, and that the Dept. of Lands and Forests gets all the license revenue it is entitled to. Every dollar from a guide's license or a non-resident's fishing license, means the Government has more money to devote to restocking and law-enforcement.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

AS FOR THE SPORTSMEN, I can paraphrase the poem: Governments may come and go, but sportsmen go on forever. And to what end? Year after year practically the same resolutions are presented to the fish and game committee—what happens, is there a follow-up? No sir. Back in 1928, according to How Time Flies, the fish and game organization was clamoring for more game wardens. Did they get any? You count 'em. Did they get more severe penalties, or amendments to the fish and game act that made it easier to get a conviction? No sir, but they went away happy. They said their piece, blustered and fumed, were listened to, and that's all there was to it, with some minor exceptions. In my opinion, all we have succeeded in doing in the past 20 years is reduce the fish population still more, and kill deer to the point where there are only about three good hunting areas left in the province. Why doesn't a few members of those fish and game organizations across Ontario take the trouble to read the old minute books, then make comparisons. If what they find doesn't open their eyes, then I'm a puggwuzzy.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

HERE'S A SUGGESTION. It seems to me if the straws in the wind mean anything at this time, that politicians will play the resort owners against the sportsmen. Then there is only one thing to do. Both groups are bound together by the common bond of conservation, so unite forces, use a little horse-sense and have appreciation for the views and demands of each other. Actually both are fighting for the same thing, but for different reasons. Above all, look into the past, compare conditions then with those at present, then look into the future. Depletion and perhaps extermination of fish and game is inevitable unless we halt this wholesale slaughter, and unbalanced restoration. I say unbalanced because the government expenses for restocking last year was far below the amount in revenue obtained from sportsmen. Why should any province spend so much to bring people here, and so little to assure that they will come back.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

PEOPLE ALWAYS RESENT being awakened from their dreams. They kid themselves into believing that fish and game are plentiful. They believe in honesty and decency, and sportsmanship, but when they see these values violated they turn their heads, close their eyes. It's easier that way. They want peace. Ignore poachers and they will stop their depredations. Would there were a few more people with sense enough to see what is happening to our natural resources, and above all, with spunk enough to fight for correction of such evils. What business of mine if I see two large muskie heads in my neighbor's garbage can in May? What business of mine if the man at the work bench next to me is making a fish spear? What business of mine if the farmer next to me peddles muskies and pickerel at so much apiece out of season? But—let me ask you one simple question. Would those things happen if your neighbors were convinced that you were violently opposed to such goings on?—they would not. He does such things because he knows you haven't that quality of good citizenship that spells militant, honest opposition.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

HERE AND THERE—Ottawa Sportsmen's Show opens April 5 and ends April 10. —— I hear the Kinsmen are trying to get the Dept. of Lands and Forests wildlife exhibit for their horse-show as an added attraction. Speckled trout only opens in Peterborough May 1.

Onus Placed On Citizens To Determine Right or Wrong of a Man's Act

By BOB BUCHANAN

"Prisoner, look at the juror. Juror, look at the prisoner."

Across a court room, two pairs of eyes meet. Two citizens, equals before the law, prepare to take their parts in the administration of justice in a democratic state.

One stands accused before a British court of justice.

The other must decide on the guilt or innocence of his equal.

Is the average citizen capable of assuming that grave responsibility? This problem has worried many learned students of that shadowy, intangible force which we term "justice."

Under our theory of law, it is the fellow citizens of the accused who must judge the right or wrong of the man's act, if it is of a grave nature and subject to severe punishment.

Dissecting the knowledge of a potential juror, it is not difficult to see the reason for the worries. He has a shaky knowledge of the structure of the courts.

One of the duties of a presiding judge in a jury trial is to explain to the jury the technicalities of the law in the case presented, assuring careful explanation of the relevant laws.

The majority of the public, however, have no ready source of information on the routine processes by which a criminal case is tried in their own country.

Everyday expressions display this lack of knowledge:

"Tell it to the judge. . . . "

"I'll see the police about collecting that bill. . . . "

"If he starts any trouble with me, I'll sue .. "

Is it the judge to whom a luckless motorist tells his story? Or is it the magistrate? Will the police collect that bill? Can one sue another for creating a disturbance? Those who glibly toss around the initial statements would find it hard to answer the questions which should naturally arise.

One of the most troublesome results of this lack of knowledge is the burden (and subsequent expense to the country) placed on the criminal courts by hundreds of actions for which remedy should be sought in civil courts. Taxpayers' money is not used to set up private collection bureaus for those people who, through ignorance or spite, drag a strictly civil action before the courts. Nor have police departments been established act as referees between warring couples, who have recourse to other courts to settle the spat.

In a recent case in Whitby, a judge spoke out strongly against this practise. He termed such cases "an abuse of the criminal code of this country," and declared that he would not permit his court to be used "as a means of settling disputes which belong to civil litigation."

The bottom rung of Canada's involved structure of courts is also the busiest and—in one sense—the most important. It is the "magistrate" or "police" court, held daily in larger centers and not less than once a week in smaller places. Outlying districts bring their cases before the nearest court.

Before the magistrates come every section of the Criminal Code, some to be dealt with directly by them, others to be heard and sent to a higher court for final decision.

In these courts, are heard the countless thousands of minor traffic, liquor and criminal cases. They are the heavy plows of the road of justice operations, removing the vast majority of the cases and leaving only the weightier, more serious rocks to be loosened by the slower and more ponderous machinery of the higher courts. In these cases, a "preliminary hearing" is held before the magistrate to determine if the crown has sufficient evidence to make a "primae facie" case (apparent from the face of the evidence). It is a vital safeguard against malicious, unfounded prosecutions.

Magistrates have "absolute jurisdiction" (the right to hear and decide the case without the consent of the accused) in most minor traffic, liquor and criminal matters. In Ontario, they may hear cases involving: theft, false pretenses and receiving stolen goods under $25; attempted theft; grievous and actual bodily harm; indecent assault; assaulting and obstructing police; bawdy house charges; betting and railway frauds.

The magistrate also has the right to commit the case for trial by a higher court if he feels that the circumstances indicate.

On the more serious charges, the cases must be tried in a higher court. Should the offence be within the magistrate's jurisdiction with consent, the Attorney-General may require its hearing in a higher court if the possible penalty exceeds five years.

The next grade in the criminal courts of the province is the county court, presided over by a county judge. It may be with or without jury. Here are heard the "medium" cases. Again, its authority does not include the top brackets of serious offences against females, other than rape; assault and battery; drugs and narcotics; other cases listed which may be sent higher than magistrate's court if the accused so elects.

The most serious charges come within the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of Ontario. These include: murder, manslaughter, rape, judicial and governmental corruption, sedition, defamatory libel, spreading false news, piracy, frauds against public bodies, attempts at serious crimes.

These cases require a jury, which brings us to our average citizen. He enters the picture at this point.

The selection of a jury is a complicated operation, regulated by statute. This important democratic procedure of selecting a "jury of his peers" consisting of "12 good men and true" follows a strict pattern.

A county board of jury selectors is established by statute. In practise, the board usually includes the mayor, treasurer and assessor. From the voters' list, this board selects those eligible for jury duty.

General qualifications of a juror are that he be a male Canadian subject over 21 and under 70 and mentally sound. There are many people who, because of their calling, are ineligible to serve. These include: member of the House of Commons, the senate and the provincial legislatures, high government officials, judges, magistrates, sheriffs, jailers, court officers, doctors, dentists, veterinarians, members of the armed forces, pilots and seamen, heads of municipal councils, editors, reporters, printers; persons employed by railways, street railways and electric power companies, telephone and telegraph operators and firemen.

The crown attorney's office, from the eligible list, prepares a juror's list of about three times the maximum number required—about 1,000 names.

In the presence of two justices of the peace, the sheriff then draws slips of papers bearing the names of the eligibles listed. There are drawn 48 for the grand jury of the Supreme Court sittings and the general sessions of the peace and 120 names for each petit jury required.

These selected are notified of their pending duty and must appear in court. Both crown and defence counsel may "challenge" the right of a man to serve on a jury. When 12 have been selected, they are sworn and select their own foreman.

The function of the grand jury is not to decide the guilt or innocence of the "prisoner at the bar." That is the function of the petit jury. The grand jury hears privately only such witnesses as the crown may select to be heard. Their decision is either a "true bill" or "no bill' in regard to the indictment (charge) against the accused. A true bill signifies only their decision that the evidence heard is sufficient to show there is good reason to have the accused placed on trial.

It is the petit jury which hears and weighs the full evidence in the light of guilt or innocence. They are judges of the facts; the judge is the authority on points of law.

The jury must accept the judge's rulings on points of law. He may, if he desired, give his opinion of the facts, but the jury is not bound to accept his version.

Appeals against the judgments of any final court are heard by the Ontario Court of Appeal, consisting of judges of the Supreme Court who review the case on the basis of the written evidence of the trial. It is rare for a court of appeal to reverse a jury's judgment of fact, and most appeals which succeed do so on a point of law—the matter of misdirection by the judge to the jury is a favorite of appealing counsel.

Further appeal from this court may be made only on questions of law to the Supreme Court of Canada, in regard to criminal cases. Civil cases must be over a set amount before they can go to the federal bench.

Highest court of appeal in the British Empire has been the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in England. It is a touchy question at present, for that body is being asked to surrenders its right to overrule decisions of Canadian courts. It has been used almost exclusively in recent years for the settling of constitutional matters involving conflict of provincial and federal rights, and for large civic cases.

Gardening, A Real Hobby

In these uncertain times lucky indeed is the man or woman with a garden. Threats of sky-sigh vegetable prices next fall and winter won't scare these people. They can grow and store their own, in addition to a steady supply, fresh and right out of the garden from June on.

But that is only one advantage.

As a hobby, recreation, exercise, or whatever you call it, gardening ranks at the top of the list. It is inexpensive — a few dollars will buy all the seeds, tools and fertilizer necessary. It is elastic — one can spend as much or as little time and energy as one likes or the doctor advises. It takes one outdoors into the sunshine, lets us follow the natural spring urge of digging only from creating something with our own hands. With a few tiny seeds and plants one can produce a flower garden that is as individual as a painting.

Common Mistakes

Commonest mistake of new gardeners is to plant too close together, whether it is lettuce seed or maple trees. This is not only a waste of seed or nursery stock, but it also encourages weak or poor growth. With shrubbery and trees, the result is a bit of a jungle with far too much shade about the house and spindly growth that is liable to fall a prey to heavy storms. With annual flowers and vegetables, proper development is impossible, the vegetables are liable to be stringy and tough, the flowers bunched so closely together that they will not bloom properly.

Generally speaking all plants require at least half as much space between them as they are high at maturity. With big trees this means 20 to 40 feet, with carrots it means only about 2 inches, with corn or staked tomatoes 18 inches. On the seed packet will be given the proper spacing.

With bigger seed like beans, peas, corn, etc., spacing will be easy, but it is much more difficult with the fine seeds of carrot, lettuce or alyssum. Such things can be spread more evenly by mixing with a little dry sand and sowing the mixture. In any case, no matter how carefully we sow some later thinning as the plants develop will be advisable.

Proper depth in planting is also important. The rule here is about three times the diameter of the seed. With tiny seeds like poppies, alyssum or turnips this means merely pressing the seeds in the soil, with big things like gladioli, bulbs, potatoes and dahlias it means from 4 to 8 inches, with beets, beans, etc., about an inch of cover.

First Jobs

While the frost is in the ground, of course, gardening will be largely confined to planning, but there are some outdoor jobs that can be started almost any time. One of the first will be lawn repairs or the starting of new ones. Grass seed makes its best growth in cool weather, in fact it must be sown just as soon as the soil can be worked. Sweet peas also must go in early for best results. They need to develop their deep growth before the soil gets warm. If a hot-bed is attempted one should get a government bulletin on how to build it.

LEAFS HALT BRUINS IN OVERTIME—Toronto Maple Leafs "pulled one out of the fire" on Wednesday night when they came from behind to beat the Boston Bruins 5-4 in overtime in a game played at Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto. The final tally by Leafs' old reliable, Nick Metz, gave the defending Stanley Cup champs a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven semi-final series for the Stanley Cup. With but eight minutes to play in the final period of regular time, Leafs were behind two goals. Fighting an uphill scoring battle, Syl Apps and Jimmie Thomson put the Leafs back on even terms with the Bruins. The overtime session provided the best and most exciting hockey of the night, with both teams missing many glorious chances to win the contest. Finally, after 17 minutes and two seconds of sudden-death overtime, Nick Metz slapped home a backhand shot and beat Boston goalie, Frank Brimsek. The above action occurred during regular playing time. Jimmie Peters (9) and Ed Harrison (19) of the Bruins are helping goalie Brimsek to protect his cage. The Leafs who are trying to put that puck behind Brimsek, are Harry Watson (left) and Bill Barilko.

Rochetta Tops Legions With 37 Points

Joe Rochetta, classy little centre on Legionnaires' first line, led the club in scoring this season. Taking part in all 24 games — OHA senior "B" group and playdowns — he scored 21 goals and had 16 assists for a grand total of 37 points. He edged out his linemate, Bob Greenlaw, who held scoring honors a year ago for Legion. Bob missed two games but still amassed a fine total of 23 goals and 11 assists for 34 points. Another line-mate, Bill Crowley, clicked neatly for 13 and 17 to total 30 points, one ahead of Ernie Nicholls who centred the second line.

The two veteran defencemen, Johnny Godfrey (captain) and Coach Ned Vitarelli, proved their value on the attack by finishing fifth and sixth, gaining most of their points on assists as they shook forwards loose for scoring sorties. Dootch Vitarelli and Bob Parnell were even at 19 each. Percy Nicholls took part in bu. two games, yet he had four points. The results:

	G.	G.	A.	Pts.
Rochetta	24	21	16	37
R. Greenlaw	22	13	11	34

LED LEGION—Joe Rochetta, ace centre on Legion's first line, topped the team in scoring the past senior "B" hockey campaign. He counted 37 points in a starry showing.

Gananoque Scores

OSHAWA, March 27.—(CP). — Gananoque scored an overtime 5-4 win to take their Ontario Hockey Association Junior C semi-final series with Aurora Flyers in two straight games. Anderson scored the winning goal for Gananoque wtih the others going to Keyes, Jackson, Brown, and Atkins. Andrews sparked the Aurora team with three goals, with the others being scored by Hooper.

Fashion Crafts Take Title In Men's Loop

Fashion Craft while losing two games to Ramblers got the two points necessary to cinch the men's City Five Pin title and the Duffus Trophy. The Robertson squad have thrown good ball consistently all season and more than deserve their win. Bill Martin and Tic Caccavella are one, two in the race for high average while Joe Denault, Maurice Caccavella and George Robertson all have fine averages. Ramblers took a firm grip on second place as Shockey's lost two games to King George. Plazas took two games from Spartons to keep pace with the King George entry.

Kawarthas dropped two games to Clapper's to drop into sixth place. Freeman's scored the only clean sweep of the evening as they blanketed the Legion. Sunocos, Generals and McGillis each took four point victories over DeLaval, Empress Old Timers and Grants.

The team scores were exceptionally low with Sunocos winning high pinnage with 3425 and Ramblers high single game with 1221. Both scores set a new low for the season. Alf Mattucci was the only bowler over the 800 mark, rolling 805, while Walt Crary had high single of 357 with Irv Hanes rolling 303 as only two bowlers beat the 300 mark. King George tied with Kawarthas are staging a hot race for fourth, 5th and sixth place with Plazas and King eGorge tied with Kawarthas one point behind. Bill Martin heads the bowlers with a fine average of 252 for 84 games followed by Tic Caccavella 248 and Fred Martin 247.7.

The standing—Fashion Craft 128, Ramblers 114, Shockeys 108, Plazas 100, King George 100, Kawarthas 99, McGillis 86, Clapper's 86, Freeman's 78, DeLaval 75, Legion 71, Sunocos 70, Generals 67, Empress 66, Grant's 60, Spartons 36.

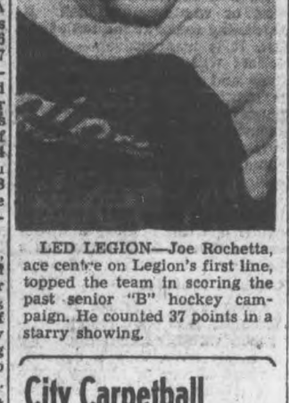
City Carpetball

Three games played in the schedule during the past week with Orangemen pushing themselves well up in the money section with only three games remaining to be played.

The Old Sweats held the Wanderers down, splitting the points by losing the first 11-12 but coming through in the second 9-7.

One of the surprises of the season was King Billie taking two from the Big Bens, when they trimmed that squad 11-10 and 10-8 in two closely fought games. The other tussle was between two leaders, the Fighting Parsons and Big Bens, with the Fighters coming through to retain their hold on first place. Scores 12-8 and 11-13.

One game was reported in the doubles, when the Bell-Bromley pair ousted Nokes-Clapham in three good games 6-8, 8-7, 7-3.



Games remaining in schedule: Wardens No. 9 vs. BESL 6; SOE 2 vs. BELS 7; Big Bens 10 vs. BESL 6.

Games for the Gracie doubles—E. Nicholas-E. Holden vs. R. Ralston-H. McLean; A. Sims-J. Wilson vs. A. Moscrop-F. Hopgood.

Final for the President's Cup, Wanderers No. 1 vs. Big Bens 10.

RELUCTANT TO SIGN—Although he roared long and loud that he was gimmicked out of last week's bout with Whipper Watson, Manager Jim Laidlaw is experiencing difficulty in getting Wee Willie Davis to sign for a return match. It seems that Davis is demanding more protection from the fans whom he says were responsible for his losing last week's bout. Watson is set and ready to repeat his mauling of the big 270-pound Davis. Although he gave him a real pasting in their last go he was on the receiving end of a lot of punishment himself. Laidlaw expects to get Davis' signature to a contract over the week-end

Some odd holds are seen in westling bouts, even in the free-for-all style served nowadays. That "Canuck Commando" grip used here recently by Whipper Watson is a wicked one, a strictly "unconscious hold" when enough pressure is applied. It's grabbed from behind around the neck with the head kinked so that little resistance can be offered, and the pressure is applied by the forearm along the side of the neck. We've had it put on us gentle as a demonstration and can well see where one could black out with the pressure on. It's not an illegal choke hold as it works on the side of the neck, instead of the throat. Both Canadian and Jap commandos were taught this among other warlike grips in training.

Ted Reeve of The Tely, who likes his sports rugged, writes: "One little side issue that may carry a lot of weight, or even carry out a lot of weight, is this Bruin-Leaf grind is the Bariiko-Schmidt feud. That pair seem to go head-on for each other every time they are on the ice at the same shift. Bariiko was the bucko who hit Milton when his knee gave way the first time, if we remember rightly, and the Boston star does not love our Willie. We still think he would be an umchay to try to do anything about it during these important efforts. Bariiko could take one of the Three Stars every night if all he did was skate to the penalty box with Schmidt three or four times per game." Tch, tch, such stiategy!

Five Are Helping

Rink funds canvass is on this week in earnest. Five local puck clubs — Legion, IOOF, Kinsmen, Trojans and Outboard Marines — have volunteered to help with this important work. We're told that team captain Johnny Godfrey of Legionnaires will handle 15 men, including the Nicholls of Bobcaygeon. Good stuff. All those who want this rink for next winter should pitch in right now, and kick in, too. The players', officials' and everyone's money is needed to put this across. Yeah, before writing this we sent in our 10-pot!

Noted an item in The Timmins News of Doug Burrows, former radio announcer here and son of Art Burrows. Doug does his stuff via the air waves up north now and apparently the radio gees and the press fellows had a hockey match there on Sunday—dearodear, no Sabbath laws up there? One part said: "The classy newspaper squad outscored, outplayed and outclassed the radio station stalwarts. This time the pads were on the other feet. The press goaltender had the pads and the radiomen forgot to bring any along. But it was only a minor issue and could never have changed the verdict. Stars of the game were Doug Burrows, CKGWizz goalie, etc."

This weeks wraps up the local hockey catter with the list of Legion scorers in tonight. Joe Rochetta led the way the past OHA senior "B" season, as Bob Greenlaw — who led 'em last year — was a close second. In 24 games (the whole works) the classy little centre star of the first line lit the lamp 21 times and aided 16 more times for a fine total of 37 points. About a point and a half a game all winter long. While he had a couple of big games, he was generally consistent. Last December we predicted Joe would have his best OHA season and he made good our guess. Greenlaw, in two less games, also shone with 23 markers and 11 assists for 34 points.

And Bill Crowley of the same line was third with 30, showing how potent that first-string front Legion line was throughout the group and playdown games. Ernie Nicholls was the best of the other forwards, with Dootch Vitarelli and Bob Parnell then tied, and Ace Nicholls was next. But two defencemen, Godfrey and Ned Vitarelli, were up there ahead of most of the forwards, running up hefty scoring totals mainly on heady assists all semester. Johnny had 24 points for a stellar performance and Coach Ned in 17 tilts had 19 points. Besides the way this pair sparkled defensively all through. That they missed Percy Nicholls is shown by the fact that in the two game he played for 'em he had four goals.

Price-Johnson Rinks Win In Trophy Play

(By HERB MARTIN)

On Thursday evening the primary event of the Neill Trophy bonspiel came to a successful conclusion when O. Price — probably the youngest skip ever to accomplish the fete—skipped his rink to win this now famous trophy. He was opposed by the veteran C. Giroux, who was pinch-hitting for S. Lowe and what a game it was. Both skips were ably supported by members of their respective rinks and the boys in on No. 8 were treated to an exhibition of real high class curling. The game was in doubt from the time the first stone was tossed down the ice until Ossie played his last stone on the 10th end. It was close. The game was well played and congratulations to all. We believe that this year's entry of 70 rinks is an all-time record and with an increased membership coming up next season there is no telling what heights this bonspiel will reach.

Big Entry

With 24 rinks entered the Good Friday bonspiel for the Ostrander Trophy went over in big style, commencing at 9.00 a.m.. Each rink continued throughout the day until all had completed three 10-end games. We believe that this is the latest date that we have every held an open bonspiel.

The honor of winning the Ostrander Trophy went to Jimmy Johnson's rink.

Our club appreciates the generosity of Ostrander's Jewellers in presenting this beautiful trophy and all the prizes. W. A. Davern, who represented the Ostrander people, did his part and did it well—so now it look as if our curling for this season is about over—from now on it will be just from day to day.

Mixed Rinks

Tonight we expect several mixed rinks down from Bobcaygeon to play a return game for the Harkness Trophy against the Peterborough curlers who played in Bobcaygeon a few weeks ago. If possible there will be the odd ice available for any other curlers who would care to come. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the games.

Winners:

1st—E. Lowes, H. Thompson, J. Dutton, J. Johnston, skip. Ostrander's Trophy and each a replica of the trophy.

2nd—H. Bradburn, Dr. Morgan, Dr. McCartney, J. Willey, skip. Each a Cyma combination alarm and time piece.

3rd—S. Williamson, A. Ingram, H. Dulmage, J. Welsh, skip. Each a bridge set.

4th—C. Ferguson, G. Webb, B. Harrison, V. Brown, skip. Each a silver plated flask.

5th — W. Brown, B. Jeffries, G. Clark, Dr. R. Clark, skip. Each a tie pin and holder.

WINS CANADIAN TITLE—There's quite a figure skating aggregation in Calgary, Alta., this week, led by pretty Barabara Ann Scott of Ottawa, above. B.A. of the flashing smile, the world and Olympic champion, has captured the women's senior crown, taking the Canadian title with an almost perfect score.

Barbara Ann Captures Canadian Skating Title

CALGARY, March 27 (CP).—A new crown adorned the honey-blonde curls of Ottawa's Barbara Ann Scott to-day following the ice queen's overwhelming victory in the women's singles event of the annual Canadian figure skating championships.

Radiant in a paddy green dress gaily adorned with sequins, Barbara Ann dazzled a capacity, wildly-cheering crowd of 6,000 spectators at Victoria Arena last night with a flawless free-skating performance. The perfection of her routine won her a perfect score of 10 points by one of the five judges. It was believed to be the first 10 ever awarded in the Canadian championships.

Only one judge marked Barbara Ann below nine and coupled with the high score marked up in earlier compulsory school figure events, assured her of victory even before the competition was concluded and the results officially announced.

Victory in the Canadian meet gives her a clean sweep of every figure skating championship for which she may compete. She already holds the North American, European, world, and Olympic titles.

Ontario skaters walked off with the lion's share of the trophies, capturing all but two of the eight championships held last year by Toronto skating clubs.

Wally Distelmeyer, 22-year-old Navy veteran and a member of the Toronto Skating Club, captured the men's singles championship from his lone rival, Roger Wickson of Vancouver. Distelmeyer also combined with pretty Suzanne Morrow of Toronto to take the senior pairs championship and the dancing title.

Gets Junior Title

Marlene Elizabeth Smith, the youthful skater from Niagara Falls, Ont., and a member of the Toronto Club, took the women's junior singles for the other Ontario victory.

Breaking the stranglehold held by Eastern skaters last year were the new junior men's champion, William E. Lewis of New Westminster, BC, a member of the Vancouver Skating Club. Also winning from the Vancouver Club were Pearle Jeannette Simmers and David Spalding who combined to take the junior pairs title.

One of the highlights of the meet was provided by a fourth West Coast skater, 18-year-old Jeanne Matthews of Vancouver, who was runner-up in both the junior and senior singles events.

Barbara Ann's spectacular free-skating performance last night climaxed a dazzling exhibition in the compulsory figures that saw her win each of the five judges' nod for first place position in all six figures. Besides the perfect 10 in her free-skating, she was awarded four nines for performance and four nines and an 8.8 for content of her routine.

Tigers Trounce Greyhounds In 7-2 Tilt

(By The Canadian Press)

The Ontario Hockey Association champion Hamilton Tigers could add the all-Ontario title to their laurels this afternoon by handing Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds their second straight defeat in the best-of-three-final series.

The favorite Tigers won the first game Thursday night with a soft 7-2 decision and a victory today at Toronto would give them the Ontario Senior Amateur Hockey championship and the right to continue in the Allan Cup race.

Farther north, Barrie Flyers invade Timmins for their second game of the best-of-five all-Ontario junior finals against Porcupine Combines. Barrie staged a comback Thursday to take a 6-3 victory and go into a one game lead in the series.

Tigers completely outclassed the Greyhounds, NOHA titleholders, with their smooth passing plays and hard checking. They grabbed a 5-0 first period lead and then dropped into a kitty-bar-the-door style of hockey to keep the Greyhounds from menacing seriously at any time. In the middle session Tigers outscored the visitors 2-1 and then allowed one more Sault goal in the third.

Johnny Conick was top man for Hamilton with two goals while Ab Conick, Bert Peer, Bob Laurent, Tommy Tindal and Clare Shillington each had one. Jim Kucher and Shep Mayer scored the two Greyhound goals.

Crawford Ill May Miss Tilt

TORONTO, March 27—(CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins called the roll today before their second Stanley Cup playoff tilt and found 49 out of 50 potential starters ready for action. But the 50th name may have a lot to do with the outcome.

Trailing in the best-of-seven series after they dropped a heartbreaking 5-4 decision in overtime Wednesday night, the Bruins prepared for tonight's tilt as key defenceman Jack Crawford, battled an influenza attack that may keep him out of action.

That still leaves Pat Eagan, Murray Henderson, Ferm Flaman and Clare Martin ready for action on the back line, but the Beantowners would miss the steadying influence of Crawford, a defence mainstay for Boston teams of the last nine years.

There aren't any manpower problems in the Leaf camp, but Toronto managing director Conn Smythe plans a change or two, with Rookie Winger Sid Smith slated to return to action. Smythe has a flock of youngsters from Leafs' Pittsburgh farm club to choose from as the Hornets dropped out of the American League playoffs Thursday night.

COMBINATION THAT SPELLED VICTORY — Nick, Johnny-on-the-Spot, Metz gladdened the heart of many a Toronto Maple Leaf fan on Wednesday night, when he put the puck past Boston Bruins' goalie, Frank Brimsek, after 17 minutes and two seconds of sudden-death overtime to give the Leafs a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven semi-final series for the Stanley Cup. Metz, in scoring the winner, was greatly aided and abetted by the Leafs' centre-ice star, Max Bentley. The redhead from Wilcox, Sask., explained it this way: "Shucks, it was a set-up. I passed to Max Bentley and he shot. Brimsek stopped the puck with his pads and it dropped in front of me. I banged it in the net." Brother Don Metz had a bad evening, continually passing the puck to opposing players. But big brother made everything okay in the Metz family with the all-important goal. Above, Max Bentley (left) and Nick Metz posed happily in the dressing room after the game. Wonder whether that broad Bentley grin or the photographer's flash-bulb blinded Nick momentarily!

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The complete schedule for the 1948 Ontario racing season announced yesterday by the Incorporated Canadian Racing Association, provides for 141 days of racing 17 more than last season. There will be no spring meeting at Toronto's Dufferin Park, the dates being switched to suburban Long Branch track.

The official schedule other than Toronto tracks, follows: Hamilton track, June 25 to July 2; Fort Erie track, July 3 to July 27; Hamilton track, July 7; Niagara Falls, Aug. 21 to Aug. 7.

The Illinois Athetic Commission, without formally acting on Governor Dwight Green's recommendation for suspension of professional boxing until April 7, achieved the same result by virtue of "no contest." Promoter Irving Schoenwald removed the only possible challenge of the Governor's 'clean-up" moratorium when he cancelled a show scheduled at Marigold Gardens, Chicago, Monday. The Commission tentatively had approved the match.

Previously, promoters of a bout booked for March 31 at Chicago between middleweight king Ray Robinson and Georgie Abrams asked for a postponement until April 21 because of an injury to Robinson's hand.

Big Bob Sandberg, sensation of the 1947 Canadian football final, has informed Winnipeg Blue Bombers he will line up with them again for the 1948 Western Interprovincial Rugby Union season. President Art Chipman announced at Winnipeg last night. Chipman said the backfielder, reported sought by clubs in Eastern and Western Canada after his spectacular showing in the final against Toronto Argonauts, had informed Bombers in a letter of his intention of returning.

Freddie Mills, Britain's light heavyweight boxing champion, may fight Scottish heavyweight titleholder Ken Shaw in a final eliminator for a shot at Bruce Woodcock's British heavyweight crown.

One of the north country's greatest dog team racers, Emile St. Godard, died at The Pas, Man., yesterday. A noted racing driver for more than 20 years, he was 42 at the time of his death. As a "boy musher" he won his first major derby in 1925 when he captured the famous Pas race—a 200-mile affair from The Pas to Flin Flon and back. In the next decade he raced to fame in events in Quebec and the New England States.

Long-driving Detroit professional Chick Herbert came up with his second straigth six-under-par 66 yesterday to take the halfway lead in the $10,000 Charlotte open golf tournament by a stroke edge over Lawson Little, Cleveland veteran.

Lucien Krawczick, little-known French middleweight fighter, went the 10-round limit with Marcel Cerdan last night but lost the decision to the European middleweight champion. Krawczick fight a slow, cautious battle and the crowd yelled repeatedly for the fighters to mix it. Cerdan tired badly in the late rouunds.

RCAF Flyers, Olympic hockey champions, scored three times within six minutes last night to defeat Dunfermline Vikings of the All-Canada Scottish League 4-1 and remain undefeated in their Scottish tour. In four games to date the Olympic champions have won three and tied one.

Plan Benefit Tilt

NORWOOD, March 27 (ENS)—Norwood Combines (TVL) and Warsaw Flyers (Rural League) are all set to go in their benefit game this (Saturday) evening at 8:30. With cold weather Thursday night and colder weather promised for to-day, the ice should be in good shape for a good game.

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP).—Eddie Stanky will make his first competitive appearance in a Boston Braves uniform to-day after a bout with pneumonia. The second sacker, late of the Brooklyn Dodgers, will start for the Braves B team against Kansas City Blues at Lake Wales, Fla.

Notes from other camps:

At San Francisco—

The question of whether Bob Chesnes, colorful rookie pitcher, will play with Pittsburg this season remained open to-day. Chesnes, San Francisco star, had an elbow operation last fall and has been having trouble again.

At Hollywood—

Young Charles Comiskey, who one day will head Chicago White Sox, says "some changes are going to be made. If we can't do business with some of the other major league clubs, maybe we can find some triple players who are better than we have. We will make some changes, and some of them may surprise you."

At Clearwater, Fla.—

Anton Karl, former pitcher with Philadelphia Phils, has been signed by the Phillies as a scout.

At St. Petersburg, Fla.—

Marty (Mr. Shortstop) Marion fears an injury jinx that helped prevent St. Louis Cardinals from repeating as National League champions last year, may end his baseball career. Marion's left knee, which he hurt in a slide last year, is acting up again, and caused him to leave the training field yesterday with the remark that he didn't expect to play ball again unless the trouble is corrected.

Detroit Polishes Off New York Rangers By 5-2

DETROIT, March 27—(CP). — Detroit Red Wings today were heavy favorites to enter the Stanley Cup finals after the well-balanced Detroit scoring machine easily polished off New York Rangers 5-2 last night in a game that was a contest only in the first period. The victory, coming on top of Detroit's 2-1 triumph here Wednesday night, gave the Red Wings a commanding 2-0 lead in games in the best-of-seven series. The Red Wings can clinch a berth in the cup finals by beating the Rangers in New York where the scene shifts for the third and fourth games Sunday and Tuesday.

Two Detroit rookies, Jimmy McFadden and Marty Pavelich, each scored a pair of goals as the Red Wings coasted in.

McFadden put the Wings ahead 1-0 just four minutes after the game opened when Pete Horeck set him up for a sprint halfway down the ice that took him swinging around the Ranger defence and in alone on Ranger goalie Chuck Rayner, who never had a chance.

Ed Laprade, Ranger centre, tied it up less than 11 minutes later, converting a hard angle shot after a pass from Tony Leswick.

But McFadden and Pavelich each scored in the second period and the Red Wings were on their way. McFadden's second goal was a wide-open shot that easily beat a partially-screened Rayner. Pavelich converted his marker at 8:18 of the session while Defenceman Bill Juzda of the Rangers was serving a high-sticking penalty.

Half of the final period was over before Detroit clicked again, Defenceman Leo Reise hammered a 60-foot screen shot from the blue line to make it 4-1.

Just 47 seconds later Neil Colville punched a 20-foot shot past Harry Lumley for New York's second counter which was matched by Pavelich's second marker, a 15-footer, which came five minutes from the finish for Detroit's final tally.

The New York defence was hard-hit by the absence of Bill Moe, who fractured two vertebrae during a collision in the playoff opener.

Laws Tie Hands

TORONTO, March 27 (CP). — Regulations forbidding tapping of telephone lines hampered Ontario Provincial Police in obtaining evidence against gambling houses during the last year, Commissioner W. H. Stringer said in his annual report, released yesterday.

Vezina Trophy Rules Scored

TORONTO, March 26.—(CP).—Some National Hockey League fans have expressed the opinion that the Vezina trophy, awarded annually to the goalie with the least number of goals scored against him, is more of a team trophy than an individual award.

These dissenters ask why, as has happened on a number of occasions this past season, should a net-minder be charged with goals that are scored against him during the course of last-minute power plays when he isn't even on the ice?

Doug (Windsor Star) Vaughan agrees wtih the dissenters to a point, saying:

"Benching a goalie and sending out six forwards in the hope of scoring a tying goal in the waning seconds of a game is a common practice these days.

'But, as often as not, it is strategy that boomerangs. While it makes no difference as far as the team is concerned whether it loses by one or two goals, it could be rough on a goalie who is in the running for the Vezina trophy to have to sit on the sidelines and watch the enemy shoot at an open net."

U.S. Proposes Free Exchange Of Information

GENEVA, March 27—(AP)—The United States proposed today world guarantees of free exchange of information so that the light of publicity may kill the seeds of hate, fear and war.

In a speech delivered to the United Nations conference on freedom of information, the chief United States delegate, William Benton, replied sharply to Russian attacks on the press of the United States.

Benton, former assistant secretary of state, opposed a Russian-sponsored proposal that the conference consider measures to "combat the diffusion of false and distorted reports likely to injure friendly relations between states.

"This is a grave danger area for this conference. Instead of discussing more freedom, we may find ourselves discussing new restrictions.

"If a state is engaged in expansionist acts that cause other states to fear their own security, then freedom of information and international understanding are instruments through which the news and the arm is spread. The result may be indignation in other countries, preparations for defence, protests and even talk about the probability of war.

Not Slander

"But it is surely a fantastic perversion of the truth to call such reactions, or the news reports that create them, slander or war-mongering."

Benton referred to war-mongering charges made against the United States press in the general assembly last September.

Benton proposed these objectives to the conference:

1. "Mutual guarantees by states that their citizens will be given access to such a variety of internal and external sources of information that they never can become numbed by a monolithic propaganda of hate and fear.

2. "Mutual guarantees by states that their citizens will be accorded such freedom of internal expression that they will be able to express their views and through them bring pressures upon leaders engaged in acts that lead to war.

3. "Limitations upon the power of any state so to restrict or intimidate foreign reports or so to censor their reports that other countries cannot seek the truth about what is going on in that country."

Ontario Crops Down In 1947

TORONTO, March 27—(CP)—The value of Ontario's 1947 commercial production of fruits and vegetables is estimated at $44,817,100, as compared with $46,225,500 in 1946 and $37,400,600 in 1945, the Ontario Department of Agriculture reported today.

The Department said prices received by growers for fruit crops amounted to an estimated $14,997,880, as against $15,025,700 in 1946 and $9,870,000 in 1945. Vegetable prices also were down at $29,819,300 as against $31,119,800 and $27,530,600.

Acreage planted to tree fruits and small fruits was almost the same as 1946, 86,889, compared with 86,550, but vegetable acreage was down considerably at 150,285, compared with 163,734.

Apples, grapes, pears, raspberries and strawberries yielded larger crops in 1947 than in 1946, while cantaloupes, cherries, peaches and plums declined considerably.

Wheat Prices Up

AUCKLAND, N.Z. — (CP). — Supply Minister Nordmeyer announced recently that New Zealand will pay more for Australian wheat. In view of the increase in Australian home consumption price, he said, the price would be raised from five shillings, nine pence, to six shillings, four pence per bushel.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Northey on the birth of their daughter.

The service on Sunday in Wesley Church was attended by a large congregation, and the choir sang two appropriate anthems. At the Passion Week service on Wednesday night the sermon, hymns and anthems were in keeping with the Cross and Crucifixion.

Owing to the heavy rains and melting snow the roads have been flooded in low areas, and some motorists have had to get horses to haul their vehicles through the water.

Mrs. Levi Harris entertained a number of women at a quilting dinner at her home Wednesday.

Miss Esther Meiklejohn is spending the Easter holiday with relatives at Campbellford.

Mrs. George Schrader, Keith, Kenneth, Claude, and Donald, of Gelert, were recent guests of her mother, Mrs. Florence Stewart.

Canon Turner Fund Reaches $8,000 Mark

WINNIPEG, March 27—(CP)—The Canon Turner fund, to aid the widow of the Church of England missionary who died late last year from wounds received at his Moffet Inlet mission within the Arctic Circle, has topped the $8,000 mark.

Dr. H. M. Speechly, trustee for the fund, said today contributions are coming in from all parts of Canada, with $2,258 having been raised in Montreal.

Want Clause Changed

OTTAWA, March 27 — (CP) — The Ottawa Hydro-Electric Commission at a meeting yesterday urged deletion from the Ontario Hydro bill now before the legislature of a clause which would make 60-cycle areas help pay for the change-over in other parts of the province from 25 to 60-cycle power.

CANADIAN BULWARKS OF DEMOCRACY

FREEDOM OF KNOWLEDGE

The Right to Look . . . Listen . . . Learn . . . Reason.

These rights are the Canadian's, without restriction . . . without fear of governmental interference. We are free to search, sift, digest, learn. In Canada, honest, objective facts are accessible to all. No bonfires of great works from our libraries or press mar the records of history. In access to the knowledge of the past and present . . . to the facts of the doings of men and governments in other lands, we are able to judge the value of the propaganda disseminated by opponents of freedom. The Canadian is a law unto himself about what he can think. We have no "dangerous thought" police . . . no "camps" for re-education of the citizen. Through our right to learn we know where we stand: We have progressed further along the road to spiritual and material freedom than any other people in any other land. Perfection of the human of our government has not been achieved. But, because we know the facts, our reforms have been progressive, made with concern for the most of us . . . not the few. We have accomplished this by virtue of our beliefs in the rights, worth, dignity and integrity of ourselves as individuals. To the forces at work on undermining democracy . . . those who promise Utopia, tomorrow, we can appraise their glibness, and say: Judging by the morals of government and living standards of countries elsewhere, we are one of the most fortunate people on the face of the globe. Through our rights, with objective reason of conscience, we can determine the worth of our democracy . . . work towards bettering it . . . by democratic means: The only methods acceptable to our collective conscience. Whatever the errors of our democracy, we know that the idea of the state governing our every move, thought and word from dawn to dusk is repugnant to all good men. Just so long as we throttle no press, radio or publisher from printing or broadcasting what we are to read and hear . . . just so long as our conscience and reason are fully alerted to the moral values inherent in our democracy, and NOT ONE DAY LONGER, we can retain that great right that is ours . . .

FREEDOM OF KNOWLEDGE.

Scripture—John 21:1-14; Colossians 3:1-4, 12-17; I John 5:11, 12

By Alfred J. Buescher

The third time Jesus appeared to His disciples after His crucifixion and resurrection, was at the sea of Tiberias. Six of them had gone fishing with Peter but they caught nothing although they had fished all night.

As they neared shore in the morning, Jesus was standing on the beach, but "they knew Him not." He told them to cast their net on the other side of the ship, and when they did it grew heavy with fish.

John the beloved disciple, recognized Jesus first and told Simon Peter. "It is the Lord." Peter plunged into the sea to wade or swim to shore, and the others came in the ship, dragging the heavy fish net.

There was a fire on the beach and fish upon it, and Jesus told them to bring their fish and dine. No one dared ask who He was for they knew it was the Lord.

MEMORY VERSE—Luke 24:34.

Why Did Jesus Appear First to Mary Magdalene?

By REV. E. R. JAMES

Now when Jesus was risen early on the first day of the week, He appeared first to Mary Magdalene out of whom he had cast out seven devils.

St. Mark 16; 9.

It is important to remember that the Gospels were written to people who had a very developed sense of imagination. The clear, vivid accounts in St. Mark's Gospel made a remarkable appeal to those early readers. With that thought in your mind read these words:—"Now when Jesus was risen early on the first day of the week, He appeared first to Mary Magdalene out of whom He had cast seven devils." Early on the first day of the week" Can you see the dawn breaking and the excitable woman with tear dimmed eyes gazing with horror on the empty tomb. Can you hear the snort of contempt from the Roman gentleman as he reads that the Prophet appeared first to a woman.

Every devout Jew offers this prayer:—"Lord, I thank Thee that Thou hast not made me a woman." Woman stood in the same class to the proud Roman. So you can understand why the Apostles dismissed the story "as idle tales" according to St. Luke. Can you afford to throw stones. If you are over fifty your grandmother on her wedding day could not hold property. The law did not consider her fit for such responsibility.

The Lord appeared to Mary Magdalene because she loved Him. His whole heart and soul was wound up in His personality. She was in deep sorrow because her Master was dead. She would be alone, very much so and there was the horror of the devils returning. When she saw Him she did not know Him. She was not expecting the resurrection. All her thoughts were on the dead Body, which she thought had been carried away. How true to modern psychology.

The Lord Jesus also was changed. "He appeared in another form" another Evangelist tells us. He is the same but not the same. The life He now lives is the resurrection life: He is not returned to physical life. He lives for ever the resurrection life in His new spiritual body. He is the risen Lord.

Let us think upon the reason why He appeared first to Mary Magdalene. Because she loved Him. In that Upper Room He laid down anew truth. "He that loveth Me shall be loved of My Father and I will love him and will manifest Myself to him." St. John 14-21.

You fell in love with a girl and she with you. You opened your mind and heart to her as you did to none other because you loved her. You manifested yourself to her because you loved her. She alone knows your tenderness, patience and self denial. What an everlasting truth. In the hour of your sorrow He draws near to you — "Jesus Himself drew near" In that hour He whispers some written Word in the Book. Truly you can say "The Master is come" even unto me. He manifests Himself to you because you love Him and He loves you.

"Jesus Christ was born of the Virgin Mary". These words are the very centre of the Christian Faith. He was born of a woman

Ontario Cancer Society Reorganizes Branch Elects Douglas Anderson

Election of officers and a general re-organization meeting was held on Thursday night by the Peterborough Unit, Ontario Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society at the City Hall. This year it is hoped to raise membership from last year's 300 persons to 3,000-4,000. It was stated that the primary object of the society was to disseminate knowledge of the disease of cancer to the extent that at least one person in every home would receive current information on that subject.

The new slate of officers includes Dr. G. S. Cameron, Mayor W. G. Ovens and Warden James Humphries as honorary presidents; James Hamilton, past president; Douglas Anderson, president; Miss M. Sargent, Mrs. H. Digweed, a member of the local Medical Association to be appointed, and Fred Overend, vice-presidents; Miss Ethel Miller, secretary; and N. Bingeman, treasurer.

New directors are J. E. Girven, Allan B. Collis, a representative from the Federation of Agriculture to be appointed, and Mrs. Norman McConkey. Those remaining as directors were Dr. E. P. Ray, James Dutton, Mrs. F. Hooper, Mrs. M. Holt, Ernest Wolff, Dr. G. R. Scott, Robert Maybee, and L. H. Ingram.

Plan Campaign.

Representatives from the various service clubs and organizations turned out to lend their support in the work of forming a new executive which is charged with the task of undertaking an extensive educational campaign on the subject of cancer among Peterborough citizens some time in April.

Past President James Hamilton said an eighth of present-day deaths are due to cancer, and if these cases received early medical attention, as many as a third might be saved.

G. H. Molleken, Field Secretary of the Ontario Branch, Canadian Cancer Society, asked that the campaign to acquaint people with the facts of cancer be maintained year-round, not limited to a short period in the year. He advocated door-to-door visits as the best means of spreading information.

Mr. Molleken pointed out the great service a member could do by calling the attention of the local unit to a previously unknown cancer case. He also stressed the value of assurance on the part of a friend in helping an indigent to get well.

Rural communities should also be given the latest information on the subject and acquainted with the work of the society, he said.

Ernest Williams said the society needed to publicize itself more. He told the meeting he had never seen any publicity telling of the work done by the local branch.

Karl Monk said he hoped the society would launch its membership drive, utilizing the service clubs whose representatives had turned out to the meeting in force.

Dr. Scott pledged that "the Medical Society in the County is only too willing to help the local group.

"What is really wanted is to get this information into as many hands as possible," said Miss Sargent. "Our greatest enemy is fear."

Kiwanis Expect 26 Curling Rinks

Believed to be the largest Kiwanis inter-club events in months the second annual bonspiel will be held on Easter Monday at the local curling rink. Some 26 rinks from scattered Ontario centres will compete in the all-day competition.

It has attracted entries from Kirkland Lake, Timmins, New Liskeard, Pembroke, Brockville, Belleville, Cobourg, Oshawa, Galt, Guelph, Orillia, Lindsay and Collingwood.

Many of these places have entered more than one rink. Peterborough has entered five from the local Kiwanis Club.

Visitors will be guests at a luncheon served at the curling rink. Guest speaker will be District Governor Greenaway Guelph. Also present will be Lieutenant Governors Bruce Latimer, and Perry Conklin of Divisions 5 and 6 respectively.

The bonspiel is expected to be twice as large as last year.

Rotarians Seek Aid For Cripples

Six thousand appeals have been sent out by the Peterborough Rotary Club to help the Easter Seals campaign in aid of crippled children. A couple of months ago, returns were received from last year's campaign, and while the money was gratefully received, it would be a great help if people would be prompt in making their donations. All the money goes to aid crippled children and does not go to any other welfare work sponsored by the Rotary Club. Roy Girvin, chairman of the committee, says, "The early ending in of donations will assist the organizing of the work and enable more crippled children to be helped this year."

Veteran Teamster Joe Collins Dies

One of the best-known personalities for the past 40 years in Peterborough, Joseph Collins, 262 Munroe Ave., died Friday morning at his residence following an illness of not more than one day's duration. He was 73 years of age and was born in Douro, son of the late William Collins and Ellen Sullivan. He moved from Douro to the city 39 years ago and except for one year has been a constant and popular employee of the Peterborough Canoe Company. "Joe," as he was known to everyone, was a teamster and never changed with the times to trucks. Boys of three generations can remember riding "Joe's" cart to and from Ashburnham.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. James O'Brien (Anna) of Otonabee and two sons, William Francis and Robert James, both of this city. There are 13 grandchildren. His wife, the former Ellen Clancy, predeceased him 17 years ago.

Mr. Collins was a member of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, of the Catholic Order of Foresters and the Holy Name Society.

The body is resting at the family residence until 8.45 a.m. Monday, when it will be taken to the Church of the Immaculate Conception for Requiem Mass at 9 a.m. Burial will take place at St. Joseph's Cemetery, Douro.

WELCOME HAPPY MORNING—Easter is celebrated throughout the Christian world to commemorate the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. It is a day of joy and gladness when places of worship and homes are decked with flowers and Nature forces crocuses and daffodils from the dead brown grass. The picture of the choir of the Church of St. Luke the Evangelist, Ashburnham, is typical of scenes in churches at Easter.

Brothers Apart 28 Years Re-united In Peterborough

"I thought I would like to see my brother Albert in England sometime this year," said Charles H. Benson, "so I wrote to him about it last Fall. Hadn't seen him for 28 years, you know." The upshot of it was that brother Albert, in Ilford, Essex, thought he would like to see his brother in Peterborough and suggested that he would start making plans to bring his family over. That was in November and after five months of winding up his affairs, chiefly cutting through the official red tape problem of getting his family suitably togged out, he and his wife Rene, sons Donald 13 and Graham 2½, arrived in Halifax Sunday on the Aquitania. They reached Peterborough the following day and there was a great reunion at the Benson home, 398 George St. S.

Charles came to Canada 35 years ago and went first to Listowel and followed his business of dry goods merchandising in Brantford, Hamilton, Ottawa and Toronto before finally settling in this city in 1923. He worked for various large stores and started his own store on George Street between Westcott and Romaine in 1932. He is an enthusiastic rooter for his home town, Peterborough, and can be said to be a "native" with a cottage on Lake Katchawanooka that he is very keen about.

Brother Albert is a motor mechanic and for the past five years in the Old Country worked on a fleet of 40 trucks for the London Transport Company. For 18 years before that he was foreman-driver with a trucking form that was controlled by the Ministry of War Transport during the Second World War.

He and his family were in the midst of the Blitz, of course, and a note of tragedy struck when the mother was unable to get to an air raid shelter and the exposure resulted in her death a few weeks later. Six months after this family loss a buzz bomb flattened four blocks of homes, his mother's among them.

A Albert applied to National Employment Service and got placed right away with the CGE. They will live with Charles for a while until they are able to locate suitable accommodation. Son Ronald was truly baptised into Peterborough when he tested the ice on Little Lake on his first look around his new home town. You have guessed it. He went in up to his shoulders in icy water and learned very quickly that Canadian winters he had heard so much about has long past and that swimming is safer than skating in March. Ronald will probably attend PVCS to continue his studies from where he left off in second form of Ilford County High School.

The English Bensons were particularly impressed with friendliness and helpfulness of the Canadian people, especially the Canadian Red Cross members that met them and assisted them in Halifax. They feel that they are going to be very happy in Peterborough.

Fish And Game Plans Meeting

A. B. Wheatley, District Forester from Lindsay, will be guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Peterborough Fish and Game Association to be held at the Cribbage and Bridge Club on Monday evening.

Most of the discussion is expected to be on the approaching Jack Miner Week, when an educational campaign will be undertaken to acquaint people with the subject of wild life.

A Ladies' Night consisting of motion pictures and door prizes to be held in the Collegiate auditorium Monday, April 12, during Wild Life Week is also on the agenda.

Movies on conservation subjects will be shown at Monday's meeting.

Brother In England Wins Recognition

Known to many former residents of Reading, Berkshire, England and members of the Salvation Army of this district, William Smith was honored in the English town earlier this month. He was presented with a wallet and cash in recognition of the completion of 48 years service with his unit, Reading Town "B" Division of the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

Mr. Smith is a brother of Jack Smith, 116 McDonnel Street. Through his connection with Salvation Army work in England, William Smith is known to numbers over here. For 45 years he was drummer in the Salvation Army and an instructor of their Life Saving Group. He is now 78 years old.

He served for four and one-half years in the RAMC during the First World War and was a first-aid worker during the Second World War. He holds two Home Nursing Certificates, the Long Service Medal with two bars and the Defence Medal.

BENSON BROTHERS RE-UNITE—Twenty-eight years is a long time between visits but finally the Benson brothers got together. Charles, Left, has been in Canada for 35 years, 25 of them in Peterborough. Albert, Right, arrived here from England Monday with his wife and two sons and got a position a few days later. He is convinced that he is going to like his new home town.

Local Delegates To Speak At Conference

Because of its pioneering work in the field of Recreation, Peterborough will be well represented at the 1948 Provincial Recreation Conference held in Oshawa on April 9-11.

Premier George Drew, Minister of Education, will attend the opening and speak to the assembled delegates from cities, towns, and county councils scattered over the province.

Quirt McKinney will lead the conference in Community and Choral Singing. He is also Workshop and Discussion Group chairman for singing.

Mrs R. Whalon will be summarizer for the group discussing "Community Recreation Councils and Community Centres — What Is the Best Way To Organize?"

Edward Murphy will be discussion leader on "What Program Should Be Attempted First By a Newly Appointed Civic Recreation Group?"

Jack Dane, Recreation Director, will sit in on a panel discussion "How Can Our Schools and School Grounds Best Be Utilized For Community Recreation Use?"

Main subjects of discussion at the conference will include organization, financing and administration of a recreation program on a community basis. Discussions will be held on major subjects concerning program, personnel and the role of the different agencies in the community.

Displays and demonstrations of basic crafts being arranged by the Ontario College of Art will be of special interest. Demonstrations of training techniques in the fields of recreation and workshop discussion groups will also be featured.

A Norwegian folk play entitled "The Blue Belt" will be presented by the Whitby Children's Theatre.

Struck By Taxi At 5 In Morning

Injuries believed to be slight were received by Thornton Brick, Fairbairn Ave., when he was struck by a taxi at about five o'clock this morning. The taxi was driven by Henry S. Johnston, 64 Aylmer St., who stated that the injured men had been lying in the road at the scene of the accident, the corner of Reid and London Sts. Only injuries were slight cuts to the chest and legs, the hospital stated today. Dr. H. E. Castle, Lakefield, treated Brick.

BUSINESS CHANGES

Sale of the building on Water Street which houses Kawartha News will bring about several changes. Mr. Harloff, owner of the news company, has purchased the Boorman building on Queen St. He will use the front portion for the news business, the rear portion for individual refrigeration units, and the second storey will eventually be converted into apartments.

George Baker, now in the building at the southwest corner of King and George, is the new owner of the Water Street property and will be moving his printing plant about May 1.

Rambling Reporter

WHOM . . .

One of the indications of spring is the annual blossoming at this season of fiendish little weapons called sling-shots. The younger generation are now limbering up their winter-bound limbs with these combination crotch-and-rubber devastators. Reports have been received from various sections of the city complaining of the damage to windows and street lights which the juvenile marksters have aimed at—and hit. The Humane Society is also investigating reports that some of the returning birds are finding things a bit unhospitable because of these children.
—RB.

NAMED VICE-PRESIDENT—G. Harry Thompson, Peterborough, was elected one of five vice-presidents of the Ontario Red Cross at the annual meeting held last week. He had formerly been honorary secretary. Mr. Thompson has been active in the Peterborough Red Cross and in the parent organization for almost a quarter of a century.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

BRING ON THE BROOMS

These dapper fellows who keep their shoes well-shined have a grievance. It seems most of the city sidewalks are swept free of sand, but in front of apartment houses that little chore is neglected. The boys claim the sand on the sidewalk will soon ruin a good shoeshine.

BUSTLE OF SPRING

Good Friday was the first chance citzens had to get the rakes and brooms going and many of the city lawns got a thorough scraping. Bonfires were numerous too, as housewives carried the accumulation of leaves from flower beds and consigned them to the flames.

COBOURG NOW ON TIME

A new motor-control system for Cobourg's four-faced town clock is being installed today. The unit is battery opertaed. The new central clock, which will synchronize the four faces, will do away with the deviations shown in the times recorded among the four dials at the same time.

TAKING THE LONG WAY

, The Chemong floating bridge has not yet been put to use for vehicle traffic, although it has been used for walking across for the past few days. Residents of Bridgenorth district are using the long trip around the head of Lake Chemong to get to Ennismore. Any ice left in the lake is honeycombed and unsafe.

THURSDAY FIRES

Warm weather on Thursday caused three grass fires in Peterborough—at 535 Albert St. and on vacant plots on Lansdowne St. and Cameron St. A chimney caught fire at the home of H. O'Rourke at 442 Driscoll Terrace. Firemen were called out when children started a bonfire at 512 Weller St. They were called out again to a grass fire at Otonabee, but being outside the city limits turned back. They were told at first that the fire was on Lansdowne St.

Enter Cottages, Many Items Said Stolen

The usual flurry of reports of petty thefts and ransacking of summer cottages in the vacation district north of the city started again this year with the Good Friday holiday, as provincial police investigated four separate reports on Friday.

Two cottages on Katchewanooka lake, near Lakefield, which reported losses and disturbances were Fred C. Marshall, Peterborough and that of a Toronto vacationist. Mr. Marshall stated that, from a check made so far, there have been no actual losses.

A cottage belonging to a Torontonian named Huff, located at Clear lake, was the most seriously effected. The marauders gained entrance by cutting a wire screen and breaking the window glass behind it.

The South Beach Hotel also stated that a number of small items have been taken there. However, as the hotel operates all winter, it is believed those losses are not connected with the cottage takes.

GOLF BALL HUNTING

Four north end boys went golf ball hunting for an hour Friday afternoon and recovered 19 golf balls on the Peterborough Golf and Country Club course.

SIMPLE DESIGN ADDS BEAUTY TO HOME, MAKES DOLLAR STRETCH

Making General Survey Of What Home Requires

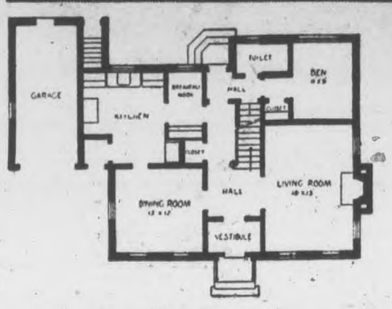
With folks on all sides remarking hopefully that "Spring is just around the corner", this looks like an excellent time for those housewives who haven't already done so to start looking over the house to see just what needs to be done in the way of Spring cleaning and redecorating.

The routine chores of window cleaning, wall washing, furniture waxing and general interior clean-up can be taken for granted, Beyond all that, however, is the inevitable fact that the wear and tear of winter in the home has brought about conditions which should be remedied for purposes of property protection as well as to give the interior of the home that "new look" which will match the work of Nature and the annual clean-up campaigns outdoors.

Things like that are best done if plans are laid in advance. That's why the suggestion is made that the housewife start now on a tour of inspection, check-list in hand, to determine just what she wants done in the near future to protect and beautify her home.

Everyone has her own way of going at these things, but it is an excellent idea to start with the basement. Every basement, probably, can do with a tidying up, but most are asking for more than that. A tour of inspection is likely to show that metal work is corroded and crying for paint, that worn cement floors need sealing to make them look better and to eliminate dust.

In the kitchen, sanitation as well as appearance demands that all worn spots and edges, especially around handles and knobs of doors and drawers, be touched up with paint or enamel. Kitchenn floors which always get hard wear, may be in need of refinishing in spots.



Living and dining rooms, halls and foyers are the show places of the home—reflecting to every visitor either good or bad housekeeping. Nothing can dampen springtime spirits more than grimy, dingy walls and floors. Yet they can be transformed cheaply and quickly with a paint brush. Light tints—in either standard oil paints or the new one-coat water paints—reflect more light and make rooms infinitely more cheering.

Hard-working bathrooms rival kitchens when it comes to taking it on the chin. Steam and continued dampness take their toll, and in most homes annual refinishing is practically a necessity to protect walls and woodwork and to maintain an air of cheerful sanitation.

WHEN YOU WANT THE BEST—When it comes to home planning, Canadian women demand the best. And they usually know what they're talkking about too! This home is sure to attract the housewife because it provides so many of the features desired. There is spaciousness with convenience, ample light and air in each room, generous cl et space, and a living room that is neither too large nor too small. Each bedroom enjoys unusual privacy, separated from its neighbor by closets or hall, yet convenient to the bathroom. Notice the size of the master bedroom! And don't overlook the den, breakfast room and washroom on the first floor. Heating is by hot water system with oil burner. Exterior walls are of red "Chipman" brick, with trim and shutters white. Roof is black. C. St. J. Wilson was the architect. Further information as to plans and construction drawings may be had from Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Make $1,000 Grant To Doctor's Widow

OTTAWA, March 27 — (CP). — Grant of $1,000 to the widow of a veterans affairs doctor murdered in his Ottawa office last autumn was contained in the government's supplementary estimates passed by the Commons Wednesday night.

The grant will be made to Mrs. W. F. Bowie who, in addition, will receive an annual pension equivalent to that received by the widow of a major in the army.

Her husband was killed by an irate veteran, Henry Page, who then shot himself. He was disgrantled over his grading for pension purposes.

High School Education Program Critically Appraised By Speaker

A critical appraisal of modern high school education was delivered at the weekly Kiwani luncheon on Thursday, by Alister G. McColl, Director of Research, Canadian Education Association.

Five objectives of education were outlined and he examined the high school curriculum as it effected three main groups of pupils: the academic, the vocational, and the unskilled.

He felt that the present system was suitable for the first. might be improved for the second, but was entirely inadequate for the third.

"These are the people who have been neglected," he said. "They see no point in the high school program."

"We talk about democracy and equality of opportunity, this group represents the majority of the population — housewives, primary producers on farms and in mines and factories." He pointed out that in the event of war this group would do most of the producing in war industry, and most of the fighting as well.

Referring to education for this third graup, he said, "We can't continue to neglect the rank-and-file who are the backbone of the country."

To illustrate the falling off in high school attendance he said that in 1946 for every 100 Grade 7 pupils, there were 44 in Grade 10, and 19 in Grade 12.

Five objectives of education were listed as: one, economic competence — how to make a living and manage on the wages paid; two, family competence—how to set up and run a home, and avoid marital misunderstandings; three, social competence — an effective knowledge of the social sciences; four, political competence — to take an interes in community affairs; five, enjoyment of living — getting fun out of living, and making good use of leisure time.

Mr. McColl said one of our fundamental problems was that we were not agreed on the objectives of education. "If we are going to accept something like these five things, we must come up with something a little better."

Blames Tradition, Inertia

To tradition and inertia he ascribed the principal blame for not changing the system. He attacked "the idea that education must be disagreeable" if it is to be effective.

Speaking of the schools, he said "I don't think you can learn the importance of democracy by reading about it. We must set up democratic institutions."

Another object of criticism was the fact that only five per cent of the 15-19 age group attended college. He said that the recent presidential report on higher education in the U.S. recommended 50 per cent college attendance.

At present high schools are serving 35 per cent of the eligible age group. And he contended that this percentage should be increased.

He asked what the basis of selection should be: on the economic ability of the parents, mental ability of the pupil, or character. Of these he felt that the first should not be the determinant. "But frankly I'm afraid that it is the most important element in the selection."

Mr. McColl was dubious that education has kept pace with advances in other fields. A wider variety of training was now being offered and more pupils were attending than ever, but he said many people were critical, particularly of high schools.

At the present moment there is a wide interest in educational topics and a definite program of curriculum revision has started in every province.

Mr. McColl was introduced by Wesley Switzer and thanked by Walter Howell. President Pridham was in the chair.

HELP FLOOD VICTIMS — Lending a helping hand to flooded-out families of Long Branch yesterday are Bob Johnston, Eva McLean and Jimmy Kai, members of the Christian Work Camp Fellowship, which joined with the Toronto Red Cross volunteers to repair damage done to the homes by the raging Etobicoke Creek.

Joint Service Fills Church On Good Friday

A capacity congregation at Park St. Baptist church Good Friday morning, heard a challenge from the Rev. H. G. Douglas, minister at Knox United church, to live by the Cross if they are to attain salvation. It was a joint service of the congregations of St. James United, Knox United and Park St. Baptist.

Rev. Mr. Douglas took as his theme, 'God comes into our lives by the way of a Cross," and he stressed the point that there is nothing sentimental about the Cross, that it is not a fancy idea in the minds of theologians or scientists, but is really a tumult in life.

"You cannot streamline or modernize this Cross—it deals with sin, blood, suffering and pain," he said.

He explained that men and women of the Christian church can get a revelation of God through a personal acceptance of responsibility from the representatives of Christ, namely the clergymen. On this thought he showed that many outside the church had no desire to be saved, or to follow in God's footsteps and pattern their lives according to His teachings.

"Unless you see the necessity of the Cross it is no good to you. Christ cannot save people unless they want to be saved; that is the tragedy of free-will."

He explained too that God often chose tragedy and suffering as a means of bringing people to their senses, and of getting them back to a proper pattern of behaviour, and a true assessment of values.

The minister, Rev. E. J. Whan, was in charge of the service, and Rev. F. W. Craik of St. James, read the lesson and led in prayer.

Special music and singing was provided by the organist and choir, and the singing of "God So Loved the World," from Sir John Stainer's "Crucifixion" was remarkably well done by such a small choir. The soloist was Mrs. C. Corbett, soprano, who sang, "There Is a Green Hill Far Away."

Ask MP's Cut Pay

LLANDUDNO, Wales, March 27.—(Reuters).— Cabinet ministers and members of parliament should lead the way to the reduction of high wages by cutting their own salaries, R. E. Scouller, president of the Clerical and Administrative Workers' Union, said yesterday in a speech.

WI Holds Euchre

WESTWOOD, March 27 (ENS). —A euchre party, sponsored by the Women's Institute, was held on Wednesday. Fourteen tables were played.

Winners were: Mrs. Victor Dickson, Mrs. L. Hutchinson, Bruce Graham, and Gerald Whalen.

COTTON CHAMBRAY SUIT — Two shades of cocoa brown cotton chambray are used for this summer suit. The skirt is cocoa beige, satin-striped with darker coacoa brown, while the dress top and the long sleeved bolero are of the plain, lighter fabric. Good resort and country stuff, and one that is easy to wear and to keep in fresh condition.

Campbellford Wedding On Good Friday

CAMPBELLFORD, March 27 — (ENS).—At a pretty spring wedding in the Campbellford Baptist church, Friday, Muriel May Charlotte Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J C. Osborne, was married to James Cecil Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richardson, Warkworth. Rev. H. C. Bryant officiated.

The church was decorated with evergreens and spring flowers and the music was played by Mrs. E. A. White, aunt of the bride. During the signing of the register Miss Peggy White sang "At Dawning."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory slipper satin with a long full skirt ending in a train. The yoke was of net and the sleeves came to points over the wrists. Her veil was of embroidered net and was in a long train effect caught with a Juliet cap. She wore a string of pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. C. A. Young, sister of the bride, Miss Norma Thresh, her cousin, and Miss Gwen Richardson, sister of the groom. They were frocked in gowns of bue, yellow and pink taffeta with shoulder length veils attached to Juliet caps. They carried nosegays of mixed carnations.

The best man was Wayne Gunter and the ushers were Ralph Osborne, the bride's brother, and Kevin McIntyre.

Out of town guests were Ralph Osborne, Longueuil, Que.; Kevin McIntyre, Longueuil; Mrs. J. W. Thresh Montreal; Miss Norma Thresh, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richardson, Warkworth; Miss Doris Richardson, Warkworth; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Richardson, Peterborough; and Mac Richardson, Haliburton.

After the ceremony the reception was held at the bride's parental home where her mother received, wearing a gown of dove tone grey crp and a navy hat. She wore a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother, who also received, wore a gown of pale blue crepe with a hat of matching shade and a corsage of pink carnations. Miss White sang "Always" at the reception.

The bride and groom will honeymoon in Chatham. For travelling the bride wore an aqua two-piece dress and a grey three-quarter length coat with hood and black accessories. They will live in Longueuil, Quebec.

VANCOUVER BOUND — A long journey which began in Norway is almost over for Anne E. Novik, 23, who is bound for her new home in Vancouver. Born in Norway, she came to Canada with 22 other members of her family in 1940 as refugees aboard a Norwegian fishing vessel. She joined the Norgegian airforce in Toronto in 1943 and went to Europe, getting her discharge in 1945.

JAP SPY SHOT — Yoshiko Kawashima, shown at right dressed in boy's garb with Jap actress beside her, was shot after being convicted as a spy for Japan. Born in Tokyo, the princess was only 33 but little of her beauty remained. She died without a whimper.

THE PLAY GOES ON

REGINA — (CP). — When Jack Morton, an actor in a drama festival here, was required to eat a piece of bread and butter during performance of a play, he found he had bitten off part of his crepe "beard." Without batting an eye, he chewed up the beard and swallowed it with the bread.

Of Interest to Women

AUSTERITY EASTER FOR BRITAIN — Plaintive expression on the face of Zena Marshall, British film starlet, is due to the fact that she knows the majority of the egg dishes she will eat during the coming year will come from the box in the background and from the sphere in the front.

Caution Rules Fashion Front Women Pause on 'New Look'

By The Canadian Press

Prices are up, and Canadian gals have their eye on the budget as they fill the shops looking for a practical Easter ensemble.

Despite a 15-30 per cent price increase over last Spring, a Canadian Press survey shows today that women are doing just as much, if not more shopping this year than in 1947.

Those women who paid little attention to the longer lengths during the winter, are stocking up now with the 1948 version of the "New Look." But caution reigns on the Fashion Front, with women hesitating to go "all out" for extreme styles. They want an Easter outfit which will pay its way all through the year, and on into 1949.

Halifax women are still converting to the new style, although many can't afford the price. Sales are about the same as last year.

More Expensive Hats

Milliners in Quebec City report an increased demand for a more expensive Easter hat.

Navy, followed by black and pastel shades, heads the Montreal color parade. Women here are definitely adopting the longer length, with ankle-grabbers no longer limited to the exclusive class.

Spring coats in small sizes are at a premium in Ottawa, where women are snapping up everything available. Flowers and veils are popular on millinery — but one of the outstanding successes of the season is the exact copy of Barbara Ann Scott's hat.

Toronto women are adopting the new shortie coat, but the predicated flair in the back has been moderated. Navy and grey are more popular for spring than pastels, which are expected to come into their own during the summer.

In London, Ont., women turn away from the more expensive items such as a three-piece ensemble. Windsor reports that Americans are buying up light wool suits. Blue nylons, to wear with the new navy color, are "all the rage."

Winnipeg shopping is more concentrated and done earlier this year. The Gibson Girl figure is back, as well as Victorian bonnets.

PREVIEW OF HER EASTER NEW LOOK — Little Theresa Imbranoni seems to have a little difficulty in adjusting her Easter bonnet to the fashionable angle as she rehearses for the Easter parade at the Children's Aid Society's James' Centre in New York. The "new look" skirt is modish in front, but somewhat lacking in back. Four and five-year-olds dreamed up their own ensembles for boy playmate judges.

Allan Moir Park Wed In Toronto

TOROTO, March 27—St. Paul's Chapel was the scene of a very quiet marriage on Wednesday evening when Josephine Frances Bergin of Staynor, Ont., became the bride of Allan Moir Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Park, 52 Playter Blvd., Toronto. Canon F. H. Wilkinson officiated at the ceremony.

The young couple will reside at 18 Bonnington Place, Lansing.

D'ARCY HINDS DIES

BARRIE, March 27 — (CP). — D'Arcy Hinds, for many years registrar of the Ontario supreme court, died yesterday at his home. He was 79. He became judgment clerk at Osgoode Hall in Toronto in 1905 but was 50 years old before he tried and passed his final bar examinations.

NEW RECORD—Setting something of a record, one white suitcase contained all the belongings required for a three-month round-the-world flight for Mrs. Honey Hansen, manager of Universal Travel Directors, Seattle, shown above as she arrived in Montreal recently by plane from the west coast on the first lap of the trip. All her effects for the trip were contained in the one suitcase, which weighed only 3 pounds.

Men Advised to Beware Of Brainless Beauties

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am in love with a girl who is beautiful and amiable and she fascinates me, but she hasn't a brain in her lovely little head. She never reads anything. She never thinks of anything but the most obvious, everyday things. We haven't an idea in common and I can only talk to her as I would to a child. Yet I am always thinking about her, always longing for her when I am away from her.

DOROTHY DIX

Would I be safe in marrying this girl, or is this attraction she has for me merely physical?

ANSWER: It is because so many men mistake physical attraction for love that we have so many faithless husbands and so many divorces. Physical attraction is the shortest lived thing in the world. It dies of satiety. The house of happiness that is built only on thrills is bound to topple down because it has no foundation.

If love is to endure, the man and the woman must speak the same language, care for the same things. They must interest and entertain each other. Boredom breaks up more homes than all the combined vices. Marriage writes "finis" to the chapter of romantic love. Then must came companionship, comradeship, friendship, if the marriage is to be a success. These can only exist between persons of the same mental calibre.

Pass Up This Girl.

So my advice to you is to pass up the beautiful but dumb girl for a woman with intelligence, if you want a wife of whom you will never tire.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I expect to be married soon, but before I take the fatal steps I have a problem to settle. My fiance has told me in no uncertain terms that after we are married he expects three nights a week off. Don't you think that he is being selfish in this? I contend that two nights a week are plenty for a married man to be away from his home. What is your opinion?

WORRIED.

ANSWER: I agree with you that two nights off are enough for any married man, and that if he wants more he had better stay single. What is he getting married for, anyway, if he doesn't expect to enjoy his home enough to stay in it, and to find his wife sufficiently interesting to make her a fireside companion?

However, the chances are that you are borrowing trouble, and that when you get married your husband will discover that homemaking is one of the most thrillingly absorbing amusements in the world, and that he will want to stay at home almost every evening instead of pining to step out. That is what happens to almost every man if his wife makes his home pleasant and comfortable.

Almost every man, before marriage, thinks he is going to keep up all of his old friendships and affiliations; that it will make no difference between him and the boys, but after marriage he finds that he has lost interest in them and that it is pleasanter to sit at home with a book and tune in on the radio than it is to take the trouble to dress and go out and hunt up the old crowd.

So don't worry too much about what your husband is going to do after marriage. Just let Nature take its course.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have a daughter of 13 who is very much overweight. She is very selfish and disagreeable. She will not study. She is boy-crazy and I have come to the place where I do not know what to do about her. Please help me.

A MOTHER.

ANSWER: Undoubtedly your daughter's trouble is physical. Take her to some good doctor and have her glands examined. Then, if you can possibly afford it, send her off to school. There she will get the discipline that she will not take from you. Girls of that age often get simply intolerable at home, and their salvation and that of the family depends upon their being sent away to a good school.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, March 28

Sunday's horoscope holds testimony of a disheartening and disagreeable state of affairs, in which perhaps the family circle or other close or intimate affiliations may be inharmonious and unpleasant as well as unprofitable. Harsh words, criticism, or a show of both stubborn and vindictive conduct, born of jealousy or enmity, might demolish all peace and ruin cherished hopes and wishes. For health and harmony maintain composure and equanimity. Be agreeable.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a difficult and doubtful year in which affairs may not move along in either progressive or pleasant grooves. The spirits may be depressed and the energies stagnant, begot of a morose, stubborn, vindictive or jealous disposition. The domestic circle may be the scene of clash and inharmony or other intimate relations may react to a low state of vitality or other sad and sordid inhibitions. A vacation or diversion "far from the madding crowd" might prove good medicine.

A child born on this day may be handicapped by a low state of mind and spirits, inciting it to vengeful, jealous and anti-social behaviorism. It could profit by early training, discipline and precept, with an optimistic outlook on life.

For Monday, March 29

Monday's astrological forecast is for a decided turn in the tide of affairs giving definite stimulus to the energies, ambitions and aspirations, to the point of attainment of new goals, in which position, finance, labor and intelligent quest of high objectives should be richly rewarded. Such talent, energy and ambitious plans and purposes should attain full and hearty support of influential persons or institutions. Intelligence, merit and good work should be focused upon advanced goals, promotion and enhanced prestige.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is should marshal their most ambitious faculties, forces, plans and ambitions on the determination to attain their cherished ambitions, as reward of merit and the warm and hearty endorsement of those in influential positions who may be counted upon for the attainment of personal prestige and popularity. Important deals, finances, promotion should flourish and brint about much gratification, honors and intimate joys in all contacts and aspirations. Work for exceptional returns.

A child born on this day should be bounteously endowed with energies, forces, faculties and ambitions for a successful career, with honors, prestige and influence.

What MAKES a good citizen?

A good citizen respects himself . . .
and respects the rights of others.

He avoids bigotry and intolerance.

He puts the welfare of his country and his community before his own advantage.

He is moderate in his thinking and moderate in his actions.
He is moderate in his use of luxuries.

When an occasion calls for the enjoyment of whisky, the good citizen knows, as The House of Seagram has so frequently pointed out, that he has a personal responsibility to himself, to his family and to his country.

It is to "drink moderately" . . . or not at all!

Traffic Fines Top $100 Mark

The total was just peeking over the top of the $100 mark, but minor traffic charges paid in court Thursday again went over that "century note" class to a point of $103. Twenty-one motorists added their bit to the cause.

For speeding, $5 and $2.50 costs were paid by: Winston McCullough, 113 Morrow St.; Donald McFarlane, RR 8, Peterborough; Robert Burns, Bailieboro.

Kenneth Dawson also paid $5 and $2.50 for failing to produce his driver's license when requested.

For not having a name properly painted on his truck, another $5 and $2.50 award came from Larry Black, 596 Bolivar St.

The error going through a stop sign appeared most popular among today's entries. For that offence, $3 and $2.50 costs each were paid by: C. W. Boorman, 390 Queen St.; J. S. Henderson, RR 7, Peterborough; Frank Brown, 478 Rubidge St.; Kenneth Dawson, 585 Harvey St.; Keith Fontaine, 146 Aylmer St.; N. J. Malloy (no address listed); L. W. Phillips, Bridgenorth.

Fines of $2 and $1 costs each were assessed against the following for not having proper rear lighting on vehicles: Clifford Darling, RR 11, Peterborough; P. A. Meiklejohn, 534 McKellar St.; Earl Godfrey, 1 Dunlop St.; William Hartwick, 385 Queen St.; and Carl H. Curry, 292 Woodbine St.

Kenneth Reid, 83 Sophia St., was fined $2 and $1 costs for going through a stop sign and J. S. T. Hayes, Toronto, paid $2 and $1 for overtime parking.

Sunday School Names Officers

NORTH SMITH, March 27 — (ENS). — The congregation of Wesley Church met and reorganized the Sunday School and the following appointments were made:

K. Stewart, C. Northey, R. Garbutt, J. Harrison, Mrs. R. Bullock and Miss I. Northey.

The Sunday School will meet each Sunday at 10 a.m., and temperance and missionary instruction will be given each month.

WMS Hold Easter Meet

HAVELOCK, March 27—(ENS) —Mrs. R. Bonny was the guest speaker at the Easter meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Knox Church on Monday.

President Mrs. P. Colquhoun was chairman and Easter hymns were sung with Miss Dora Kethen as accompanist. Mrs. R. Anderson read the scripture lesson and Mrs. Carman McMillan gave a reading. A duet was sung by Misses Elaine Graham and Beverley Bennett.

COMMUNISTS' ARMS CACHE SEIZED—As political parties intensied their campaigns for the crucial April 18 elections, Rome police are shown in this radio photo as they examine military equipment seized by the government in a raid at Frascati, a small wine centre a few miles south of Rome. Dynamite, ammunition, rifles and field telephones were among the equipment rounded up from a Communist party headquarters in the Rome area.

Donations Reported From Marmora CWL

MARMORA, March 27 (ENS)—Meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held in Sacred Heart School on Tuesday. President, Mrs. J. Black, was chairman.

The president informed the members that donations had been sent to the National Institute for the Blind, the League Magazine and Scholarship Fund.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Charles Crawford.

Mrs. John Bedore reported that Mrs. W. Burke and herself had made 39 visits to the sick and shut-ins. Mrs. J. Crawford and Mrs. M. J. Maloney volunteered for this duty for April.

The president displayed the fancy quilt on which tickets are being sold and Mrs. Sheridan, who had the quilting in her home, received thanks from the president.

It was decided to hold a bingo in the school on April 6 to raise funds to be forwarded to the Diocesan treasurer. The following conveners reported on Study Clubs held: Mrs. John Doyle, 4; Mrs. A. Laton, 4; Mrs. R. E. Maloney.

The nominating committee for the April meeting was: Mrs. A. M. Jones, Mrs. John Crawford and Mrs. S. A. Stephens.

Rev. H. J. Farrell gave an address on hospital plans, explaining their benefits and urging the league to organize. Mrs. Stephens was asked to canvass the members.

Mrs. Charles Brady gave a reading on Communism.

Ask Abolition Death Penalty

LONDON, March 27—(Reuters) —A demand to parliament for suspension of the death penalty in Britain for murder was introduced today by 150 members of the House of Commons, belonging mostly to the Labor party.

The demand is in the form of an amendment to the criminal justice bill.

It's effect, if adopted, would be that, for an experimental period of probably five years, no one would be sentenced to death for murder. Life imprisonment would take the place of the death sentence.

Abolition of the death penalty for murder has been the subject of considerable controversy in Britain recently.

The government has shown considerable sympathy towards the idea of abolishing the death penalty, but it is believed to be apprehensive of such a reform at a time when post-war social conditions have not had time to return to normal.

Night Refuelling Tests Tried By British Plane

SHANNON AIRPORT, Eire, March 27 — (Reuters) — The first refuelling in mid-air over the Atlantic by night was successfully carried out early today by a British Overseas Airways Corporation Liberator as it neared the Irish coast from Montreal.

This was part of the series of flight refuelling trials which started at the beginning of the year with the support of the ministry of civil aviation.

The Liberator was flying at 9,000 feet. Three hundred gallons of fuel were passed from the Shannon - based tanker plane which made contact with the Liberator at the appointed rendezvous as planned with the aid of radar.

Britain Won't Accept Palestine Trusteeship

LONDON, March 27—(Reuters) —There is virtualy no possibility that Britain will agree to take over trusteeship of Palestine after the termination of her mandate on May 15, a reliable source stated here today.

He was commenting on a press report that officials of the United States state department were on their way to London to discuss Palestine with the foreign office.

It was learned authoritatively in both British and American quarters here that no state department officials have arrived and none are expected.

The main aim of British policy now, as before the United States announced withdrawal of support for partition, is to give up all British responsibility for Palestine at the earliest possible moment.

Friendly Society Meets

NORTH SMITH, March 27 — (ENS). — The People's Friendly Society met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Harrison Monday night, with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Garbutt in charge. Musical numbers were given by Mrs. J. A. Northey, Miss Velma Garbutt and Leo McCue. The lesson was read by Miss Melba Pavey, and the topic was given by Erie Pearson. Kenneth Stewart conducted the question period. The games were directed by Miss Esther Meiklejohn. Mrs. Charlie Pavey assisted the hostess in serving lunch.

Rentals Act Charge Sticks

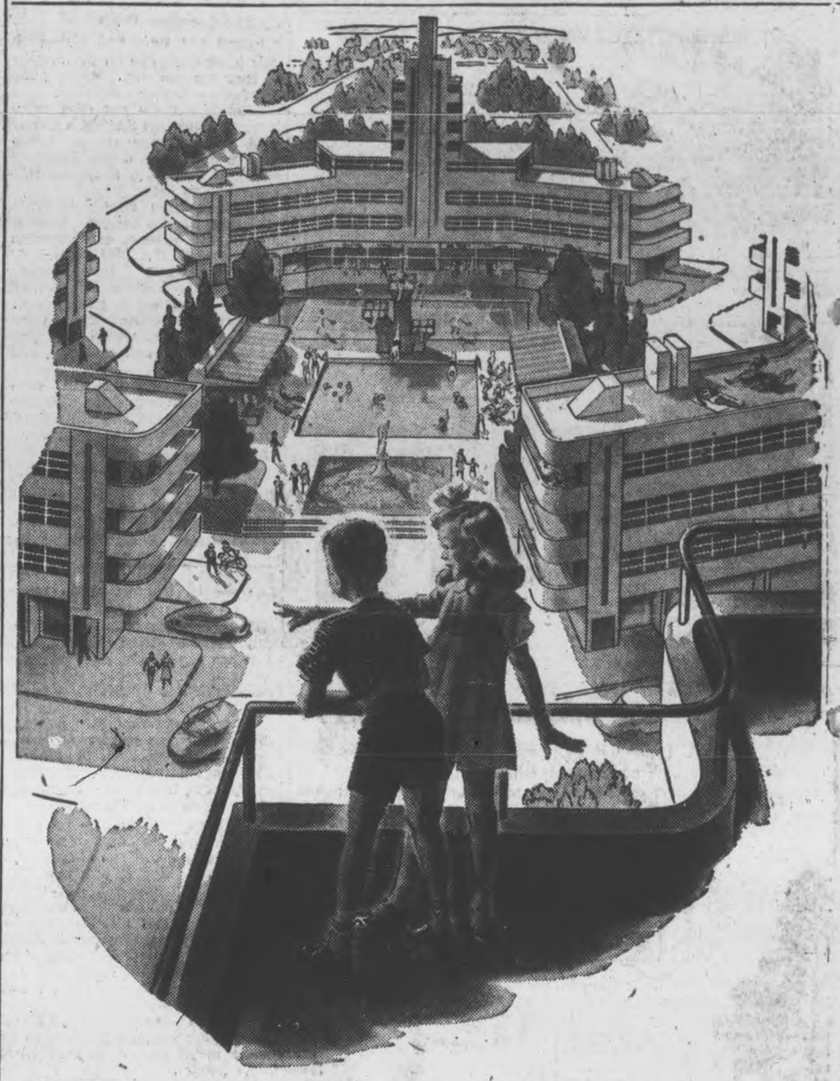
Ruby E. Ing, 231 George St. was fined $15 and $6.75 costs when she was found guilty of failing to make application to have the rental charge of rooms fixed by the Rentals Appraiser and for charging more than was "reasonable and just" for rooms. Through counsel W. J. A. Fair, the accused had pleaded not guilty to both charges.

The tenant of the two rooms concerned, Edgar F. Owles, whose rooms are in the same building, stated that he had been paying $9 a week for the two furnished rooms from March 1947 until February, 1948.

W. Ross Payne, investigator for the WPTB in Peterborough, stated that the rentals appraiser had fixed the rate of rental for the two rooms at $4.50 per week.

Objections by Mr. Fair were that the case had not been proved in the evidence which had been presented.

Report Shifting Sands UndermineLighthouse



SABLE ISLAND, N.S., March 27 — (CP) — The treacherous shifting sands of Sable Island are slowly undermining the lighthouse at the western end of the "Atlantic graveyard."

Two engineers of the Department of Transport flew in an RCAF plane to the 21-mile-long stretch of sand, 90 miles off the Nova Scotia coast, yesterday and spent nearly three hours examining possible sites for a new lighthouse.

At the east end of the island, only a mile wide at its extreme breadth, the east lighthouse is still a safe distance from the water. But with the island shifting its position several feet every year engineers are keeping a close watch on it, fearing it, too, will be endangered in a few years.

Raise Teachers' Pay

OTTAWA, March 27—(CP)—Salary increases ranging from $75 to $250 last night were approved by the Ottawa Separate School Board for religious and lay teachers in the capital's separate schools. A total of 186 lay teachers and 166 religious teachers are affected by the flat increases, which are retroactive to Jan. 1.

What kind of world will your children inherit?

Probably it will be a better world in every way.

Certainly it will be a healthier world. For science is working ceaselessly to devise more effective ways of treating and preventing disease.

But the task is enormous—and costly. That is why the life insurance companies in Canada have contributed large sums of money for many years toward the work of medical science—particularly in the field of preventive research.

As a result, more men and women are enabled to work in well-equipped laboratories waging war against cancer, tuberculosis and polio. More facts are being discovered in order to promote better nutrition, prenatal care and dental hygiene. And, the skill and devotion which these scientists bring to their work promises new freedom from sickness in years to come.

By supporting their efforts, the life insurance companies help to raise the health standard of the nation.

By owning life insurance, you help to create a healthier world for your children.

JOHN O'CONNOR, of Birmingham, England, is a sturdy, 11-year-old boy who traded 80 pounds earned by running errands and delivering eggs for a chance to live in Canada. The brown-haired active John arrived at Montreal Airport this week to be swept up in a bear hug by his mother and to tell how he had been the first 11-year-old ever to finance his own trans-Atlantic air passage. John did more than just pay his own air passage to Canada. He found a girl friend — Miss Moira Dunn, 8. Here he helps Moira down from the airliner that brought them from England, as stewardess Marian Burton-Gyles watches, just in case.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

RISKING GAME JUSTIFIED

RISKING a game contract in order to seek an extra trick is never justified in rubber bridge. But in match-point duplicate, played in all pair tournaments, there are well defined situations in which doing that is obligatory on the fine player. Suppose, when he sees the dummy, he realizes that most pairs will be in a better contract than he, but also that some pairs will share the same as he. If he reckons his pair to that stage had a fine score and might win if it gets anything better than a tie with others in the same contract, then he should strive to do better than the tyers.

(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1 ♥	1 ♠
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♥	3 ♦
3 ♥	4 ♦	4 ♥	5 ♦

Instantly after his bid of 5-Diamonds, South realized he had been ultra-conservative and that other players in his position would bid 6-Diamonds at some tables. He felt all the more regretful when he saw the dummy, bemoaning his own choice of three options. The third would have been to double the 4-Hearts, which now seemed likely to be set about three tricks, for more than the value of his own mere game.

Apparently sure to be beaten by the pairs in the small slam, if it could be made, and also by those who doubled the hearts, his sole chance to improve his score by play was to beat some of the people who were in 5-Diamonds and might play safe for the contract. Feeling that this might eke out just enough match points on the deal to prevent defeat, he decided to risk his contract for the extra trick.

The heart 9 was the lead, which the J covered and the K won. East made the most damaging return of the club J, the A winning. That lead located the K-Q with West, hence South figured East almost sure to have had the spade Q for his opening bid. So he took in the diamond K and Q, scored the spade A, led to the diamond A, finessed the spade J and was thrilled when it won. Its failure would have meant a club return, setting him. Using spades to discard dummy's clubs, then ruffing the club 5, brought in his extra trick and enabled his pair to win the tournament by one match point, as two other pairs refused to finesse in spades.

6—In Memoriam

BREEZE—In loving memory of Mrs. Margaret Breeze, who passed away 12 years ago today, March 27th, 1936.
Treasured thoughts of me so dear
Often brings a silent tear,
—Missed by her loving daughter, Mrs. Maud Cavanaugh, 3560 Piquette St., Detroit 11, Mich.

CROSS—In loving memory of Mrs. Mary Cross, who died March 26, 1946.
More and more each day we miss her,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
Lies within our hearts concealed.
—Ever remembered by Bill and Clara Curtis and family.

HAMILTON — In loving memory of our dear Father, Richard Hamilton, who passed away one year ago today, March 26, 1947.
Dear Father, you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more;
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.
—Sadly missed by son Harry, daughter-in-law Hazel, grandchildren Ernie and Harry.

HEWITT—In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hewitt, who passed away March 28, 1946.
God took her home,
It was His will;
But in our hearts
She liveth still.
—Always remembered by the Family.

LITTLE—In loving memory of a dear Mother, Ida Little, who passed away March 28, 1947.
A year has passed but still we miss her;
Never shall her memory fade,
Loving thoughts will always linger
Round the grave where she is laid.
—Ever remembered by daughters Olive and Myrtle.

LITTLE—In loving memory of Mrs. James Little, who passed away March 28, 1947.
I cannot say and I will not say
That she is dead. She is just away.
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
She has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be since she lingers there.
And you—Oh, you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return,
Think of her faring on as dear
In the love of there as the love of here;
Think of her still as the same, I say.
She is not dead—she is just away.
— Ever remembered by husband James Little and son and daughter-in-law Russel and Margaret Little.

MAXWELL—In loving memory of a dear Mother and Grandmother, Eliza Ann Maxwell, who died eight years ago, March 28th, 1940.
Today recalls sad memories
Of my dear Mother who is gone to rest,
And the ones who think of her today
Are the ones who loved her best.
—Very sadly missed by her daughter Elizabeth Montgomery and grandsons Arnold and Noble.

7—Cards of Thanks

Oswegatchie Rising

OGDENSBURG, N.Y., March 27 — (AP). — The swollen Oswegatchie river, which empties into the St. Lawrence, rose Thursday until was only 3½ inches below last year's record high. Water surrounded several village homes. City Engineer Charles Lord said it might be necessary to evacuate some families if the river continued to rise. The Oswegatchie stood at 62¼ inches at powerhouse dam. In April, 1947, the reading was 65¾ inches—the highest in 25 years.

SECRET FILES MOVED

NEW YORK —Secret files of the New York office of the Atomic Energy Commission were moved to new quarters under armed guard. The entire moving operation from the Empire State Building to the new headquarters at 70 Columbus Ave. was completed under cover of darkness. More than 50,000 cubic feet of equipment and files were moved.

50 Voices Heard In Cantata At SA Temple

More than 50 voices of the Temple Songsters of the Salvation Army took part in a sacred cantata, "The Thorn-Crowned King," on Good Friday evening. The Songsters were under the direction of Ben Smith. The service was in charge of Major Charles Watt. Mrs. Watt gave readings on the message of Good Friday between the song selections

A prelude by Gerald Routley at the organ chimes and Mrs. Stanley Richardson at piano, opened the service.

Opening chorus of the Songsters was "Let the Righteous Be Glad." "He Chose the Cross of Shame' was an alto solo by Miss Nola Smith. Male voices of the Songsters sang, "There Was No Other Way." William Lowell, tenor, and the Songsters joined for the Easted hymn, "Betrayed."

"The Thorn-Crowned King" was a solo by soprano Mrs. Mendell Brand. The Songsters supported Ronald Routley, bass, in a solo selection, "Let Him Be Crucified."

The ladies of the Songsters sang "Alas and Did My Saviour Bleed." Mrs. Eliza Custance, soprano, and the choir sang "They Laid Him Away." A duet of "Have Faith in God" was sung by Ray Wilfong, tenor, and Frank Robinson, bass. Charles Watt, bass, and the Songsters, sang "Hail Ye."

The selection, "Glory in the Garden" was sung by the Songsters, with solo parts being taken by Mrs. Murray Thomas, soprano and Mrs. R. G. Routley, alto.

A quartet, consisting of Mrs. Mel Shadget, Mrs. Ronald Routley, S. J. Richardson and R. G. Routley sang "Jesus Lives," with accompaniment by the Songsters.

The final chorus of the Songsters was the stirring "Praise Ye the Lord."

Toronto Singers Aid In Cantata

A very pleasant performance of the sacred cantata, "The Holy City," was presented on Friday evening at George Street United Church by the combined choirs of Mark Street United, St. Andrew's United, and George Street United Churches. The soloists were Mrs. James Goldie, soprano, of Peterborough, and Miss Dorothy Ross, contralto, Earl Dick, tenor, and Robert Ivan Foster, bass, from Toronto.

The cantata was composed by Alfred R. Gaul for the Birmingham Music Festival of 1882. It is a moderately difficult work, which was well within the grasp of the choirs conducted by Harry Northrop, who did an excellent job with his clean-cut direction. The organist was Charles E. Allen.

A reception was held afterwards for the visiting artists, who made short speeches. Earl Dick said that he thought the cantata should be looked upon as a stepping-stone to the major works of the clasical composers. Robert Ivan Foster supported this view and emphasized that in singing, like anything else, experience was of vital importance.

During an intermission, Rev. Dr. J. Semple pointed out that it was the third year that such a work had been performed, and he appealed for a collection from the audience of $200, without which it would be impossible to repeat the event. He welcomed the visiting artists and visitors in the audience from outside Peterborough, including the choir from Tweed, which came specially to hear the work.

Ontario Accepts New Labor Code

TORONTO, March 27 (CP). — A federal labor code, when it is passed at Ottawa, will pass in full to Ontario under the provisions of a bill given first reading in the Legislature Thursday before it recessed for Easter.

Labor Minister Daley who introduced the measure said it is desirable to have a uniform labor code as had been the case during the war under emergency legislation.

The only way which the legislation may differ when adopted by Ontario is in such provisions necessary to give jurisdiction to the appropriate provincial authorities, to set up a system of appeals for the Ontario and Dominion labor relations board and to effect a working arrangement between Dominion and provincial authorities.

The bill will continue the Ontario board, consisting of a chairman, alternative chairman and four members. Duties will be similar to those under the present act, being replaced.

Another government bill will give it power to make regulations governing operation of ski tows.

The bill requires operators to file proof of financial responsibility.

Peterborough Dairy Farmers Must Make Decision Monday — "Lonelm Texal Happy" An Example Of Quality Of Maple Holsteins.

Tuesday Mar. 30 is the time limit for Peterborough and Victoria farmers to sign up their dairy herds for the Maple cattle breeders' artificial insemination program this season.

Victoria had 755 cows listed up to Monday this week. Peterborough has approximately 700. Some of the members of the local committee report applications in their pockets. The total listing required of each county is 1,000 animals.

Farmers generally believe that this area is definitely headed toward the new breeding method, but unless some of those who have been delaying decision are heard from by Monday, Peterborough county will not be accepted in the Maple unit this spring. Local plans will have to be deferred until the fall if a total of 1,000 cows has not been signed up Monday 29. That day is not too late, but it is the "dead line", because the Maple association is asking for definite word from both the eastern counties by Tuesday.

Members of the local committee have been campaigning in their neighborhoods for farmers to join the Maple group. In Victoria one of the active promoters of the artificial breeding plan is Wm. J. Murphy who is credited with helping to raise that county's present total to 755 at the beginning of this week.

At Maple Annual

A group of Peterborough men attended the annual meeting of the Maple association Monday. Two hundred members attended. Plans provide for purchase of Ayrshire and Jersey bulls. A new barn is being built for 16 animals and should be completed before June. The Maple breeding business has been expanding steadily, chiefly within the member counties where some farmers who were holding out in uncertainty are now joining up with those who have established the unit.

Saw Jackson Herd

The Peterborough party looked in on the George Jackson herd of Holsteins at Downsview.

Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, said the local visitors were all impressed by the quality of the Jackson Holsteins. Bulls in the Maple unit are from that herd.

"We saw a lot of strong deep-bodied cows at Downsview," Mr. Paterson said. "Some of them would weigh up to 1800 pounds. They showed uniformity in type and conformation. I wouldn't say they were ideal for show purposes. Mr. Jackson recently bought a son of Sovereign, and now has four bulls in his herd."

There is a high percentage of butter fat in the female background, and they are strong rugged cattle.

Close—But Not 1,000

"Peterborough county farmers have come so close to securing the required 1,000 cows for the Maple artificial insemination unit that it will seem too bad if we have to let this opportunity go for the present because we haven't quite enough animals," Mr. Paterson said.

Most of the local men who are willing to accept this service are in Otonabee, Smith, North Monaghan and Cavan townships.

They represent the three dairy breeds although Holsteins are most numerous. An incomplete list of those who have signed applications are:

Lorne Reynolds, Melville H. Johnston, Harry C. Blewett, W. R. Bell, J. Wesley Bell, Gordon Staples, Harry W. Young, Perry Neals & Son, Earl Huston. It happens that those farmers are all Jersey breeders.

C. Ferguson, Peterboro, RR 3; Harry Kennedy of Cavan; Henry Sharpe; Clayton Sanderson; Alex MacNaughton; Dick Elmhirst of Indian River; K. W. Easson & Sons, Indian River; Charles E. Moore, Preston Armstrong & Sons.

Fred Campbell, Fred Hurley, Howard Clark, Fred McIndoo, W. Burritt Jopling, Harold Beebee, Bailieboro, Gordon McIntosh, Gerald Lowes, E. Kimball, Myron C. Hill, H. Cretien.

A. B. Preston, Clarence Laing, G. Norman Moncrief, George Bolton, Marshall R. Failis and J. R. Hanbidge of Cavan; Clifford Darling, Ken Rollins, Roy Mullen, John Davidson of Birdstall; George Croft, Charles H. Barnard of Bailieboro.

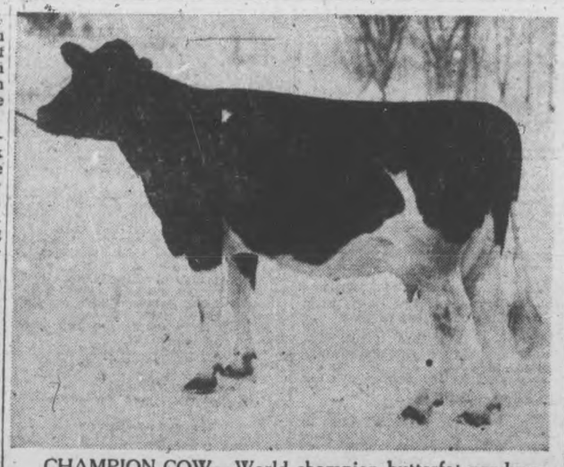
A LONELM COW'S RECORD

This is a "plug" for most of those Maple males which have recently come to the attention of Peterborough Holstein breeders.

"Official figures just released by R.O.P. branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture credit "Lonelm Texal Happy," a pure-bred Holstein owned by R. M Berry, Wilton Grove, Ont., and bred by George C. Jackson of Downsview, Ont., with her third consecutive yearly record each above 30,000 lbs. of milk on three times-a-day milking.



"Happy" thus becomes the official world champion for milk production for three consecutive lactations on three-times-a-day milking with her total of 91,691 lbs. milk containing 3,357 lbs. butter fat. She has a great string of records that give her championships in many classes.

She is Canadian champion for milk production for two consecutive lactations on three times-a-day milking and is second in Canada for milk production for both four and five consecutive lactations on three times-a-day milking. . . . Her latest record of 30,279 lbs. of milk containing 1,169 lbs. fat, average test 3.86%, was made as an eight-year-old, and is the fifth largest for butterfat ever completed in Canada in the mature class of the yearly division on three times-a-day milking . . . In her previous two lactations she gave 30,711 lbs. of milk containing 1,101 lbs. of fat, and 30,710 lbs. containing 1,086 lbs. fat.

She is the only Holstein cow in Canada ever to complete four consecutive lactations on three-times-a-day milking with an average of more than 1,000 lbs. of butterfat. Her actual average is 1,017 lbs. butterfat . . . Mr. Berry is a London business man, president of the London Pure Milk Co., who gets his relaxation through his farm."

That reference to Lonelm Happy appears to be timely and of some significance to local farmers who have been attracted toward the Maple breeding unit . . . The Maple booklets which were distributed here a month ago list a string of Lonelm sires. Among there are Lonelm Texal Highcroft, born 1942, graded XX July 20, 1945, whose sire is Lonelm Texal Fayne (XX). One of its four daughters mentioned in the Maple book is this cow "Lonelm Texal Happy" . . . Any farmers interested in this phase of Lonelm background can find it on page 12 of the Maple's association's book. This is the same "Happy" mentioned in the new ROP announcement. Holstein farmers interested in this Maple enterprise may obtain from this combined information a clearer appreciation of the Lonelm strain.

Incidentally there are seven Lonelm bulls in the barn of the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association.

CHAMPION COW—World champion butterfat producer over all breeds is Lifloc Mata Hari Supreme from the herd of Norman W. McConkey, Peterborough. Her junior 3-year-old 2X (twice a day milking) record is 905 lbs. butterfat from 19,635 lbs. of 4.61% milk. Mr. McConkey pays tribute to his father for his invaluable help in attaining this high honor in the dairy industry.

Lifloc 'Mata Hari Supreme' Sets World Junior Record

The Holstein-Friesian Journal has allotted its outside cover of the March issue to a picture of Norman W. McConkey's world champion junior three-year-old 2X Holstein cow, Lifloc Mata Hari Supreme, with a recently completed record of 905 lbs. of butterfat from 19,635 lbs. of 4.61% milk. She is a daughter of Supreme Grand Slam, bred by Mr. McConkey.

"A new North American and probably world champion butter fat producer over all breeds has been crowned in the junior 3-year-old class on 2X," is quoted from the Journal account of this Peterborough cow's performance. "She is Lifloc Mata Hari Supreme, owned by Norman W. McConkey of Peterborough, a director of the Holstein-Freisian Association of Canada, and proprietor of Lifloc Farm and Dairy.

She is well ahead of the former champion, Sweetholm Rag Appel Belle, who made 484 lbs. of fat from 17,945 lbs. of 4.73% milk in 1944 for her owner, E. L. Sweet, Belmont, Ont.

She is one of 24 tested daughters of Supreme Grand Slam, these daughters having 28 records averaging 12,818 lbs. milk, 3.61%; 463 lbs. fat; all on 2X; 23 at two years, 4 at three years, 1 at four years, and 6 in 305 days.

Her Paternal Family

Grand Slam was junior and grand champion at Peterborough, second prize winner at the CNE, and National Dairy Show. He sired the winning junior get for two of the regional championship shows, and the second open "get of sire" for another. Grand Slam was bred by Mr. McConkey. His sire was Hays' Supreme, the Reserve All-American whose daughters in J. R. Henderson's herd made him famous. His dam was Ruby Pabst Posch, a daughter of Sir Philip Pabst Posch, well-proven son of Montvic Pabst Rag Apple.

Ruby was an honor list leader and superior producer with junior 4-year-old 2X record of 18,086 lbs. 3.95%, 714 lbs. fat in 305 days which she increased to 10,004 lbs. milk, 3.99%, 759 lbs. fat in 365 days. It is interesting to note that this 305-day score would have been a championship record if Banonstine Alcartra Norine had not already made 776 lbs. for E. L. Sweet. The new record gives Norm some revenge on Gene. Ruby was also dam of Lifloc Top Notch, a sire used in the Montview herd of Vice-President W. A. Hodge.

Dam of the champion (Mata Hari Supreme) is Lady Belle Patricia Pabst with junior 4-year-old 2X record of 16,874 lbs. milk, 551 lbs. fat. She was also bred by McConkey and sired by the Reserve All-American Rightaway Creator Pat. Her Dam was Darkness Korndyke Pabst, another daughter of Sir Philip Pabst Posch, and a winner at Lindsay. She has several good records including a 2X score of 18,886 lbs. of milk, 3.53%, 66 lbs. fat."

She Wasn't Pampered

Continuing its account of Mata Hari Supreme, the Journal says: "Norm McConkey tells us something about the new champion. 'She is only a heifer of medium size but strong and rugged. She has never shown any sign of overwork, always consuming her food readily. She did not enjoy any special attention, going to pasture with the other cows, and only in the last month of her record was she given a box stall.

She was fed a 17% protein mixture, but most remarkable was her appetite for hay; she ate more hay than any other cow were have ever had.'

She had no particular scientific feeding program. Her feeder most of the time was "Grandpa" McConkey, who is 71 years of ago.

Milked entirely by machine, she was very consistent in production, gaining steadily to reach her highest day of 72 lbs. in the sixth month of her lactation. Her last day's production was 40 lbs. She had eight tests (butter fat) in the year: 4.2; 4.5; 3.3; 5.4; 4.8; 4.8 and 4.9%. Her low test of 3.3% came two days after she went to pasture."

In that statement by Mr. McConkey it should be noted that he gives a large part of the credit of the Lifloc cow's record to his father who, he has also said, has been a great help to him in the development of the herd.

Has Two Sons

"The champion has produced two bull calves to date," the Journal story continues. "The first, Lifloc Grand Romulus, was the winning senior bull calf and junior champion at Lindsay Exhibition, 1946. A half interest in this bull was bought by Elmhurst Brothers of Birdsall's, who are now using him as herd sire. He was sired by Lifloc Supreme Chancellor, a son of Grand Slam.

The second son born to start her championship record, is Lifloc Signet Tahari, who was junior and grand champion at Peterborough "Black and White Day," 1947. This lad, sired by Glenafton Rag Apple Signet, is now junior sire in the Lifloc herd.

Norm tells us that when Grand Slam, a grandson of Sir Philip Posch Pabst, was bred back to daubhters, grand daughters or daughters, grand daughters or Philip, the results were very successful, especially in raisng butterfat test. Almost his entire herd is closely related to "Mata Hari."

The champion is now in calf to Elmcroft Scepter-Monogram, son of Ajax Abbekerk Jewel who is the Ajax daughter from Lochinvar's full sister."

THREE 30,000-POUND HOLSTEIN — Lonelm Texal Happy, owned by R. M. Berry, Wilton Grove, Ontario, has just completed her third consecutive yearly record each above 30,000 lbs. milk. Her records are 30,269 lbs. milk containing 1,169 lbs. fat; 30,711 lbs. milk containing 1,101 lbs. fat and 30,710 lbs. milk containing 1,086 lbs. fat. Her three lactation total of 91,695 lbs. milk containing 3,357 lbs. fat in a new official world record on three time-a-day milking.

Wheat Marketing State Monopoly

BRANDON, Man., March 27—(CP)—Stanley N. Jones, president of the Winnipeg grain exchange, last night warned that the freedom of wheat marketing today is in deadly danger, with the alternative of state socialism, regimtation and coercion.

In an address at the annual meeting of the Manitoba branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, he said "wheat marketing is today a state monopoly under complete and absolute government control, and not later than last Friday night a further step towards socialism was taken."

(He apparently was referring to the coarse grain legislation now before parliament.)

Mr. Jones also condemned the government's "setting up a state monopoly to supply Britain with cheap wheat."

Plane Drops Three Bombs Near Jaffa School; 100 Die In Gun Battles

42 Jews In Convoy Killed In Arab Ambush
200 Others Removed Safely
Under British Truce Arrangements

JERUSALEM, March 29—(AP).—Police said three bombs, apparently dropped from a plane, landed today near a Greek Orthodox school in Jaffa. Nearby buildings were reported damaged slightly, but no one was hurt. About 100 persons were killed and 200 injured throughout Palestine during the week-end. The death toll increased to 2,206 in fighting since the United Nations voted four months ago for partition. A Jewish agency spokesman indicated to a press conference there is "some move in religious circles to suggest a truce for Jerusalem."

A spokesman welcomed a reported appeal by Dr. Cyril Gargett, Archbishop of York, to the United Nations to "take at once steps necessary to save Jerusalem from destruction" in Arab-Jewish combat.

The charred bodies of seven unidentified Jews were recovered from the wreckage of a burned-out armored car near Mughar village in the coastal plain. Police stated earlier a party of Jews attacked the village with automatic weapons and grenades. The villagers returned the fire. The armored car was blown up during the fight.

Official reports showed at least 68 persons slain yesterday. Unofficial sources reported a much higher toll. The Jewish militia Haganа claimed 300 Arab casualties. Arabs spoke of heavy Jewish losses.

A British official statement said 42 Jews were slain and their convoy of five vehicles burned in an ambush by 250 Arabs near the Lebanese frontier. It reported six Arabs killed.

Shelled By British

The attack took place at El Kabri inland from coastal Nahariya. Nahariya is halfway between Acre and the border. British Royal Artillery fired 12 rounds of 25-pounder shells before driving the Arabs from their hill entrenchments, the statement said.

The second convoy battle, south of Bethlehem, ended yesterday. Nearly 200 Jews gave up their arms and equipment to the Arabs in return for safe conduct to Jerusalem with British escort. British officers arranged the truce.

Demand Atomic Delegates Break Off Talks

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., March 29 (AP)—Canada, Britain, France and China today demanded that atomic delegates to the United Nations break off talks on Russia's scheme to prohibit atomic bombs.

The four countries declared that a mere convention banning bombs would, without world controls, help an aggressor power gain overwhelming military supremacy and would mislead public opinion into a feeling of false security. They denounced Russia's atomic proposals as inadequate and unrealistic.

The four countries put a resolution before the working committee of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission calling for rejection of the Russian proposals as these stand now. They asked the committee to declare there is no purpose in discussing them further.

The United States did not join in the statement of the four countries but informed sources predicted the United States would support it.

Authoritative sources said the four countries were laying the ground-work for a full debate on atomic energy in the 1948 General

Burglars Make Return Visit

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—Henry Butler, watchman at a west-end factory told police today that two men who struck him on the head two weeks ago, paid him a return visit Saturday night.

Butler said the men were armed but made no attempt this time to break open the safe. Two cartons of cigarets were stolen from the cafeteria.

Butler and another employee were tied up and locked in a washroom during the first visit. The safe was drilled but the would-be safe crackers were unable to open it.

The watchman was alone Saturday night when the two visitors, accompanied by a third man, forced him at gunpoint into the washroom. The offices were ransacked. A company official said that after the first visit, no money had been kept in the safe. Butler was slugged on the head two weeks ago by the men who entered the factory by the coal chute and smashed office windows and desks after failing to get the safe open.

Communists Capture 90 PC Romanian Vote

BUCHAREST, March 29—(AP)—Latest official returns today in Romania's national elections gave the Communist-led government bloc 90 per cent of the vote.

Returns from 40 of Romania's 59 elections districts showed that 5,220,706 of the 5,724,562 registered voters in those precints cast ballots yesterday. Of that number 4,714,442 voted for candidates of the government bloc headed by Premier Petru Groza.

Yesterday's balloting, for 414 members of a new national assembly, is expected to clinch the far left's control over Romania. Deputies elected will consider a constitution creating a Socialist-Communist State.

1,000 Houses Burned In Hindu Conflict

BOMBAY, March 29.— (Reuters).—Sixteen persons were killed, 25 were injured and about 1,000 houses were destroyed by fire in a Hindu-Moslem conflict at Godhra, 300 miles north of Bombay, Home Minister Morarji Desai told the Provincial Legislature today.

The trouble started, he said, when refugees from Pakistan made a processional march and police opened fire before order was restored. Two policemen were hurt.

Some houses were set afire the next day and conflagration spread over a wide area.

Baruch Urges US Draft To Stabilize World Peace

WASHINGTON, March 29. —(AP).— Bernard Baruch today urged prompt enactment of universal training and selective service legislation in the United States as a means of achieving "the stability in the world which lasting peace requires."

The financier and adviser to presidents in two world wars, also called for an "economic mobilization plan," and said the failure of the United States to muster all its resources now for peace would leave "no alternative but to mobilize for war" in the future.

Baruch suggested the appointment of someone to "watch the impact upon our economy of the partial mobilization we are entering upon.

"So terrible are the destructive potentialities of modern instrumentalities of war, it is no longer good enough to punish an aggressor after he has begun a war. Preventing war requires buttressing our national security before the crisis is upon us. Never again do we dare permit our lack of preparedness to encourage any potential aggressor into attacking this country or into over-running other peaceful nations."

"The greatest single necessity in the world today is for America to make up its mind where it stands, so that the other free peoples on earth know where to rally.

"Knowing where we stand, I believe, would make possible renewed endeavors to find some basis of settlement with the Soviet Union. It is my hope that an understanding with the Soviets may yet be attained.

Baruch said that although "the time for decision has come, there is no reason for panic or even fright . . . The resources, economic, military and spiritual, which the free peoples of the world hold, are vastly superior to those which the totalitarians can command."

CAPTURE MOUNTAIN LION—Robert Tyre, Regina, Sask., newspaperman, is shown here with the frozen carcass of the 150-pound cougar, or mountain lion, which was caught in northern Saskatchewan. Mountain lions are known to have existed in the Cypress Hills area of Saskatchewan at one time, but they have been extinct in the province for the past 35 or 40 years, it was learned. The cougar is to be mounted for display in the Regina museum at a later date, but it has been placed in cold storage for the present so that it may go on display Sunday, April 4.

Won't Press Trusteeship Seek Jewish-Arab Truce

LAKE SUCCESS, March 29—(CP).—The United States has decided not to press for immediate action on trusteeship for Palestine, an American delegation spokesman said today. The spokesman said Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate, had been instructed by Washington to concentrate on efforts to get a Jewish-Arab truce and to call a special Palestine session of the United Nations Assembly.

The United States spokesman said no decision had been taken as to when the trusteeship idea would be brought up. Some quarters believed the United States might wait and lay it before the assembly instead of asking the Security Council to make recommendations.

The new truce proposal is designed to carry out President Truman's declaration of last Thursday.

Introduction of the United States proposals was expected to be the signal for a bitter Russian blast against the United States.

Want To Take Orphan

PORT HURON, Mich., March 29.—(CP).— Forty couples want to adopt three-year-old George Meldrum, orphaned by a fire which killed his father, mother and two sisters, one week ago in their apartment.

Probate Judge Clair R. Black said newspaper pictures of the tousle-headed youngster brought adoption offers from far away as New York and Texas.

Fly Out Three On Mercy Flight

WINNIPEG, March 29.—(CP).—Log book of the RCAF's most northerly flight undertaken with a wheeled aircraft, "Operation Dodds," was finished today with FO. Bob Race's brief comment, "it was a routine flight."

Hospital authorities added that it also was a successful flight, with condition of the three persons flown to Winnipeg for medical care—two of them from Arctic Bay, 2,000 miles north of here—reported as good.

The three were: Mrs. Sam Dodds, formerly of Toronto, and wife of a meteorological officer at Arctic Bay; Akemellie, chief hunter among the 30-40 Eskimos living near the Polar outpost 500 miles north of the Arctic Circle; and Michelle Catherine Martyn, two-day-old daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Michael Martyn of Churchill, Man, formerly of Edmonton.

Details of Mrs. Dodds' ailment were not disclosed. The Eskimo was reported to be suffering from hernia, while the infant was flown to hospital for treatment of a cleft palate and split lip.

Their arrival here in the midst of an Easter Sunday snow storm concluded a mercy flight which had extended over seven days, nearly 5,800 miles and 28 actual flying hours, and which had required approximately 2,800 gallons of gasoline.

Former B.C. Premier Dies In Ottawa

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP). — Dr. John Duncan MacLean, 74, recently retired chairman of the Canadian Farm Loan Board and a former Premier of British Columbia, died at his home here last night.

A native of Culloden, Prince Edward Island, he headed west in his youth and in British Columbia won a wide reputation as an educationist, He later became Minister of Education in the West Coast Province, and in 1927 became Premier, serving from August of that year for exactly one year.

He came to Ottawa some years ago and served as chairman of the Farm Loan Board until his retirement several months ago.

Loot Lodge Of Furniture Worth $2733

Haul Away Goods In Truck During Friday Night

LINDSAY, March 29—(ENS)—Furnishing and household appliances valued at more than $2,733 were stolen from the Royal Cabin Lodge three miles south of Coboconk on Balsam Lake over the holiday week-end, according to Prov. Constable L G. Lyle of Fenelon Falls.

The wholesale theft was discovered around 12:30 p.m. on Saturday by Mr. Roy Phillips of Toronto, proprietor of the Lodge. PC Lyle said Mr. Phillips had gone to the Lodge on the afternoon of Good Friday and at that time everything was intact. The thieves hauled furniture, bedding and other articles away in a dual-wheeler truck, Lyle stated.

"It's the biggest haul ever made in that district," he said.

Articles taken include 40 blankets, 130 sheets, whole sets of dishes and silverware, a set of dining room chairs, lighting fixtures, several dozen bath towels, a table, a cook-stove and a deep-freeze unit valued at $465. Mr. Lyle said a chesterfield suite and floor-size radio were left behind.

"I thought they might come back to get the rest so I stayed in the Lodge all Saturday night," Constable Lyle said. "But no one showed up."

He said entry was gained by prying open the shutters of a sun porch and ripping off the screens. Found outside the lodge where the thieves left them were a number of bathroom fixtures, he said. The officer said a number of persons living in the area reported hearing a truck on Friday night.

This lodge has been in operation for just a few years and is on the east shore of Balsam Lake about 300 yards west of the highway running from Lindsay to Minden. The lodge is north of Cedar Villa lodge which is run by C. O. Phillips, a brother of the owner of Royal Cabins.

Yugoslavs Send Men To Trieste

TRIESTE, March 29 —(AP)—Giornale de Trieste, Italian-language newspaper in Trieste, said today 3,000 new Yugoslav troops had arrived in the free territory zone held by Yugoslavia.

"About 2,000 Yugoslav troops arrived at Verteneglio and another 1,000 at Casteelvenere," the paper said.

"Private homes were requisitioned to lodge these new arrivals. Preparations began some days ago and some householders received only 24 hours' notice to quit their homes."

To Review Decision

WASHINGTON, March 29 —(AP).—The United States Supreme Court agreed today to review a lower court decision which held unconstitutional the Taft-Hartley Act's ban on union political expenditures. The Justice Department said the Act represents the deliberate judgment of Congress that it is necessary to curb expenditures intended to affect the outcome of Federal elections.

Extra Controls Approved On Russ Exports

WASHINGTON, March 29 —(AP)—The House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee gave its backing today to a foreign aid bill amendment to put extra controls on exports of strategic supplies to Russia.

Representative Karl Mundt (Rep. S.D.), said the committee voted "overwhelmingly" to support his amendment to the $6,205,000,000 bill giving the foreign administrator the right to veto any exports to Russia and her satellites when he considers it "in the national interest."

Although the administration itself has clamped down on shipments of "war potentials" to Russia and other countries behind the iron curtain, Mundt and other Congressmen have insisted that Congress provide additional protection.

His amendment still must be accepted by the House itself. Mundt said the vote on it may not take place until tomorrow.

Two Measures

The bill would use economic aid plus United States military science in an effort to stem Communism in Europe and Asia.

As the foreign aid bill started running the gauntlet of amendments, Representative Albert Engel (Rep.—Mich.), who holds the military purse strings in the House, jumped to its support as a vital defence measure.

Engel, in a speech before the House today, sized up the worsening Russian-American relations and said that the United States must "make reasonable military preparations."

The only military aid in the bill is $275,000,000 for Greece and Turkey and $150,000,000 for China.

For 16 Western European countries, there is a $5,300,000,000 economic recovery program. And there is $420,000,000 in economic help for China.

The only possibility of war within 10 years is with Russia, Engel added.

"For America to win a war with Russia without European Allies, European bases and European support approaches the impossible.

Engel put the manpower of the British, French and Belgian armed services at 1,883,500 on Jan. 1, 1947, and that of Russia at an estimated 3650,000.

Board Subpoenas Lewis After Refusal To Testify Voluntarily

Mine Leader Says Refusal To Testify Based On Law, Prejudice; Doesn't Like Top Conciliator Either

WASHINGTON, March 29—(AP).—John L. Lewis was subpoenaed to appear at 2 p.m. EST today before a presidential board investigating the coal strike after he had refused to testify voluntarily. The formal order was issued immediately after Lewis had turned down the board's invitation to explain the walkout of his 400,000 soft coal miners on a pension dispute.

An hour later, two United States marshals emerged grinning from United Mine Workers' headquarters and the marshal's office said that Lewis had accepted the subpoena. Shortly after the deputies left, Lewis emerged with an unaccustomed smile. Asked by reporters if he will appear before the board, he answered "No comment."

WASHINGTON, March 29—(AP). — John L. Lewis ignored a subpoena to appear at 2 p.m. (EST) to-day for a Presidential Board hearing on the coal strike.

Three minutes before a 10 a.m. EST deadline set for his reply, the United Mine Workers' leader fired at the board in reply to its invitation setting forth his "disinclination" to testify.

Lewis said he based this on (1) "law" and (2) "prejudice." He explained:

1. Neither he nor the UMW has done anything falling under the Taft-Hartley labor law, which President Truman has invoked in the dispute. He called this law an "infamous enactment."

2. Two of the three board members are "biased and prejudiced and in honor should not serve." He named Mark Ethridge, publisher of the Louisville, Ky., Times and Courier-Journal, and George W. Taylor, who was chairman of the old War Labor Board.

Doesn't Like Ching

Lewis added that Canadian-born Cyrus W. Ching, the government's top conciliator, "sees through the eyes of United States rubber." Ching formerly was employed by that corporation.

The soft coal operators testified last Friday on their position in the dispute with Lewis over pensions for miners. Lewis was allowed the entire week-end to reply to the board's invitation.

Promote Understanding

WINNIPEG — (CP). — Headquarters of the Manitoba associated boards of trade have urged boards and chambers of commerce throughout Manitoba to set up educational committees to help teachers and business men to know and understand each other better.

Gunman Fires Two Shots At U.S. Consul

WINDSOR, March 29 (CP)—A lone gunman who fired two shots at John Bankhead, American consul here, was sought today by police. Both bullets went wide.

Bankhead is known for his strict supervision of the border to stop Communists from entering the United States through Detroit.

He said last night's incident was the third recent attempt on his life.

He told police poisoned liquor and candy were sent to his home several weeks ago. On another occasion, sand was placed in the gasoline tank of his automobile, he said.

Gunman Waits

Police who reconstructed the events of the attempted assassination said the gunman lay in wait between a post and a tree at the entrance to Bankhead's driveway outside the consulate official's home on suburban Riverside Drive. As Bankhead, alone in the car, turned into the driveway, the gunman opened fire.

The gunfire attracted Sgt. William Fraser, head of the Windsor detachment of the R.C.M.P., who lives in an apartment above Bankhead's garage. Fraser, busy with hobbies in a home workshop, ran downstairs and out of the garage.

Bankhead shouted to the officer to get back under cover and to go for his gun. The policeman ran back inside to get the weapon but when he returned the assassin had disappeared.

Stock Exchange Workers Strike

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—The New York Stock and Curb Exchange's union employees went on strike today, but exchange members kept early trading moving at about normal pace under emergency measures.

The Financial Employes Union (AFL) threw picket lines around the exchanges shortly after 8 a.m. The lines were heavily reinforced with members of the Sailors and Seamen's Unions.

Brokers entered the exchanges, however, and the quotations began flowing through on the ticker tapes without apparent interruption.

Four Stolen Safes Recovered By Police

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—Four safes, all believed to have been stolen recently, were found in the city and suburbs during the week-end.

A safe stolen shortly before midnight Saturday from a downtown office (Buscombe and Dodds Ltd.) was found a short distance from the company's office where it had apparently fallen from a truck. The truck, also stolen from the company was later found abandoned. The safe contained $200.

One safe and a bread truck were recovered at Alderwood. Both were stolen Saturday night from a bread company at Etobicoke. The safe, battered but unopened, contained $3,000.

Two battered and empty safes were recovered at Erindale by Toronto township police after they were found by children.

Quebec Completely Cut Off By Sleet Storm; Power Slowly Restored

More Than 800 Telephone Poles Downed And Telegraph Lines Out; Radio Operators Only Link With Outside

MONTREAL, March 29—(CP).—Working for more than 24 hours without stop, emergency crews were slowly repairing the tremendous damage done to communications by a week-end sleet storm which cut off Quebec City and other parts of the province from the outside world. The Bell Telephone Company reported that some 800 poles were felled by the storm while the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Telegraphs reported scores of their circuits out of order.

For a while, not a single telephone or telegraph line was in working order in the Quebec, Victoriaville and Three Rivers districts. Later today, however communications companies were restoring services and Bell Telephone Company expected 15 of its 43 lines between Quebec and Montreal to be in operation by noon.

Amateur radio operators were the only means of communications with Quebec City for nearly 24 hours and the Canadian Press had to use a radio circuit to get its news reports in and out of the old capital.

Damage Reaches Thousands

Damage is expected to reach hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The Victoriaville district was completely cut off for 48 hours from Montreal, less than 75 miles away.

In Quebec City, the Provincial Legislature was forced to adjourn Saturday night after members had tried to carry on by candle light.

For its part, the Canadian Press set up a circuit through station VE2SA in Montreal, operated by Gordon Waugh, and V2LZ, at Cap Roughe, about six miles from downtown Quebec, operated by Marcel Dorais, to transmit its news. Waugh and Dorais, old chums on the air, were radar officers with the R.C.A.F. and saw long service overseas.

The main power failure in Quebec resulted when two 60,000 watt lines across the St. Charles River which runs through the city, were downed by the ice.

Throughout the central part of the province, similar conditions were reported with many smaller centers without power for hours and isolated from the outside world.

Assembly meeting in Paris this fall.

Richard Miles of Britain, who recently told the Soviet Ukrainian delegate it was a "waste of time" to try to talk to the British people over the heads of the British delegation here, was chosen to present the statement of the four countries and the resolution.

Miles declared that Andrei Gromyko's demand on June 19, 1946, for an immediate treaty outlawing atomic bombs would, without adequate controls, give "an aggressor nation the opportunity to acquire an overwhelming military supremacy."

Pepper Raps Russia

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Senator Claude Pepper (Dem.-Fla.), who has said kind things of Russia in years past, turned on her today with a blunt charge of aggression upon her neighbors. He said it offends the United States' sense of freedom. Then, warning that the United States is "on the very brink" of war, the Senator appealed to President Truman to make "a last dramatic effort" for peace in a personal meeting with Prime Minister Stalin.

Was Winter Wear Tough On Home?

After a tough winter, perhaps your home could stand a few repairs — perhaps the outside walls need fixing up. If so, take a tip from thousands of wise homeowners and use Johns-Manville Cedargrains — the famous asbestos-cement siding shingles which are fireproof, weatherproof and rotproof. They cost little to apply and ensure lasting protection against the hazards of fire, weather and wear.

21 Countries Meet In Bogota

BAGOTA, Colombia, March 29.—(AP).—The top-ranking diplomats of 21 countries assembled here today for tomorrow's opening of the ninth Pan American conference. Territorial disputes threatened to loom high on the program.

State Secretary Marshall of the United States is scheduled to arrive about noon. His plane left Washington last night.

Chile, Paraguay and Cuba have expressed an interest in having the conference take a stand against Communist encroachment in the Americas.

Canada has never been officially invited to join the Pan American Union and has not received an invitation to attend the conference. An External Affairs Department spokesman said in Ottawa Saturday, that the Dominion's attitude toward the conference is on of detached interest. There will be no Canadian observer at the meetings.

Many of the countries are expected to level their guns against European colonization in the western hemisphere.

Provisional President Romulo Betancourt, chief Venezuelan delegate, said he would demand an end of such colonization.

Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia, who represents Argentina, said he would recommend an international conference to settle Antarctic sovereignty disputes of Argentina and other American countries.

Plane Hits Mountain Believe 19 Killed

LONDON, March 29.—(CP). — The Ministry of Civil Aviation said yesterday 19 persons were killed Saturday when an Indian National Airways plane crashed into a mountainside in Corsica.

The plane, on its way from New Delhi, left Rome Saturday morning for London. An official at the Rome airport said all the passengers were of British or Indian nationality. The plane had been reported nine hours overdue before word was received of its crash.

A radio message received at the Orly Airport in Paris said the plane exploded when it hit the mountain and all aboard were killed.

All Buses Jammed

"Every available bus was on the road," report harrassed dispatchers at city bus terminals in regard to the rush Easter week-end. A full schedule—and then some—was kept on all lines in and out of the city late Thursday night until Monday morning. For example, four buses left Peterborough Friday morning for Ottawa, in place of a usual one bus. Two coaches plied the Tweed-Trenton trek. There were three each on the Lindsay route and the through Toronto-Ottawa run. In true holiday fashion, all were loaded to the gunwales.

CGE Holidays To Run July 23 To Aug. 3

The "big days"—conjuring up visions of biting fish and even more biting sunburns — will be July 23 to Aug 3 for the employees of the CGE. The big plant will close down completely for that period. Those employees entitled to two weeks will overlap on their vacations before or after that period.

There will be 4,700 people effected by the holidays at the Canadian General Electric's Peterborough works. About 250 of these, who have seen 25 years or more service, are entitled to three weeks holidays. Most of these will be arranged for two weeks during and around the general shut-down period, with the third week taken at a time arranged individually.

Travel agents of the city are issuing the annual notes of caution to this myriad of vacation-bent workers to "Make-Your-Reservations-Now."

With several thousand employees of one city, from one plant, suddenly released for holidays along with the regular tourist and vacation swarm from other industries, there will be a tendency to have a temporary swamping of train travel schedules, officials state.

In regard to reservations for boat trips, one agent said: "Space will be at a premium in most cases for boat cruises and those who leave their reservations until the last few weeks are likely to be disappointed."

Local resort owners and officers are also issuing urgent pleas that arrangements for cottage and resort rentals be made as soon as possible.

Scientists Study Antarctic Oasis

NEW YORK, March 29 —(CP)—The New York Times said today that the U.S.S. Edisto, one of the United States navy's most powerful icebreakers arrived last night at Norfolk, Va., with explorers aboard who described a new helicopter technique of air search in Antarctic regions.

The helicopters flew navy explorers from the Edisto and the icebreaker Burton Island to Bunger's oasis, a region of several hundred miles of lake country free of ice and snow discovered last year by fliers of an navy expedition.

Described as "operation windmill," it enabled the explorers to bring back 2½ tons of minerals mostly from areas of the south polar continent.

Reasons advanced by the explorers why the oasis is ice free, were that great ridges diverted the inland ice cap from flowing across and extreme dryness of the air evaporaed the normal local ice or snow.

Propellor, Not Arm Breaks In Accident

DETROIT, March 29—(CP).—Strong-armed Mrs. Nelsa Moorhatch took a swing at the spinning propellor of her husband's airplane at the city airport yesterday, and the propellor, not Mrs. Moorhatch, was in pieces today.

Mrs. Moorhatch and her husband, Murray, landed their light aircraft yesterday and Mrs. Moorhatch jumped out to throw a block under the landing gear.

Slipping, she thrust her left arm into the whirling blades, but instead of the instant amputation ordinarily resulting, the propellor shattered.

Attending doctors could find only slight bruises on her arm.

Boy 7 Loses Legs But Has Easter Party

PHILADELPHIA, March 29. —(AP).—There was an Easter party yesterday in the hospital room of seven-year-old John Guille, who lost both his legs under the wheels of a locomotive March 12.

His parents were there and the doctors and nurses who have helped him wage a slow but apparently winning battle for life.

The spirit of that party, however, went far beyond the walls of the hospital—out of 36 of the 48 states and even as far as Hawaii.

For surrounding Johnny's bed were gifts of almost every size and description from well-wishers who had read of his plight as they were preparing for their own Easter observance.

Johnny was hurt while he was on his way home from school The doctors told police the youngster said "some other boy pushed me" in front of a locomotive. Boy's left leg was severed above the knee and the right above the ankle.

Mrs. W. McNeill Dies

KINGSTON, March 29.—(CP).—Mrs. W. E. McNeill, wife of Dr. W. E. McNeill, who retired last fall after being connected with Queen's University for 38 years, died in hospital today.

OH, STILLY NIGHT

The Policemen's Ball tonight will see many of the guardians of the law tripping the light fantastic, but there will be small comfort in that to those members of criminal tendencies who have a professional allergy to the sight of a uniform. Police Chief John Thompson has assured all interested that there will be a full shift of men on duty tonight.—RB.

Probe Removal Of Body From Grave

SUDBURY March 29 —(CP)—Provincial Police at Espanola, assisted by an investigator from the criminal investigation department of the Ontario Provincial Police, Toronto, today, continued their investigation of the discovery in a field of the partly nude body of Mrs. Albina Morreau, 68, buried since Feb. 4 in the Espanola Catholic Cemetery.

Mrs. Morreau's body was found Friday, some 100 feet from the cemetery. The body was found by persons attending a funeral at the Protestant Cemetery Friday afternoon. An autopsy was performed by Dr. G. Desmairais of Sudbury, but he refused to comment on the case, saying "I have no information to give out."

Provincial Police at Sudbury said yesterday they have no information on just how the body was removed from the cemetery to the field. Police added that no clues have yet been found but it is understood police are seeking a maniac in connection with the incident. Reports from Espanola said the body had been desecrated.

Mrs. Morreau wife of Wilfred Morreau, died Feb. 3 after a lengthy illness. Police said the casket had been sealed as it was on the day of the funeral and the grave had been partly refilled. The body was not frozen which indicated that it may have been removed only a few days ago, police said.

Inspector T. Wilkinson, of the Sudbury district detachment of the Provinciai Police confirmed reports that only the body had been removed from the grave, with the casket left in place. The inspector added that the person or persons responsible must have spent a considerable amount of time at the cemetery, as the casket had been closed and the grave partly filled in.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

SLOPPY DRIVING DENTS AND BREAKS

The wooden stop sign at the corner of Rogers and Hunter Sts. is down today, probably struck by a car. A parking meter on Charlotte St. also bears the scars of a vehicular encounter as it leans askew into the chilly Easter winds.

BIG SAP DAY

Sap flowed freely in maple woods of the district on Good Friday according to week-end reports from several farmers who are fortunate owners of sugar bushes. Buckets filled fast, and evaporators steamed sweetly all day. Wet weather Saturday, however, interfered with operations.

STAR SALESMAN

Brother Harry Illingworth, age 82, of the local Salvation Army Temple made his rounds of business places in the city this morning with issues of special Easter War Crys. Officials believe he holds record in Canada for combined and separate number sales of their publication.

EASTER WEATHER

It was too much to expect that Old Man Winter would disappear without a final kick or two. Rain fell almost continuously Saturday to a depth of .29 inches turning to snow on Easter Eve, three-quarters inch fall. Easter Day was clear but on the cold side with a low in the night of 13 above rising to a mere 33 above through the warmest part of the day. It was very much on the cold side for Easter finery which was sensibly covered, in most cases, by fur coats. Temperature dipped again Sunday evening to 15 above and at 9 a.m. this morning stood at 29 above.

NO BUTTER AT MARKET

On Saturday, it is reported, there was not a pound of butter to be purchased at the market. Hundreds of dozens of eggs were for sale, however. Chickens were selling at about 40 cents a pound. One 27-pound turkey being sold by one lady was retailing at $12.

EASTER MATINS

Song sparrows and robins were wondering what had become of the spring they were heralding when the sun was rising Easter Sunday. There was no ecstasy in their singing in the cold air and the snow scene all about them. The song sparrow was inclined to hurry through his matins, and the robin's calling was a cheerless greeting to the great festal day of Christianity. But, they did sing, although slurring their lyrics, and people aboard at sun-up were both surprised and delighted at the greeting.

MAY GET FACTORY

Percy Stinson, CNR agent at Millbrook, has been working for some time on an industrial project that may give the Cavan village a canning factory. Canada Packers have been interested in a 10 acre block of land. Surveyors recently gave it a going over, and it is expected that a definite announcement will be made by the company in the near future

FIRST WITH HONORS

A. E. Young, Bancroft, with 87.2% headed the first class honors group in the final examinations at Kemptville Agricultural School. C. H. Pack, Marmora, 82%, and J. A. Barnett, Springbrook 77.8% were others with top honors. A. J. Heagle of Harold won second class honors with 69.3%.

COMMITTEE MEETING

City council draws a blank this evening, the fifth Monday of the month. However, Mayor Ovens has called a meeting of the committee of the whole for Tuesday evening to discuss the integrated housing plan prospects for this season. The question arises as to what assistance the council might be able to provide independent builders.

NOT YET RECOVERED

Rumors this morning that the body of Theodore Simpson had been recovered from Ketchecum Lake have not been confirmed by provincial police, who state they have not received any word of it it. The Buckhorn man was drowned there during the 1947 deer season, and the lake is still practically icebound.

Trio Breaks Jail Steals Auto; Soon Recaptured

WINNIPEG, March 29—(CP)—Three men broke out Saturday night from the Headingly jail, 12 miles west of here, but were recaptured within a few hours. Two of the men were admitted bank robbers.

Although police and jail officials were loath to discuss the break, it was learned that two of the prisoners involved were James Davidson and John Michaelis. They had pleaded guilty to participation in the $200,000 robbery of a bank here last October, and had been given six-year sentences.

Third man involved in the break was reported to have been Albert Nabiss, who had been returned to the jail only recently after release on parole.

There was no immediate explanation as to how Davison and Michaelis happened to be quartered in the provincial jail rather than at the Stoney Mountain Penitentiary, where prisoners serving terms of more than two years normally would be placed.

Davidson and Michaelis testified earlier this month at the trial of two other men—Alex Poroznuk and Michael Stefanik—also accused of taking part in the bank robbery. Michaelis first gave evidence that he did not know the two accused and then changed his story later and charged that they had had roles in the robbery.

Steal Car

Police closed in on the three escaped prisoners following a report that a car had been stolen. The owner of the car, on the verge of retiring for the night, happened to look from a window in time to see the machine being driven away. He telephoned police immediately and officers working on the assumption that the jailbreak and the car theft were related, began the chase.

Police cruisers gradually converged on the stolen machine until, when the men finally were trapped, there were about 15 in the hunt.

No details of the actual escape were given by jail authorities, who said only that the break was "under investigation."

Over Southern Ontario skies are mostly clear this morning, and for this part of the province Easter Monday promises to be sunny with temperatures hitting the 40s. The residents of Northern Ontario are less fortunate, and are already getting some snow. The culprit is a small disturbance presently situated to the north of Lake Superior. This disturbance is moving eastwards, and on Tuesday is expected to bring some cloudiness to southern sections of the province, and clearing weather to the northern sections.

Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Ontario and Niagara regions: Clear and milder today. Tuesday cloudy, clearing during the forenoon. Cooler Tuesday. Winds southwest 20, shifting to northwest 15 Tuesday morning. Low tonight and high Tuesday at St. Catharines, 33, 38; St Thomas, 33, 39; Wingham and Trenton, 31, 37.

Summary for Tuesday: Mostly clear and cooler.

Georgian Bay and Haliburton regions: Clear and milder today. Overcast tonight, clearing during Tuesday forenoon. Cooler Tuesday. Winds southwest 20, shifting to northwest 15 Tuesday morning. Low tonight and high Tuesday at Muskoka and Killaloe 30, 34.

Summary for Tuesday: Mostly clear and cooler.

Cold And Snow Makes Easter Parade A Flop Women Wear New Bonnets, Winter Coats

COBOURG, March 29 (ENS) —Easter Sunday would have made a lovely Christmas Day and the night before would have been ideal as Christmas Eve. Saturday evening a soft snow started falling and kept at it until the entire town and countryside was under a fresh new blanket of about two inches of the stuff. Snow is all right in its place, but the place shouldn't be at this time of year, thought many a lass with an Easter suit she wasn't able to wear.

Sunday was bright and sunny, blue skies and a breeze, the kind of blue you see in the middle of winter and a breeze that had more than a touch of polar frost in it. In spite of it all, there were a few who defied the unseasonable weather and came out in their Easter finery. Going to morning church, two teen-agers in light spring coats of red shade which no mere man can properly describe, with new spring hats and light shoes plodding through slush, were a symbol of youthful persistence that the show must go on.

However most of Cobourg's femininity were satisfied to don their old winter duds and hike off to church, but in tribute to the fashion significance of the day, most of them had their new Easter hats on. In other words the Easter parade was a decided flop.

CONSOLIDATE POSITION IN TRIESTE —This photo shows three British soldiers digging in at an emplacement in a vineyard, as the British consolidate new advanced position along the border separating British-American and Yugoslav zones of the free territory of Trieste. Maj. Gen. Terence S. Airey, British Chief Civil Affairs Officer, said British soldiers were being advanced as a precaution. The United States, Britain and France have proposed return of the free territory of Trieste to Italy.

Deer Molested By Dogs Sportsmen Say

COBOURG, March 29 (ENS).—The Hon. Harold R. Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, will be asked to attend the annual meeting of the Northumberland Fish and Game Club in April, it was announced at the March meeting of the club. A number of nominations for office were made at this meeting but the final nominations will be at the annual meeting. Win Fisher of Cobourg showed a Sinatra film on tolerance and also two films brought down from Port Hope by Stan Linton of the Ganaraska Fish and Game Club.

President H. O. Taylor said that three recent convictions for breach of the game and fish regulations served as a warning that people could not flaunt the regulations designed to conserve natural resources.

A talk on the activities of the Ganaraska Fish and Game Club was given by Stan Linton. He said that Durham County had the same problems regarding deer as Northumberland. He had written the department to get a ruling in regard to dogs running deer but several letters had resulted in as many different answers and he still didn't know if a man could legally shoot a dog that was running a deer. There were plenty of deer around and in 300 acres he had counted 19 of them. The trouble facing game wardens and fish and game clubs was that people didn't like to inform on the lawbreakers. Speaking of a new departure in the activities of his club, Mr. Linton said that the routine business meetings were in the form of directors meetings and the open gatherings were social events, a recent example being the Ganaraska Fish and Game Club ladies night.

Italy At Crossroads Now Over Communism—Pope

VATICAN CITY, March 29 — (AP).—Pope Pius says Italy and the world are at the crossroads in the contest over Communism.

"The hour of Christian conscience has sounded," proclaimed the head of the Roman Catholic Church in a noonday Easter blessing yesterday.

The white-clad Pontiff spoke from a balcony of St. Peter's, the world's biggest church. Some 400,000—equal to a fourth of Rome's population — heard him from the sunlit square below.

His talk came little more than three weeks before Italy's April 18 election test between Communism and its foes.

He did not mention Communism by name. But hearers plainly caught the meaning of his references to "deniers of that which is most sacred" and "agitators who make the negation of Christ the corner-stone of their work."

"Over this multitude of believing Rome there lies almost a shadow of singular gravity...," the Pope said.

Need Vigilance

"Rome now finds herself before, or better, in the midst of, a turning of the times which requires of the head and members of Christianity the highest vigilance, untiring preparedness and unconditioned action."

He reminded his audience of the "terrible verdict" of Jesus Christ: "Who is not with me is against me."

"You beloved sons and daughters well comprehend what such a crossroads signifies and contains for Rome, for Italy, for the world."

He invited the world's people "to thoughts and designs of peace" and closed by pronouncing upon the throng "our paternal apostolic benediction."

A little paint and wallpaper will make your rooms cheery and bright.

13 Fatalities Over Holiday

By The Canadian Press

Traffic accidents claimed five lives in Eastern Canada during the Easter holiday week-end. A Canadian Press survey showed 13 fatalities reported since Thursday night.

Burns caused three of the other violent deaths, what police called a murder and suicide accounted for two more, a woman died under circumstances still under investigation, a baby was asphyxiated and the body of a long-missing drowning victtim was recovered.

Harold J. Schneider of Bon Accord, Alta., a 22-year-old soldier hitchhiking from Kingston to Paris, with two companions, was killed when an automobile in which he had obtained a ride crashed into a Hydro pole near Paris.

Haughton C. Laird, 38, of Oakville, and formerly of Sault Ste. Marie, was killed early Sunday when his automobile crashed into a parked truck near Oakville.

In another accident near Toronto Kenneth Fairbairn, 23-year-old milk wagon driver, died when a train smashed his wagon. Jimmy Richards, his 15-year-old helper, was injured.

Three-year-old Evelyn Craig of Toronto, died of injuries suffered when she was hit by a truck.

Killed By Taxi

Seconds after she pushed her nine-year-old grandson to safety, Mrs. Reuben Eisan, 65, was killed by a taxicab near Dartmouth, N.S.

William Patterson, 53, of Hamilton, was killed near North Bay, when his automobile collided head-on during a storm with another car. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mabee, of Toronto, in the other car, were injured.

Mary Ann Copley, 22, and Dan Shackett, 38, were found dead in a Montreal rooming house following what police termed a murder and suicide.

Body recovered from the Lachine canal at Montreal was identifined as that of Mrs. Bernard Langan, 62, missing from her Montreal home since last November.

Child Scalded

Three-year-old Germaine Desjardins of Hawkesbury, Ont., suffered fatal burns as she helped her mother fill a tub with boiling water. She fell into the tub and was scalded.

Severely burned 10 days ago by molten metal from a foundry furnace, John Totoff of Hamilton died during the week-end.

A third burn victim was James MacLaughlin, 19, of Simcoe He sufered extensive burns last Thursday in an explosion in his home which took the lives of his mother and a younger brother.

Nine-months-old Lee Williams Tracy was suffocated in his carriage outside his Hamilton home. He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Leionel Tracy.

The body of Mrs. Hermas Loiselle, 23, of Val Morin, Que., was found on a roadside near Ste. Agathe, 75 miles north of Montreal. Police don't know the cause of death.

Holy Week Services Well Attended

COBOURG, March 29.—(ENS). —Holy week services were conducted last week at St. Michael's Church and attended by large congregations. The high mass on Holy Thursday was celebrated by Rev. John A. Gallagher, Redemptorist Father of St. Patrick's Church, Quebec City, assisted by Rev. G. J. Maher and Rev. F. K. Malane. The Good Friday morning services were taken by Father Gallagher, assisted by Father Malane. At this service the passion according to St. John was read by Father Maher. The Holy Saturday mass, with its accompanying blessings, was celebrated by Father Malane.

Over 700 received communion Easter Sunday morning. The altar was beautifully decorated for this occasion. The 10.30 mass was celebrated by Father Gallagher, assisted by Father Maher and Father Malane. The choir, with Miss Julia Richardson at the organ, sang Easter hymns. The Easter message was delivered by Father Gallagher, who referred to Easter as being the greatest feast of the church year. Easter services at the Ontario Hospital and at St. Joseph's Orphanage, were taken by Father Maher.

More Recruits Start Tuesday

Training parades will re-open Tuesday evening by gunners of the 50th HAA Regiment, Prince of Wales Rangers, and new recruits are expected from both Peterborough and Lakefield. Recent arrangements have been made whereby Lakefield recruits will receive free transportation to and from the village on parade nights.

Calls are still going out to former RCEME personnel who are interested in forming a Light Aid Detachment in connection with the Regiment. Parade for Regiment will commence at 7.45 p.m. with NCO's and specialist class to report at 6 p.m.

Special April dance of the Sergeants Mess is being held at the Armouries April 9 and plans are being made for a successful evening.

Arrangements are also being made for future Sunday mobile operations for the Regiment during the month of April.

Child Drinks Lye, In Hospital Four Years Returns Home But Is Still On Liquid Diet

HALIBURTON, March 29 — (PNS)—Four years after accidentally swallowing a lye solution, eight-year-old Helen Giles has just returned home to her Haliburton home from a Toronto convalescent hospital. Helen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Giles, formerly of Donald.

The happy trip home to stay, climaxed four years of hospitalization for little Helen, who as the age of four took a drink from a lye solution left for a moment on the kitchen table at her Donald home. She was rushed to Toronto where she was treated for a throat and tube shrinkage which endangered her life and threatened to leave her speechless.

Still on a liquid diet of milk and soup, Helen was declared by hospital officials sufficiently recovered to return to her home for good.

During the past two years Helen was able to spend a few days now and again at her Haliburton home—but now she is home to stay.

Three In One Family Hurt In Accident

PICTON, March 29. — Three members of one family are in hospital here following an accident near Woodrous Corners at 6.15 Saturday night, in which cars driven by Max MacDonald and Harry Cowan, both of R.R. No. 1, Cherry Valley, collided. The injured were all occupants of the MacDonald car, Mrs. Edith MacDonald, wife of the driver, sustained fractures of arm, collarbone, nose and severe cuts; Mrs. Rowen McDonald, his mother, a fractured collarbone, and Douglas MacDonald, 5, son, a fractured cheek bone. Another son, Howard, 3, was bruised. The car rolled over and was completely wrecked.

Two-Year-Old Boy Injured In Crash

OSHAWA, March 29 — Paul Ackerman, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ackerman of RR 3, Bowmanville, was taken to Oshawa General Hospital early Sunday with a skull fracture, following an auto accident on No. 2 Highway east of Harmony Corners. The child was riding in the rear of a car driven by his father, when it collided with another driven by Charles Stanyon of St. Marys. The parents received cuts and bruises but the boy's uncle, Merton Ackerman, riding in the back seat, was not hurt. Prov. Cons. Gordon Keast is investigating.

Former Stirling Man Dies In Kingston

KINGSTON, March 29.—Allen James Meiklejohn, 75, general insurance broker, died suddenly of a heart attack early Saturday morning at his restdence, 231 University Ave., Kingston.

Deceased was born in Hastings county on Feb. 17, 1873, and was a son of the late William and Harriet Reid Meiklejohn, Stirling. He was educated in Belleville and Stirling high schools and Queen's University. He was an honor graduate in English from Queen's University and taught public school from 1891 to 1894. The U.S. Electoral System And The Rebellious South

The Southern States angrily opposing the civil rights program of U.S. President Truman are apparently determined to carry through their proposal to leave names of nominees off the ballots in the Presidential election. This would mean that voters in the states affected could vote only for members of the Electoral College; these, in turn, would be free to vote for anyone they might choose for the office of President. There is a possibility, United States observers point out, that the aim of the Southern Democratic leaders may be to take the choice of a President away from the people and hand it to the House of Representatives.

* * *

Technically, the voters of the United States do not choose their President. He is chosen by the Electoral College, an institution created by those who drafted the United States Constitution, and who apparently had little confidence in the judgement of the people. For years, however, the actual practice has been to print the names of nominees on the ballots, as well as those of electors. The electors were thus committed to their party's nominee, and the voters enabled to vote for the President of their choice. By leaving names of nominees off the ballots, Southern Democratic leaders might eventually disenfranchise millions of voters.

* * *

The situation could develop in the following manner. Members of the Electoral College from the Southern States might choose to cast their votes for a Democrat opposed to President Truman's civil rights program. Their action might make it impossible for any one candidate to get a clear majority of the votes of the Electoral College. That is admittedly unlikely, but it should be remembered that it happened once before in the United States, in 1824, when the House of Representatives chose John Quincy Adams as President.

* * *

If it happened again, the House would again elect the next President under the U.S. Constitution. It would not be by a straight vote of the House, however. Each State would have only one vote, no matter how many members represented it in the House. It would then be quite possible for States with only twenty per cent. of the national population to elect a President against the will of States having eighty per cent. of the population.

* * *

It seems incredible that the Southern Democrats really intend to carry their fight against President Truman to the extent of trying to deprive the people of the United States of the right to vote for a President. If that is their intention, and if they are successful, the effect on world affairs might prove disastrous.

A Tax For Hospitals

The Ontario Government will shortly replace the 20 per cent. Federal Amusement Tax with a similar tax, the revenue from which will be devoted to maintenance grants for hospitals. The money will be raised, as at present, principally on movie admissions and upon theatre tickets in cities where theatres exist.

We understand the great need of the hospitals and we appreciate fully the great and humane work which they do. Nevertheless, we must repeat what we have said many times before: some part of the revenue raised by taxing amusements in this province should be devoted to providing more and better amusements. It is evidence of our humanity that we should be solicitous for the care of the sick in Ontario, but it is evidence of our governmental short-sightedness that so little is done to provide rational entertainment for the people of our rural areas, who are at present dependent on the movies and the radio.

In the Opera School of the Royal Conservatory in Toronto, this province has the material for a young, well-trained, enthusiastic opera company which could take the great works of music-drama to every good-sized city and town in Ontario. It would make money, [illegible]gh not enough to cover its expenses, but a small government subsidy would take care of its deficit. Think what that could do for Ontario people who have never seen or heard an opera!

We should like to see the Toronto Symphony Orchestra become, during part of the year, a Provincial Orchestra, playing at least one concert a year in the principal cities of Ontario. It could be financed in the same way as the opera company. Imagine what that would mean in raising musical standards through the Province!

We should like to see a company of actors playing fine plays finely, travelling through Ontario, giving its repertory in every place which was the centre of a well-populated area. Think how that would fire the imaginations of people who have starved their souls and their imaginations at the Barmecide feasts of Hollywood!

We should like to see small exhibitions of fine paintings and drawings going about Ontario in a special railway car, so that they could be seen at every place in the province with a railway station.

These things could be done with some of the money which is raised by Amusement Tax. To give it all to the hospitals is a showy but ill-considered gesture. The arts cannot wait until every other thing in Ontario has had all its wants satisfied from the public purse.

The Benefits Of High Prices

The Parliamentary Prices Committee may not have uncovered any grossly wicked profiteering, but statements have been made at its hearings by the heads of baking, packing and dairy firms which show that exceptionally large profits have been made since the removal of price controls. These men have spoken calmly and frankly of hundreds of thousands of dollars made on goods held in storage. One firm made a profit on cold-storage butter of $509,105 in the eleven months ending last February. Its president called this profit "unprecedented".

Such unprecedented profits are not confined to one business, and we have no intention of pointing the finger at any particular group of industrialists. The inventory profit on pork products was stated to be $2,700,000 on January 7. This seems a very large profit on goods which have undergone no change, and have not been moved from storage.

Business must have profits, but we seriously doubt if profits of this sort are good for business, for they strike at the source from which business draws its revenue—the consumer—with extreme severity.

On Tuesday Mr. William Aird, the president of the Dominion Dairies, Ltd., was explaining the large profits of his own firm, and he made a curious statement about profits: he said that they benefited first the producer (the farmer), secondly the manufacturers and distributors (like his own firm), and thirdly they benefited the consumer. He said that high prices of butter made more butter available for customers to buy. This is astonishing logic, and must refer to some mythical consumer whose rate of pay is hitched more closely to the cost of living than is the case with the majority of us.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A sixteen-years-old girl in Oklahoma was caught posing as eighteen. She will have more experience in this kind of posing when she is thirty.

The latest thing in hats is said to be something which looks like a peach basket. But not, we hope, with a pink veil to cast a glow over the sub-standard peach that wears it.

An article on South America contains this statement: "When traffic lights were installed in Buenos Aires, nobody paid any attention to them". A few citizens are still trying to give Peterborough this South American touch.

The editor of the Grimsby Independent, who dabbles in fruit, has written about shipping Niagara fruits by air: "There is not a doubt in my mind but that I can put Grimsby peaches in behind the 'Iron Curtain', on Stalin's breakfast table by air, and I think if Stalin had a few feeds of Grimsby peaches he might change his mind on other things, you never can tell what an underfed man will do". We ourselves wouldn't trust too much to the power of a Grimsby peach to influence Mr. Stalin. Of course, a plate of prunes has worked wonders before now.

"Of Cabbages and Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

T. E. LAWRENCE, the famous Lawrence of Arabia, is well portrayed by various hands—a host of his friends and acquaintances—in a fascinating volume of T. E. Lawrence, by his friends.

"He was crossing, (writes Fareedeh El Akle, who knew him in the Middle East), one of the wild mountains up north when he was met by a huge cruel looking Turk. Instantly the Turk took up his gun, aimed, and shot at Lawrence, but missed him. This made the giant furious and Lawrence, in order to frighten the man, also took his revolver, aimed at the little finger of the giant — for he never intended to kill him—and shot so accurately that the bullet passed close to the hand wounding slightly the little finger. The giant stood spell-bound, quick to see that one who could handle a revolver so cleverly was not to be despised. Meanwhile, Lawrence had come up to him, and taking his handkerchief out of his pocket bandaged the wounded finger, and patted his adversary on the back to show his goodwill, for neither could speak the language of the other. Then Lawrence shared the little money he had with him, and the two went down the mountains together as friends."

THE author Robert Graves, continues—

"He behaved very much like an undergraduate at times. One day I happened to go up to the top of the Radcliffe Camera and looked down on the roofs of the neighbouring colleges. From a pinnacle of All Souls, a small crimson Hejaz flag was fluttering: Lawrence had been a famous roof-climber when he was up at Jesus College before the War. He told me two or three of his schemes for brightening All Souls and Oxford generally. One was for improving the turf in the quadrangle, which he said was in a disgraceful condition, nearly rotting away; he had suggested at a college meeting that it should be manured or treated in some way or other, but no action had been taken. He now said that he was going to plant mushrooms on it, so that they would have to re-turf it altogether. He consulted a mushroom expert in town, but found that it was difficult to make spawn grow. He would have persisted if he had not been called away about this time to help Winston Churchill with the Middle-Eastern settlement.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANOTHER scheme in which I was to have helped, was to steal the Magdalen College deer. He was going to drive them into the small inner quadrangle of All Souls, having persuaded the college to reply, when Magdalen protested and asked for its deer back, that it was the All Souls herd and had been pastured there from time immemorial. Great things were expected of this raid. It fell through for the same reason as the other. But a successful strike of college-servants for better pay and hours was engineered by Lawrence. Lawrence also proposed to present the College with a peacock which, once accepted, would be found to bear the name Nathaniel—after Lord Curzon, with whom Lawrence had had a row and who was Vice-Chancellor of the University."

✧ ✧ ✧

"HIS rooms were dark and oak-panelled. A large table and a desk were the principal furniture. There were also two heavy leather chairs, simply acquired. An American oil-financier had come in suddenly one day when I was there and said: 'I am here from the States, Colonel Lawrence, to ask you a single question. You are the only man who will answer it honestly. Do Middle-Eastern conditions justify my putting any money in South Arabian oil?' Lawrence, without rising, simply answered: 'No.' 'That's all I wanted to know; it was worth coming for that. Thank you and good day' In his brief glance about the room he had found something missing; on his way home through London he chose the chairs and had them sent to Lawrence with his card."

✧ ✧ ✧

"TWO great Oxford scholars, called Liddell and Scott, worked for twenty-five years and produced what is still the world's standard Greek dictionary, then Scott died. As time passed and the users of the book grew and then drew the University's attention to a misprint or error in the book. Liddell used to sigh and shake his head, 'Ah yes—poor Scott, still it may have been mine!"

✧ ✧ ✧

MUCH of Ernest Rhys 'Wales England Wed' revolves around that most famous of England's clubs — unofficially, that is, the British Museum Reading Room.

"Chesterton, 'G.K.C.,' we saw but rarely at the Museum. I always thought he looked like a Dickens figure with his benevolent contours, but when we wanted him to edit Dickens for Everyman I could not find him there.

"He seemed the one Dickens man for our purpose—that is, to write preamble to the novels. But G. K. C.'s pen was then, as always, in hot demand, and though his amiability was great as Sam Weller's, he also had a Dick Swiveller-like way with him when it came to delivering the goods in time. The old Chief took these disappointments tragically, and one day vowed if we did not get the introduction to a particular novel—Nicholas Nickleby—before night, he and Everyman and the big public and the British Constitution would all be ruined together. He looked at me with such a reproachful glare that I offered to go and hunt up the lion himself in his Battersea den, and sit on his doorstep till the copy was forthcoming. I had promised to take Her Grace to a matinee, so with some naturaly grumbles we set off to find the block of 'Mansions' in which the Chestertons had taken up their abode.

"HE did not want to recall the Dickens preamble, and treated it in a casual fashion, as if to say: 'You know these publishers!' However, he admitted that his introduction was nearly finished, and should be sent along by special messenger before noon tomorrow. As we parted he said: 'Do you know you first introduced me to Walt Whitman? I bought your little Canterbury volume at Oxford, in my salad days, and it gave me great . . . .'

"But what it gave him I was never to know, for he ended with one of those inarticulate grunts peculiar to himself, which Her Grace called G. K. C.'s 'animal noises.'

"He himself brought the Nicholas Nickleby to Bedford Street next day, but Dent was extremely annoyed because G. K. C. asked for a cheque on the spot."

Letters To The Editor

SHOULD BUTTER UP FARMERS

Sir: Concerning "Farmer's' letter to the editor in your March 24th paper on what it cost to produce a pound of butter we were quite interested in the editor's note—quote, "As butter is obviously a losing proposition, how about giving it up and going in for margarine? It pays very well and the people who make it like their work", unquote. Now I ask you, was there anything in "Farmer's" letter to call for such an answer? I don't really think you like the farmers, now, do you? You at least don't write like you do. A short time ago you were complaining about the farmer not paying income tax. I feel sure if you don't like us you won't want to sell your paper to farmers. So—using your own tactic — since our subscription expires today we are letting it stay expired.

Thank you,

A FARMER'S WIFE.

FARMER'S WIFE FAVOURS MARGARINE

Sir: May I reply to a recent letter from "Farmer"?

Everyone is weary of such complaints and, as a farmer's wife, I say it is all bunk. With butterfat at seventy-three cents, anyone who is losing money producing it, had better go into other business. "Farmer" makes an imposing case for his work. It sounds like a lot, but any good milker should milk a cow in eight minutes flat. Other chores are in proportion. If "Farmer" has to churn an hour or longer, there is something wrong with his method. Twenty minutes should be the limit for good cream and a good product.

"Farmer" also skirts the fact that his cow produces a calf each year, and what about the skim milk he has left? It is a most valuable feed for that calf and hogs.

I'll admit that for the purchaser butter is high in price. Yet we have our side too. For years, and only a short time ago, we sold butter for twenty-five cents and then we really lost money. I use "lost" in the sense that we were unable to keep our places in repair and up to efficiency. Repairs and replacements could not be financed but now, for the first time in a decade, we are getting on our feet. Surely there should be no objection to that. Any fair person must agree that we should have enough margin of profit to replace what is expended in the production of any commodity.

As for margarine, personally I am in favour of it. If it is a good food, it should be available for use. It hasn't depressed the price of butter too much in the States. Anyway, their butter sells at a higher price than ours.

ONE SATISFIED FARMER'S WIFE.

They Know About Canada

One Cyprien Slimak, of Toronto, a member of Mr. Tim Buck's Canadian Communist Party, evidently knew what was coming among Communists in Czechoslovakia, and Communists in Czechoslovakia evidently knew what Cyprien Slimak was doing in Canada.

Slimak was editor of the Communist Slovak paper "Ludove Zvesti" (Peoples News), published in Toronto. A few days before Gottwald and his gang seized power in Prague Slimak suddenly discovered that he was needed in Czechoslovakia. When United States immigration authorities refused him a transit visa he made the journey by air, arrived in Bratislava in time to take over his new job after Gottwald had taken control of the country.

He who runs may read; the Communists in Prague clearly were in touch with Slimak. We are told sometimes that there can't be any tie-up between our home-brew Reds and their ilk in Moscow. The case of Cyprien Slimak seems pretty strong evidence to the contrary.—Ottawa Journal.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the sons of the prophets said unto Elisha, Behold now, the place where we dwell with thee is too strait for us. Let us go, we pray thee, unto Jordan, and take thence every man a beam, and let us make us a place there, where we may dwell. And he answered. Go ye....

But as one was felling a beam, the axe head fell into the water: and he cried, and said, Alas, master! for it was borrowed.

And the man of God said, Where fell it? And he shewed him the place. And he cut down a stick, and cast it in thither; and the iron did swim.

Therefore said he, Take it up to thee. And he put out his hand, and took it. (II Kings 6: 1, 2, 5-7.)

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

Something New Is Added Ration British Teachers

LONDON, March 29—(Reuters).—Women school teachers in Britain are so scarce that they are being "rationed." An official of the Ministry of Educatio... ...s the main reason for the shortage was because the rise in the birth-rate five years ago is just beginning to have its effect.

"These children are now of school age, and as most of the teachers in infant schools are women there is a shortage for other grade schools," he said.

Men outnumbered women among the 25,000 teachers who have qualified since the war. The Ministry therefore is setting a yardstick to lay down the total number of women to be allocated to each educational area.

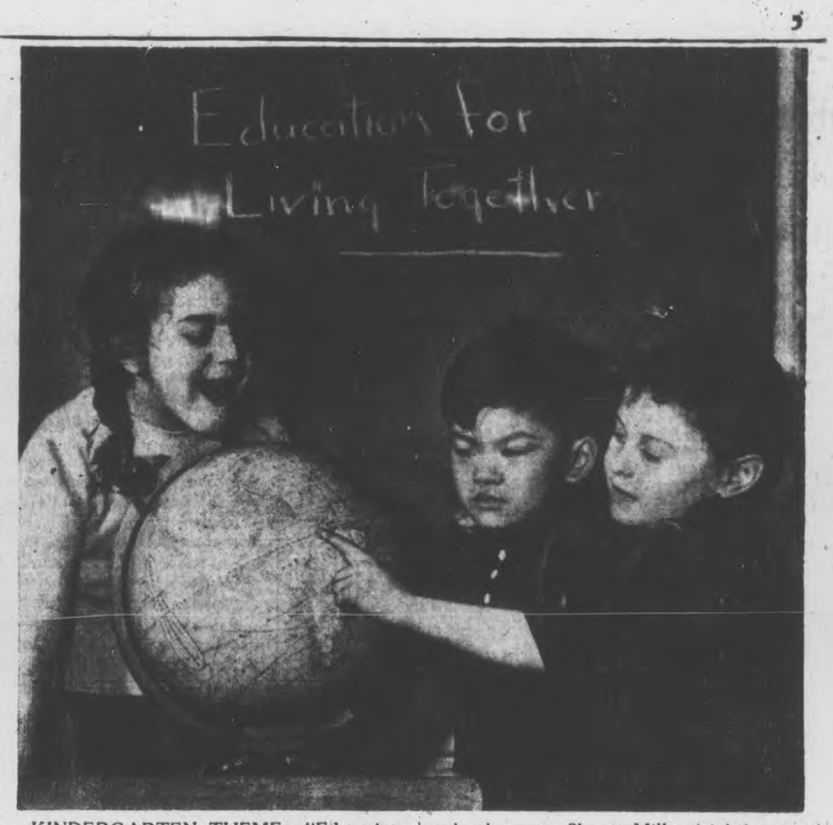
Local authorities will be able to appoint men without the imposition of any limit by the ministry. But women teachers will be controlled on a regional basis.

Under the new scheme, London stands to lose 694 school mistresses, but Birmingham will gain 520.

35,000 in Training

The official said that two years ago when it was decided to raise the school-leaving age from 14 to 15 and to reduce the size of the classes there were 175,000 teachers in the country. The new system required 21,000 more teachers by the end of 1948. That target of 196,000 had already been reached, but they were mostly men recruited from the services.

There are 35,000 teachers in training in Britain to-day. Some 12,000, mostly men, are on a one-year training course called an "emergency scheme" at some 55 colleges throughout the country. Another 23,000 are taking two to four year courses at 98 permanent colleges.



The official said the emergency scheme would close in two or three years because the supply of "ex-servicemen is drying up," but these colleges will be made permanent colleges for women.

Many women teachers who had stayed on during the war were retiring, but the main snag was the increase in infant pupils.

Asked if men would be eventually teaching in girls' schools, the official said: "It looks so. It depends on how many women come forward. It is the same old story of more demand than supply."

Report Sealer Safe

HALIFAX, March 29—(CP)—The RCAF last night received a wireless message from the sealer Alfred and Emily that she could see the sealing ship Mary Hyde on the horizon and that both vessels were safe. Previously, a request for a position check had come from owners of the Mary Hyde at Port Aux Basques, Nfld., who said the sealer had not reported for some time.

KINDERGARTEN THEME—"Education for Living Together" has been chosen as the theme of the 88th annual convention of the Ontario Education Association which opens in Toronto today. The same theme is being taught even in kindergartens throughout the school system. Sharon Miller (right), recent arrival from Poland, shows Vernon Wu, Toronto, and Harried Belzberg the route she travelled with her family in their search for a free country. Harriet arrived here two months ago from Palestine.

Provincial Legislation Planned On Wheat Board

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP).—Observers here see the possibility of a get-together among Dominion and Provincial officials to study complementary Provincial legislation which will be needed if the Canadian Wheat Board is to take over the marketing or barley and oats. The Dominion moved in this direction during the current session of Parliament by obtaining approval of a bill empowering the board to introduce state marketing of these two feed grains, important in Canada's livestock production program.

However, Government officials said that this was as far as the Dominion could go and that the provinces would have to pass complementary legislation if the marketing step was to be constitutional.

Already, the three Prairie provinces have made inquiries as to the form that atheir legislation should take and it is considered possible there may eventually be a meeting of authorities from both sides to iron out any constitutional wrinkles in the feed marketing proposal.

Others Involved

While the Prairie Provinces are primarily concerned with the legislation, it is considered possible that the other provinces, which depend on the west for feed supplies and there fore purchase much of the western oats and barley, may be consulted and eventually may have to pass similar legislation.

The federal legislation met violent opposition in the Commons, with the Progressive Conservative party charging that it would force farmers to deliver their feed grains to a single market where they could get only a fixed price. At the same time, it would force a further curtailment of the Winnipeg grain exchange, which has been barred from trading in wheat for several years.

Elections

A move to have the voting age in federal elections reduced from 21 to 18 years likely will be made when the Commons studies changes to the Dominion Election Act following the Easter recess.

Efforts to have the age reduced were made last year when a Commons committee studied a lengthy list of changes to the Act. The recommended changes will be submitted to the House after the recess.

It is not known how the Commons would vote on the question, but in the committee the majority of members felt that such a change would be inadvisable.

Fishermen Vote Early

Most of the changes recommended by the committee were of a non-contentious character. Fishermen were added to the persons entitled to vote in advance polls. The vote was extended to indigent persons in charitable institutions and to the wives of Indians who served in either of the world wars.

Another amendment would provide voting facilities for veterans receiving treatment in hospitals or other institutions. Members of the defence forces, temporarily stationed away from home, would have their votes counted in the constituencies in which they normally reside.

The time required between issuance of the writ for a by-election would be reduced from 49 to 35 days.

Held For Assault

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—William Hayter and Bruce Mumford, both of Hampton, Ont., were arrested early today on assault charges after Jack McGrath, watchman in a downtown hotel, reported two men who had been loitering on a fire escape attacked him. McGrath went home after hospital treatment.

Offers To Resign

NEW YORK, March 29—(AP)—The Herald Tribune quotes Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as saying that she offered to resign her United Nations jobs but that President Truman and State Secretary Marshall "didn't want me to." Mrs. Roosevelt is chairman of the U.N. Commission on Human Rights and delegate to the General Assembly.

Don't Plan Inquest

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—An autopsy Saturday satisfied Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson an inquest is not necessary into the death of Arthur J. Webb, 47, purchasing agent for St. Andrew's College at Aurora, but the investigation is continuing. The man was found dead in bed in a downtown hotel room Friday.

Wounds His Father

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—Reginald Prower, Jr., 21, yesterday was charged with wounding his father, 46-year-old Reginald Prower, Sr., in what police described as an early-morning altercation at the Prower home in suburban York township. The father suffered a chest wound which police said apparently was inflicted by a pocket knife and the son was slightly wounded.

Tigers Tame Greyhounds In 7-3 Victory

TORONTO, March 29 (CP). — The smooth-working Hamilton Tigers hurdled another barrier in the Allan Cup race here Saturday by trouncing Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds 7-3 to add the Ontario senior amateur crown to their Ontario Hockey Association title.

Tigers took the best-of-three finals in two straight games, beating the NOHA champion Greyhounds 7-2 at Hamilton Thursday and then moving to Toronto for the Saturday tilt. They now meet Renfrew Lions in the Eastern Canada semi-finals.

The Mountain City crew had little trouble taming the Greyhounds as they outplayed and outskated their opposition for most of the tilt. Only in the middle session and the latter part of the final frame was play anywhere on even terms.

The picture-passing and position playing of the veteran Tigers baffled the Greyhounds as the Sault defence, with the exception of rugged Bummer Doran collapsed and their forwards back checked weakly.

Muzz Murray in the Sault nets had little support from his mates and after stopping several labelled shots relaxed enough to let several soft ones through.

Tigers jumped into a 3-0 first period lead, both teams added one goal each in the second period and then Hamilton scored three more times in the third while Greyhounds managed two.

Notches First Tally

Bobby Laurent notched the first Tiger tally from a goal-mouth scramble in a little more than six minutes of play. Frankie Liscombe added the first of his two markers less than two minutes later and then speedy Johnny Conick connected for the third.

The more closely-fought second period produced the best hockey of the game as the Greyhounds put on a hard-skating drive in an attempt to tie the score.

Husky Hodgson broke loose down the right side, outskated the entire Hamilton team and let go with a hard angle shot for the first Sault goal. Spindly-legged Tommy Tindal got that one back with just seven seconds of the period remaining.

In the final period, Clare Shillington, Liscombe with his second goal, and Tommy Smelle completed the Hamilton scoring while Ronnie Lay and Bummer Doran connected for the Greyhounds.

Sail For Ireland

LONDON, Ont., March 29 — Ireland's Dublin Gate Theatre Players yesterday headed for New York and a voyage home, their two-months tour of Eastern North American cities completed. The troupe held its North American premiere here and returned here after playing in New York. Director Hilton Edwards said the local reception was warmer than that given by New York audiences.

Study Wild Life

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP)—Canada's wild life, which contributes about $60,000,000 a year to Canadian hunters, trappers and others, is to receive special attention during the Dominion's first national wildlife week to open April 4. Prime Minister Mackenzie King today announced the week's observation.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

So it'll be the Whipper and Willie again here. Meaning the champ, Whipper Billy Watson, versus wee Wee Willie Davis in the main pro mat bout at the Brock this Wednesday eve. A return engagement as Davis was done in by a chair in their last match and the champ agreed to take him on again. They staged a rousing struggle a week ago though we thought the champ generally looked better. But you can't write off 270 pounds of Hollywood villain (yeah, he still does bit parts in the movie colony) by any means. He's big and rough and was unbeaten here till Watson caught up with him last week in a session that had a packed house roaring. So they'll mix it once again, and two more nifty bouts are on the same grapple card.

* * * * * *

The average man on the street is still interested in that secondary rink proposition as proven by the fact that $206 was raised Saturday. By the mile-of-pennies put on by the firemen and with minor hockeyists aiding the good firefighters. If you recall what a wet miserable day 'twas you'll appreciate that a lot of folks put down pennies, nickels and dimes to get that sum. All of them anxious for the $50,000 natural ice rink for next winter. The canvass commences this week with canvassers having proper identification cards and everyone interested is asked to help out. But you dont need to wait for the canvass, you may kick in at the rink headquarters on George just below Brock or at the Bank of Montreal.

Johnny's Pure Again

It came about in Kingston on Good Friday—at the annual OASA meeting—that Johnny Russelle was re-instated. The scrappy local softball skipper had been suspended late last fall on an Oshawa protest over a split on gate receipts. George Campbell of Oshawa, OASA vice-prexy, offered no evidence, saying he hadn't laid the complaint, so the executive washed out the kick and put Johnny in good grace. Which means he'll be back in the City Softball League this summer piloting a new entry, the B-A team. We expect Stan Houlihan will handle the Knights—city champs—this year.

* * * * * *

At the moment it looks like another smart four-club circuit, Knights, De Laval, Legionnaires and B-A. Latter are the newcomers but Russelle hopes to have a number of last year's K. of C.-ers in the fold with him, including Ken Guilfoyle on the mound and some of those good youngsters. Maybe Bob Strickland, too, as Bob reckons he is ready to return to the softball wars with his bullet ball. Keene are not likely to be in. Legion require a lot of building as they were weak last year, but flushed with puck success they'll sure plan on a strong softball squad.

No Cut On The "Cut"

Three local delegates to the softball conclave report a big affair, though their motion to cut the association's playdown "take" was defeated. Smaller centres didn't go for it. Nor did Fred Griffin make the executive, although he might still get an appointment. Ernie Simpson of Kingston went in as president, and George Campbell of Oshawa is first vice-prexy. O. W. Pierce of Trenton is on the executive, only other one in Central Ontario to make the grade. Flock of amendments ruled on and these will be dealt with here from time to time ere the softball season commences.

* * * * * *

Lacrosse club has appointed Jack Foote full-time coach of the dozen minor teams here, and he will also play for the Petes. Foote was senior "A" with Hamilton Tigers last season and before that with Fergus. He is presently attending U. of T. taking a recreation director's course and should be a fine chap for the job. Local senior "B" players will coach the minor teams (all of whom have sponsors) under Jack's direction. And these minors will have pooled equipment. Eight delegates will take in the OLA annual in Toronto on April 17, nominating Pete King for the executive. Bantam, midget and juvenile entries will be made with a bye into provincial playdowns. The bingo for funds for equipment was a big success.

Washing Out Hockey

Marmora, TVL champs, lost out to Sundridge in North Bay on Saturday, as Bucko McDonald's huskies copped the duke 13-7 in OHA intermediate "B" semi-finals. Tough luck for the men o' Marmora but they had a good season going that far. They hope for a new rink next winter. And the Stirling boys fell before Port Dalhousie in St. Kitts on Saturday to lose in OMHA midget "C" finals 12-7. A good show up to that point, and the best player on the ice in the final fray was Ross Mason for Stirling. Which washes out hockey around this district.

Marmora Loses To Sundridge In Semi-Finals

MARMORA, March 29—(ENS). —Marmora hockey team lost its second game with Sundridge at North Bay on Saturday evening after a plucky fight, retiring beaten by the score of 13-7. This winds up a successful season for the Trent Valley League champions, recently dubbed the Marmora Millionaires. It is hoped that they may have their new rink another season to obtain more practice and to provide once more formidable opposition for other teams of their category after hockey honors.

Curling News

By Herb Martin

On Saturday evening four mixed rinks from Bobcaygeon paid a return visit to our club and played for the Harkness Trophy. At the same time two mixed rinks from Lakefield paid our curleers a visit and played a friendly game.

The games were 10 ends and at the conclusion of play refreshments were served by the local ladies in the club parlors. It was a fitting climax to a season of grand curling.

On Tuesday night at 7.00 o'clock we play the semi-final of the Neill consolation event and at 9.00 p.m. the final game will be played and that will, as far as we know, wind up our curling for the season.

Lament—
Dishes piling in the sink,
Baby hasn't slept a wink,
Father's growling like a mink,
Mother's curling.

Now she's in the third event,
The neighbor's pie is heaven sent,
All the petty cash is spent,
Mother's curling.

Beans and soup most every day,
Mixed with comments on the play,
Two more wins, they're in the hay,
Mother's curling.

Final game, it's one o'clock,
In the money, quite a shock,
Skip just hogged the winning rock,
Ma's home—purling!

Warsaw Wins, 9-6 Against Norwood

NORWOOD, March 20 (ENS).—Norwood and Warsaw played in the Norwood arena on Saturday on a poor sheet of ice and before a fair crowd. Warsaw took the lead throughout, winning 9-6. Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Slamming Hank Greenberg bought into the baseball business Saturday, and all but bowed out as a player. He became the second largest stockholder in the Cleveland Indian Baseball Club, President Bill Veeck announced Saturday. Veeck still owns the major share of the Indians' stock, generally valued at $3,000,000.

"My immediate plans do not call for me to play but I will do whatever is best for the club, whether it be as player or coach," said Hank, adding he would stay in shape so he can enter the line-up if necessary.

Long-hitting Chick Harbert, Detroit professional, Saturday won the $10,000 Charlotte open golf tournament at Charlotte, N.C., with a 273, 15 under par. He was one stroke ahead of defending champion Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn. Harbert clinched the $2,000.

RCAF Flyers, Olympic hockey champions, yesterday suffered their first defeat in their present Scottish tour when they dropped a 6-5 decision to Fife Flyers. Flyers led 4-1 at the end of the first period and added another goal in the second. In the final frame Fife tied the count and scored the winning marker with just a few seconds left.

What's What In Baseball

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 29.—(AP). —Bob Carpenter, of the Phillies, talked trade with officials of St. Louis Cardinals at Clearwater, Fla., yesterday but later announced "there was nothing doing."

The Phillies need pitchers, the Cards are in the market for a catcher and centrefielder and have indicated they might part with pitcher Harry Brecheen if the bait is right.

News From Other Training Camps

CIUDAD TRUBILLO, D.R. — Brooklyn Dodgers today prepared to leave for Florida after completing spring training at their camp here.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — St. Louis Browns yesterday sold Glen Moulder, right-hand pitcher, to Indianapolis of the American Association.

FRESNO, Calif. — Pittsburgh Pirates are wondering what's become of their batting punch. The Bucs have averaged only five hits a game in the last 10 contests. Ralph Kiner, who poled 51 homers last year to tie Johnny Mize for the National League leadership, has hit only one round-tripper in 44 times at bat and has the squad's poorest average, .194.

FRESNO, Calif.—Manager Mel Ott of New York Giants, says that Thornton Lee, veteran left-hander, will be tested further before being offered a contract. Lee allowed one hit in three innings against San Francisco Seals in his first outing yesterday.

SARASOTA, Fla.—The growing hospital list of Boston Red Sox had a new name today—that of second baseman Bobby Doerr, who sprained his back yesterday.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — Centrefielder Paul Lehner of St. Louis Browns is lost to the team at least until after the regular season starts with a fractured shoulder blade.

WILL MEET WATSON—Wee Willie Davis came to terms with Manager Jim Laidlaw of the Brock Arena over the weekend and will meet Whipper Billy Watson, shown above, in a return match here Wednesday night. Davis became embroiled in a trap of chairs among the ringsiders in his bout here last week with Watson and claimed the fans prevented him from returning to the ring. Wee Willie demanded more protection from the spectators before he would sign for the return go. Davis claims he had the Whipper on the run and the champ scored a lucky win. It looks like a red-hot battle. For the semi-final big Jack Moore will be pitted against the Cardiff Giant. Nanjo Singh takes on popular Jimmy "Red" Sims in the opener. It looks like a big night for the mat devotees.

Stirling Boys Lose Out To Ports, 12-7

ST. CATHARINES, March 29— For the first time in history an Ontario hockey title was won by a Port Dalhousie team. Here at the Garden City Arena Saturday Port Dalhousie McMahons trounced Stirling Argos 7-2, to win the OMHA Midget C title. The first game, played in Belleville, ended in a 5-5 draw, so the Ports won the title round, 12-7.

It took the winners until after the halfway mark of the first period before counting their first goal, Cadot firing a chance shot from the blue line that just trickled between Donnam's feet over the line. Stirling never quite recovered from that "softie" and Macs led from then on.

Although on the losing team, the best player for either team was Ross Mason. His brilliant end to end rushes had the large crowd frequently on their feet.

In celebration of their first championship team, Port Dalhousie staged a mammoth street parade and banquet which carried on far into the night.

Stirling—Goal, Donnan; defense, R. Robson, Dobson; centre, Mason; wings, McCrory, Wanamaker; alternates, Hermiston, Phillips, Burgess, Chambers, Faulkner, Ingram.

Port Dalhousie—Goal, Gaboury; defense, Greer, J. Turner; centre Cadot; wings, Daniels, Humphries; alternates, B. Turner, J. Howard, Storosko, McPherson, Winterbottom, Dyke, L. Howard.

Officials—Referee, Ed Danes, Hamilton; linesman, Billy Mocha, St. Catharines.

First Period

Port Dalhousie—Cadot 10:55
Port Dalhousie—Daniels (Storosko) 11:30
Stirling—Dobson (McCrory, Mason) 14:15
Port Dalhousie—Cadot (H. Turner) 17:50
Penalties—Cadot (2), Faulkner.

Second Period

Port Dalhousie—B. Turner (J. Howard, Storosko) ... 3:15
Stirling—McCrory (Mason, Robson) 3:30
Port Dalhousie—J. Turner. 5:14
Penalties—J. Turner (2).

Third Period

Port Dalhousie—Cadot (J. Howard) 17:50
Port Dalhousie—Storosko (J. Howard) 18:30
Penalties—Dobson, Greer (2), McCrory, J. Turner.

Kennedy Scores 4 Goals As Leafs Trounce Bruins

TORONTO, March 29—(CP).—Nels (Old Poison) Stewart found an apt pupil at Port Colborne six years ago when he undertook to teach Ted Kennedy the art of beating a goaltender. The 22-year-old centre of Toronto Maple Leafs showed Saturday night just how well he absorbed the lessons from the most potent goal scorer in National Hockey League history. He drove home four goals as the Leafs downed Boston Bruins 5-3 before a standing room crowd of 14,561 to take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final series.

The Leafs take their commanding lead to Boston for the third and fourth games of the series — scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday nights. They return home for a fifth game, if necessary, Saturday night.

The Bruins returned to Boston last night convinced there will be a fifth game and possibly more. Toronto's managing director Conny Smythe, agrees that they'll come back to Toronto again.

Different Story

Coach Dit Clapper of the Bruins promised that it will be a different story when his team gets back on its own ice and defenceman Johnny Crawford, sidelined with influenza in the second game of the series, rejoins the lineup. Smythe said grimly that he has little hope that his club will sweep the series in four straight.

Kennedy split his Saturday night scoring evenly between the first and second periods as he dampened Boston hopes with a brilliant performance. His left wing mate, Vic Lynn, assisted in three goals and right winger Howie Meeker in two. Kennedy said afterward that he figured both his linemates should have been given assists on a goal the official scorer marked down as unassisted.

Centre Max Bentley tallied the fifth Toronto goal unassisted, after a dash down the boards. His own persistent work got the puck into the clear and enabled him to get right in on Boston goalie Frankie Brimsek who had a busy night in the nets with 35 stops to 24 for Toronto's Turk Broda.

Veteran Milt Schmidt, one of hockey's greatest competitors, led the Bruins despite a trick knee which kept him out of action for long stretches late in the scheduled season. He figured in all three Boston goals, assisting in two and then scoring the third himself in a brilliant third period drive when he attempted to rally his club.

Score Shorthanded

The first four goals came with teams shorthanded. Kennedy got his first with defenceman Fern Flaman in the penalty box. Johnny Peirson drove in Boston's equalizer with Howie Meeker off for the first of three penalties he drew. Clare Martin was in the cooler when Kennedy got his second counter. The Bruins evened it up in the second period, Pete Babando scoring, when Meeker was off for the second time.

Both teams were a man short—Babando and Meeker sitting out a high-sticking sentence—when Kennedy got his third goal.

There were nine penalties all told, six to Bruins and three to the Leafs—all Meeker's.

Kennedy's scoring perofrmance fell one goal short of the Stanley Cup record of five goals in a single game, set in 1944 by Maurice Richard of Montreal Canadiens. It was the 16th goal for the native of Humberstone, New Welland, in 31 playoff games.

WINNING GRIN — Jimmy Thomson, young stalwart defenceman of the Toronto Maple Leafs, waited a long time before he scored his first goal of the current NHL season, 60 games to be exact. But when he finally found that twine, it was the most opportune moment that he could have picked. For it was his goal late in the final period of the first NHL playoff game between the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Boston Bruins which gave the Leafs their tying goal, making the score 4-4. The defending Stanley Cup champs went on to win the game 5-4, with the winner going to Nick Metz after 17 minutes and two seconds of sudden-death overtime.

Family In Lindsay Sets Curling Record

LINDSAY, March 29 — Dr. C. M. Laidley and Mrs. Laidley and son Charles have had a record season curling. In the Lindsay Cub Dr. Laidley's rink of Vern Moor, W. McCarty and S. Groselle won the Patron President Bonspiel as well as the club championship and the Flavelle Memorial, winning 25 games out of 28 played. Mrs. Laidley's rink won the championship of the ladies' curling club. Chuck Laidley's Collegiate rink is playing in the school bonspiel at Guelph next week.

In the Brerton mixed bonspiel at Toronto last week the Lindsay rink of Dr. and Mrs. Laidley and Dr. and Mrs. Loudon won first place in the Rathgeb event, winning the trophy and prize.

UCC Winner

BELLEVILLE, March 29 (CP). —Upper Canada College of Toronto won the right to move into the OHA Junior B round-robin final series by defeating Kingston Vics 4-1 here Saturday night in the third and deciding game of the best-of-three semi-final series.

Huskies Win 5-3

By The Associated Press

Houston Huskies, holding a 2-1 lead over Kansas City, will meet the Pla-Mors at Kansas City tomorrow night in the fourth game of their United States Hockey League championship playoffs. Houston won the third game last night at Kansas City, 5-3, by scoring four goals in the final period.

OMHA MIDGET C

Port Dalhousie 7, Stirling 2. Port Dalhousie wins championship round 12-7.

Flyers Down Combines 5-1

TIMMINS, March 29 (CP). — Porcupine Combines, backed against the wall with elimination staring them in the face, will be holding nothing back tonight at Toronto in the third game of their best-of-five series with Barrie Flyers for the all-Ontario junior hockey championship.

The Flyers, Ontario Hockey Association champions, put the Combines, Northern titleholders, into a big rut Saturday by defeating them 5-1 to take a 2-0 lead in games in the series.

Combines outplayed Barrie in the initial frame and took a 1-0 lead but after that they dropped back and Barrie took over control of the play. The Flyers roared back with four goals in the second period and added another in the third for their wide margin.

Hold $17,500 Wedding

NEW YORK, March 29—(AP) —The king is wed, and Harlem filled the church, jammed the sidewalks and leaned out its windows yesterday for one of the biggest weddings it has ever seen. The occasion was the wedding of singer Mary Hawkins Ellington to Nathaniel (King) Cole, of jukebox fame. Harlem historians said the $17,500 wedding and reception was the most elaborate held there since 1923.

Fire Destroys Theatre

MONCTON, N.B., March 29—(CP)—Fire early yesterday destroyed the Star theatre and a nearby one-storey wood business building in nearby Lewisville, causing damage estimated by theatre manager Nathan Fielder at $50,000.

MINS MORE ADMIRERS

Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa won herself a host of new admirers at Calgary Saturday night with a brilliant exhibition of figure-skating as feature attraction at the 16th annual Glencoe Club ice carnival before 6,000 spectators.

Watson Paces Rangers To 3-2 Triumph

NEW YORK, March 29 (CP) — A veteran of seven playoff series last night scored two goals against Detroit Red Wings to give New York Rangers new, although faint, hopes of winning the Stanley Cup for the first time since 1939-40.

Phil Watson, the ebullient, 33-year-old native of Montreal was still feeling the effects of a calf-muscle injury which had him sidelined for two weeks before last Friday's contest in Detroit.

But the bruised leg was as nought when linemates Buddy O'Connor and Bryan Hextall set up the two first-period goals which led the Rangers to a 3-2 triumph, their first victory in the current National Hockey league best-of-seven series.

Detroit, who won the first two games 2-1 and 5-2 with little trouble, meet Rangers here again tomorrow night and at Detroit Thursday.

Makes 22 Saves

Chuck Rayner made 22 saves compared to 13 for Harry Lumley in the Detroit cage.

Ted Lindsay slipped one past Rayner, however, in the closing minute of the second period to put Detroit in the scoring column, and Jack Stewart sank a 45-foot open shot with less than four minutes to play to make the closing minutes hectic.

But the third Ranger goal, scored by little Tony Leswick on a 15-foot shot at the half-way mark of the third period, proved the winner.

Only seven penalties were handed out, four of them to Detroit. However, the crowd of 15,304 booed referee King Clancy when he failed to hand out a penalty in what appeared to be a tripping incident. Hextall had toppled forward only 30 feet from the Detroit cage when he broke into the clear in the first period.

Bobcaygeon Sets Record

LINDSAY, March 29 — In winning the OMHA Juvenile "C" championship, Bobcaygeon had a remarkable record. They won 22 games of 25 played, lost one and tied two. They scored 270 goals for an average of 10.8 goals a game.

It is the first championship that has ever been won by a Bobcaygeon team.

SETS NEW RECORD — Richard "Boo" Morcom, University of New Hampshire pole vault star, clears the bar at 14 feet 7⅞ inches to win the pole event at the Knights of Columbus eighth annual indoor track meet at Cleveland, Ohio. Morcom's mark set a new record for the meet.

Red-Hot Barons Down Reds 4-2

By The Canadian Press

Cleveland Barons did it again. The red-hot Barons, undefeated in their last 30 outings, downed Providence Reds 4-2 last night to score their third straight victory in series "A" of the American Hockey League playoffs and now need only one more triumph to clinch the best-of-seven semi-final.

Barons jumped into a 2-0 lead in the opening stanza on goals by Jack Lavoie and Bob Carse. Providence Reds scored first with Laplante's tally. Two more Baron tallies early in the final period put the game "on ice."

Fred Thurier and Gordie Davidson were the marksmen. Laplante then scored his second goal of the night for the Reds and narrow the gap but the Rhode Islanders were kept in check the rest of the way.

In the other Calder Cup semi-final, Buffalo Bisons edged New Haven Ramblers 2-1 in a second overtime period to take the opening game of the best-of-three series. Les Hickey's breakaway goal at 4.35 of the sudden death overtime gave the Bisons their triumph.

Chevalier Plans Canadian Tour In April

By PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, March 29 (CP)—Entertainment with a gallic flavor is headed for Eastern Canadian cities.

Maurice Chevalier is going to Montreal next month to begin a tour of his one-man show of songs and impressions. He is scheduled to open a 10-day stand in Montreal April 14. The balance of his three weeks' visit will be divided amongst appearances in Sorel, Que.; Three Rivers, Que.; Sherbrook, Que., Ottawa and Toronto.

A Dominion visit in the fall also is on the schedule of the Orchestra National, France's principal radio orchestra, it is announced here. The orchestra, 96 strong, is due to arrive in New York Oct. 13. It is booked for appearances in Quebec, Montreal and Toronto, as well as in New York and 23 other United States cities.

Hollywood Needled

Author Allan Scott delivers some gentle jabs at Hollywood in "Joy To The World," the new play at the Plymouth Theatre.

The play follows routine formula. A film company vice-president unwittingly attacks film censorship and then has his newly-arrived-at decision to maintain this stand backed by a comely research assistant. It all ends happily with the picture-maker assured of the backing of movie magnate.

"Joy To The World" got a sharply-divided reception from the critics. Howard Barnes of The Herald Tribune hailed it as "the gayest and most substantial commentary on Hollywood doings that the stage has yet effected." But Louis Kronenberger of PM, while acknowledging lively touches and liberal sentiments, dismissed it as "merely trashy." Robert Garland of The Journal-American called it "slock, showy, obviously insincere," but Ward Morehouse of The Sun said "Hollywood examined entertainingly."

Alfred Drake and Marsha Hunt do well in the principal roles.

George Jessel To Appear Before Camera

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, March 29 (AP)—George Jessel, who has been producing pictures for the last few years, is going to appear before the camera for a change.

The comedian, now producing "Burlesque," plans an independent picture on the life of song writer Fred Fisher and he will also make an appearance in it. Jessel's last film work was during the transition from silents to sound. At that time, he was set to do the Warners' film version of his stage hit, "The Jazz Singer." But disagreements arose and a guy named Al Jolson did the picture.

George tells me he has given up the idea of making his film autobiography. Says he: "Let posterity do it. Then they can lie about me the same way I lied about Joe E. Howard in 'I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now.'"

Make-Believe Ballroom

Betty Grable and Harry James decided not to buy a beach ballroom, reasoning that the lame condition of the band business would make it a shaky venture. Harry has given up touring for a while, devoting his time to local week-end dates and his air show.

Ty Power is a busy lad these days, this time with picture making. He was to fly to Sun Valley for "That Wonderful Urge" locations. Then he returns to complete the unfinished Irish picture (a fourth title is coming up). After finishing the two comedies, he heads for Rome and "Prince of Foxes" (if all goes well in Italian elections)....

Old-timer Chester Conklin is in the "Burlesque" cast..."The Gay Intruders," we can hope, may put an end to the psychological film cycle. It's about a couple who consult psychiatrists. The latter end up full of neuroses...

10-Second Review

Heavy is the word for "All My Sons" (U-I). From the prize Broadway play, it tells of a veteran (Burt Lancaster) who finds his father (Edward G. Robinson) is guilty of manufacturing faulty airplane cylinders, causing 22 war crashes. It's potent stuff, laid on heavily by a competent cast.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK —By J. R. Scott

Farmer Swims Ouse, Onlookers Shiver

WESTWOOD, March 29 (ENS)—Although it is not recorded that he casually licked an ice-cream cone, Jerry Maloney created a chilly thrill for onlookers on Tuesday when he plunged into the icy waters of the Ouse River.

A farmer of Asphodel, Mr. Maloney gave his damp performance below the flume at Westwood Mill. It may not have been the earliest dip of the "swimming season," but none have been reported from the district so far this year. He said the "water was fine." The spectators just shivered.

Ten Accidents On Week-end Car Clips Train; Damage Heavy, No Injuries

The Easter week-end brought out many cars which had been stored for the winter and also created a number of accidents reported by police. Total damages in all the mishaps worked out to a considerable amount. Damage was caused to a taxi driven by Aloyius Desbarbieux, 308 Lewis St., when it was in collision with a car driven by George Charlton, 23 River Road, at the corner of Armour Road and Douro St., about 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The taxi was damaged at the rear, on the rear fender, its body dented, headlight and front rim broken. In the accident, a checker-board sign near the intersection was smashed. PC Gordon Trennum investigated.

About $24 damage was caused the cars of Leonard Williams, Erskine Ave., and J. G. Pruner, 594 Park St., when they tangled at the corner of McKellar and Park Sts. Report of PC William G. Scott stated that the location of a stop-sign post at the side of the road was the "only thing" which prevented the Williams vehicle from falling into a ten-foot ditch. The accident occurred about one o'clock Sunday afternoon.

A frightened horse, attached to a bread wagon driven by Bruce White, 542 Edison Ave., shied from the sound of a big passing truck and pulled in front of the car of J. E. Bush, 1217 Grandview Ave., at the corner of McDonnel and Downe about five o'clock on Saturday afternoon. The shafts of the wagon were broken and the front window of the car smashed. A bicycle on the rear of the car, owned by Floyd Tripp, 313 Murray St., was also damaged. PC Harold Mesley handled the accident.

Damage estimated at $125 was incurred by Andrew A. Jack, 69 Prince Arthur Ave., Toronto, and about $50 damages was done to the car of Donald McTavish, 467 Albertus Ave., when the two were in collision Thursday evening at the corner of Reid and King Streets, PC V. J. O'Donaghue investigated.

A hit-and-run driver struck a hydro pole and transformer on Otonabee St. during the week-end. PC C. J. McGillen is investigating.

Truck Damaged

On Saturday evening, on Hunter St. East a collision occurred between the cars of Delmar Payne, 490 Edison Ave., and the parked truck of I. Sharpe, RR 7, Peterborough. It was stated that the lights of another car had blinded Payne so that he ran into the rear of the truck. His car received a damaged front bumper, headlights, grill, radiator, fenders and wheel. There was a slight dent in the rear fender of the truck. PC Reginald McMillan investigated.

Damage was caused the car of Bert Godwin, 600 McKellar St., when a CNR passenger train struck it about 12.50 p.m. Saturday at the Monaghan Road-Edison Ave. crossing. He told PC Harold Mesley that he had swung the car to the left and braked it, but had not been able to avoid being struck.

Damage is estimated at $57 on the car of Reginald McCormack, 298 King St., when it was damaged after a truck, driven by Jack Robinson, 415 Dublin St., backed into it in a parking lot on Charlotte St. PC M. D. Traynor investigated the accident, which took place on Saturday afternoon.

Blame Icy Roads

Icy roads were blamed for a collision Sunday morning between Albert Vinette, 93 Hunter St. West, and Michael O'Leary, 475 Mark St., on River Road near Dunlop. The O'Leary vehicle had a damaged radiator, grill and two fenders. Vinette's car had a damaged fender, steering gear and headlight. PC C. J. McGillen investigated.

Only injury, a minor swelling to his nose when he struck the pavement, was to five-year-old Reginald Storms, 143 Rubidge St., who was knocked down when he ran from the road-side near the corner of Park and Albert Sts., into the fender of the car of Charles Keliele, 376 Brock St., who took the boy for medical treatment. PC Harold Mesley was in charge.

OFFICES CLOSED

All county buildings and banks were closed today because of the Easter Monday statutory holiday.

Mile Of Pennies Brings $205 To Civic Arena

Despite the cold blustery weather Saturday the Mile-of-Pennies project for the Civic Arena added dollars to the campaign fund. Citizens contributed $205 to the arena while members of the Minor Hockey Association, aided by Fire Chief George Smith and men from the Department, patrolled lines of hose laid out along the street.

Some sections of the "mile" fared well while others were poorly populated with coppers, dimes and nickels. One stretch of hose was covered with silver coins, in the majority twenty-five cent pieces.

Early Saturday morning the Minor Hockey group squads met at the fire hall and later dispersed to sections of the "mile-of-pennies" under their supervision. Firemen were stationed at points along the "mile".

Firemen and their hockey player assistants were warm in the praise of citizens who contributed to the project. In the drizzle the coin collectors stood and shivered, watching the "mile" expand with coins.

Snow In Morning Dust In Afternoon

Just as a report to the board of works department, the snow-plowing contractor on Aylmer St. south of Townsend St. was out at 5:30 a.m. Sunday. That is more than can be said for at least one other area, if not two, south of Charlotte St.

It may be that somebody "checks" on contractual performance, from curbview there is not much evidence of it. One man is on the job early in the morning, but his companion the next area is an absentee.

At any rate, snow was plowed Easter Sunday morning and by afternoon dust was blowing on most streets.

Recover Two Cars

Two cars, stolen from separate places on Saturday night, were recovered almost side by side by police on Sunday night. The two were located abandoned in a ditch north of No. 7 Highway outside the city. One belonged to Keith Mahood, RR 4, Peterborough, and was taken from a dance pavilion on No. 7 Highway. The other car, that of L. A. Jackson, 684 Park St. North, had been taken some time Saturday from its parking place at the CPR depot. PC C. J. McGillen of the city force and OPP Joe Hanson handled the recoveries.

PUT ON YOUR EASTER BONNET—That is, it would have been a good idea if it had not been so cold on Easter Sunday. The chilly air kept many from making their customary promenade in new spring finery. Most of those who braved the breezes were concealing the spring fashions under fur coats. But those seen on George St. proved that the "new look" has been generally accepted, although a number of chic numbers stubbornly displayed their resistance to its inroads by appearing in a bit of the old look. Wondering just what this whole business of fashion is about is Nancy Jirard (Upper Left), 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Jirard, 495 Elm St., who gazes profoundly into a store window. Three lively city girls, standing on the steps of St. John's Anglican Church, show the fashions for the younger set (Upper, Centre). They are: Terese McFee, 103 Hunter St. East, wearing a black full-back coat, with slit skirt; Jerry McFee, with a "shortie" full-back plaid coat and long-length slit skirt of black; Pat Moncrief, 63 Robinson St., donned a black wool spring suit with peg-top skirt over a short-sleeve wool sweater, and wore a black topcoat. All three are wearing the new "baby-doll" shoes. (Upper Right) Two-year-old Joanne Neck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Neck, 178 Adeline Ave., takes what might be termed "THE GOOD LOOK" at the occupant of a baby carriage on Charlotte St. during the Sunday stroll. Out for their Easter saunter (Lower Left) is the Joseph Leahy family of 53 Maria St. Mrs. Leahy wears a green shortie coat and ballerina skirt. Janice, 2, has on an English tweed suit. Smartly stepping down George St., the winsome threesome (Lower Centre) are: Barbara Bagnall, 458 Aylmer St., in the shortie coat and matching hat, bag, gloves and baby-doll shoes and a blue dress with fishtail back; Shirley Bagnall, 173 London St., in a grey flannel suit, pink hat and matching accessories; and Marion Curran, 160 London St., in a pearl-grey suit with kickpleat jacket, straight-cut skirt. She wears a black sailor-boy hat and matching accessories. Strolling around Confederation Park (while the snow still lingers around the borders) (Lower Right) are Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Rennie, 300 London St., and five-year-old Donald, who wears a brown winter suit—in deference to the weather. Mrs. Rennie is wearing a beige spring coat of camel-hair. Behind the family group are Irene Nicholls, 620 Weller St., and James Grant, 368 George St. Miss Nicholls is wearing a herringbone tweed coat, white blouse and ballerina skirt.

Capacity Church Crowds Hear Joyous Easter Music

Easter remains a major Church festival when Christians of all denominations attend divine service to re-affirm their faith. The Resurrection has remained a symbol of Christian hope down through the centuries. And coming at the time of year it does, it has come to be looked upon as the first herald of spring.

Thousands of worshippers crowded Peterborough's many churches on Sunday despite a cold wind and a sprinkling of snow underfoot.

Special Easter music, some of the most joyous and inspiring of sacred music, was heard. Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" was sung by almost every choir. Vocal solos and anthems voicing praise and hope added to the beauty of the services.

Morning masses at the three Roman Catholic churches drew capacity crowds, and at St. Peter's Cathedral, many had to stand during high mass. "Regina Coeli," hymn usually sung at Easter time was an added choral feature with all the choirs.

At Park St. Baptist church, Maunder's cantata, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace," was given by the choir, with a high degree of interpretation and melody. Solo parts were taken by Mrs. Clarence Corbett, soprano, Mrs. J. Barry, soprano, Miss Nancy Lane, alto, Clarence Corbett, bass, Roy Lane, baritone and Maurice Dunkley, tenor.

Knox United

Knox United Church was crowded with morning worshippers. Rev. H. G. Douglas, in his sermon "The Resurrection as Fact and Possibility" drew a distinction between the Easter message and the Easter faith.

The message of Easter is a symbol, he said—"an empty tomb." He said it remains the world's greatest mystery, surpassing anything the world has known. Easter faith is "Christ is the risen Lord."

"Without the conviction that Christ had conquered death there would be no such thing as Christianity."

He did not stress the historical resurrection, but the "possibility" that lies in resurrection, which he described as a belief in eternal life.

"If we actually believed this resurrection had taken place we would be different."

Racial hatred would cease and wars of tragedy, sorrow and suffering would cease, he said, "if the resurrection became a reality to the nations of the world."

In the afternoon the Intermediate section of the Sunday School put on a pageant which included a large attendance of adults. Called "The Garden of Easter" it consisted largely of recitations, and songs with an Easter theme.

Trinity United

More than 900 people packed Trinity United Church for Easter service. People brought articles of food for Britain. Receptacles in the vestible were filled to overflowing. Part way through the service a small box of the food was brought forward to be dedicated.

Rev. Dr. Bruce Gordon spoke of the "Living Christ."

He took as his text "Why seek ye the living among the dead," from Luke 24:5.

"Nations are seeking the right thing but in the wrong place," he said. "They are seeking life where only death is found by keeping to their nationalistic boundaries, policies and creeds."

Man in his seeking is living among the dead. "In religious life he is going back to dead forms and theological questions of the past instead of seeking Christ among the living issues of our day."

"Man will find life through the gift of new life brought about by the risen Christ."

George St. United

George Street United Church had a combination of three choirs making a total of 125 voices.

Rev. Dr. James Semple spoke on "Where to find the risen Lord."

At Murray Street

The largest congregation in the history of Murray Street Baptist Church was present at the morning service when more than 1,000 filled the church and gallery to capacity and flowed out into the Sunday School auditorium where a public address system had been set up. Worshipping with the Murray Street people was the congregation of St. Paul's Presbyterian which church is undergoing an extensive remodelling program.

The combined choirs under the direction of Stanley Northrop sang the anthem "Resurrexit" by Tosti and Mrs. Don Hendren, soloist, sang "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" from Handel's Messiah and following the benediction the congregation remained standing while the choir sang "Worthy Is The Lamb" from Handel's Messiah.

Rev. Ivan Morgan preached taking as his subject "The Importance of Easter" and the Rev. C. G. Boyd was in charge of the service. At 9.30 in the morning an Easter Baptismal service was held while at four o'clock there was a special Vesper service of music by the combined choirs. Easter hymns and the Easter story.

T. J. Lane Dies; Undertaker For Fifty Years

Thomas Joseph Lane, 243 Hunter St. W., died very suddenly on Sunday after having attended 7.30 a.m. Mass at St. Peter's Cathedral. Later in the morning he was making arrangements for a funeral when he was stricken. He had been in the undertaking business for the past 50 years in Peterborough and was extremely well known. Mr. Lane was born in this city, son of the late John Lane and Catherine Dineen, and lived here all his life.

He is survived by his wife, the former Catherine Hickey, two daughters, Mrs. Robert Schantz (Helen) and Mrs. Leo La Palm (Hilda), both of Rochester, N.Y. One son, John Thomas, lives in Detroit.

Mr. Lane was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral, of the Catholic Order of Foresters and of the Knights of Columbus.

The body is resting at his residence until 8.45 a.m. Wednesday when it will be taken to St. Peter's Cathedral for Requiem Mass at 9 a.m. Burial will take place at St. Peter's cemetery.

Main Street Topics

INJURIES WERE SEVERE

Injuries received by Thornton Brick, Fairburn Ave., who was struck by a taxi early Saturday morning indicate injuries more serious than previously reported. He is suffering from a broken ankle, a broken hand, fractured ribs and a split knee.

FORMER RESIDENT

Mrs. George Henry Johnston, a former Peterborough resident, died at her home in Montreal on Saturday. Her husband died some years before. She will be buried at Little Lake Cemetery here on Tuesday. Funeral service, from the Kaye Funeral Home, will be at 2 o'clock. Rev. F. J. Aiken, St. Andrew's United Church, will officiate.

MARBLE EXECUTIVE DIES

Known to many people of Peterborough, Arthur A. Cook, vice-president and director of the Vermont Marble Company died suddenly at Chicago on Saturday. He was manager of the Ontario Marble Company plant here some years ago and had many business associates. The funeral will be in Vermont later in the week.

HONOR BANTAM PLAYERS

Kenneth Waters, president of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association, and Jack Christie, secretary, will be guest speakers at the fortnightly dinner-meeting of the Peterborough Lions Club on Monday night at the Kawartha Club. Members of the Lions' Bantam hockey team which advanced to the Ontario finals are being honored with a banquet and presentations by their sponsors. It is expected that several other members of the Minor Hockey Association will attend.

NO COURT, CASES HELD OVER

There is no court on Easter Monday, although the holiday week-end brought the usual charges. James Fleming, JP, remanded five prisoners until Tuesday and adjourned three other cases.

REPORT TWO FIRE ALARMS

Firemen had two calls over the Easter week-end. Gas from an oil furnace was reported at 269 George St., residence of D. F. Drummond, late on Saturday afternoon. The other call came from 211 London St., residence of John Edwards, at 8:30 p.m.

TOBACCO BROWN FROCK—Dark, colorful brown is a pet of this department for wear during the dogdays. Here we have it in a new rayon fabric which looks like dress weight linen. The model is a jacket frock cut, with its low neckline, its bracelet length sleeves and its full, longuish skirt edged with white eyelet embroidery ruffling. Cool and sophisticated this is an outfit for town which will also do all right in the country, say for the weekend guest's wardrobe.

Dogs Have Easter Bonnets In Fifth Avenue Parade

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP).—The weather put a crimp in New York's Easter parade, but it didn't keep the crowds at home. Police estimated 1,000,000 persons jammed Fifth Avenue to look, and be looked at, despite near-freezing winds. Only the ultra-fashionable defied the low temperatures to sport light, brightly-colored spring suits. Most women stuck to heavy coats with flowered straw hats—their only concession to the occasion.

An elderly woman showed up with an artificial landscape scene decorating her wide-brimmed hat. A professional model promenaded with a dummy canary perched inside her bird-cage headpiece. A 70-year-old health advocate roller-skated down the avenue in knickers and a lumber jacket.

Dogs—wearing small flowered hats matching those of their owners—were a common sight along the avenue.

Thirty members of two pacifist organizations wore hats fashioned out of placards. Miss Marion Coddington, leader of the group, said police last year wouldn't let them carry placards along the avenue. So this time they wore the placards on their heads. Some of the vari-shaped, lettered hats read "Stop World War III."

But for the most part, the crowd was made up of ordinarily dressed people, out to see what the rest were wearing.

Milburn-MacKey Nuptials Solemnized at Easter

Spring flowers and ferns formed a setting in Murray St. Church Saturday for the wedding of Patricia Elizabeth MacKey to James Robinson Milburn. The Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church performed the ceremony. Mr. Martin B. Chenhall was at the organ and during the signing of the register he played "I Love You Truly."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother Mr. W. T. MacKey. Blush pink silk fashioned her wedding dress made in street length with low round neckline and three-quarter sleeves. Her halo hat was of matching maetrial and she carried a nosegay of sweetheart roses and forget-me-nots. Miss Marian MacTeague was her bridesmaid and was frocked in aqua silk, similarly styled, with matching hat and her nosegay was of red roses and forget-me-nots.

Mr. Joseph Cooke attended the groom. Ushers were Mr. Thomas P. McMillan and Mr. W. T. MacKey, brother of the bride.

A reception was held afterward in Hooper's Palm Room Mrs. Thos. W. MacKey, sister-in-law of the bride, received, wearing a black printed crepe dress with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. W. S. Milburn, mother of the groom, also received, and she was attired in black and white silk jersey with black accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Milburn left later for Toronto and western points, the bride travelling in a lark suit, with black topcoat and white accessories.

DETACHABLE POCKET — Navy crepe dress by William Segal with pocket and front interest in fine beaded handwork. The smart pocket is detachable.

Marmora Marks Easter Story

MARMORA, March 29—(ENS).—The festival of Easter was observed at St. Paul's with a choral celebration of Holy Communion in the morning and choral evensong at night.

Easter lillies, daffodils and iris adorned the altar and chancel.

Included in the altar decorations were lilies in memory of the late Canon C. M. Harris, who died 25 years ago, following the long rectorate of 44 years.

The new altar cloth, gift of John Cochran, with artistic needlework of Mrs. S. C. Boyd, was used for the first time.

Rev. J. M. Brownlie officiated at both services. At the morning service, which was largely attended, there were 87 communicants.

For the anthem, the choir sang "This Joyous Eastertide."

Mrs. Percy Gray, soloist, sang 'Open the Gates of the Temple."

For the evening service, familiar Easter hymns were used.

In the afternoon William Richard, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bonter, Guelph, and Catharine Mary Jane, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Wallace, Kingston, received the sacrament of Holy Baptism.

At a short children's service conducted before the celebration of Holy Communion by the lay reader, W. J. Cottrell, children of the Sunday school presented their Lenten mite boxes.

At St. Andrew's United church in the morning a large congregation participated. The church fount was decorated with Easter blooms and flowering plants. Among them was one in memory of Howard Hamilton. The singing was led by the senior and junior choirs, each singing an anthem. Rev. E. M. Cadigan delivered the Easter sermon.

High mass, followed by benediction, was celebrated in the Sacred Heart church by Rev. H. J. Farrell before a large congreation. Lilies and other spring flowers adorned the altar.

Of Interest to Women

Man Advised to Shed Girl Who Resents His Mother

DEAR MISS DIX: I am engaged to a girl who gets furious if I give my mother any of my time or show her any attention. I am an only child and my mother is a widow, with no one to care for her but me. My mother does not plan to live with us after we are married, but my sweetheart says that she shall never enter our home. When I tell her how good my mother has been to me, she flies into a rage and says if I love her that much I had better go and stay with her.

DOROTHY DIX

What shall I do? I am most unhappy, torn between the two.

A CONSTANT READER OF YOUR COLUMN

ANSWER: Take the girl's advice and go and stay with your mother until you find a young woman with more heart and a keener sense of right than your present sweetheart. You will find no happiness in a marriage with a woman who is so selfish and so idiotically jealous that she has lost all sense of justice and decency.

Any woman who does not foster her husband's love for his mother, who dosen't encourage him to show her attentions, who dosen't want her husband to help his mother if she needs it, is nothing less than a fiend. She has not a kindly, a sympathetic or a generous fibber in her being, and a man should turn from her as he would from a monstrosity.

Should Be Grateful

A woman who loves her husband is grateful to her for having given her a good husband, an dshe hopes that some other girl is going to treat her some day as she treated her mother-in-law.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married for six years and have a darling little girl 3 years old. My husband I got along beautiful until the baby was born, but since then I have found it impossible to make him happy. He wants me to give the child out for adoption, but I have refused to do this.

He will not let the baby stay in the same room with him, and he gets angry if the child cries or laughs, or makes any noise whatever. What can I do?

MRS. TOM H.

ANSWER: There is nothing you can do except play for time. Evidently your husband is jealous of the baby, so do not make the mistake of devoting all of attention to the child. Make over your husband and go with him as much as you can, and try to make him realize that your love for the baby has not made you care less for him.

In time your husband will get over his unnatural attitude, and he will become interested in the baby in spite of himself. Many men do not like babies, but when the children begin to walk and talk and be interesting they become devoted to them.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been a widow for a number of years. I have never gone in for social life, nor am I particularly interested in anything or anybody. I have been going with a man for about a year and he wants to marry me. Would you advise me to marry him, or would it be better for me to go out and get a job? I am very lonesome.

UNDECIDED

ANSWER: I do not advise any woman to marry unless she is strongly attached toward the man and feel very sure that she will be happier with him than without him, and evidently this is not your case. It is bad business just to be a-marrying, because you are lonesome and don't know what to do with yourself. I think you will be far happier, and so will the man, if you embark on a business career instead or a matrimonial one.

If you get a job, you will have something to keep you busy all day and occupy your thoughts at night. And if you get tired of it, you can give it up without any messiness of divorce.

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, March 30

By dint of concentrated effort, sound commonsense and an aggressive and strenuous assembling of all possible resources, assets, capital and determination, it is possible that some sort of strange and abrupt occurrence may be averted. However, it is possible that the reaction to sudden and unforeseen events may prove so devastating that the judgment may be impaired and the emotions made so tense that errors may but heighten the menace. Under this stress it is advised that wiser and more self-contained heads be consulted. By such wise counsel, unusual benefits might crown the effort, and with far-reaching result and lasting security.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find it imperative to focus all assets, resources, forces and faculties, upon determined, well-organized and executed programs for the purpose of sidestepping a devastating and disintegrating combinations of unforeseen circumstances. This might have radical and long-term influence upon the life, its fortunes, ultimate progress and happiness. As the sudden turn of events may have power to undermine the energies, react on nervous tensions, and impair sound judgment, it would be wise to confer with older heads of more centered and solid experience. Surprising denouements may crown such wisdom and efforts.

A child born on this day may have energy and initiative which it may use to good advantage in many frustrations in life.

Madelyn Iris McWilliams Is Ray E. Kearns' Bride

Stately calla lilies and springtime bouquets of white and pink snapdragon, in tall standards, flanked by the greenery of palms and ferns decorated the chancel of Trinity United Church Easter Saturday for the marriage of Madelyn Iris McWilliams to Ray Edward Kearns with Rev. D. B. Gordon officiating. The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. McWilliams and the late Mr. Eldridge Bertram McWilliams and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard John Kearns, all of Peterborough. Before the ceremony began, Miss Alma Blanchard sang "The Lord's Prayer" and during the signing of the register she sang "Where'er You Walk" by Handel. The wedding music was played by Mr. Harry Northrop who also accompanid the soloist.

Escorted to the altar by her uncle, Mr. Harry Wright, the bride wore a portrait gown of ivory satin with the gathered skirt falling in a long graceful train beneath peplum folds. Pointed yokes of nylon net in the front and back of the moulded bodice gave a drop-shoulder effect, and were edged with a bertha collar which had satin flowers outlined in applique and centred with pearls, and a row of matching pearls highlighted the high round neckline. The bodice was fastened at the back with covered buttons and had full-length sleeves which came to lily points over her hands. Her very long veil of silk net was caught to a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of red roses.

Miss Janet Kearns, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, wearing a bouffant gown of blue faille taffeta with gathered diagonal inserts in the skirt and short puff sleeves on the fitted bodice which was buttoned down the back. Senior bridesmaids were Miss Georgina Carr, cousin of the bride, and Miss Betty Craig, wearing gowns of deep pink taffeta made in the same style, and Miss Eleanor Bird was junior bridesmaid in yellow moire fashioned with gathered skirt, fitted bodice and brief cap sleeves. Headdress for the attendants were original creations of tulle in matching colors with dainty flower trim and they wore elbow-length gloves in the shades of their dresses. Colonial bouquets completed the ensembles and were of yellow roses for the maid of honor, Talisman roses for the bridesmaids and yellow roses for the junior bridesmaid.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Earl Kearns. Ushers were Messrs. Thos. Snowdon, Harry Kearns, Vergil Car, Ted Cooney and Earl Armstrong.

The reception was held in the YWCA where Mrs. McWilliams received gowned in pale blue crepe with deep peplum draped to the side and wearing a veiled hat of black with large pink roses and a corsage of pink carnations. She was assisted by Mrs. Kearns whose gown was of black crepe with silver embroidery and she wore a picture hat of white straw with bright flower trim which was matched in her corsage of geranium red carnations. An heirloom bride's tablecloth of white linen with hand-embroidered cutwork was on the bride's table, centred with a large bevelled reflector which held the teired wedding cake. Potted tulips and daffodils were used for a decorative setting. Girls from the bride's sorority, Beta Sigma Phi, the YWCA '38 Club, Trinity Knitting Club, and friends, served the guests, who numbered more than 200.

For her wedding trip to Toronto, Detroit and London, Ont., the bride donned a navy dressmaker suit with matching accessories and accent of cerise in the floral trim on her straw hat. Her topcoat was a shortie of grey wool with back yoke which released fullness from unpressed pleats and she wore a four-skin neckpiece of grey squirrel. Her going-away corsage was of white gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Kearns will make their home at 653 George St. N.

WED EASTER SATURDAY—Mrs. Ray Kearns, the former Madelyn McWilliams, only daughter of Mrs. McWilliams and the late Mr. E. B. McWilliams, is seen as she signed the register in Trinity United Church following her marriage Saturday. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kearns.

Find Legal Way To Pay $4,000

OTTAWA, March 29.—(CP).—Parliament, in the hustle and bustle of adjourning for the Easter recess, found a legal way to pay off a moral obligation.

Passing $260,000,000 worth of supplementary estimates and interim supply Thursday night, the Commons gave approval to a tiny $1 vote to Mrs. John Snow of Winnipeg and thus opened the way to the government to meet an obligation to the war widow.

Behind the vote was this story:

In 1945, Sgt. Frank R. Snow applied for $4,000 of veterans' insurance through the Veterans Department and paid the premium. However, before the forms could get to Ottawa through the slow-moving channels of the newly-formed insurance system Snow died and the insurance, since it had not been approved, could not legally be paid.

Since then he Department has sought legal means of paying the insurance. Passage of the $1 item by parliament recognizes the moral obligation and authorizes the Department to make the $4,000 payment.

Reality Is Subject Of Lesson Sermon

"Reality" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon which was read in First Church of Christ Scientist in Peterborough on Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty; for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all."—(I Chronicles 29:11).

Selections from the Bible included: "For since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him."

Correlative citations included the following: "As mortals gain more correct views of God and man, multitudinous objects of creation, which before were invisible, will become visible. When we realize that Life is Spirit, never in nor of matter, this understanding will expand into self-completeness, finding all in God, good, and needing no other consciousness. Spirit and its formations are the only realities of being."

BITTER BUYERS' BUTTER BATTLE BEGINS—Butter—a whole half pound of it if they're lucky. Teen-agers Gift of $5 Drives Vet From Waldorf

NEW YORK, March 29)AP).—A $5.21 contribution by a group of teen-aged Masachusetts girls proved the last straw for Richard Cox—so he moved his family out of the Waldorf-Astoria Saturday and back to their Brooklyn cold water flat.

The 34-year-old war veteran said when he moved his family into a $88.20 weekly suite at the Waldorf that the city would have to pay all but $40 a month or find him an apartment in a veterans' housing project.

Saturday after a two-week stay, Cox, his wife and their two little boys went back to their $16-a-month flat in Brooklyn—without the project apartment, but with the bill at the Waldorf all paid up.

A San Antonio, Texas, oil man, Mike Jarman, had sent $100 to the hotel to be applied to Cox's bill. Then Rise Stevens, Metropolitan opera singer, offered aa week's rent.

Bus boys and waiters at the hotel bought a lot of the breakfast for the family of the $63.50-a-week Army civilian employee.

But when the girls of Brookline, Mass., colected $5.21 and sent it to Cox, it was too much.

"Broke his morale," said a hotel official. "It prompted him to leave the hotel."

Cox now is back where he started, with nothing new but advice to state his case in writing to the Commissioners of Housing and Building.

World News In Brief

Taken from Wires of Canadian Press

WASHINFTON. — The White House said today that no "Big Three" meeting is in prospect and President Truman has no plans to leave the United States. Press secretary Charles G. Ross made this assertion to a press conference. He had been asked about a report out of London that Truman, Prime Minister Stalin and Prime Minister Atilee might meetin Berlin.

LONDON. — The London Star says today that Scotland Yard has received telephoned threats that the statue of Franklin D. Roosevelt in Grosvenor Square will be tarred and feathered. Scotland Yard denied the story.

LONDON. — Four representatives of secondary school principals have been appointed to the senate of the University of Western Ontario. Two are re-appointments and there are two new appointments succeeding D. S. Fuller and J. W. Edwards who are retiring. Reappointed were J. W. Edwards, principal of Ridgetown High School, W. T. Laing, principal of Wallaceburg High School. E. A. Miller, principal of London Central Collegiate and W. S. Turner, principal of Brantford High School are the new appointments.

HALIFAX.—The United States immigration ship Marine Falcon, making her first voyage to this port, arrived Sunday with 400 displaced person from Bremerhaven, Germany.

PARIS. — The bodies of the 15 passengers and four crew members, killed when an Indian National Airways airliner bound for London, crashed in the snow-covered Corsican mountains Saturday, awaited official identification today in the village of Venaco. The bodies were brought down from a 2,000-foot maintain last night by two rescue parties.

SUDBURY. — Police said today they have questioned several persons in connection with the removal of a body from a grave at Espanola, 40 miles southwest of here. None was held, said Inspector T. Wilkinson of the Ontario Provincial Police. The body of a 68-year-old woman buried last Feb. 4 in Espanola Cemetery was found last Friday in a nearby field.

TORONTO. — Mrs. John Houston and her children, Betty, 4, and Jackie, 7, were forced from their two-storey west-end home today by a fire believed to have started by a spark on the roof.

TORONTO. — A 22-year-old woman—found wandering in the downtown Jarvis and Queen St. district last night in her bare feet and her face covered with blood—today faced a drunk charge. She claimed she had been struck four times by a policeman and that her child was killed two weeks ago. Police said that first she blamed the officer who took her to hospital for the assault and later put the blame on a detective who questioned her.

GRIMSBY—Chester D. Jarvis, former director of agricultural training in the United States bureau of education, died. Born in London, Ont., the graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College was in his 73rd year.

HAMILTON — As a result of burns received when a furnace accidentally dumped molten steel at the McCoy foundry on March 19 last, John Tottoff of Hamilton died at the General Hospital.

OTTAWA — Appointment of James J. Hurley of Brantford, as Canadian consul at Detroit was announced by the external affairs department. The department said Mr. Hurley's appointment is "in continuation of the announced policy of expanding Canadian consular representation in the United States." The new consulate at Detroit opens April 1.

SHANGHAI—A thriving business in counterfeit United States money is being done in Shanghai. An American banker said the city ranks second to Germany as the world's largest market in bogus currency. A black market deals in it.

KIRKLAND LAKE—Expansion of the forestry branch office at Swastika and elevation of its status to that of a district forestry office was announced.

Harbor Clear

KINGSTON—This harbor was free of ice and lake freighters prepared to move to shipyards here from winter quarters. The Canada Steamship Lines coal-carrier, Glenelg, was the first vessel to be towed to the shipyards after the ice moved.

NAPANEE— Fred Vanvolkenburg, 75, Morven district farmer, who disappeared from his home a week ago, was believed drowned in a nearby creek. A hat, hatchet and other personal effects, which were in his possession, when he left to tend traps, have been found.

CHATHAM — A United States navy dive bomber crash-landed in a field after developing engine trouble. The pilot, identified only as Lieut. Mansfield, was uninjured and the plane, based at Grosse Isle, Mich., suffered only slight damage.

SARNIA—Captain Harold McLellan, who piloted the first lake vessel into Sarnia harbor this season, will receive a pair of gloves instead of the traditional silk hat.

FORT ERIE—An early start of navigation was expected after a United States coast guard survey showed large areas of open water in lower Lake Erie.

Demand Action

MOSCOW — Pravda demanded something be done about Russian fathers who abandon their children without support. The paper said mothers in such cases sometimes had great difficulty in getting action, occasionally encountering "bureaucracy" which caused them great expense in pursuit on their relinquent spouses.

MOSCOW—Grigori M. Pushkin has been appointed Russian ambassador to Hungary.

SINGAPORE—Dispatches from Lumut today said Sultan Abdul of Perak, 61, died.

LONDON, Eng. — A British Academy of Motion Picture Arts, sponsored by the Daily Express was announced. The newspaper said that after the project has been successfully launched, it will retire from the sponsorship.

PICTON — This is an active muskrat trapping season in Prince Edward County. Many farmers are trapping in marshes adjoining their farms, others leasing the marshes to trappers.

KINGSTON — Queen's Memorial Students Union building will be ready for use at the commencement of the fall term in September. It is expected to cost $700,000.

Costly Experiment

KITCHENER — Using a 250-watt light bulb to keep 250 baby chicks warm in their container seemed a good idea until James McComb tried it. Overheating set the frame poultryhouse on fire and beside the chicks, McComb lost 26 hens.

TORONTO—A sharp-eyed citizen, Gordon Herron, spotted blood on a strangers hands and scarf and held him for police. As a result, William Crofew, 24, was charged with assaulting David Hardy and stealing $30.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. — A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Kovacs and another son died, all in less than seven hours. Edward Paul Kovacs, 1½, who fell from his tricycle Friday, was admitted to hospital Saturday, suffering from a blood clot on the brain. The same day his mother became a maternity patient in the hospital. Saturday night Mr. Kovacs gave birth to a son, her third child. Sunday morning Edward Paul died.

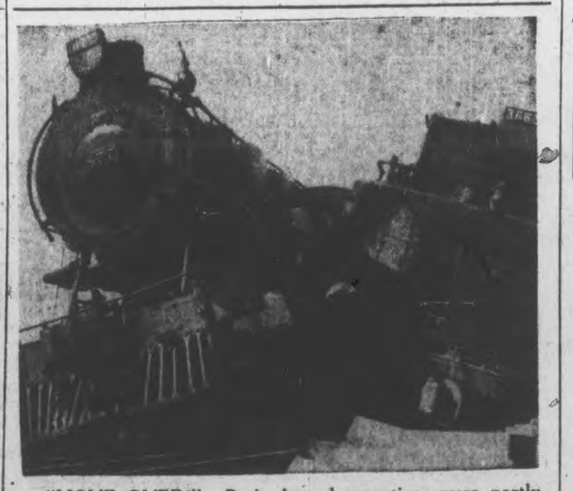
GENEVA — The Soviet Union has ratified the constitution of the World Health Organization. It was the 24th country to do so.

KARACHI, Pakistan — Kalat State, western "gateway" to Pakistan, has acceded to Pakistan.

TAVISTOCK — A frame machine shop, owned by A. B. Roth, was destroyed and the family left homeless as result of fire at the shop Sunday. Damage was estimated at $18,000.

Triplets 80 Years Old

MARLBORO, Mass. — Sister triplets observed their 80th birthday. All widows, they are Mrs. Annie Faith MacDonnell, Mrs. Nellie Hope Daniels and Mrs. Nora Charity Murphy.



VIENNA — A political pact, binding Austria's two largest parties to unified action in case of a crisis, is expected to be signed soon. The pact will be designed to block any move for power by the minority Communist party. Preliminary negotiations have taken place between the Right Wing Peoples Party and the Socialists.

BERLIN—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor, approved measures to permit about 300,000 nominal or small-fry Nazis to escape formal trial. The action will reduce by two-thirds the 450,000 cases still pending and speed the whole denazification process in the American zone to completion by the end of spring.

MONTREAL — A resolution urging compulsory military service for all physically fit Canadian males of 19 is one of 60 to be placed before the Canadian Legion's Quebec command convention here April 14-17.

QUEBEC—Light failure in the Legislative Assembly Chamber Saturday night ended temporarily prolonged debate over the budget of the roads department. The House suspended its evening sitting when a daylight sleet storm which disrupted power in the city cut off Assembly lighting, and an attempt to carry on by candle-light proved unsatisfactory.

WINNIPEG —The 50-year-old task of plotting the 650-mile boundary between Ontario and Manitoba, is within 30 miles and a few weeks of completion.

"MOVE OVER!"—Both these locomotives were partly derailed when a switching error made them head for the same stretch of rail at the CPR Farnham yards near Montreal. Mishap occurred during routine yard work. No one was hurt.

Film Stars Take Play Awards

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—Hollywood stars last night walked off with four of the six Antoinette Perry awards for outstanding performances in Broadways plays.

The four named by the American Theatre Wing for their performances were Basil Rathbone in the "Heiress," Henry Fonda in "Mr. Roberts," Paul Kelly in "Command Decvision," and Jessica Tandy in "A Streetcar Named Desire."

Broadway veterans Katharine Cornell and Judith Anderson took the other two individual "Tony" for their respective performances in "Anthony and Cleopatra" and "Medea."

"Mr. Roberts," written by Thomas Heggen and Joshua Logan, also won the "Distinguished Play" award.

June Lockhart, daughter of the Canadian-born stage and screen star Gene Lockhart, in "For Love or Money" and James Whitmore in "Command Decision," won awards for "distinguished performances by newcomers." Gene Lockhart is a native of London, Ontario.

A joint award for "distinguished musical performance" went to Paul and Grace Hartman for "Angel in the Wings."

The "outstandinf foreign company" award was accepted by Teresa Helburn in behalf of the Theatre Guild and the English cast of "The Importance of Being Earnest."

N.B. Blind Pensioners Benefit Under Scheme

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP). — Blind pensioners in New Brunswick will be the first to benefit under a point Dominion-Provincial scheme recently concluded, Health Minister Martin announced on Saturday.

Under the scheme, which has also been offered to the other provinces, selections will be made from among blind pensioners of those cases which it is believed might be benefited by the treatment which would partially or completely restore sight.

The treatment will be administered by specialists under the direction of the province in co-operation with the Federal Department's Blindness Control Division. The Dominion will pay three-quarters of the cost, New Brunswick the rest.

Mr. Martin warned against over-optimism and said the number of blind pensioners whose sight might be aided will not lively be large. However, he stressed that every effort should be made to assist those who have a reasonable chance through surgery or remedial treatment to return to normal life.

Norwood News

Mrs. George Graham and Mrs. R. Thompson, Belmont Road, entertained last week. Cards were enjoyed. The guest of honor was Mrs. Russell Jennings of London. Delicious refreshments were served at the close.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Legge of Toronto will move to Norwood April 1, to the farm formerly known as the Charles Menzie farm, now occupied by the Fennell Brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Fish and family spent Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simpson in the North School district.

Appeal 2-Minute Jail Sentence

TORONTO, March 29.—(CP).—The AttorneyGeneral's Department has filed notice of appeal of sentence in the case of Mrs. Agnes Johnson of Oshawa, sentenced by Judge D. B. Coleman of Whitby to serve two minutes' imprisonment on conviction of theft.

Penal authorities have been quoted as calling the sentence "frivolous."

The Department will also ask that the court order the return of furniture by Mrs. Johnson to her husband, saying the Judge neglected to do so. She was charged with theft after removing furniture from the home, aftermath of a family quarrel.

During the trial, Judge Coleman castigated both the husband and the Crown for allowing the charge to be laid, describing it as petty. On the evidence, he decided on a conviction but limited the penalty to only two minutes in jail.

Ceiling Injures 24

KANSAS CITY, March 29—(AP)—Twenty-four persons were injured, none seriously, when a section of ceiling collapsed in an Armourdale district theatre last night.

War Stock Piles Govern Prices

By The Canadian Press

A possible re-armament program and stock-piling of war materials by the United States is one of the most important factors which will govern the price situation for the balance of the year.

The North American picture still promises high activity and earnings; even though there are signs here and there of a falling off, mostly due to special factors, such as seasonal influences, power or work stoppages, but with a certain amount of filling up of inventory pipe-lines.

Copper, lead and zinc demand picked up last week with some dealers predicting further price increases. Both overseas and domestic demand in North America was stepped up by fear that increased military use and the European recovery plan would aggravate an already tight supply situation.

The U.S. magazine Steel, says the United States armed services are likely to begin heavy steel purchases by midsummer.

Directors Revise Norwood Fair List

NORWOOD, March 29—(ENS)—A meeting of the lady directors of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society was held in the Library on Tuesday evening those present included Mesdames L. H. Edmunds, G. R. Baker, C. A. Copp, Frank Andrews, Aubrey Woods, Charles Coughlin, Fred English, H. eParie.

Miscellaneous (Domestic Products), Knitted Articles, Ladies' Work, and House Plants prize lists were revised, and go to the Fair Board for approval.

Ex-Commissioner Dies

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—William Beaufort Somerset, 72, former commissioner of marketing for Ontario, died at his home here Saturday. Since his retirement in 1937 he had devoted his time to his dairy and fruit farm.

Help Kidneys If Back Aches

If you suffer from Backache, Getting Up Nights, Loss of Energy, Bladder Weakness, Burning or Itching Passages, Leg Aches, or Rheumatic Pains, due to Kidney and Bladder troubles, you should try Cystex. Within 30 minutes Cystex usually starts helping the Kidneys clean out excess acids and irritating wastes which may be the real cause of your trouble. And this may quickly help you gain pep and energy—make you feel younger. Unless Cystex quickly brings you satisfactory help from the pains and distress of Kidney and Bladder troubles, simply return the empty package and you get your money back. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose, so don't suffer another day without asking your druggist for Cystex.

The year was 1835 ...

... over 32 miles of primitive roads and tangled woodland trails walked six Canadian pioneers ... arguing fiercely as they went. Their purpose: to kill each other's vote!

Yes, these six early settlers knew they were evenly divided in opinion ... that three would vote for one candidate Dr. William Dunlop, The Canada Company's man ... and three would vote for the other candidate, Col. Anthony Van Egmond. Yet they made the gruelling march to Goderich, Ontario, there to cast their ballots in the 1835 election of The Upper Canada Legislative Assembly. Not one of the six said "There's no use my going—my vote will be killed."

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

WHEN SUIT PREFERENCE

ALL PLAYERS, even the best, have difficulty sometimes in deciding whether a rather high or rather low card from their partner is intended as a suit-preference signal. It is not always utterly clear that his high card requests you to switch to the higher-ranking of certain side suits, such as hearts in preference to diamonds, or that his low card indicates a preference for the lower-ranking of the side suits. Especially in the case of the low card, it is up to you to decide the issue on the basis of what you think he is probably trying to tell you.

Pass	Pass	1 ♦	1 ♠
2 ♦	3 ♣	3 ♦	3 ♥
Pass	3 ♠

It required the neatest kind of touch-and-go defense to set that contract three tricks and thereby pile regrets on East and West for not doubling. Three signals from one partner to the other were instrumental in taking that many tricks, seven all told.

West led the best of his partner's suit, the diamond K, then repeated with the 7. When East took that with the J, he could read that West had probably two lower diamonds, so was offering that as a suit-preference signal. That would mean a heart rather than a club. So he sent back the heart 2, on which South tried the Q, the K winning.

Now is was West's turn to wonder about his partner's lead. Why the 2 and not some higher card? Probably the lowest-ranking clubs were desired, so West returned the club 8. The Q won that, the A was laid down and then East pondered about West's 3 on the trick. That, he could tell, was no suit-preference but the completion of a down-and-out. He therefore returned the club 2. South discarded a diamond and West ruffed with the spade 3, for his side's sixth trick.

South got tricks, after the heart 8 return, with the A, a ruff of the 7 with the spade 2, the spade K, the spade J to the Q, the spade A and 10, then gave up the last with the heart 9 to the 10. Use of that 9 instead of the Q on the third trick would have saved one.

Business Associates Honor A. V. German

HASTINGS, March 29. (ENS)—Funeral of Albert Victor German, was held on Thursday at Trinity United Church, Rev. J. E. Glover officiating. Although he had been in failing health for many months, his sudden death on Tuesday came as a shock to his many friends.

Pallbearers included M. J. Baker, Dr. J. H. Hess, M. A. O'Shea, J. L. Doherty, James Humphries, and Lynn Hill. Honorary pallbearers were Fred Crate, Scott Fife, Frank Kraul, Don Beamish, Virgil Oliver, Arthur Beamish, Marvyn Preston, Grenville Thompson, Arthur Orr, Laurel Humphries and Basil Johnston.

Beautiful floral tributes from his many friends were in evidence. During the service Mrs. Glover sang "The Old Rugged Cross." Burial was in Trent Valley Cemetery.

He was born in the township of Percy, son of the late Albert Byron German and Mary Amelia Storey. In his early manhood he lived on the homestead. After coming to Hastings for six years he was associated with the government as a surveyor on the Trent Canal. In 1914 he purchased a grocery store which he carried on successfully for 30 years, retiring three years ago. His jovial disposition earned him many friends.

Married in 1907

He was married to Susan Ethel Stevenson of Hastings in 1907 by the Rev. Wesley Elliott. The late Victor German was a man who in his daily life and speech was a living example of good to all mankind. In community life he was of a quiet and unassuming manner, honest and upright in all his dealings. Many kindly acts of beneficence which he did were known to very few. He was a lifetime member of the Methodist (now United) Church, also a member of the Trustee Board, a past member of the Grand Masonic Lodge No. 633, a member of the Business Men's Association and a member of the Trent Valley Cemetery Board.

Surviving, besides his widow, are Mrs. John Burgess of Norwood, Mrs. Susan Parker of Hanna, Alta., Roy of Calgary, Chris of Hanna, Alta., and Florence and Kate of Hastings.

Attending the funeral were Mrs. Wess Frink of Deseronto, Mr. and Mrs. N. Hart of Napanee, Mr. and Mrs. Allan German of Moscow, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilcox of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brian and Susanne of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Fairman of Belleville, Mr. E. Burgess of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. G. Fairman, Mr. and Mrs. D. Heard of Whitby, Mr. and Mrs. A. Beavis of Oshawa, Mr. E. A. Fairman of Bowmanville, Mr. E. J. Fairman and Glen of Campbellcroft, Miss B. Beavis of Lakefield, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Archambeau of Detroit, Mrs. J. Burgess and Ward of Norwood, Mr. J. J. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Armstrong, Mrs. Flora Kerr, Mrs. T. Smith and Miss Bernice Garside of Peterborough.

Old Land Mines Take Heavy Toll

MANILA, March 29—(AP). — An old United States land mine exploded today, killing the eight-year-old son of an American Air Force sergeant. Three girl playmates were injured, one critically.

The blast, on the Clark Field airbase, was caused by a land mine planted by retreating American forces in December, 1941, to slow the Japanese.

Twenty-two Filipinos were killed Saturday on Corregidor when they entered a sealed tunnel and touched off a Japanese booby trap. They were members of a Philippines army bomb disposal unit.

Sixteen Philippine soldiers and six civilian laborers were killed. None of them had been authorized to enter the sealed tunnel in which the Saturday blasts occurred. One injured soldier was rescued.

The tunnel, used as a shelter by United States naval personnel in early days of the war was sealed after Americans recaptured Corregidor in 1945.

Koreans Dig Foxholes And Gun Pits

By ROY ROBERTS

Outpost 18 on the 38th Parallel, Korea, March 29 (AP)—Russian soldiers and North Korean villagers are digging trenches, foxholes and gun emplacements along the 38th parallel dividing the Russian and American occupation zones of Korea.

Americans don't know why. They assume the Russians ordered the First World War type of defensive line to justify Russian statements to North Koreans—reported by travellers from the north—that Americans and South Koreans plan to attack North Korea.

The digging was first observed by American patrols early this month. They presumed the first undertakings were irrigation ditches. The activity stepped up sharply about March 9; the nature of the work became clear. One and two-man foxholes appeared.

The ditches became trenches six feet deep. Sometimes they were connected by communications trenches 2½-feet deep. Holes 10 feet in diameter were dug and given turret tops with openings for guns pointed south. No weapons were observed but at least one emplacement contains a bipod mount as large as that for an American 81-millimetre mortar.

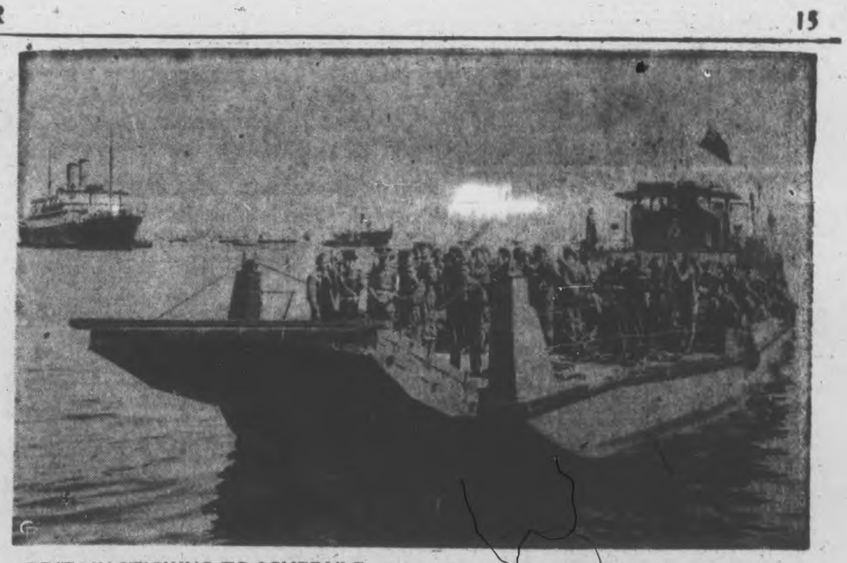
United States intelligence reports indicate the work is concentrated in five valleys containing the main travel routes between north and South Korea.

There is no comparable activity in the American zone. The only defence work in South Korea is the sandbagging of Korean police stations in a few villages.

MacArthur Bans General Strikes

TOKYO, March 29 — (AP). — Gen. MacArthur, supreme allied commander in Japan, invoked a general strike ban today to halt rapidly spreading walkouts by Japanese government workers.

He specifically instructed Japanese officials to prevent a threatened strike by an estimated 400,000 communications employees. They spearheaded a quit work movement by nearly 1,000,000 government workers.



Maj.-Gen. W. F. Marquat, chief of MacArthur's economic and scientific section, said in a memorandum the threatened country-wide communications strike, set for Wednesday, would have a "drastically unfavorable impact upon the economic recovery and public welfare" of Japan.

All government workers have been demanding increased cost-of-living bonuses. Officials predicted that if the communications walkout folded, the others would stay on the job.

Street car and bus operators in Tokyo have been on strike three days.

Smoke Causes Accident

BRANTFORD, March 29. — (CP).—Smoke from a passing train was blamed for a traffic mishap on the Ava bridge, causing damage estimated at $300. Traffic Officer Ernest Walsh said that a new car owned by Miss Helen F. Martin, Essex, Ont., became obscured by the smoke as she was driving across the bridge and collided with another car driven by student from an Ithaca, N.Y., college.

BRITAIN STICKING TO SCHEDULE—Desepite the U.S.-led shift in the United Nations attitude on the partition of Palestine, Briain is determined to adhere to its troop-evacuation program and surrender of the mandate on May 15. Here are troops of the 66th anti-tank regiment and 33rd airborne regiment being ferried out to a transport in Haifa harbor for the homeward voyage to England. Meanwhile Arabs are continuing their attacks on convoys and Jewish fortresses. Thirty-seven Jews were killed when Arabs attacked a Jewish hilltop fortress north of Jerusalem.

Omemee Man Honored For Choir Work

For his quarter century of work in organizing a boys' choir in Duke of Connaught school, Toronto, C. H. Williamson, Omemee, was honored in Toronto last week. More than 600 boys have been members since Mr. Williamson arrived in the city and organized his first choir. The choir at various times has sung in Massey Hall, the CNE, radio stations, Art Gallery and other engagements.

The silver jubilee re-union was well attended and delighted exclamations and hearty handclasps greeted the "Old Boys." During the years they have scattered far—to England, the U.S.A., and to nearly every city of Canada. Messages were received from many expressing regret at their inability to attend, and speaking in highest terms of their old teacher.

An evening of song was enjoyed, Mr. G. H. Riddolls, principal of the school, acting as chairman. He paid glowing tribute to the fine contribution Mr. Williamson has made to the school and the community by his self-sacrificing devotion to the extra-curricular work with the boys. During the evening Mr. Clifford Ridge, a member of the original choir (of whom ten were present) made a speech reminiscent of school days, and called on Don Palmer, a member of the present choir, who presented Mr. Willliamson with a beautiful silver tray from all the boys.

Among those gathered to honor the choir and its founder were Inspector H. Carlton and family from Cobourg; Rev. and Mrs. McTavish of Bradford; Mr. E. Brethour, director of music in Toronto schools and Mrs. Brethour; Miss E. Tedd, former supervisor of music; and Misses Wilson and Johnson, supervisors now; Inspector H. Cavell; Rev. Mr. Milller; Rev. and Mrs. Ivany, Mr. and Mrs. C. Clarkson, and many others. All spoke highly of the excellent work done by Mr. Williamson, and of his wonderful influence on the lives of young boys and men.

On behalf of the ladies of Duke of Connaught staff, Miss M. Roberts, presented his mother, Mrs. O. G. Williamson, of Omemee, with a bouquet of flowers.

Cold Weather Spoils Easter

By The Canadian Press

Easter came too early for Canada and found cold weather, snow and sleet.

This applies to most of Canada —about 3,462,000 square miles. The rest—the Vancouver-Victoria district—beamed and basked in a radiant sun.

The Vancouver weather man reported "loveliest Easter weather in more than a decade; no breeze, not sun, temperatures mostly between 53 and 56."

In other areas Canada was doing its best to get rid of a snowfall and the uncertain weather of a northern spring.

All over the country, people thronged the churches to praise and pray, but it was cold getting there, or slipper underfoot.

Ship Arrives Home With 10,500 Sealskins

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 29 — (CP)— The motor vessel Linda Mate sailed into port here Sunday with 10,500 sealskins to be the first home this year from the annual hunt in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and Labrador waters.

Capt. Les Windsor reported another vessel, the Bronco, was heading for St. John's with engine trouble.

Hi-Y Conference Next Week-End

Central and Western Ontario Hi-Y conference will be held next Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Y.M.C.A. The main subject of the conference will be "Problems of Youth in Canada Today". Representatives of 150 clubs are expected to attend and the three Hi-Y clubs in Peterborough will act as hosts.

At the opening dinner on Friday evening, John Halcrow, the executive secretary of the East End YMCA, Toronto, will be the guest speaker. Following the dinner, there will be a dance, at whhich the MC will be Gordon Watt, executive secretary of the North Toronto branch. Representatives attending the Younger Membership conference being held at the YWCA have been invited to the dance.

Jr. Y Leaders Given Crests

A dinner was held at the YMCA on Saturday evening, when crests were presented to boys, who had been selected as junior leaders. This is the first year since the war that the Peterborough YMCA has developed the idea of junior leadership and given special training courses to those boys picked as potential leaders. There are two groups of junior leaders — the junior leader corps, which specializes in gymnasium work, and the junior service corps, which covers all the other activities of the YMCA, such as the swimming classes and office work.

George Scott, of the Physical Department, spoke to the boys on the value of physical work and leadership and called upon Al Clark to present the crests to the junior leader corps. P. M. McCarrell, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee, spoke on behalf of the Board. He emphasized the value of the leadership training and presented service club crests to boys, who took part in administration work. Gordon Minty, swimming director, presented the crests to those boys, who had been leaders in the swimming classes. Don Duncan summed up the activities of the past year and gave details of plans for the future. Ted Cranfield was chairman at the dinner. Leader corps crests were presented to Ted Cranfield, Darrel Ackford, Brian Young, Douglas Graham, Robert Boorman, Murray Grafstein, Delmar Nobie, Lionel Hempstead and Bobby Whitton.

Service corps crests were presented for craft leadership to Ronald Smedmor and Bob Hutchinson; for office work, to Don Marshall, Barry Hollingsworth and Terry Clifton; for swimming classes, to John Boorman, Jim Heffelman, John Cusimano, Bob Boyce and Jack Rowley.

Use Extreme Care In News Gathering

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, said on Saturday the times demand "extreme care in news gathering, especially in areas beset by propaganda booby-traps." In his annual report to members of the Associated Press, distributed in advance of the annual meeting on April 19, Cooper said AP teamwork during the last year "rose to its best under pressure or in critical news situations."

"A chronicle of the year's major news events shows outstanding achievements, as well as setbacks and disappointments. But by any standard, it was a year marked by demonstrations of competitive superiority — with vigilance as the watchword.

Buck Not Worried

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—Tim Buck, national leader of the Labor-Progressive Party, yesterday told the party's Ontario convention that he believes there is no danger of war unless the United States starts one. Mr. Buck accused goverment officials in Ottawa and Washington of "war mongering."

Propose Treaty To Safeguard Press Freedom

GENEVA, March 29 (CP). — Hector McNeil, British minister of state, today proposed an international treaty to safeguard the freedom of the press.

Such a treaty, McNeil said, could mark a decisive step forward in guaranteeing the fundamental right of human beings to seek freedom of expression."

The British draft convention largely followed one proposed to the United Nations conference on freedom of information here last week by the United States, but it was more detailed and more far-reaching.

McNeil, a former journalist, said the British draft would be distributed to conference delegates within the next day or so.

Advance copies of the draft, still subject to last-minute changes, assured freedom of movement to newspaper men within territories of contracting states without discrimination on grounds of race, nationality or religion.

Disputes would be referred to the international court of justice at The Hague.

The convention would be open to any state participating in the conference and any other state declared eligible by the United Nations.

Defending the British press against Russian-bloc attacks, he declared British publishers and writers were not privileged but enjoyed the same rights as any other citizen.

McNeil said the remedy to Russian and Romanian criticism of sections of the British and American press "is not to manufacture more manacles and more chains."

Police Favor Music For Boys

"No member of the Dundas police department has had to be in juvenile court for four years," says Police Chief H. E. Jacks. "Dundas has a boys' band of 40 instruments, and the people have invested $4,000 in it. I don't think there is anything better for youth than music."

Dundas, Guelph, London, Chatham, are other police departments with boys' bands. Hespeler is another, with Police Chief Elmer Simmen personally directing the band. Guelph has 83 boys in its band, London has 200, divided into four groups. Seven hundred citizens of London make yearly contributions to its band. They have spent $30,000 in the last five years.

Traveller's Agent Dies In Head-On Crash

NORTH BAY, March 29 (CP). William Patterson, 53-year-old traveller's agent of Burlington, Ont., was killed Saturday night when his automobile collided head-on with another car during about 30 miles south of North Bay, a blizzard on Highway No. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mabee of Toronto, passengers in the other car, were injured and taken to hospital. Mr. Mabee is suffering a possible fracture of the jaw. His wife suffered bruises and shock.

Mr. Patterson, a manufacturer's agent in tool and die work, was born in Windsor. His headquarters were in Oshawa for 18 years and he lived in Burlington for the last three years.

STILL UNKNOWN

The true identity of the Man in the Iron Mask, a French political prisoner at the time of Louis XIV, and hero of Alexander Dumas' famous book, still remains a historical problem.

THESE DUTCH IMMIGRANTS FUTURE CITIZENS — Five of the nine members of the Bovins family, who came from Holland to begin life anew in Canada, enjoy a glass of milk given to them as they were welcomed in Toronto. They are, from left: Karl, seven; Anne, six; Kar, eight; Ge, four, and Rudi, three, in front. The family is to live in Ontario.

Legislators Can Move Fast When Recess Draws Near

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP).—Democracy, they say, is a slow-moving thing, and the due process of parliamenary procedure is long and involved and cumbersome. Maybe so, but into the life of every legislator there comes a season when parliament picks up its heels and fairly flies, coat-tails streaming in a wind of statutes and appropriations.

That's when the whistle of the home-bound train is tooting enticingly and the lawmakers stand poised with one foot beneath their official desks and the other in the more inviting pastures of home.

With one hand figuratively clutching a suitcase as train time nears, they toss to the breeze the wordy tendencies of other circumstances, and it's then that things start flying.

The impetus for all this, of course, is imminent adjournment, or, as was the case this week, the Easter recess.

Holiday

As the clock moved around in the last sitting before the Easter holiday, parliamentary business was moving so fast that at times it was difficult for an observer in the Commons to keep pace with what was going on in the House.

In fact, the parliamentarians were moving at such a rate that they were tripping over their own feet.

Once, Mr. Abbott didn't have time to make the mental change from Committee to Commons and addressed Speaker Gaspard Fauteux as "Mr. Chairman," though Chairman William Golding of the committee had vacated his presidency.

Mr. Golding himself got tangled up at another point; figured he was about two notches behind the proceedings and started to move a measure through the wrong stage.

Opposition Leader John Bracken, gathering himself for a question on Mr. Abbott's Bill, found that six of its seven $179,000,000 sections had gone through before he could get on his feet to find out how the Bill was put together.

Old License Plates Pays Before Fine Told

CAMPBELLFORD, March 29 (ENS).—While the magistrate was considering his case and before a fine was mentioned, J. E. Watts, Warsaw, took $15 out of his wallet and stood with it clutched in his hand as Magistrate R. B. Baxter found him guilty of the charge and fined him $10 and $4.50 costs, in police court Thursday.

Just before Watts' case, Howard Ames, Campbellford, was fined $10 and $4.50 costs on a similar charge; that of driving a motor vehicle with 1947 license plates. Both Watts and Ames pleaded guilty to the charges. Ames said he had been on his way to get his new markers when stopped by Chief Potten, Hastings; and Watts with the same story, seemed confident of the same penalty even before it was imposed.

Stole Pyjama Pants Gets 30 Days In Jail

CAMPBELLFORD, March 29—(ENS)—William Bright, Cobourg, was sentenced to 30 days in jail, when he was found guilty of a charge of stealing a pair of pyjama pants from the clothesline of a Hastings resident, Mrs. L. Davies. Sentence was imposed by Magistrate R. B. Baxter here on Thursday.

On a similar charge in 1935 Bright had been given two years suspended sentence.

John Prosser, Castleton, was fined $30 and $2.50 costs for having an overload on his truck. The charge was laid by Chief Potter, Hastings.

Hold War Refugee

PETALUMA, Calif., March 29—(AP).—Three alert small town policemen arrested a Hungarian war refugee yesterday for the weird rape slaying of a Nevada minister's wife. The man was identified by police as Laszlo Varga, 19. He is charge with raping 22-year-old Mrs. Billee Rahe Morning at Wells, Nev. Monday, then beating her to death with a rolling pin while her teeth-marked body, stripped of clothing, was tied to a bed.

A Very Lucky Man

LONDON, March 29 — (CP) — Hospital officials yesterday called 24-year-old William Chalmers "luckiest man alive." Pilot of a twin-engined plane carrying refrigerators to Iceland, Chalmers was catapulted through a plastic windscreen when the plane in which he was the sole occupant crashed 4,000 feet into the Irish Sea off Lancashire. When he recovered consciousness Chalmers was clinging to a wing.

Hitch-Hiker Killed

PARIS, March 29 — (CP) — One man was killed and three injured when an automobile crashed into a hydro pole near this Brant county town yesterday. Harold John Schneider, 22-year-old soldier hitch-hiker from Vimy Barracks, Kingston, to Paris, was killed instantly. His home is in Bon Accord, Alta.

Makes Record Flight

MONTREAL, March 29 (CP)—Sqdn. Ldr. D. G. (Bud) Malloy, flying a Vampire jet fighter plane, Thursday, set what is believed to be a new record for a flight between the cities when he streaked from Toronto to Montreal in 45 minutes, an average speed of 445 miles an hour for the 334 airline miles.

RED DEMONSTRATORS IN ROME — A group of Communists, carrying placards pictured as they demonstrated through the streets of Rome. The sign reads, "Communists, if you are not strangers, shout with us. Long live Italian Trieste." Foregoing the terms of the Italian peace treaty which made a free city of Trieste, the governments of U.S., Britain and France want to return the city to Italy. However, Marshal Tito and the Yugoslavians claim that they are willing to barter the city for Italian Gorizia. The Italians will reject the Yugoslav offer. Meanwhile, British military police have reinforced the border in Trieste free state as a precautionary measure. Not only have British soldiers moved up closer to the Yugoslav border line in Trieste but they have dug machine-gun positions for road blocks.

4,000 More Telephones Placed In Peterborough

It is expected that the majority of waiting applicants for telephone service in Peterborough will be served about the end of April or the early part of May, F. D. Tufford, Bell Telephone Manager here, announced today. Dial telephone facilities to serve 2,000 subscribers, now being installed at the exchange, will be ready by that time, Mr. Tufford said. At present there are more than 1,400 waiting for service, and in some cases applications have been deferred for as long as two years, due to the shortage of the necessary materials and equipment needed to provide central office facilities and cable and wire construction.

Months of construction work, both in the exchange building and on wire and cable projects throughout the city, were necessary before the new service could be supplied. During the severe cold spell, workmen installing cable on George Street south of Hunter had to call on the city steam plant to thaw out cable ducts in order to finish the work on schedule. Steam hoses from the boiler were attached to the conduits at each manhole and steam was forced through the frozen ducts.

5 Miles Underground Cable

It has been necessary to lay nearly five miles of underground cable and erect approximately twelve miles of aerial cable plant, including 180 new poles, in preparation for the enlargement of the exchange facilities. Most of the new poles were placed at the rear of properties so as not to encumber the streets, but where it was necessary to place poles along streets, co-operation with other utilities made possible the use of a single pole line to carry both the telephone and the electric power wires.

In order to provide service as quickly as possible after the exchange facilities become available, telephones are being installed in the home in advance. This work is now well in progress.

The Peterborough exchange was serving 9,242 telephones at the end of 1947, and at that time there were 1,356 applications for service on file. The exchange has grown steadily since 1934, when there were 5,242 telephones in service, or exactly 4,000 less than at the end of last year.

In February, 1949, a further extension to the Peterborough exchange is planned, when facilities for 1,500 additional subscribers will be installed. This will allow for expansion, and will provide sufficient lines for testing and other purposes.

At present there are 67 long distance circuits terminating in Peterborough, including 20 from Toronto, eight from Lakefield, four from Lindsay, four from Campbellford and four from Hastings. Twelve additional circuits terminating in Peterborough will be installed, and are expected to be ready for service, before the summer, when long distances calling here reaches its peak.

OCTOGENARIANS TO WED—Four weeks ago, when 85-year-old Turner Chambers of Los Angeles, Calif., first cast eyes on his new next-door neighbor, Mrs. Lucy Emma Grace, 84, he remarked: "There is the woman I have been looking for." He didn't waste any time. Within two weeks he had popped the question, was coyly put off, but finally accepted after a few days. They will wed on Easter Sunday. This photo was made as they obtained the marriage license. It will be the second marriage for each. Chambers has eight children, 13 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. His bride-to-be has nine children, 37 grandchildren and 33 great-grandchildren.

Early Seeding Expected In Ontario and Quebec

By The Canadian Press.

Rosy prospects for an early seeding of Ontario and Quebec farmlands, increased acreage objectives and increased labor topped a Canadian Press survey today of the Dominion's spring seeding operations.

Barring unseasonable weather following an early spring seeding in Ontario and Quebec, retarded last year by a lingering winter, will get under way shortly.

Maritime farmers, after a sigorous winter, expect to start the seeding around the second week in May—their usual time, while for Prairie farmers, still awaiting the spring thaw, it will be "at least" a month.

Although spring is a little late in British Columbia, seeding is going ahead in some parts, but will not be general for two weeks.

Other Provinces.

Nova Scotia: Soil is expected to be "fairly good" by seeding time. Expect about 10 per cent increase of 550,000 acres seeded in 1947. Main crops are potatoes, turnips, oats, and barley.

Quebec: More than 3,500,000 acres—the same number as last year—is expected to be seeded. Farmers have been requested to devote at least three acres more each to cereals. The major field crop last year was wheat with 1,400,000 acres, the objective this year is 1,800,000 acres.

Ontario: Plans for increased acreage of feed grains is expected to result in a yield off 200,000,000 bushels—50,000,000 more than in 1947. Seed grain in good supply.

Prairies: Officials were uncertain of the number of acres to be seeded, but it is expected to be about the same as last year. Alberta officials believe there will be a tendency for increased acreage in wheat, flax and rye. Fall precipitation in Manitoba was 21 per cent above normal. Saskatchewan officials indicate an increased wheat acreage is planned.

Picket Waves Rush Police On Wall St.

Call Emergency Squad To Restore Order; Several Men Injured

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP).—Violence broke out in the New York stock and curb exchange today as waves of pickets rushed police at the entrance to the New York stock exchange.

Men were knocked down, women screamed, some police were thrown to the sidewalk. One detective was picked up, his head bleeding.

Uniformed police swung clubs and calls were sent for ambulances, police emergency squads and patrol wagons.

The skirmish began just before nine o'clock as the pickets lined up before the exchanges on the second day of the strike in the heart of the world financial centre.

The number of pickets directly in front of the stock exchange entrance was limited and the disturbance started when men rushed police in an effort to augment the number.

Within six minutes the disturbance was ended and many persons were back on the sidewalk, their clothing torn.

Hard To Move

About 100 police were on duty at the exchanges today. The same number had been there yesterday, the first day of the strike, when picketing was noisy but orderly and the market conducted business as usual with brokers acting as messengers and clerks.

Police had difficulty removing about 50 men and three women from outside the stock exchange to patrol wagons after the disturbance as the men locked arms.

Emergency squads immediately roped off Wall Street.

In front of 11 Wall Street, principal entrance to the stock exchange, six men stretched out flat, blocking the doorway.

SCREEN DEBUT at the age of 101 is made by Phillipa Gomez, who will appear in a movie witht Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall. Miss Gomez was born in Tampico, Mexico, and will be 102 next May.

U.S. Suspends A-Control Talks

LAKE SUCCESS, March 30 — (CP). — The United States called to-day for suspension of further talks on make-up of a world atomic control agency.

Frederick H. Osborn, United States atomic deputy, told the Control Committee of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission there is no use discussing the agency in view of the differences between Russia and the committee majority.

Canada, Britain, France, and Belgium quickly endorsed the United States view. This was the second atomic meeting in two days at which representatives of the majority on the Commission had called for discontinuing talks on Russia's proposals.

Osborn said that after several meetings it became clear the majority and the Soviet Union could not agree even on how the agency should be organized.

Nine-Man Council Studies Safeguards

WASHINGTON, March 30. — (AP).—Defence Secretary Forrestal promised today to meet frequently with a civilian news advisory council to work out ways to safeguard military secrets without censorship.

The nine-man council is to be named by various publishing, broadcasting and motion picture organizations in the United States.

Plans for its formation were adopted at a meeting yesterday between Forrestal and leading press, radio and movie representatives.

The news representatives told Forrestal in a resolution that they acknowledged the need for secrecy in scientific research and development of new weapons. But they did not believe "any type of censorship in peacetime is workable or desirable in the public interest."

Greek Troops Battling Near Salonika

ATHENS, March 30 — (CP). — Greek Army troops were locked in battle today with a large force of guerrillas in the Crucia Mountains area about 42 miles north of Salonika, military officials announced.

A dispatch from Salonika said Col. Temple G. Holland, chief of the joint United States military advisory planning group with the Greek Third Army Corps. and Gen. Theodore Grigoropoulos, Third Army commander, had gone to the area to observe operations.

In Athens, Dwight P. Griswold, chief of the United States Aid Mission, said an additional 15,000 young conscripts probably will be called up soon for service in the new Greek National Defence Corps, replacing older family men.

Nedjmeddin Sadak, Turkish Foreign Minister, is expected to arrive here Friday for talks with the Greek Government on the possibilities of a common foreign policy and co-ordinating the economies of the two countries.

Toronto Coal Price Boosted 25 Cents

TORONTO, March 30 (CP)— The price of coal and coke will be boosted 25 cents a ton as soon as companies are informed officially of the transport board's freight rate decision, it was predicted here today.

Guy W. Rogers, vice-president of Elias Rogers Company, said the existing sales price of hard coal is $19 a ton.

One Dead, Two Wounded Ambush 3 Safecrackers

TORONTO, March 30—(CP).—A blast from a pump gun and a fusillade of revolver shots from a police ambush last night felled three men, killing one, as they were moving a safe at the Toronto Florists' Co-operative Ltd., on north-central MacPherson Avenue. Two detectives had been stationed inside the warehouse for the night.

Killed were William Poole, 27, alias Sam Scoron, of Toronto, shot through the head.

Wounded were Norman Bailey, 25, and Albert Smith, 26, both of Toronto. Police said today they had been informed by hospital authorities that the condition of both men seemed "satisfactory," and that they were in no immediate danger. They were operated on last night and the bullets removed. They believe Smith's arm will have to be amputated.

Early this afternoon police said they were informed both men are "out of danger" and will live.

Two hours after the shooting, police arrested another man, Edward Blair, 24, of Toronto, on charges of shopbreaking and having burglar's tools. His wife, Frances, was arrested as a material witness.

Just Out of Penitentiary

Police said Poole had been released from Stoney Mountain Penitentiary near Winnipeg only three days before the shooting, after serving 59 months of a six-year sentence for shopbreaking, housebreaking, theft of four cars and escaping from reformatory.

The three men were shot by Plainclothesmen William Godber and John Herron, who surprised them as they rolled a heavy safe on its wheels toward the rear of the warehouse. The detectives said they opened fire when two of the men attempted to flee and Poole reached toward his pocket as though attempting to draw a gun.

Manager Suspicious

Suspicions of Russell Waters, manager of the firm, led to the police ambush. Waters said two men came into his office last Thursday night as he was counting $2,000 preparatory to closing. One of them asked about lilies, but Waters shouted to his employees. Five of them came into the office and the two men left in a maroon coupe, the licence number of which was noted by an employee.

Police were told of the incident and put a guard in the building each night. The guard was doubled Saturday night after the same car was seen driving slowly past the place. Godber said he saw another man peering in the front window while the trio were entering the warehouse.

New Violence Feared In Milan

ROME, March 30.—(AP).—Milan's Communist-led Chamber of Labor called a demonstration of unemployed in that Lefist stronghold today in the wake of two political killings which police fear may cause new pre-election violence.

The situation was taut following the killing of two Communists yesterday at Samoglia, 25 miles southwest of Milan. A third Communist and a Rightist were mauled in a political flare-up at the industrial town of Lignano, 12 miles north of Milan.

There were predictions the incidents may set off trouble today.

Yesterday's violence followed increasing bitterness over Italy's vital April 18 parliamentary elections.

Newspaper accounts said the two Communists were shot when they got into an argument with spectators during a march from one village to another. The injured Rightist reportedly was a National Bloc speaker.

Charges Sullivan Union Becomes Anti-Labor Racket

TORONTO, March 30 (CP). — A former union official said today in a sworn statement that he quit the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union because "I can no longer be a party to an anti-labor plot."

He is Edward (Ned) Hayes, a CLSU organizer at Fort William until about two weeks ago. He said the "plot" was directed against the Canadian Seamen's Union, an affiliate of the Trades and Labor Congress.

It criticized J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, CLSU president who formed that organization after resigning as CSU boss. At the time of his resignation, Mr. Sullivan said the CSU was Communist-dominated.

Mr. Hayes said his experience as a CLSU organizer "convinced me that the activities of these two men were not aimed at building a legitimate union but at furthering a racket."

Mr. Hayes said he joined the CLSU because, as a Roman Catholic, he is opposed to Communism. He had understood he was fighting against Communism through the CLSU.

"I have not changed my mind regarding Communism," he said. "But I am not any longer going to be a party to an attempt to smash a legitimate trade union under the guise of an anti-Communism fight."

He said his organizing work brought him in close contact with E. Pride, a CSL hiring official.

"The practice was that I was to obtain help for the company. Every person that I obtained was sent down to be interviewed by Mr. Pride. If the person was accepted, Mr. Pride would telephone me and I would then issue to such person a CSLU union book, whereupon the initiation fee of $5 was marked paid, although in fact these people paid nothing for initiation and, as far as I am aware, never paid any union dues to the CLSU."

Czechs Will Refuse To Answer Charges

PRAGUE, March 30 — (AP)— Czechoslovakia announced to-day she will reject any request to answer charges before the United Nations that Russia intervened in the recent Communist coup. The charges were brought by Chile.

The Foreign Ministry, giving the country's stand, did not indicate whether a request for appearance had been made. The Chilean accusation was termed "a frivolous suggestion."

Uses Bible, Bench As Kindling

Handcuff Prisoner To Steel Door Then Douse Flames

OWEN SOUND, March 30 — (CP). — A fire in Grey County Jail yesterday was part of an escape attempt by a prisoner awaiting trial for murder, jail authorities said today.

They identified him as Arthur Hooey, 25-year-old Owen Sound man accused of the knife slaying of his childhood buddy, Allan Crowe, 22.

As Hooey set the fire, officials said, he armed himself with a heavy table leg and two pieces of galvanized sheet iron ripped from a garbage can.

The fire was discovered — and the escape foiled — by Thomas Rumage, jail governor. Despite the sudden action, he refused to open the door from which the smoke and flames belched.

He summoned two Ontario provincial police officers — Cpl. J. R. Brown and Constable George Mills. The three men opened the door, handcuffed Hooey to a steel grill door and brought the jail fire hose into play.

The Owen Sound Fire Department also was called and the fire was extinguished within a few minutes.

Prisoner Singed

"Let me out!" Hooey is reported to have shouted as the door was opened. "Let me out — I'm roasting to death!" The prisoner's hair, eyebrows and face had been singed by the flames.

Governor Ramage announced last night that a thorough investigation would be held. Fire Chief Angus McArthur, expressing belief it would be impossible for a prisoner to burn his way to freedom, described the fire as either "a foolish prank" or "an insane attempt to break out."

Authorities said today it now looked like part of a serious escape bid intended to lure a guard into opening the door.

Kindled At Door

Authorities said the fire was set after Hooey ripped a Bible and a magazine to shreds. He smashed a wooden bench and a window sash for extra fuel.

All this was kindled against the door at one end of the small corridor. On the other side of the door is a bathroom. After starting the blaze, the prisoner rang a signal bell and waited at the other end of the corridor, officials said.

Inside the heavy door at the end where he waited is a sturdy steel grill.

The table leg and the sheets of galvanized iron were found in Hooey's possession after Governor Ramage and the two policemen went to his assistance, they said.

Adjourn Appeal

TORONTO, March 30—(CP)— An appeal by A. Wander Ltd., of Peterborough, manufacturer of Ovaltine, against a false-advertising conviction, was adjourned today to May 5. The company was fined $100 and costs last month for advertising "in a manner likely to create erroneous impressions regarding the value, composition or merit of the food."

Town Flooded

LA PARIRIE, Que., March 30 (CP) — St. Lawrence River water, backing up because of ice jams, left half of this south shore St. Lawrence town across the river from Montreal under water today. At 8:30 a.m. the water was four to five feet deep in some sections of this centre of 5,000 persons and still rising. People travelled the streets in boats while many others were marooned in their homes.

Lewis Accedes To Order; Will Meet Board

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP) —John L. Lewis acceded today to a Federal Court order directing him to appear before President Truman's board inquiring into the soft coal strike over a pension dispute.

Lewis, flanked by his lawyers, left headquarters of the United Mine Workers (Ind) 15 minutes before the deadline for his appearance—2 p.m. EST.

Earlier in the day, Justice Edward M. Currant of United States District Court had directed the mine union boss to appear before the board.

Lewis said nothing as he strode out of the union's building.

Curran acted quickly after Lewis' counsel raised the question of adequate time to reply to the summons and challenged the constitutionalism of the Taft-Hartley Act.

The order was served on Lewis at UMW headquarters shortly after noon.

Lewis reached his office just before noon and Charles Ward, chief deputy marshal, announced Lewis was "served personally" at 12.17 p.m.

Welley K. Hopkins, counsel for the head of the United Mine Workers (Ind.) had argued barely 10 minutes when Curran ruled. Lewis did not appear personally to explain why he should not appear before the board of inquiry.

Acted Leniently

Curran told Hopkins the court had been lenient in granting Lewis an opportunity to "show cause." The judge said that in his opinion he could have directed Lewis to appear before the board without the formality of to-day's hearing.

The Justice Department asked the federal court to compel Lewis to appear before the inquiry board. That was a preliminary move to asking for a court injunction if Lewis continues to defy legal steps spelled out by the Taft-Hartley Act for settling "national emergency" disputes.

Federal Judge Sherman Minton, chairman of the three-man fact-finding board, indicated that it would report on the strike issues to President Truman today, if possible, to speed an injunction of Lewis remains defiant.

More Food Talks

LONDON, March 30 — (CP). — A British source said today that a joint announcement in London and Ottawa of arrangements for continued financing of British food purchases in Canada is expected in a few days. Negotiators on the extension of the three-month financing agreement made in December had the main problem of arranging payment for British requirements during the period before the anticipated Marshall aid through the European recovery program is available.

Increase Of 21 Per Cent Authorized By Board In Canadian Freight Rates

Commissioners However Deny Increases On Western Grain Movements As Means Of Equalizing Rate Levels

OTTAWA, March 30—(CP).—An across-the-board rate increase of 21 per cent. that will bring Canadian railways about $70,000,000 a year was authorized today by the Board of Transport Commissioners. Partially granting the carriers' application for a general 30-per-cent. hoist, the board spread the increase across the country evenly, throwing out regional claims for special consideration except for a concession on the movement of grain and grain products for domestic use in Western Canada.

With export grain moements in the west fixed by statute, this had the effect of exempting from increases all grain and grain products moving between the Head-of-the-Lakes and the Pacific coast.

An increase of 25 cents a ton on coal and coke shipments also was granted.

The board lifted the suspension, imposed last fall, on the 30-per-cent increases imposed by the railways last year on "competitive" rates and made the following other announcements:

1. The railways will be permitted to re-negotiate "agreed charge" contracts with shippers.

2. Miscellaneous railway service charges also are increased 21 per cent.

3. Export and import rates affecting Canadian ports will maintain parity with United States ports.

4. Recognized differentials between rail and water rates are to be preserved.

5. The minimum charge for less-than-carload shipments is set at 75 cents a 100 pounds.

The new rates ordered by the board are effective on three days' notice, but it is understood the railways would take about a fortnight to get their revised schedules printed and distributed.

Long Litigation

In announcing the decision to a crowded court room at the end of almost 1½ years of litigation over the railways' application for 30-per-cent increases, Chief Commissioner J. A. Cross noted that Assistant Chief Commissioner Hugh Wardrope had filed a minority judgment favoring a 24-per-cent hoist.

Russ Soldiers Kill 3 Austrians At Dance

VIENNA, March 30—(AP). — The Interior Ministry said Russian soldiers killed three Austrians with machine pistols last night in a dance hall fight. Nineteen were wounded.

The shooting occurred at Josefberg, 45 miles south of Vienna, in the Russian occupation zone.

A Ministry spokesman said a fight started between Austrian civilians and a Russian soldier. The soldier went for help. He returned in a truck with two companions, and all fired into the crowd, the spokesman said.

US Plans To Invite Spain Into Aid Bill

British Officials Surprised At Congress Vote—Term It Awkward

WASHINGTON, March 30 — (AP).—The House of Representatives voted 149 to 52 today to invite Franco Spain into the $6,205,000,000 foreign aid program.

The Foreign Affairs Committee had agreed to include Spain. But Representative John Vorys (Rep.—Ohio), in charge of the aid bill, said the State Department is against it. And whether the Senate will go along is another question.

In any event, Spain could get in on the program only if she agreed like other participating countries to join in a European recovery program of co-operation and self help.

Spain now is specifically named as eligible to qualify under the bill before the House. Eastern European countries are not.

The door is open for Russia and her satellite countries to come in under the same terms as Spain, by agreeing to terms of the program.

Until the Foreign Affairs Committee considered the Spanish question this morning, House leaders had figured the vote could go either way.

Aid for China, economic and military, was the question before the Senate. The Foreign Affairs Committee brought to the floor for action a bill calling for $363,000,000 worth of economic help for 12 months, plus $100,000,000 for anything the Chinese government wants.

The Senate is handling foreign aid in batches. It already has passed a $5,300,000,000 European recovery program and $275,000,000 in military assistance for Greece and Turkey.

Very Surprised

LONDON, March 30—(AP).— High British sources expressed surprise today at the vote in the United States House of Representatives to invite Franco Spain into the American foreign aid program.

The Foreign Office refused official comment.

One authoritative source termed the American move 'very awkward.'

Whitehall sources took the position that it was up to the original 16 Marshall Plan countries to invite whatever other countries were to participate.

These informants recalled that Portugal proposed Spain's inclusion only recently at Paris and said the proposal never reached a formal test. Diplomats here said the other countries had decided informally to ignore the proposal, at least so long as Generalissimo Franco remains in control of Spain.

Food Supplies Very Short In Jewish Area

JERUSALEM, March 30 (AP). —The Jewish community in Jerusalem began rationing bread today for the first time.

Jews said food supplies in their areas are "dangerously low." Bread has been scarce for several days. Bakeries have stopped offering cakes and pastries.

There appeared to be no similar shortage in Arab sections of this embattled city. The Arabs are supplied over open roads from Arab-held eastern Palestine and neighboring Arab countries.

Jerusalem Jews had expected a food convoy from Tel Aviv today, but said its arrival was uncertain.

A group of armed Jews held up two army trucks loaded with 20 ton of white flour yesterday in the Tiqva area. They escaped with the trucks, cargo and the uniforms and arms of the military escort.

Arab fighters struck during the night at four points on Jewish supply lines to isolated settlements. Jews said there were casualties on both sides.

The Jewish press said 80 Arabs attacked Jewish traffic at Kefar Sava, 10 miles north of Tel Aviv. Hagana, Jewish militia, said this attack, against a supply convoy to Ramat Hakovesh settlement, was beaten off after hours of fighting during which one Hagana fighter was killed and seven wounded. The report said an undetermined number of Arabs were killed and wounded.

Mines disabled two Jewish cars and four trucks were abandoned during an Arab attack on a convoy to Ein Ghazal village near Haifa. Hagana said three Jews were wounded in this encounter.

Convict Son Ignores Advice

TORONTO, March 30 (CP)— Frederick Poole today described his son William as a boy who "wouldn't listen to advice. Poole was heart-broken and his wife on the verge of collapse on learning that their son had been shot to death in an attempted safe robbery here last night.

"He only got home last Tuesday from Stoney Penitentiary," Poole said.

"I talked to him and talked to him. I wanted him to get a job and settle down. But he wouldn't try. He went right back with those he knew. They seem possessed when they come out of those places."

Princess Elizabeth Becomes Navy Widow

LONDON, March 30 (CP). — Prince Philip today began a six-month course at the Royal Naval Staff College, Greenwich, with no more excitement than if he were "just plain Lieutenant Smith."

"Was there any demonstration? Certainly not," said an austere voice in the commandant's office. "This is not a theatrical establishment."

Philip rose with his fellow officers on the course at 7 a.m. today and was in class sharp at 9.

Princess Elizabeth now becomes a "navy widow," since the officers on the course must live in at the college. However the couple will have week-ends and occasional evenings together.

Two Brothers Killed As Car Struck By Train

TORONTO, March 30 (CP). — Two brothers were fatally injured yesterday when their automobile was struck by a Canadian National Railways passenger train at a level crossing near Port Credit, 12 miles west of here. Police said Donald Besse, 17, died almost instantly. Douglas Besse, 20, died in hospital here about an hour later. Both lived in nearby Toronto township.

The brothers had stopped as a westbound freight passed. As they started across, a fast eastbound passenger train bore down on them, struck the car and dragged it for one-third of a mile. The train was first section of a Chicago-Toronto flyer.

The youths were on their way to buy a baseball at Port Credit.

The boys' sister, 14-year-old Mary, who was in the neighborhood at the time, walked up to the wreckage, gasped and cried: "That's our car and they're my brothers!"

Caught On Engine

The auto was caught on the front of the engine and, unaware of the crash, Engineer L. Fairman continued down the tracks to the next crossing where he was flagged down.

The Chicago-Toronto flyer and an eastbound train were held up for nearly two hours while men worked to clear the tracks of the wreckage. The entire right side of the car was torn off and the auto was wedged on to the front of the engine.

Mr. Eldon Stonehouse, passenger on the Niagara-Toronto train, said she felt a slight jar when it hit the auto. She and other passengers got off the train and ran to the wreck. Donald had fallen across the lap of his brother, who was still breathing.

Chief Joseph Nelson, Port Credit police, said an inquest will be held.

Cold air covers the whole of Ontario this morning, and today promises to be mostly clear and cold. A disturbance presently situated over the Dakotas is moving southeast and is expected to bring some rain or snow with milder temperatures to most sections of the province on Wednesday. A renewed outbreak of cold air following in the wake of this disturbance will bring clearing skies and lowering temperatures by Wednesday evening.

CIRCUS LIONESS CLAWS BOY — Circus attendants coax Sheba, a six-year-old lioness back into her cage (left) after the animal escaped at Garden Bros. circus in the Coliseum at Toronto yesterday, terrorizing the crowd of 3,000 and clawing one boy about the arm. Keith Robinson, 14, of Bancroft (right), was knocked down, clawed and had his clothing torn when he came face to face with the escaped animal in the corridor.

Bancroft Boy, 14, Clawed By Escaped Circus Lioness

TORONTO, March 30 (CP). — Fourteen-year-old Keith Robinson of Bancroft received top billing when he went back to the circus after a lioness had ripped the seat out of his pants.

The high school student was run down and mauled by the lioness after she broke free from her stage during the matinee yesterday. Aside from a scratch on his left arm, his damaged trousers and a torn plaid shirt, he was unharmed.

Panic gripped the crowd of 3,000, mostly children, as the big lioness roamed the inner arena at the Coliseum, scattering attendants in all directions. She then leaped a five-foot barrier into a crowded passageway. Close behind came Gladys Gillem, animal trainer and other attendants.

Thought It Dog

Near a washroom the lioness encountered Keith. Claws ripped the boy's windbreaker and bit into the flesh of his left arm. As he turned to run, claws ripped the seat of his pants.

"I thought at first it was a big dog," said Keith. "As I reached out to pet it, it swung the first time and jumped at me. It knocked me to the floor. I was pretty scared, all right, and I tried to run."

Attendants chased the lioness into the washroom with poles and returned her to her cage.

Panic Reigns

Ringmaster Bill Garden attempted to quell the fear which gripped the thousands of children while the big cat roamed the building. Screams of "The lion's loose!" quickly brought most of the audience to its feet, but Garden urged them to stay in their seats and keep calm.

"The lion is more frightened than you are," the announcer said over the public address system. "Everyone remain in their seats."

After a check at Western Hospital, young Robinson was released. Officials said he had only superficial scratches.

For a few seconds, those in the crowd and even circus attendants were of the opinion that the "escape" was part of the act. But when Miss Gillem grabbed a wooden pole and chased the lioness across the arena, disregarding other animals which were being guided through the loading chute into the performing ring, there was little doubt that something was wrong.

Failure to reinforce the portable wooden loading chute sufficiently, caused the escape. The lioness threw her weight against one section which moved out of place enough to allow her to squeeze through.

Cheese, Produce And Livestock

TORONTO FRUIT

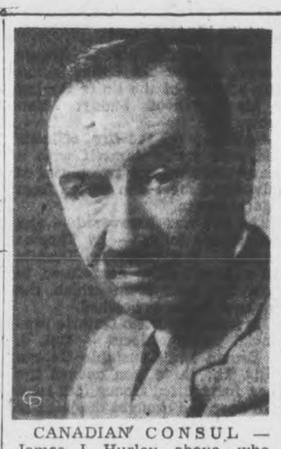
WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, March 30 — (CP). — Oats prices scored small gains on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange with offerings light in early trading. Light demand was registered for barley with commission house selling reducing early gains.

Rye prices reached an all-time high in early trading with the nearby months advancing the 10-cent limit. The increases reflected the lack of supplies and offerings, and trade was thin.



Prices:

Oats—May ⅛ higher at 79½b; July ⅞ higher at 75¾a; Oct. not open.

Barley—May ⅝ lower at $1.12⅞a; July ¾ lower at $1.07¼b; Oct. not open.

Rye—May 10 higher at $4.50; July 10 higher at $3.70¼; Oct. ¼ higher at $1.91½a.

Inspections: Wheat this year 651; last year 846; cars of contract 378; oats 71-297; barley 53-132; flax 20-3; rye 2-14; other grains 5-9; total 802-1301.

ROBERT PLUNKETT STARK.

KEENE, March 30 (ENS). — There died on Monday, March 29, in the Civic Hospital, Peterborough, Robert Plunkett Stark, after a short illness. Mr. Stark was a prominent farmer of Otonabee Township, and was born 62 years ago the son of William Stark and Elizabeth Plunkett.

There survive his wife, formerly Jennie Comrie, four sons Gordon of Keene, James of Peterborough, Douglas of Schreiber, and Glen at home, four daughters, Mrs. R. Gerard (Gladys) of Peterborough, Mrs. H. Blewett (Jean) and Mrs. J. Mose (Madeline) of Lakefield, and Miss Norma of Toronto, and three brothers Cecil of Peterborough, Gordon of Toronto, and Adam of Winnipeg.

A private funeral will be held on Wednesday, March 31, at 2:00 p.m. from the family residence, Lot 22, Concession 7, Otonabee, with interment in Keene Cemetery. Rev. George Murray of the Keene United Church will officiate.

GEORGE ALLEN FAIR

Last of a family who were pioneer settlers in Cavan township, George Allen Fair, Millbrook, died at his home on Monday after an illness of several weeks. He was in his 84th year.

He is the last of nine children (five daughters and four sons), of the late James Fair and Mary Jane Stewart who were pioneer settlers of Cavan township. He was born and brought up on the homestead on the 2nd concession of Cavan, near Bailieboro.

Mr. Fair moved to Millbrook 10 years ago when he retired from farming. A well known citizen in the community he was active in township affairs. He was a life-long Anglican, at one time a member of Christ church, Bailieboro, and later St. Thomas', Millbrook.

His public offices included past president of the Millbrook Agricultural Society, the Cavan Plowmen's Association, and the Millbrook and Cavan Conservative Association.

Surviving are a daughter, Anna, Millbrook, and a son, Howard, Cavan. His wife, the former Annie Elizabeth White, predeceased him in February.

Body is resting at the McPherson Funeral Home, Millbrook, where funeral will be held on Wednesday, March 31, at 2 p.m. Rev. C. MacLean of St. Thomas' Anglican church, will officiate. Burial will be in St. Paul's cemetery, 6th Line, Cavan.

Find Prices Firmer On Active Market

TORONTO, March 30—(CP)—Prices generally were firmer in an active market as selected issues traded well within appreciable range. Golds were mildly off in relatively quiet action but industrials paced base metals and western oils for pleasing gains.

The Exchange's noon index showed industrials up .81 at 160.33, golds down .41 at 94.16, base metals up .44 at 84.09, western oils .61 at 32.38. Volume for the first three hours was 656,000 shares, about 239,000 more than Thursday's similar period.

Investors reacted quickly to the increase in freight rates allowed the railways by the Inquiry Board and sent CPR up 1⅜ at 14½ on brisk action. Other industrials in the gain columns were Algoma Steel, Aluminum Pfd., Argus, Atlas Steel, Bank of Montreal, Canada Cement, Cockshutt Plow, Dominion Foundries, Famous Players, Fanny Farmer, Great Lakes Paper, Imperial Oil, Loblaw A, Massey-Harris, Winnipeg Electric, United Steel and BC Pulp.

Eureka dropped sharply in the base metals on news of serious flooding of the mine. The stock sold at $1.60 for a loss of $1.40. Smelters added 2¼ at 98, East Sullivan 5 at $2.45, Falconbridge 15 at $3.90, Hudson Bay ½ at 46, Nickel ⅜ at 33¼ and Steep Rock 1 at $2.05. Losers among the golds were Aunor, Bordulac, Delnite, Discovery, Dome, East Malartic, Elder, Hollinger and Lake Shore. Western oils posted gains for Anglo-Canadian, Calgary and Edmonton, Globe, Home Oil, Okalta, Foothills and Dalhousie.

Mr. King In Washington

WASHINGTON, March 30 — (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King arrived in Washington today by train from Ottawa, en route to Williamsburg, Va. On arrival at the Union station at 1.45 p.m., EST, the Prime Minister was met by Hume Wrong, Canadian ambassador in Washington; Thos. Stone, counsellor of the embassy, and Andrew Foster, representing the United States state department. Prime Minister King is expected to remain at Williamsburg until next Monday.

Discuss National Flag

TORONTO, March 30.—(CP).—Immediate adoption of a formal national flag and a distinctive national anthem will be urged in resolutions from Hamilton to be considered at the annual meeting of the Ontario Liberal Association here April 13, it was announced today. The Ontario Women's Liberal Association will hold its annual meeting April 12 and the Ontario Young Liberals Association will also be in session here April 14.

Funeral Monday

There were many in attendance Monday morning at the funeral of Joseph Collins, well-known teamster who died Saturday.

The funeral was held from the late residence on Munro Ave. to the Church of the Immaculate Conception where Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. J. J. Killen at nine o'clock. There was a large representation of the employees and management of the Peterborough Canoe Co., where he worked for more than 30 years.

Bearers were James O'Brien, Alex Carlow, Edward Clancy, James Dalton, William Crowley and Fergus O'Reilly.

Burial was at St. Joseph's cemetery, Douro, where the graveside service was conducted by Rev. J. J. McCarthy.

Among the many out-of-town relatives and friends who attended were: Mrs. Leonard Flynn, Tamworth; Mrs. James Murphy, Enterprise; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clancy, Hastings; Philip O'Reilly, Lindsay.

Says Air Pact Cancelled Without Reason

TORONTO, March 30 —(CP)— Premier Drew of Ontario and Federal Trade Minister Howe were at loggerheads again today following the premier's charge that construction of North Star passenger aircraft — under federal government contract—is a "colossal blunder."

The charge, bringing to a renewed boil the controversy between the two over Ontario's air immigration plan, was made in a 1,200 word statement last night. It brought quick reply from Mr. Howe that "the only blunder the Canadian government made was in trying to protect Mr. Drew and his pals in the United States."

Mr. Howe did not elaborate.

Premier Drew said that Canada, one of the great air powers at the end of the second world war, as a result has been "relegated to a very unimportant role on the air routes of the world."

He said federal authorities had "compelled" Trans - Canada Air Lines to limit itself to use of North Stars "which will be obsolete before the first order is completed."

Mr. Howe replied the charge was made to divert attention "from the difficult housing situation."

Cancel Contract

The controversy boiled up after TCA cancelled the contract of Transocean Air Lines, a United States company which transported 80 per cent of the Ontario immigrants while acting as a temporary sub-contractor of TCA.

Reasons cited by Mr. Howe for the cancellation were:

Transocean used "sub-standard" DC-4 aircraft; conversion of the immigrants' fares from sterling to United States dollars was a drain on Canada's dollar supply; the contract with Transocean was contrary to international regulations.

All were denied by the premier. In his statement last night he said: "We are told now that TCA has plenty of aircraft to fly immigrants to Canada."

He said Mr. Howe had placed the government's order for North Stars in 1944 with "a company which had no previous experience in the build- of aircraft of that type."

Rotary Elects Officers At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, March 30.—(ENS).—Executive officers and two directors were elected at the Rotary dinner meeting in the parish hall Monday. Those elected were: president, W. H. Brady; vice-president, C. H. Calver: treasurer. C. J. Maier; secretary, F. S. Linton (re-elected); J. G. De Carrol and G. E. Nicholls, directors.

James Heathcote, under the classification of machinery salesman, was welcomed to the club as a new member by the president, Dr. O. C. Watson.

Charles W. McInnis, Iroquois, a director of the Federation of Agriculture and chairman of the Hog Producers' Association of Ontario, was introduced as guest speaker by Fred Rutherford.

"Less than 10 years ago, democracy was challenged by dictatorship,' he said, "and while the cream of our young manhood was fighting to save democracy we promised them we were going to build a brand new and perfect world after the fighting was over. But what have we done. In Europe, in Asia, in our own country there is strife among the different groups of people. For example, labor against management and producers against consumers. This unrest and misunderstanding among peoples breeds isms. We must prove to the people that our way of life is the best, otherwise we cannot expect them to resist the isms."

'As the basic industry," he said, "agriculture has a tremendous responsibility. During the last war this industry proved its stability and ability to produce under adverse conditions. And it must do this again along with the other industries. Differences of opinion and misunderstanding among the people must be eliminated first if we are to unite to save democracy. Only then can be fulfill our promise to the boys who fought for freedom.

RUSSIAN HINT TO WORLD PRESS—Of course, he may have been smothering a yawn, but Russia's M. Bogolomov, delegate to the United Nations conference on freedom of the press in Geneva, unwittingly shows what Russia's attitude on that question is. Britain's Hector Macneil is at left. Poland, Russian satellite, accused the "Voice of America" of broadcasting lies, and America's William C. Benton charged the governments of eastern Europe with "deliberate incitement of hatred."

Chelsea Now Making Bid To Keep Old Traditions

By JOAN CAPREOL

LONDON, March 30—(Reuters).—Chelsea, London's Montmartre or Greenwich village, is making a bid to preserve its artistic tradition threatened since the war by the shortage of studios. For several centuries Chelsea has been cultivating its reputation as an artists' quarter. It could boast as denizens Sir Thomas More, Nell Gwynne, Thomas Carlyle, J. A. M. Whistler, Oscar Wilde and John Sargent. In recent decades some if this glory has faded.

Since the war Chelsea has been wearing an injured look, partly because Hampstead has claimed the title of London's art centre and partly because large patches of it are bombed out.

An official of the Chelsea Arts Club, which includes among its members Royal Academicians, said today that many of the studios had been rented out to moneyed people who hold large parties in them.

An artist could never afford rents like £10 ($40) a week, he said.

So the Chelsea Borough Council has taken a step to restore Chelsea to its rightful place in the world of Arts and Letters.

It has approved a recommendation asking the London County Council to promoted legislation to provide studio accommodation for artists.

Alderman B. Marsden Smedley said he had been dismayed by the number of studios in Chelsea which had disappeared or been taken over by other than genuine artists.

47 Destroyed

Of the 316 known studios in use in 1939, designed and built for the purpose, 47 were destroyed by enemy action and 42 made unfit for occupation.

Eighty-five are occupied as private residences, leaving only 142 of the pre-war total in the possession of practising artists. Of these 66 are damaged or dilapidated. This leaves only 76 studios in reasonably good repair and used for the practice of the Arts—24 per cent of the pre-war total.

"The threat to the artist community in Chelsea is clear and serious," an investigating committee said.

Democrat Boom Pushing Eisenhower To Washington

By WALTER O'HEARN

NEW YORK.—Up near Morningside Heights the mansion of the president of Columbia University stands refurbished, stripped of the encrusted Victorian grandeurs of the Nicholas Murray Butler era, and ready for General Eisenhower.

But a lot of people are still wondering whether the general will long occupy the mansion or whether he will be bidding for another presidential residence.

The movement to draft Eisenhower on the Democratic ticket has been swelling like a tidal wave here during the last two weeks. By comparison the previous Republican Eisenhower boom seems like a billow.

A veteran political reporter from these parts informed the writer: "One thing you can be sure of. Nothing like this is quite spontaneous. This has been organized and cleverly organized.

"The Willkie boom in 1940 had lots of popular support, but it was not spontaneous. A lot of people shouted, 'We Want Willkie' from the bottom of their hearts, but there was a claque at work too.

"Not that Willkie wasn't a fine fellow. So is Eisenhower. But to sell even a fine fellow in this country takes a sales campaign and that takes organization."

But what, persons are asking themselves, of General Eisenhower's declared intention of not running? What ow his declaration in a letter to Leonard Finder, of Manchester, New Hampshire, that the "necessary and wise subordination of the military to civil power will be best sustained . . . when lifelong professional soldiers in the absence of some obvious and over-riding reasons abstain from seeking high political office."

That letter ended the Republican Eisenhower boom. But there is speculation here that some "obvious and over-riding reasons" may since have given the general a change of heart. Among these might be:

The deepening crisis in world affairs;

The weakness of President Truman as a candidate;

The emergence of General Douglas MacArthur as a seeker of the Presidential nomination.

The crisis needs no elaboration. It may be that powerful Democrats can convince General Eisenhower that he is the only man of the moment with the necessary touch to unite the American people.

That apparently is the conviction of two sons of the late President Roosevelt, Elliott and Franklin Jr., who have both come out for Eisenhower, repudiating Truman. Elliott, who has coquetted in times past with the left wing, also repudiated Henry Wallace in decisive terms.

The weakness of Truman as a candidate is admitted and even magnified in New York City and State Powerful New York politicians are among the chief organizers of this "Draft Eisenhower" movement. They feel that the President could not carry New York State even against Senator Taft.

They feel that the President's inept changes of front on the Palestine question have lost him hundreds of thousands of votes in New York without gaining any support for him elsewhere.

Mr. Truman's weakness at the polls would not be enough, it is said to sway Eisenhower from his decision not to run, but the possibility of General MacArthur in the White House might impel him to toss his own hat in the ring.

No Public Word

Not that Eisenhower has ever said anything publicly about MacArthur but he may share the common alarm about the latter's backers. The MacArthur-for-President boom began in the newspapers of William Randolph Hearst. The Hearst papers, while they are read widely for their entertainment value, have not for some years been considered a potent political force. The very hyperthyroid quality of their conservatism and patriotism and their suspicion of all foreigners tends to generate uneasiness among many moderates.

When the MacArthur boom began in the Hearst press it was treated with some disdain locally. The last Hearst campaign had been one to get women out of bars and it was not a conspicuous success. The MacArthur boom has been quite different. Quite a respectable bandwagon has been constructed and a number of politicians have jumped on for the ride. The present military governor of Japan has an obvious hunger for glory and he might, in a deadlocked Republican convention, succeed in capturing the nomination.

One result of this has been a heightened public reaction to the Eisenhower boom. Many people seem to feel that if it had to be a general, it had better be the most Democratic general available. One commentator put it, "Eisenhower has worn the uniform but MacArthur, has let the uniform wear him."

Kinsmen Hold Gay Easter Dance

CAMPBELLFORD, March 30.—(ENS).—An Easter Monday dance sponsored by the Kinsmen Club drew a large crowd.

Charge Dollar Censorship On US-British Newspapers

GENEVA, March 30 (Reuters)—A. E. Bogomolov, Soviet Ambassador to France, told the United Nations conference on freedom of information here to-day that there is a "very strong press censorship in the Anglo-Saxon countries—a censorship of dollars and sterling."

The Soviet delegate was replying to yesterday's sharply-worded attack on the press of the Soviet Union and Eastern European countries by State Minister Hector McNeil, chief British delegate to the conference.

Bogomolov said that censorship in Britain and the United States was exercised by those who owned and controlled the newspapers.

Western speakers, such as McNeil and the chief United States delegate, William Benton, had claimed that they were aiming at the maximum of liberty.

"In Britain, for instance, who owns the newspapers?" Bogmoolv asked. "Rothermere, Kemsley, Beaverbrook, and Camrose, and even the organ of the Labor Party is controlled by Odham's Press, a commercial concern founded by another lord.

"Who can claim that the British press is in the hands of the people?"

Tight Monopolies

Citing American newspapers as another example of a democratic freedom being enjoyed exclusively by a small group of the "possession classes," Bogomolov said tight monopolies had been built up which concentrated in a few hands not only the newspapers but also the war agencies and the radio.

"The close link between these organs of information and opinion and the American banks and industry is illustrated by the fact that well over half the revenue of the American press derives from advertisements.

"Indeed half of the average newspaper is taken up by publicity. Thus the newspapers have become organs of commercial publicity, rather than organs expressing the opinions and aspirations of the people.

"In these countries (Britain and the United States) there is liberty of information in name only. Real liberty exists in countries such as Russia, where the people themselves own and control the means of information."

Peterborough As A University City

The University of Toronto has been widely criticized since the war on the ground that it is too big. Its enrolment is over 17,000, and it is the largest university in the British Commonwealth. Some educationists think that the university is getting out of hand, and that it can no longer provide its undergraduates with the sort of personal attention which the best university education demands. Toronto University is a provincial university, and its problems can be dealt with on a provincial scale. One solution for the problem of size is to decentralize the university, establishing three or four subsidiary foundations outside Toronto. One of these would certainly have to be in Northern Ontario; another would be needed in Western Ontario; a third would be wanted in Eastern Ontario, and we think that Peterborough would be a good place to establish it.

* * *

There are obvious difficulties and evils in such decentralization. An important part of university training consists of getting away from the home town and the home atmosphere, in order to enlarge one's outlook and to meet people who have interesting new ideas. A university undergraduate should be able, if he chooses, to find friends whose studies are quite different from his own and whose background may be different, also. Much of this university atmosphere would be lost if the University of Toronto were to establish small Arts colleges in two or three places in Ontario; it would be impossible to protect these from the provinciality of some of the jerkwater colleges in the U.S.A. But the results might be better if, for instance, the first four years of the Medical Course were given in a college in Peterborough, with the students going to Toronto to complete their training there. Several of the larger "schools" might be divided in this way, with advantage to the undergraduates.

* * *

Of course such a decentralization would be advantageous to the communities in which the offshoots of the provincial university were situated. We cannot imagine that anyone in Peterborough would think it anything but a stroke of great good fortune if such an institution were to be set up in this city. Peterborough, in an area which sends students in about equal numbers to Toronto and to Kingston, would be an admirable centre in which to place a subsidiary of the provincial university. Decentralization, undertaken upon a plan which will destroy as little as possible of the university atmosphere (which might, indeed, recapture it) seems to be the only hope for the University of Toronto. If such a move is undertaken, we think that Peterborough's claim to become a university city is an undisputable one.

The Old Left Is The New Right

One of the things which most confuses the thinking of the ordinary citizen in our modern world is that he is very fond of labels, and that many political labels have lost their original meanings. Take "Left" and "Right", for instance; in the nineteenth century to be Left was to be progressive and to be Right was to be reactionary. Nowadays such simple definitions do not apply. The Russians taunt the Western Powers, sometimes, with including Argentina in their anti-Communist ranks, for the Russians very rightly point out that Argentina is a dictatorship and deeply anti-democratic —Rightist, in fact. And it is certainly true that we are contradictory in enduring Argentina when we are cold toward Spain, which is also a Rightist country. But what does Rightist mean? It means that Spain and Argentina are authoritarian governments, one-party governments and essentially police governments. But what is the biggest authoritarian, one-party, police state in the world? Is it not Russia, the leader of the Left?

* * *

The world being round, it appears that if one travels far enough to the Left one will end up on the Right.

* * *

Left and Right are not the only confusing political terms which are being kicked around today. Another badly battered one is "liberal". This label, which was once applied to people who wanted to advance as far as possible toward liberty, justice and plenty for all, at the most rapid pace compatible with genuine progress, has now become a term of abuse which both Left and Right hurl at anyone who dares to question their omniscience. For both the Left and the Right are very sure that they know the answers to all the problems of mankind, and they know equally well that the liberal does not know all those answers, and will not even pretend that he does.

* * *

Leftists and Rightists are great systematizers. They are sure that the application of blanket formulae will put right everything that is wrong. They will plan, like Hitler, for a thousand years, or like Russia, for five, ten and twenty-five year periods, and they will confidently expect to carry out their plans. The liberal is a hand-to-mouth planner —an improviser. His improvisations frequently go wrong because he does not want to use steam-roller methods to push them to a conclusion. Neither Left nor Right have any such scruple; they will sacrifice people to plans any day.

* * *

This Left-Right confusion cannot be cleared up by any simple method. Nor can we hope, in a world so hot for certainties, that the liberal will ever become an heroic figure, for he can offer nothing but uncertainties and good intentions. Nevertheless, we do not hesitate to say that the liberal is the most honest man of the lot. He really believes in people, and likes people, and neither the Rightist nor the Leftist does so, in the deepest sense.

Our Food Market In Britain

Canada is the only source from which Britain now obtains food which has to be paid for in dollars. There are some critics of the British Government who urge that Britain should do without the Canadian foodstuffs. The Minister of Food, Mr. Strachey, has told the country that Britain must have this food or its people would be "in very harsh circumstances indeed"; he estimates that 25 per cent. of the food imports during the next six months will come from Canada. He has also said that without dollar help from the Marshall Plan, Britain would be unable to go on purchasing this food from Canada.

There are some Canadian critics who hold that Canada's export of foodstuffs to Britain is unsound policy, that this country should seek rather to extend its industrial market. They maintain that the Abbott-Howe embargo program to conserve American dollars would have been unnecessary if we had not "given" so much of our substance to Britain and Europe; that we should have no such restrictions which favour our agrarian producers at the cost of our industrial market. Their argument is that we should concentrate our efforts on developing trade with the "hard-currency" countries (like the Argentine), and since these countries do not need our food products, we should sell them manufactured goods.

There is some superficial and harsh economic sense in this, but they forget two things. Much of the wealth of this country is still derived from the land and Canada is no industrial match for the United States, despite our recent technological progress. In order to be prosperous we must export food. Secondly, the markets of the "hard currency" countries are limited and their requirements specialized. As Mr. Ilsley said in Victoria (B.C.) on Good Friday, "There is no satisfactory future for Canada as a trading nation if European recovery is allowed to collapse". It was not for humanitarian reasons alone that we extended large credits (our own "Marshall Plan") to Britain and Europe. Three-quarters of all the wheat and bacon now being imported by Britain comes from Canada, most of its cheese, and large percentages of its egg and meat importations are Canadian. Canada cannot afford to lose this market, even if it has to subsidize it for a few years.

The Canadian Arts Council has announced that thirteen writers, musicians and architects from all parts of Canada have been chosen to represent the Dominion at the Olympic Games in London this summer. We presume they will offer for competition running novels, fourteen metre sonnets, hurdling chords and vaulting skyscrapers.

The Examiner's London Letter

By J. D. CAMBRIDGE

LAST week has been a momentous week internationally, and no less so in London. Three events stand out; the 50 year Treaty with France and the Benelux countries, the speech of President Truman to the combined houses of the U.S. Congress, and the Prime Minister's announcement that known Communists, Fascists, and "fellow-travellers" in the Civil Service would be transferred from positions in which a high degree of security was necessary to other jobs, or if none available, would be dismissed.

THE first of these events is potentially the most promising for the re-establishment of British and European prosperity. While it is not as binding as real enthusiasts for Western Union would like, the Treaty of Brussels as it will no doubt come to be called, does promise a measure of stability and co-operation without counterpart after 1918. The preamble of the Treaty states its purpose to be, amongst other things, "to strengthen.... the economic, social, and cultural ties ... to co-operate loyally and to co-ordinate their efforts to create a firm basis for European economic recovery; to afford assistance to each other....in resisting any policy of aggression,....to associate progressively in the pursuance of these aims other States inspired by the same ideals...." In short, a mutual policy of collaboration in economic, social, and cultural matters, and automatic mutual defence, with the way left open for others to join. While Bevin is the man who will receive the most credit for the Treaty, Premier Spaak of Belgium is at least as much responsible. He was responsible for the previous agreement amongst thet Low Countries that has led to the "Benelux" tag for the group. In fact in some circles Benelux is known as "Spaakistan", an amusing and yet respectful tribute to his work. The stifling of nationalism is one of the hardest tasks, and only time will show if the nations concerned have really decided to swallow their own viewpoint for the general good, and yet this would appear to be a vital prerequisite for European stability. I repeat, potentially this should be one of the most important developments of the century.

President Truman's speech to Congress was closely followed over here. The two main points of the President, that E.R.P. and military preparedness must equally be applied, are heartily seconded here by all parties, except of course the Communist.

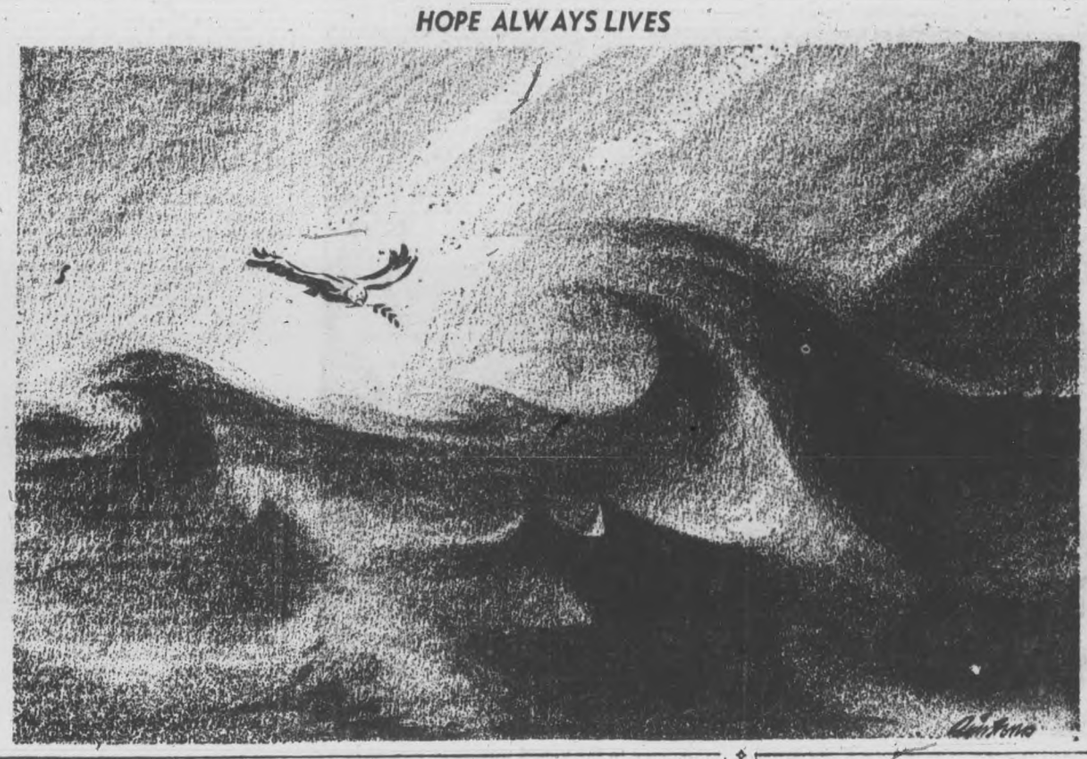
THE last of the three events, the purge of Civil Service, has been received with mixed feelings by many in Britain. The reasonableness and necessity of the move is unquestioned by the vast majority, but the implications of controlling the political thoughts of the Civil Service trouble all. Not since 1829, when the last of the bars against Roman Catholics holding government office was removed has there been any qualification of conscience or political belief demanded of the Civil Service. Such a staunch Conservative newspaper as the Evening Standard has come out against it, and a large group of Labour M.P.'s has expressed anxiety as to procedure to be adopted, and wants assurance it will not become a witch-hunt. The Opposition, while in general agreement, asked for a debate on the subject. The British are justifiably proud of their Civil Service, which has a reputation second to none for impartial efficiency, but in light of recent developments in Czechoslovakia, where the government was destroyed from within, it would be madness to allow persons of doubtful loyalty to have access to closely guarded secrets. It is the earnest desire of all parties that hysteria and "Star Chamber" proceedings be avoided in the purge, and decisions reached through a calm and impartial study of each case. It is a sad commentary on our times that such measures are necessary, and necessary they are.



❖ ❖ ❖

CANADIANS may be surprised to hear that one of the delicacies on sale in London is whale meat from the Antarctic. The average Londoner approaches whale meat with considerable caution, but not being rationed is a tremendous selling point, and there are few who have not tried a whaleburger, steak, or sausage. The meat is not cheap by any means, 60c-75c per lb., and in normal times it would have undoubtedly flopped badly. The meat is a very dark maroon in colour, and is solid and firm, resembling flesh rather than fish in texture. As to flavour, the reactions are varied. Personally, I like it, but there are many who do not. It cannot really be compared to any of the familiar meats, but the closest comparison I have heard is a combination of liver and frogs' legs. It does not taste fishy at all. Probably one of the reasons for dislike, outside of innate conservatism in food habits, is inexperience in cooking it. There is absolutely no fat, and unless this fact is recognized, it tends to be too dry. I gather the whale carries all its fat on the outside, as a protection against cold. Whale oil is a big source of margarine, but apparently until recently, the rest of the whale was thrown away or reduced to fertilizer. Each whale contains many tons of meat, and with modern refrigeration methods, there seems to be no reason why the whale should not become a regular and important source of food, in a world all too short of it.

ONE of the more spectacular strikes of the season is now on, although only about 1,600 men are involved. These are the London maintenance men of the Ministry of Works, striking for higher pay. Among the services they normally perform are the heating of Buckingham Palace and the House of Parliament, and the operation of the elevators in these buildings. As a result of the strike Parliament met this week with the majority wearing overcoats, and an embarrassed government spokesman could only say the strike was unofficial and against union advice, in reply to angry questions. A detachment of soldiers have been maintaining the furnaces at the Palace.

HOPE ALWAYS LIVES

Letters To The Editor

FARMER APPROVES EDITORIAL

Sir: Those three paragraphs culled from Sophocles' tragedy "Antigone", in your classic editorial titled 'Man, the Child of the Gods', appealed to this reader as marvellously apt at the present hour. I concur in your conclusion: "Today, 2,380 years later, let us not despair because bacon has risen in price, because Russia is at odds with us, because scientists have torn the veil from atomic mysteries. Man is not a pawn, a plaything; he is the chiefest of all created things. 'Wonders are many, and none is more wonderful than man.'"

As a farmer, I was especially attracted by the reference in the above quotation to man's self-taught capacity: "how to flee the arrows of the frost, when it is hard lodging under the clear sky, and the arrows of the rushing rain; yea, he hath resources for all....Only against Death shall he call for aid in vain."

In the present state of the world's hunger, even in the 34th month since VE-Day, it seems to me that our hopes are perilously dependent upon the 1948 harvests. In North American fields, particularly, with our vast productivity and our comparatively few mouths, we certainly must pray to be spared, once again, from the ever-present menace of crop failure through unfavorable weather—the absence of the life-giving "arrows of the rushing rain", or the untimely presence of "the arrows of the frost" on the ripening grain? Here, it seems to me, is the case for the building of what the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) terms "A Famine Reserve", under UN control? This stockpile could play a vital role in stabilizing prices for world wheat, and insulating the human family from the threat of hunger, in years of thin crops?

At the moment, as you know, while conditions look good both in European and North American fields, we are a long way from the 'harvest moon', and the world's bins are dangerously empty? Generous crops in 1948 could enable us to re-build world stockpiles; but if thin yields are writ in weatherman's blueprints, in this favored corner of the earth we would have to share our food as never before!

RURALITE

FARMERS AND MONOPOLIES

Sir: I was glad to read the letter from "Satisfied Farmer's Wife" for it speaks for a good many of us who think that the anti-margarine business has gone too far. It is true that we got poor prices for our butter for years, but prices now are good and it is up to the farmer to do some straight thinking. Now what has done the farmer most harm, by and large, over the years? Monopolies. And what is this dairy butter business? A big monopoly. Can anybody tell me that monopolies are wrong for some and right for the farmer and the dairymen?

Good farmers can stand up to competition, because a good farmer is first and foremost a good business man. A lot of the complainers are people who would be no more successful anywhere else than they are on the farm. It is just plain crazy for farmers to support a monopoly when they know what monopolies have done to them.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,

ANOTHER CONTENTED FARMER'S WIFE.

SUGGESTIONS FOR TRAFFIC CONTROL

Sir: It's about time something was done in this one horse town before somebody comes in with another horse. What I refer to is the traffic control downtown.

Criticism I know is cheap so what I have is a few suggestions that I know (or hope) will improve motor traffic greatly.

First of all I'd take all the profits on the parking meters and fill in the "tank traps" on our municipal parking lot. Next I'd put up a large entrance only sign here at the Charlotte St. entrance to stop traffic being upset by people leaving the lot and cutting into Charlotte St. traffic. At the east end of Charlotte St. I'd build an overhead or elevated roadway leading to Queen St. and Hunter St. to take some of the traffic off Water St. All traffic lights should be timed in such a way that traffic leaving the downtown would be accomplished with a minimum of delay. Say we set them for traffic at 15 miles per hour. People coming in usually aren't in much haste (looking for parking spots or window gazing slowing them up).

No left turns at all lights on George St. (and maybe at Aylmer and Charlotte) would facilitate the steady flow of traffic straight through and no waiting at a green light to see what the other driver is going to do.

If all this failed to improve traffic we could make some of our streets "one way", say Charlotte from Aylmer to Water going east only. George St. from Brock to King St. south only and Water St. going north from King St. to Brock St.

Sorry, I can't see any solution for the trouble encountered with cars stopping in front of you to back into a rare parking spot at the curb. A return to angle parking, I don't think would be practical or feasible.

A study of the traffic control in force in Detroit would be a great help here.

Yours truly,

JOHN MEEHAN.

A Bible Message

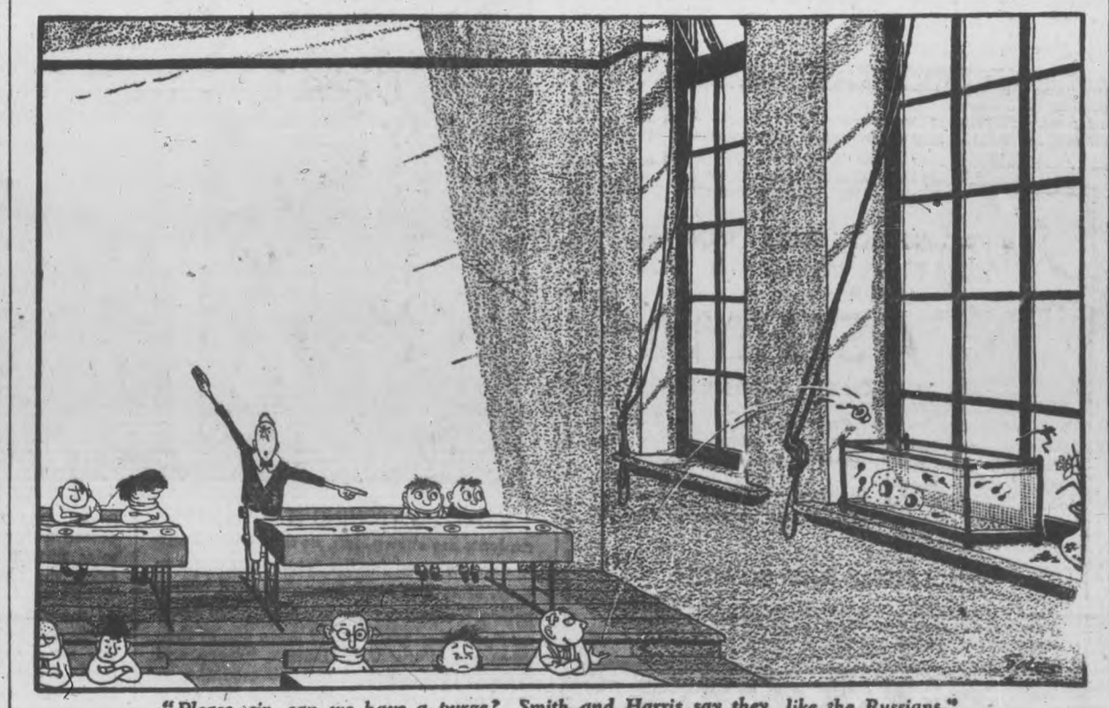
(From the Authorized Version)

In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust; let me never be ashamed: deliver me in thy righteousness.... Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou has wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men! (Ps. 31: 1, 19.)

Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Sion: and unto thee shall the vow be performed .. Blessed is the man whom thou choosest, and causest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple. (Ps. 65: 1, 4.)

❖ ❖ ❖

I will extol thee, my God, O king; and I will bless thy name for ever and ever.... Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised; and his greatness is unsearchable. One generation shall praise thy works to another, and shall declare thy mighty acts ...



They shall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodness, and shall sing of thy righteousness. (Ps. 145: 1, 3, 4, 7.)

Montreal Actor Makes Debut In British Show

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, March 30 (CP). — Making his West End theatre debut next month is Lionel Murton, young Montreal actor, who was starred in both the stage and screen versions of Canada's "Meet the Navy."

Murton has the comedy lead in a new farce by Noel Langley which will open at the Ambassador Theatre, April 8, either as "The Cabbage Patch," or "Little Lambs Eat Ivy" (producers are still wrangling over the title).

Between rehearsals, Murton told how since he was discharged from the Canadian Navy in 1946 he has played in five British movies, including "I Live in Grosvenor Square," with Anna Neagle and Rex Harrison, and "The Brass Monkey" with Carroll Levis and Carole Landis.

While touring with "Meet The Navy," Murton met his wife, Anita Dajallaire, also of Montreal, who was featured in the show with her three acrobat brothers.

"We married on tour," he said, "and during our Continental travels the Dutch Government gave us a swell honeymoon in Amsterdam. We always look back with affection on the grand times we had with the Navy Show."

Raised in Montreal, Murton started life as a textile salesman and worked at it for 12 years. But in his spare time he produced amateur plays in a church basement.

Just recent Murton played in a documentary color film dealing with the History of Hastings (Sussex) from the time of the famous battle in 1066.

Glass Companies Blamed For Conspiracy

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 30. — (AP).—United States government lawyers dealt with manufacturing agreements between American and Canadian companies yesterday in the United States district court trial of eight flat glass manufacturers accused of anti-trust law violations.

They introduced documents to show that Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. of Toronto and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., of Pittsburgh licensed their patents to Canadian manufacturers under an agreement.

The agreement, the government said, provided that American companies would not export glass to Canada if the Canadians did not ship glass to the United States.

The government contends these agreements formed a part of the alleged conspiracy to allocate production and control the market.

One of the licences, the papers disclosed, was issued by Libbey-Owens to the Hobbs Glass Manufacturng Co. Ltd., London Ont., it was issued, court evidence showed, after W. D. Davidson, Hobbs general manager, threatened a price war Dec. 28, 1935.

The license was granted Sept. 18, 1936.

Pittsburgh plate glass, court records showed, entered the Canadian field Sept. 1, 1928, through a contract with the Duplate Safety Glass Co., Ltd., Oshawa.

Alberta Farmers Win

CALGARY, March 30.—(CP). —Two Alberta farmers, James W. Bussey, of Airdrie and Andrew Henry of Legal, are Canada's top malting barley growers for 1947. The grand championship of the $25,000 national barley contest sponsored by the brewing and malting industries was won by Mr. Bussey, officials said yesterday. Mr. Henry was runner-up. Mr. Bussey received $1,000 for first place.

Ghost Hunter Dies

PULBOROUGH, Sussex, England, March 30.—(AP).— Harry Price, 67, well known in Britain for his activity in hunting ghosts, died yesterday after a heart attack. As secretary and editor of the University of London Council for Psychical Research, he spent much time in investigating haunted houses.

Sees End Of Butter Shortage In About Three More Weeks

TORONTO, March 30. — Housewives, whose patience has been strained by the current butter shortage, can take some consolation from an opinion expressed yesterday by Earl Kitchen, secretary of the Dairy Farmers of Canada.

Although many dairy men, farmers and feed dealers were frankly pessimistic, Mr. Kitchen offered a ray of hope.

"In another three weeks we can expect to see the end of the present butter shortage," he said. Canadian production was coming up and he felt that "things should be back to normal in a matter of three weeks or so."

"Production always rises in the spring when cattle are turned out for grazing. As soon as this happens, we should be assured of a plentiful supply of butter again," said Mr. Kitchen.

The dairy farmers' secretary pointed out that one of the main reasons for the current dearth of butter in local stores has been the increase in consumption.

"At the moment, we are producing lettle better than half the butter we are eating—the rest is coming out of storage. Last year, 6,000 extra tons of butter were brought into this country from New Zealand, but such an arrangement has been impossible this year due to the increased requirements of the United Kingdom," he said. "Efforts were made to try to bring in some butter from Holland, but the cost was found to be prohibitive," he added.

No Need For Panic

There is no reason for a panic, Mr. Kitchen emphasized. "Starting in February, milk production rises until it reaches its peak in the middle of June. Consequently we will be producing more and more butter, and we should soon have enough to meet all consumer demands."

Another explanation for the shortage was given by creamery representataives, who explained that, due to the high price of cattle feed, farmers feel they cannot afford to feed cows enough to produce cream at present butter prices.

Butter is made from the cream from surplus milk after the demand for the higher priced fluid milk is met.

Taking a slightly less optimistic view than Mr. Kitchen, although agreeing with him in principle, Clarence E. Lackner, director of the dairy branch of the provincial Department of Agriculture, said that only mild weather "hastening new grass" will bring relief. Dairy farmers, he explained, give priority to fluid mlk, because it brings a better return.

Most dairy farmers feed their milking cows a combination of cattle concentrate and ground oat-chop, and the price of both has risen considerably since feeds were decontrolled, a local feed dealer pointed out. "Cattle concentrate has jumped from $56 to $84 a ton and oat-chop from $40 to $60 a ton," he said.

WI Memorial Fund Hits $200 At Norwood

NORWOOD, March 30 (ENS)—Meeting of the IODE was held in Christ Church Parish Hall, with the Regent Mrs. Armer Weir presiding.

Mrs. Percy Kempt read a letter of thanks from a recipient of an overseas box.

Mrs. A. Kempt's reported stated that a box of crib quilts and pyjamas made by Mrs. W. Bitten, Mrs. H. Pearce and herself, had been packed and sent to headquarters.

A sum of money was voted to the post war memorial fund, bringing the total to date to $200.

Mrs. Armer Weir will represent the chapter at the provincial meeting in Hamilton in April. Plans were made for a May Day bazaar and tea.

A sum of money was voted to assist the Legion with work in the new hall. The committee of Mrs. P. Kempt, Mrs. H. Pearce, Mrs. Baskin and Mrs. Copp, announced they would hold a White Elephant Sale late in the spring and share receipts with the Legion.

Mrs. John Chevers was enrolled as a new member. Miss Cockerham representative of the Children's Aid Society addressed the meeting in regard to the desperate need for foster homes.

Mrs. Waddell gave a paper on the aims and ambitions of the order. Mrs. F. Kempt and Mrs. P. Kempt served tea.

Good Friday Observed

MARMORA, March 30—(ENS) —O Good Friday there was evensong at St. Paul's with the rector officiating. The choir sang "The Story of the Cross" and Rev. J. M. Brownless delivered a sermon on the text, "And Sitting Down, They Watched Him There."

Adopt Wage Plan

CHICAGO, March 30.—(AP).— United States railroads, yesterday agreed to adopt a fact-finding board recommendation that wages of some 125,000 workers be increased 15½ cents an hour. The unions representing the workers, however, withheld action on the recommendation with which they said they were "very disappointed." The unions' general chairmen will meet next Monday in Cleveland to decide their position.

Join the CRUSADE AGAINST CANCER

"C" Day represents the day when man has finally conquered Cancer. No one knows just when that blessed day will come —but, come it will.

Everything and anything that IS done, individually and collectively, to bring "C" Day one precious second nearer, means millions of lives will be saved.

Science, research, medicine and education will relentlessly wage the Crusade against CANCER until the battle is won.

You can play a part in bringing "C" Day nearer. Join the Crusade against Cancer. Become a member of the Canadian Cancer Society.

During the month of April, the Canadian Cancer Society (Ontario Branch) will conduct a drive for 150 thousand new members. Voluntary canvassing groups throughout the province are striving to help reach this minimum goal. The funds derived will be used for distribution of literature, films and educational material designed to help conquer the fear of Cancer with knowledge. This vital educational work must go on, because statistics prove that 3 out of 10 of those doomed to die of Cancer can be saved, if their symptoms are recognised and treated in the earlier stages.

Many of you may not be reached by direct canvass, but will wish to support this worthy cause. For your convenience fill in and use the coupon as indicated.

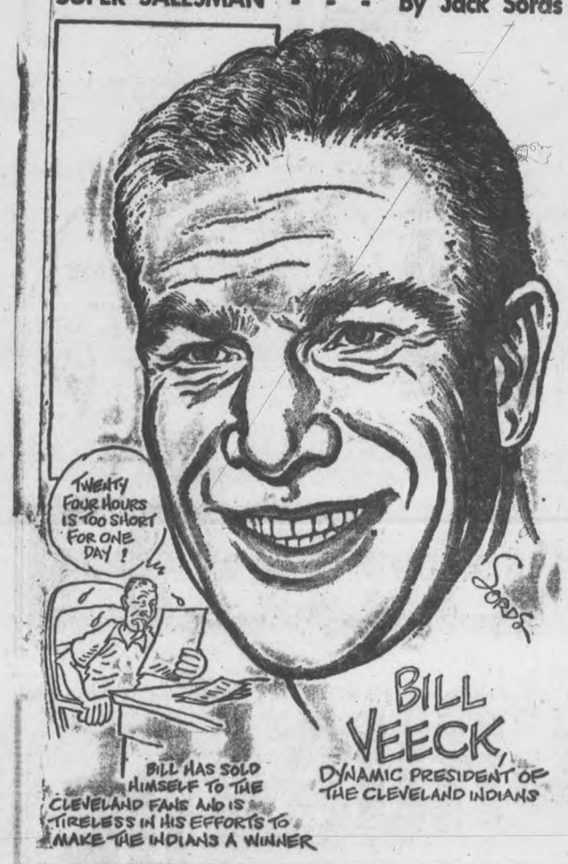
Oshawa Wins Kiwanis 'Spiel

By HERB MARTIN

An Oshawa rink won the second annual Kiwanis inter-club curling bonspiel, held here yesterday, with 24 rinks from all over Ontario participating. It was a highly successful 'spiel with the visiting and local curlers having a most enjoyable time throughout the day and far into the night.

Guelph finished second, with Dr. McKee's local quartet coming third, followed by Pembroke and then Lindsay among the prize winners. Following are the members of the winning rinks:

Oshawa — J. Beaton, George Campbell, S. Moss and A. Parnhill, skip.



Guelph — E. Lafontaine, Dr. Burbidge, D. Oakes and J. Heffernan, skip.

Peterborough—S. Longhurst, G. Hancock, B. Grant and Dr. C. McKee, skip.

Can Watson Win Without Help From Fans? Davis Roars "No!"

If Wee Willie Davis beats Whipper Billy Watson Wednesday night, the huge matman will be in a position to demand nothing but top-flight matches. Davis has a date with the French Angel in Maple Leafs Gardens later in the week and he cannot afford a loss here and claims he will give Watson a real pasting if the champ doesn't get any help from the fans. The spectators have mauled Wee Willie the last two weeks and really caused him to lose last week's bout. Watson on the other hand is pressing for a title match with Wild Bill Longson and a loss would pretty well eliminate his chances. However he says there is little likelihood of that as "Davis is a tramp and I can beat him anytime."

The Cardiff Giant takes on big Jack Moore in the semi-final, and Nanjo Singh and Jimmy (Red) Sims tangle in the opener.

Sure Pittsburgh Will Make Better Showing

By RUSS NEWLAND.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30—(AP).— Pittsburg may not figure strongly as a pennant contender this season, but new Manager Bill Meyer is positive the club will make a better showing than last year when the Pirates finished in a last-place tie in the National League race.

There is a long range baseball building program on at Pittsburg with youthful talent to be blended into the aging stock.

Meyer, making his debut as a big league pilot, is part of the program. His Kansas City team won the American Association pennant last season and his ability in the minor circuits is acknowledged.

Although the spring training games haven't stamped the Pirates as a fiery crew, Meyer sizes up his team as stronger down the middle this year. The catching, second base and centre field areas have been bolstered. Second Sacker Romie Basgall and Shortstop Stan Rojex, acquired in the big player-cash deal with Brooklyn, may provide a double play combination not seen in Pittsburg in years.

The Pirates had the worst double play record in the league last season.

The outfield has been strengthened by the acquisition of Johnny Hopp from Boston Braves. Hopp, in centre, will be flanked by 51-home run hitter Ralph Kiner in left. Three rightfielders are on deck. They are Fred (Dixie) Walker, 37-year oldster from the Dodgers; Max West who led the Coast League in homers with San Diego last season; and holdover Wally Westlake.

Ed Stevens by way of Montreal in the deal with Brooklyn, was taken on to handle the first sack job.

Canada Packers retained their two-point margin in the YMCA Men's Bowling League last night although losing to Jay Bees 4-2. The Packers were lucky to remain in first place after last night's games, rolling a miserable 2508 total for three games. Hardly the scores of a league-leading outfit.

Commercials remained in second place, even after losing to Tip Tops 4-2. The latter squad moved nearer the top with their win. These two teams turned in the best games, the Toppers having a 3239 total and Vic Sedgwick's crew 3213. Tip Tops had best single game of 1163.

In the other contests Artists defeated B'nai B'rith 4-2 and the Aberdeens downed Quakers by the same margin.

Bob Dyer was away out in front for individual honors, smacking an even 800 for high three. Next to Dyer came Ray Bennett 746, Ken Whatley 742, Horace Fisher 724 and "Bev" Callan 709. Zimmel Levine had 506 for two games.

Dyer led also in the singles with 312, just two pins better than Fisher's 310. Ab Yelland was next with 308, Callan 307 and Levine 305.

From faraway Phoenix i arid Arizona comes a letter from the secretary of the National Softball Congress. It tells of last year's big congress, the first such, when world's championships were held for girls' and men's teams. The tournaments grossed $22,373 with 22 teams finishing in the money. Dorst's Sweethearts of Toronto—girls, of course—travelled 2,407 miles and finished eighth but collected $1,232.66. Finishing further down was a Toronto men's team, Dennis AC, and these guys got but $661.58—though that should help considerably toward expenses. Women's tourney this year will be in Phoenix again whilst the men playoff at Oklahoma City around the middle of September.

OASA convention in Kingston on Good Friday made it clear that a guy over-running first base may turn either right or left to return to the bag, but is liable to be put out if he makes any motion toward second. Nothing really new, just clarifying it. In case a team protests a bat used by opponents in future, the umpire takes over the bat in question and it will be sent to the OASA for examination. So, beware loaded clubs! Teams may now play exhibitions outside the province if application is made to the OASA secretary two weeks in advance. Fee is one buck and five per cent of the gross. Lot of other amendments dealt with at the session, too.

Checking On Baseball

Eddie Murphy has been busy checking on a possible revival of the COBL for this summer. Ernie Gibbard of Napanee has advised Eddie that Napanee would enter such a circuit provided Kingston ish't in—so the Naps could draw some Kingston players. As no reply has been received from Kingston, we imagine that club isn't planning on entering. Belleville and the Petes are good prospects but a fourth club is necessary for a decent setup in OBA senior competition. A letter has been sent to Oshawa, also, but we doubt if the softball-conscious Motor City will hop on the band wagon.

* * * * * *

There is one other prospect, some of the Port Hope officials recently expressing interest. However, they haven't said anything since, and it's uncertain if they can build up to senior strength if Cobourg goes intermediate. Then, too, the Ports might prefer to stay in the Lakeshore League intermediate group with Cobourg coming back in again. We may hear later on this angle. Unofficial word is that the Toronto Viaduct Loop isn't interested in outside clubs this season. And that's how it stands at the moment. When a little more info is available a general meeting will be called to decide what's what in senior baseball up this way.

Might Change Mind

Tommy Foley intimated last autumn that he wouldn't be playing ball any more, that he'd call it a day. Saw him a month ago and he still reckoned he wouldn't play again—though he didn't seem so positive. And maybe a warm May sun might change his mind again. It would be a shame to see Foley retire yet from the diamond sport as he is still an ace centre fielder and fine hitter, one of the most consistent clouters over a span of years that Peterborough has produced. Fleet as a deer, Tommy can really cover the garden or circle the bases, and we certainly hope he turns out with the team for at least one more season.

Ted Reeve wrote in the Tely last night: "Weston Adams, hearing that Dit Clapper was thinking of retirement and possibly wondering about his status as a Bruin if Uncle Arthur Ross decided to move out, had the Boston scribes together, called in Clapper and tendered him a contract for next year." Big Dit, as fine a gent as ever came down the ice lanes, may go another season but has his mind on finally taking a 12-month run at his sporting goods store. Like many other great athletes he is not altogether happy as a mentor, finding it hard sometimes to explain to less-gifted performers how to do the things he found so easy as a player."

Shoving Neck Out?

And mayhap sticking his neck out somewhat as Leafs move to Boston tonight, Red Burnett writes in the Star: "Bruins have about as much chance of survival in their present playoff set with Leafs as junior's Easter bunny. Art Ross, in a last defiant gesture, snorted that things will be different in Boston. Only the venue and the props will be different. Only chance he has of altering the script is to have someone snatch Kennedy and Bentley. That would leave only Apps and a superior set of wings to worry over." We can recall a time when Red said the only way Sarnia gridders could lose here would be if most of them missed the train coming. It turned out that Red missed the train, as our Orfuns defeated Sarnia that time.

Asks Grid Schools Started In Canada

TORONTO, March 30.—Some 300 part-time coaches, secondary school teachers who give up their spare time to developing sport, yesterday took football lessons from an ace United States mentor and heard a suggestion that Canada set up schools for coaches.

Lou Little, head football coach at Columbia University, delivered both, working in shirtsleeves, in a speech that was more action than talk as he personally demonstrtaed his coaching methods.

Little told the spare-time coaches, delegates attending the physical education section of the Ontario Educational Association's annual convention, that high schools had the big job of developing gridiron stars. He suggested the education department set up coaches schools for the men who mold the players.

Using Vic Obeck, McGill University's barrel-chested coach, as opponent, he underlined his points about blocking, tackling and passing on the slippery hardwood floor of the debates room at the University of Toronto's Hart House.

Deer Frozen In Tree

STRATFORD, Ont. — (CP). — The frozen body of a young buck deer was found wedged in the fork of a tree just above the ground in a game preserve near here. Game Overseer E. Moore said the deer obviously fell while reaching for foliage. There was a shortage of forage in the area this winter.

Only Seven Absentees

WINNIPEG — (CP). — Winnipeggers are hardy. Only seven out of 30,277 pupils registered in Winnipeg schools missed school during the bad weather in February, according to school board investigation reports.

MOOSE CALL—"Mushkeg," from Gogama, accompanied by trainer Joe LaFlamme and his son, a wolf, a bear cub and a badger called Geraldine arrived in Montreal. They will appear at the Sportsman's Exhibition at the Armory of the 17th Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars.

Shore Believes Men Can Play In NHL Till 40

WINNIPEG, March 30 (CP) — Life might not begin at 40 for a hockey player, but so far as Eddie Shore is concerned there is no reason a hockeyist should not play in the big league until he reaches close to that age.

The former Boston Bruins ace, here to look over junior stars for the puck empire he has built since quitting as a player, said in an interview that a player able to meet the requirements of "skating, courage and thinking" should be able to continue in action until nearly 40.

To Shore, who holds that it is necessary "to put just as much into hockey to get to the top as you do to become a success in any business," one of the most important assets is ability to skate well. He also figures that to skate properly adds length to a man's hockey career.

Shore said that too many boys never make the big league simply because they were never trained to skate properly. Shore said that a player should move in action with his body in an upright position.

It is Shore's contention that about 90 per cent of the coaches in the game to-day never learned to skate correctly themselves and thus are unable to teach the proper style to their players.

Better Pitchers In Ball League

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Detroit Tigers' Dizzy Trout and Art Houtteman were the first major league pitchers to go nine innings during the current spring training season.... That comparatively unimportant fact emphasizes a phenomenon that likely will continue through the entire American League campaign.... Detroit hasn't a first division ball club, in the commonly accepted sense, but it will be a pennant contender because of its superfine pitching staff... As Billy Evans explains: We'll only need a couple of runs to win a game with the kind of pitching we'll get"... University of Pennsylvania baseball fans claim their shortstop Babby Baumler looks like Slats Marion in the field.... After a couple of boots they will add the resemblance began just when Marion's knee gave way.

Sports Before Your Eyes

Pete Cawthon, who has been talent scout for Detroit Lions for the last few seasons, has just returned from Texas with 20 cow horses for his boys' camp in Virginia... If they could lug a football Pete probably would sell them to some club.... Giles Stedman, former superintendent of the King Point Merchant Marine Academy, recently was appointed head of Japan's Amateur Baseball Federation by General MacArthur.... Colossal, South American speedster owned by racing's big bargain-hunter, Fred Hooper, has been entered in Keeneland's Ben Ali Handicap. One of his rivals likely will be a real bargain horse, South Dakota, known in Lexington as the "poor man's Whirlaway."

What's What In Baseball

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP).—Cleveland Indians sport the best record among American League clubs in the "grapefruit" league play while Brookyn Dodgers continue to set the pace in the National league.

Cleveland won six out of seven starts during the last week to take over first place from New York Yankees who won only two out of six games and dropped to third.

The Indians have won 12 out of 17 starts for a .706 percentage. Philadelphia Athletics with a 9-4 record are second with .692 and the Yanks third with .682.

Brookyn has won all of its 14 starts for a perfect 1.000 mark. However, the Brooks have not yet played a major league opponent.

The New York Giants are in second place in the National league with a .588 average. Philadelphia Phillies are the only club in the National playing below a .500 clip.

Brooklyn Dodgers will get their taste of major league competition shortly. The Brooks were scheduled to leave their training base in the Dominican Republic today for Vero Beach, Fla.

The Dodgers cleaned up against their Montreal farm hands and Dominican and Puerto Rican teams, winning 14 games without a loss.

Washington Senators are counting on two rookie pitchers to stick with the club this season. They are left Forrest Thompson and eighthander Joe Jones.

They might keep a third rookie hurler, Cuban Ramon Garcia, but they don't know where he is.

Garcia showed up in camp some weeks ago almost unannounced, and pitched five innings of shutout ball against Philadelphia Athletics in the only game he started.

Three weeks back, Garcia disappeared in the direction of Cuba with the statement that his teeth needed fixing.

He hasn't been seen since.

Question Of Conacher Playing Puzzling To NHL Followers

NEW YORK, March 30 (CP)—Two big questions plague the followers of Series B of the semi-final round of the Stanley Cup playoff series:

Will Jim Conacher line up to-night with the Detroit Red Wings and—whether he does or not—can New York Rangers tie up the best-of-seven series 2-2?

Coach Tommy Ivan was non-committal on the question of whether the star left winger will remain sidelined.

Twenty Detroit players are in New York and not until to-night will the list of 16 players dressing for the fourth game of the series be posted. Detroit won the first two 2-1 and 5-2.

While Detroit hems and haws on the lineup, Rangers Manager Frank Boucher lays his cards on the table—several of them on the training table.

He is all in favor of a long rest for Conacher, who scored the winning goal for Detroit in the first game of the series.

And he is resigned to the fact that Defenceman Bill Moe is reclining for the rest of the series with injuries. Moreover, Frank Eddolls will not be available at least until Sunday.

So the Rangers probably will line up to-night just as they did Sunday, including Captain Neil Colville with his groin injury and a veteran, Phil Watson, he of the strained calf who scored two goals in the last joust.

Flyers Reign As Champs, Down Porkies

TORONTO, March 30 (CP). — Barrie Flyers reigned to-day as all-Ontario junior hockey champions after blasting the Northern title-holders, Porcupine Combines, off the Memorial Cup trail.

The Flyers swept their best-of-three final series against the Northern Ontario Hockey Association champions in three straight, trouncing them 13-3 last night at Maple Leaf Gardens in the third encounter.

Barrie now enters the next round of the playoffs for the Canadian junior championship against the winner of the three-team series which features Inkerman (Ont.) Rockets, Montreal Nationales, and the Halifax St. Mary's. In a sense, Flyers as Ontario Hockey Association champions, are defending the Memorial Cup, won last year by OHA winners Toronto St. Michael's.

More than 6,000 fans witnessed last night's victory, many of them travelling the 60 miles from Barrie. The underdog Porkies held them to one goal for 12 minutes, but after that it was all Barrie. The winners counted five in the first period, and four each in the second and finale.

Paul Meger, Jerry Reid, Ray Mayer, and Rusty Aikin each counted twice for the victors. Other Barrie goal-getters were Bruno Favero, Stan Long, Bob Bingley, Bill Barrett, and Sid McNabney.

Scorers for the NOHA crew were Roger Mineault, who counted in the first period, Ernie Keefe and Ernie Domenico, both of whom slammed the puck home in the final frame.

After piling up a one-sided score in the first two frames, the Flyers seemed to lie back for a bit until the Porkies counted two goals. Then the aroused Flyers poured in three tallies in little more than a minute near the end of the game.

Purse Minimum To Remain Same

TORONTO, March 30—(CP)—The two-dollar punters will have more opportunity than ever to pour their cash into pari-mutuel machines on Ontario horse-racing tracks this year. The bangtails will be running 144 days, 18 more than in 1947.

With racing dates for provincial tracks now released, fears expressed that there would be no racing due to tax and purse difference, have vanished. Track operators thought it might be necessary to obtain tax relief and lower purses to operate at a profit.

But with the Greenwood meeting due to start at Woodbine here May 8, the horse owners were assured of the $1,350 minimum purses that the Horsemen's Protective Benevolent Association won after a bitter struggle with track owners last year.

There will be 95 days racing on Toronto's four tracks, 21 at Fort Erie, 14 at Hamilton and 14 at Stamford Park, Niagara Falls. The King's Plate will be run at Woodbine on Monday, May 24, and not on Saturday at usual. The Plate Trial is slated for the same strip a week earlier.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

By The Canadian Press

The remaining games of the Provincial Hockey League best-of-seven final series between Sherbrooke St. Francis and Victoriaville Tigers, now tied at two games apiece, will be played Tuesday at Victoriaville, Wednesday at Sherbrooke, and if necessary Tuesday at Victoriaville, League Secretary Henry Vermette announced last night.

The winner will meet the Quebec Senior Hockey League title-holders, Ottawa Senators or Quebec Aces, in a best-of-three series for the Quebec Crown April 6 and, if necessary, April 8.

The Quebec winner will advance to the Eastern Canada Allan Cup final against Hamilton Tigers or Renfrew Lions with the first game April 10 on the Quebec winner's ice. Length of the eastern final has not been set as yet.

Ottawa Tech won the Ontario school boys' gymnastic meet last night at University of Toronto's Hart House, piling up a total of 3,413 points, 11 more than second-place Trinity College School of Port Hope. Windsor Lowe took the third spot with 3,288, and Ottawa Glebe Collegiate fourth with 3,062.

Serardo Hernandez, 23, Cuban boxer, dropped dead in the ring at Cairbarien, Cuba, Sunday night but physicians said today that death followed a cerebral hemorrhage which was not induced by blows. Hernandez is the fourth boxer to die in the ring this year. Two of the three previous deaths occurred in the United States, the third in Rome.

At Buenos Aires, spectators accused Salvador Ali Naredo, 32, of committing a foul during a sandlot football game here Sunday and beat him to death. Following a play, a crowd swarmed on to the field, knocked Naredo down and beat him with sticks. He died in a hospital of fractured skull. Police still are seeking his attackers.

The RCAF Flyers, Canada's Olympic hockey champions, last night ended a six-game tour of Scotland with a flourish, defeating Falkirk Lions 8-3 before a capacity crowd of 4,000 fans. The Canadians dropped only one game of the tour. Frank Boucher and Pete Lietchnitz paced the Flyers attack with two goals apiece. Patsy Guzzo, Reg Schroeter, Orval Gravelle and Roy Forbes got the other markers.

At St. Petersburg, Fla. Dr. Robert F. Hyland, St. Louis Cardinal surgeon, examined shortstop Marty Marion's knee yesterday and declared the injury should clear up without difficulty. Marion hurt his knee while sliding last year and suffered a relapse last Friday at which time he said he was afraid he couldn't help the Redbirds this season.

The Pacific Coast League — baseball's traditonal bellrow—opens another season of diamond activity today. The PCL starts its 46th year with San Francisco's Seals, under manager Lefty O'Doul as favorites for the pennant over the elongates 188-game course.

Haskill Drops Ralph Van Allen

TORONTO, March 30 (CP). — Alan McFater of Toronto scored a technical knockout over Ray Lavigne of Niagara Falls in the second round of the main bout of last night's amateur fight show.

Another technical knockout marked the end for Ralph Van Allen of Peterborough when Elmer Haskill of Toronto cornered him on the ropes in the second round. Haskill carried most of the fight, dropping Van Allen with a right to the head early in the fight round.

Results:

Catchweight — Alan McFater, Toronto AC, scored a technical knockout over Ray Lavigne, Niagara Falls, at 1:55 of the second round.

126 pounds — Tommy Corrick, Toronto AC, and Ernie Kelleher, Guelph, fought to a draw.

150 pounds—Elmer Haskill, of Toronto AC, scored a technical knockout over Ralph Van Allen, Peterborough, at 1:05 of second round.

158 pounds — Marshall Kelleher, Guelph, won decision over Bernie Meisinger, Kitchener 3.

Western Tech Wins

TORONTO, March 30 (CP)..—Western Technical School cagers Toronto Secondary School champions, took the first round of the Ontario High School basketball playoffs here yesterday with a 57-52 win over Fort Erie High School, Central Ontario winners. Western meets Windsor Patterson High School to-night, the winner to meet Sudbury High or Ottawa Glebe Collegiate for the provincial title.

Buzzers Whip UCC

TORONTO, March 30—(CP)—St. Michael's College Buzzers took a stranglehold on first place in the Jr. B OHA semi-final, round-robin, home-and-home series last night when they whipped Upper Canada College 4-1. The Buzzers meet Hamilton Aerovox here Thursday while Upper Canada tackles the Hamilton squad Saturday afternoon.

Victor Moore Ends Trouping After 52 Years

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 30 (AP).—After 52 years of trouping, Victor Moore has bought a permanent home and settled in Hollywood.

The wistful comedian purchased the comfortable home of Spike Jones and, after moving out the washboards, cow bells, auto horns and whistles, has settled down to a quiet home life with his wife.

"I'm not through acting, mind you," he remarked on the "Kiss In The Dark" set. "I'll keep on making films as long as they want me. I'm just tired of travelling and keeping on the move.

The comic first visited California while appearing on the Orpheum vaudeville circuit and resolved that he would return to stay. At 72, he has fulfilled his wish.

Simple Life.

"I want time to relax, loaf and go fishing when I feel like it," he said. "When I get too lazy to fish, I practise fly-casting in the swimming pool. I'm a simple man; I like meat and potatoes to eat — nothing elaborate."

Random Notes

"Summer Holiday" will probably be Mickey Rooney's last role as an adolescent. Preview audiences snickered when the twice-married, twice-a-father Mickey remarked in the film that he was only 17 . . . John Ford's epic, "Fort Apache," appears to be a loosely veiled treatment of Custer's last stand. It should give historians a lively time. . . . The Associated Press figures in two recent films: an AP man is a principal of "Miracle Of The Bells" and Wirephoto is seen in a climatic moment in "Call Northside 777."

Gananoque Yacht Places Second

HAVANA, March 30.—(AP).—The Windjammer II, a 76-foot yacht from New Orleans, won all available first prizes in its first big race and a Canadian yacht took the Class C honors.

While judges awaited arrival today of remaining craft in the 21-boat field which left St. Petersburg, Fla., at noon Saturday, the Windjammer's work was ended.

It streaked past the finish line at Morro Castle, at the entrance to Havana harbor, in a rainstorm at 4.40 a.m. yesterday. It won one trophy for being the first to arrive, another for the best time in its Class A division.

The yacht was completed last year, just too late for the 1947 race.

Second in the fleet was the Blue Heron of E. A. Link of Gananoque, and third was Stormy Weather, owned by Fred Temple, Toledo, O.

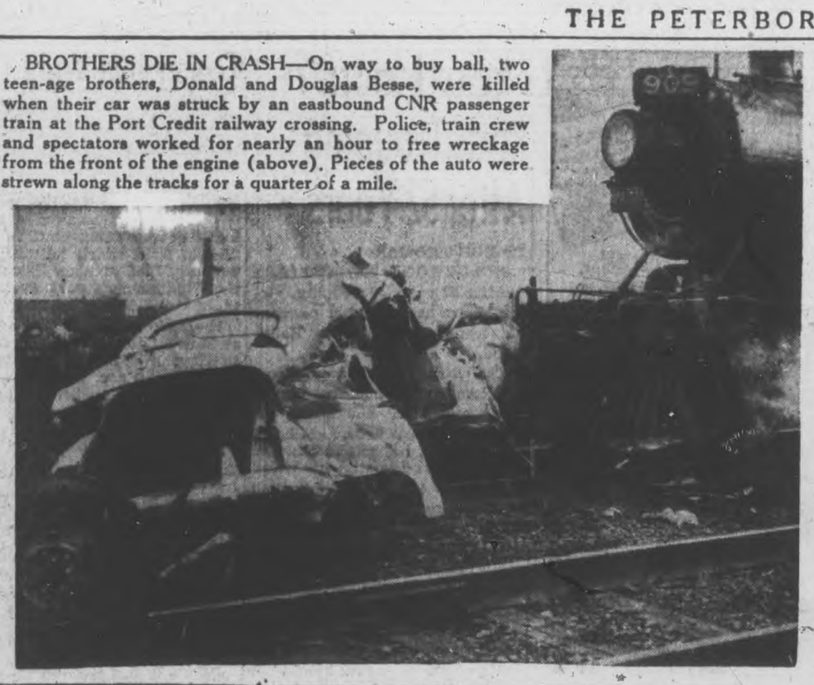
"The Passion" Is Easter Theme At Millbrook

MILBROOK, March 30 (ENS) —Holy Week services, arranged by the Ministerial Association, were continued for three nights, Tuesday in St. Thomas' Anglican church, Wednesday in St. Andrew's United church, and Thursday in Grace Presbyterian church, with "The Passion of Christ" for the general theme. Each pastor was in charge of the service in his own church.

On the opening night, Rev. C. M. MacLean, led in the Litany and other prayer, Rev. G. C. R. McQuade, of St. Andrew's, read the lesson, and Rev. Walter Fatterson, of Grace church, gave the address.

Taking the subject, "The Need," and basing his remarks on the text, "For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God," he impressed on the listeners that there can be no doubt in regard to the fact of our sinfulness; the same condemnation is passed upon all; and there is absolute certainty of the fact of salvation provided through God's love, through faith in Jesus.



"The Provision" was the subject taken by Rev. C. M. MacLean on Wednesday evening, his address based upon the biblical story of the lost coin, the lost sheep, and the lost boy. That Christ went, not as a martyr, but voluntarily to His death upon the cross, because His love was so great it reached out to the lost everywhere, was emphasized.

"The Blessing" was the concluding subject taken on Thursday by Mr. McQuade, using the text "God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself." The unfailing and immeasurable love of God toward mankind separated by sin from Himself, was vividly portrayed, and Christ set forth as the revelation of the Father's love.

Attendance at the services was large. Organists for the three nights were Miss M. L. Collins, Miss E. L. Hetherington, and Mrs. W. Patterson.

On Good Friday evening, the service marking the crucifixion of Christ, was held in St. Thomas' church with the rector, Mr. MacLean, preaching the sermon.

BROTHERS DIE IN CRASH—On way to buy ball, two teen-age brothers, Donald and Douglas Besse, were killed when their car was struck by an eastbound CNR passenger train at the Port Credit railway crossing. Police, train crew and spectators worked for nearly an hour to free wreckage from the front of the engine (above). Pieces of the auto were strewn along the tracks for a quarter of a mile.

Says Teenagers Unable To Behave In Theatres

TORONTO, March 30. —(CP). —Teenaged youths do not know how to behave in a public theatre, Robert Gill, director of Toronto's Hart House theatre said last night in an address to the Theatrical Arts Committee of the Ontario Educational Association.

He said young people make a lot of noise instead of responding properly to a play. A group of youths recently spoiled a recent production of "Romeo and Juliet" by laughing at the wrong time.

Mr. Gill blamed the movies for such reactions.

Council Election Rouses Political Storm

By JAMES McCOOK.

LONDON, March 30—(CP)—Urban and rural district council elections, usually polite affairs that rouse limited interest among voters, will be decided April 3 and 5 in England and Wales amid a fury of political competition.

National headquarters of both the Labor and Conservative Parties have, since 1945, spurred supporters to greater interest in local government elections. Previously, Labor was the first party to modernize the organization in communities and its strength increased in almost all councils during the 30 years before the Second World War.

1945 Lesson

After their 1945 general election defeat, the Conservatives took the lesson to heart and set about combatting Labor in all elections from the parish council up. Their first dividend was received in November of last year when in the municipal borough elections they gained 643 seats and Labor lost 695. This vote jolted Labor from the control of more than 30 councils.

In the coming district council votes, Conservatives hope to continue their career of success while the Labor Party is working industriously to stop them.

The elections are for divisions within countries. An urban district council usually is concerned woth a town or a small area densely populated and a rural district council covers a district which includes several country parishes.

The district councils administer public health and righway regulations and exercise powers under the Housing Acts. They are thus involved in national and local policies for the relief of the housing shortages, a prime cause of political controversy.

Many Seats At Stake.

Seats at stake in the voting next month total 2,572. Candidates running as straight Conservatives or with Conservatives support total 1,628, including 130 women. Conservatives will contest 490 seats now held by Labor.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK —By J. R. Scott

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XCVI, No. 75 TUESDAY, MARCH 30, 1948

MAIN ST. TOPICS

SURVIVOR OMITTED

A survivor omitted from the obituary of the late Thomas Joseph Lane was Mrs. Frank Cooney (Nellie) of Toronto. Mrs. Cooney is a sister of Mr. Lane.

WARM SUN WELCOMED

Ice formed over puddles on Monday night when the temperature took a slight dip below the freezing mark. On Tuesday morning it was still nippy when walking in the shade but the sunny side of downtown streets was crowded with shoppers and pedestrians out for a stroll.

SEVERAL CHIMNEY FIRES

Firemen were kept busy on Monday afternoon answering alarms for chimney fires. Calls came from R. Crowe, 763 St. Mary's Street; T. Brierley, 671 Chamberlain Street; S. Dunsford, 947 Dickson Street; and J. Welch, 520 Sherbrooke Street.

START THURSDAY

Canvassing for the Civic Arena will be put on a full schedule Thursday morning, when 50 volunteers in five zoned sections of the city will begin the bell-pushing campaign to raise the $50,000 required for the project. Total receipts to date, from the mile-of-pennies, the Variety show and scattered individual donations to the office now stand at $826.83.

EASTER SEALS

There has been a very good response to the Rotary Easter Seals campaign, but people, who have not yet contributed, are requested to send in their donation as soon as possible. The expenses of the campaign are entirely borne by the Rotary Club and every penny contributed goes towards helping a crippled child.

GETS APPOINTMENT

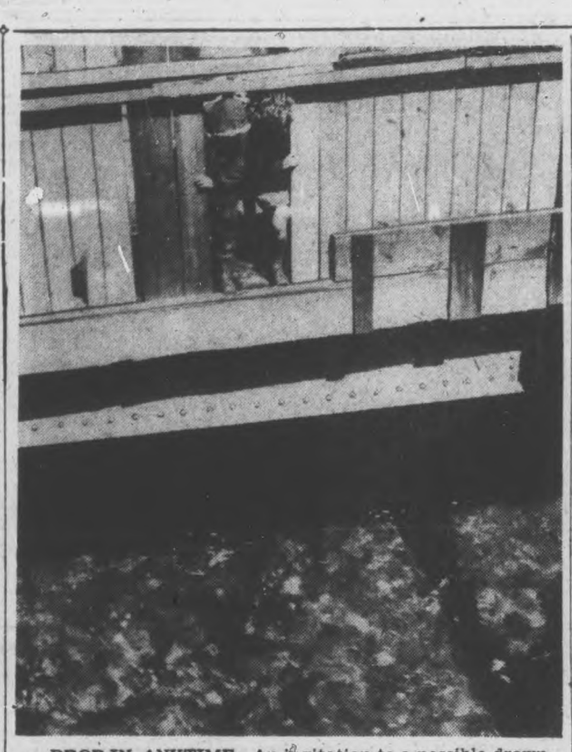
Norman Henderson, accountant at the Bank of Toronto branch in Peterborough for the past eight years has been given a promotion. Two months ago he was transferred to head office at Toronto, and this week, he takes over as manager of the Portage Ave., branch of the Bank of Toronto at Winnipeg.

TO CANNINGTON

Ald. Hurrell Dodds will be absent from the meeting of the committee of the whole council tonight. He is going to Cannington to look over that new $31,000 rink, and will probably be accompanied by Frank Buckland, Archie Weir, Johnny Russelle and Charlie Kingan. This is one of the new rinks built at a cost that encourages the promoters of Peterborough's secondary rink project.

ORGANIST RESIGNS

It was announced on Sunday that Robert Johnson organist and choirmaster of St. Luke's Anglican Church had resigned because of ill health. Mr. Johnson had occupied that position for the past three years. At one time he was organist at St. George's, and he has been pianist for the Lions Club, and director of the Outboard Marine Chorists.



IT WORKED—AND HOW

Workmen have been busy for several days repairing the vacant house on 338 Stewart Street, owned by Dr. W. S. Fitzpatrick. They repaired the chimney and then on Monday afternoon decided to see the result of their handiwork. A fire was lit to try it out. Apparently it succeeded beyond their fondest expectations for the next thing they knew the chimney was on fire and the fire reels was on the way. No damage resulted.

Farmer Fined

James Beal, township of Chandos farmer, was fined $5 and $10.90 costs when he pleaded guilty today in court to a charge of the Humane Society that he had ill-treated two of his horses. Special prosecutor W. B. Gordon stated that the condition complained about—the use of an improper harness which caused chafing on the horses' skin—had now been corrected, and asked for the minimum fine.

DROP IN, ANYTIME—An invitation to a possible drowning fatality is shown above on the shaky south side barricade over the Jackson Park Creek on the Hunter St. W. overpass. Two boards in the fence have been missing since Friday. Even though streets department workers, city officials passing in cars and policemen on their beat have not noticed it, two little girls think it is a fine vantage point to view the rushing water. They have only to be pushed or lose their balance.

Butter Shortage Worse Most Stores Cleaned Out

Corner groceries hadn't a pound of butter in their refrigerators this morning, and worse than that they had none in sight until Friday—perhaps Saturday. A main street store had a few pounds on hand, doling it out in half pound lots. Their prospect was probably some relief of the tight "situation" by Thursday or Friday.

"How are your customers doing?" the Examiner asked one grocer.

"Just the same as you are," was the reply. "That is if you haven't a few pounds laid away somewhere. However, the creamery people tell us there should be some general improvement in another two or three weeks."

An authority on the butter situation who refused to allow his name to be used explained the shortage thusly: "Ordinarily butter is stored when pastures are good and butter production is at its peak. At that time storage houses catering to the retail market estimate their needs for the winter months, and buy to meet those needs. Normally at this time of year cattle would be producing an increasing amount of butter fat, but this has been delayed by at least three weeks.

The high price of feed resulted in cattle being fed a less satisfying ration during the winter, and consequently the animals have not been able to produce as in former years."

He explained that no butter was imported from New Zealand this year, as their entire export output is required in England. Butter production across Canada according to Government figures was down 15 per cent in February 1948 as compared with the same month last year.

In short he said, the high cost of feed, and the fact that no butter was imported are the two things that fooled everyone and are responsible for the butter shortage today.

He figured the shortage would become more acute next week, and would be forgotten in about three weeks, when production returned to normal.

Obituaries

MRS. CHARLES CALDER

Mrs. Charles Calder, 78, Warsaw, died Monday at her residence after a lingering illness. She was born in the village, Charlotte Jane, daughter of the late Gilbert Douglas and Jane Davis, and lived a lifetime there.

She is survived by her husband only and was a member of Warsaw Presbyterian Church.

Forester Urges More Attention To Conservation

"The object of conservation is the orderly management of our natural resources," said A. B. Wheatley, district forester of the Trent district, speaking at the monthly meeting on Monday night of the Peterborough Fish and Game Association. He said that the time had come when we sources of the land, but that conmust utilize all the economic resources of the land, but that conservation was not easy to enforce and a tendency against change had to be overcome.

Mr. Wheatley said that fire was the biggest headache in the administration of forest lands Sixty to seventy per cent. of fires were caused by human agency—failure to put out a camp fire, the throwing away of a burning match. Fires caused a loss of beauty which led to a loss in the tourist industry, and they also ruined spawning grounds and depleted stocks of fish.

He then dealt with development of the management of the harvesting of timber on Crown lands to ensure a sustained yield of forest products. He discussed natural reforestation through selective cutting and other methods, and mentioned reforestation plans in the district where planting was being done.

Nine Overseers

He said the question of enforcement in the Trent district was handled by nine overseers under an inspector. Mr. Wheatley declared that enforcement was a most important task, and he asked "for the cooperation of the association in ensuring enforcement, which is for the benefit of all living in the area."

He ended by mentioning the two hatcheries run by the Department of Lands and Forests and the setting aside of restricted waters, which had been very successful. The two hatcheries are the Deer Lake hatchery at Cordova Mines in Belmont Township, which specializes in bass, pickerel and muskie, and the Codrington hatchery, near Brighton in Northumberland County, which is a trout hatchery.

A motion that application be made to the Department of Lands and Forests for a road to be completed through the game preserve from the Nepheline Mine to Mount Julian was proposed by Don Moore and seconded by Norman Bradley. Charles Kingan pointed out that it would be difficult to stop poaching, and if such a road was built cars would drive away with deer in the back. The meeting was asked to signify approval of the motion, and as less than half raised their hands, the motion was considered defeated.

R. P. McCabe presided at the meeting, after which several films were shown.

Need 90 Cows To Fill Quota

Rustling up 90 cattle to round off the Peterborough total of 1,000 for the artificial insemination unit of the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association was under way in the western part of the county Monday by personal and telephone calls.

The centre of activity was F. C. Paterson's office, but the work of recruiting out in the townships was being carried on by farmers who have already signed applications and wanted to make certain that the required total of 1,000 cows was listed before night falls. The group application for county membership must be before the Maple Association Tuesday.

WHO IS SHE?

Besides their conviction that they had a good time, there was at least one point on which the 700 people at the Policeman's Ball agreed. At least the males said so out loud and the ladies mumbled about it. Who was the striking statuesque blonde in attendance? Dressed in paddy-green taffeta dress with bustle effect, the blonde drew all eyes. To quote one breathless young gentleman: 'What's her name? address? phone number?" Hubba-hubba.—R.B.

Thieves Get $45 In Break-In At Tilco Plant

Thieves made off with $45 cash from the offices of the Tilco Plastics Ltd., 475 Park St., sometime Monday evening.

The looters made their entrance by breaking the glass window in a washroom at the side of the factory. From there, they made their way to the office. Opening a desk drawer, they pried open the lid of the metal cash box, from which they obtained $40. A purse which had been left in another desk by Miss Gladys Sanderson was robbed of $5.

The loss was discovered at eight o'clock this morning by Donald Coughlin, assistant superintendent of the factory.

Door 'Jimmied' Tenant Routs Prowlers

Would-be thieves were frightened off about three o'clock this morning when they made the mistake of starting to pry the door of an occupied room, believing it to be the office door of a building to which it was attached. The men had apparently planned on raiding the premises of the Boorman Beverages at 485 Reid St.

Built on the back of the plant is a small shoe repair shop of H. Batt, who sleeps there. About three this morning, he heard a sound and saw the end of a metal bar sticking through the door of his room. Moving to get a flashlight, he apparently made a sound which frightened the prowlers away. He did not get a guimpse of them, he told investigating police.

3 Careless Drivers Fined In Court

Three careless driving charges were included in guilty pleas received by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in police court today. They were from W. M. Austin, 11 Albert St. North, Lindsay, who paid $5 and $2.50 costs and William Hicks, Bobcaygeon and Elwin Garbutt, RR 2, Lakefield, each paying $10 and $2.50 costs for driving with inadequate brakes.

Gerald Johnston, 220 Brock St., was fined $50 and $2.50 costs for failing to permit space for another car to pass.

Morley Inwood was fined $3 and $2.50 costs for driving with inadequate lighting.

A GOODWILL gesture that almost laid an egg resulted when writer Bob Carrick collected 6,500 eggs for Easter breakfast for English orphans, then found he couldn't meet the air freight charge. Donations from an oilman and actress Loretta Young accounted for $700 and the half-ton of eggs reached England in time for Easter.

Plane Forced Down

A light plane landed at the field near Monaghan Road and King George Street about 12.30 noon today. The landing was routine and uneventful, and was due to a gas shortage. The resultant rumors which began to buzz over the city's lines and street corners turned the minor incident into grave proportions, in the minds of some.

One story was complete with gruesome details of a crash, with conjured visions of passengers and bystanders sprawled in horrible death for blocks around.

Another heard in a coffee shop an hour after the "crash" managed to drag in the sinister note of international intrigue. This profound thinker had, with exemplary clarity of thought, connected the incident with the "east-of-the - Iron - Curtain" subs off the U.S. coast It was undoubtedly a move, dictated by the Politburo and aimed at the important industrial centre here.

The pilot would probably have been considerably amazed to learn the furore he started.

VALUABLE DOG LOST

Missing since Saturday, information is being sought on the where abouts of a valuable Brittany spaniel about one year old. It is wearing a collar with the name, "Toni" engraved on it. It is white and orange and has a short tail. The owner, C. Nattress, 251 George St., Apartment 1, is offering a reward for its return. The dog's mother won first prize at Toronto last week, and the owner had the pepigree papers all set to mail when the dog disappeared. This dog resembles a springer spaniel.

2 City Workers Transferred To Pension List

Two long service employees of the board of works have been transferred to the civic pension list. Both were recently reported seriously ill. Alex Bulmer has been with the department since 1909 and Elsworth Jewel since 1912.

Beaver Lumber Co. have plans for a new office at the southeast corner of Rink and George streets. They have received from the council permission to set up a temporary office at the northwest corner, but facing on Rink St.

J. K. Hughes has received permission to place a 500-gallon meter gasoline tank at the rear of his garage and facing on Queen St.

Shell Oil Co. are vacating a patch of property on the south side of the CPR at the incinerator. It is actually part of the city yard, but has been rented to the oil company for a few years.

Estimated cost of a sewer on Engleburn Place is $770 of which $159.60 is to be charged to the treasury. Board of works has directed that bylaws be drawn authorizing that short stretch and also the Weller St. west sewer service to the Cherney subdivision. Estimated cost of the west end job is $14,737 of which the corporation's part is $2,869.21, which amounts to $240 a year for fifteen years. Fifteen people have bought lots in the Manor Hill subdivision which was opened four years ago. The owners paid two years' taxes to Monaghan and two to the city. Three new houses are being completed. Their aggregate value is $30,000.

Otonabee River Rising; Trouble Looms

Antics of the Otonabee River are beginning to give residents of the extreme south end of the city some concern. The river has been rising rapidly, and even with Monday night's chilly air, it moved up one and three quarter inches.

The fast-moving water today is two inches below the floor level of the stock pens at the Canada Packers plant, and is lapping over the top rim of the George St. wharf at several points. At the bottom end of Park St. the river water is almost flush with the road, and at the junction of Lock and Mckellar Sts. it has only to rise a few inches to be covering the road.

In a normal spring, there are three distinct run-offs in the Otonabee valley. The first is Peterborough county and the Kawartha watershed, the second is the Burnt River water shed, and the third, the Haliburton highlands run-off. If any two of these come at once, or all three at once, flooding conditions invariably result, but usually they follow each other in proper succession without too many headaches for the Trent Canal officials.

The surprising thing about the river this year is that it appears very high, while the ice is still solid in most of lakes. There is about three hundred yards of open water in Clear Lake east of the point where the river channels the water down over the Young's Point dam, but otherwise as far as the eye can see up the lake, the ice is a solid mass.

In Pigeon, Buckhorn, Balsam, Sturgeon and the other large lakes there is no sign of the ice breaking up, except along the edges where the winter covering has melted at varying distancesf rom the shore.

Within the city limits, creeks have been behaving admirably and there are few complaints of flooded cellars, or other damage. Jackson Park creek is carrying a heavy volume of water but is confined to its proper channel and running free. The creek draining through the Caddy street section and emptying into the river above Stanley Ave., is also carrying a heavy flow of water but is not giving any trouble.

Oil Situation A Little Better

The situation for fuel oil has eased in the past couple of weeks, due to the milder weather and slightly improved transportation facilities from the United States. City dealers report that they are "fairly well supplied" for their regular routes, but are cautious about taking on more contracts.

They state that information from all sources of supply indicate that the tight supply outlook will continue perhaps for another two or three years.

"From the way it looks now," said one, "it might be that next winter will be the grimmest time of all."

3 Months In Jail On Drinking Charge

Frank Grisdale, 376½ Water St. was sentenced to three months in jail today by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, when the accused pleaded guilty to consuming liquor while an interdicted person and as a third offender.

Joseph Bailey, 479 King St., was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for being drunk in public.

Dorothy Milligan, Bellevue Ave. was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for illegal possession of liquor.

John McFadden paid $7.50 fine and $2.50 costs for creating a disturbance on Dobbin Ave.

F. Revoy, 880 George St., was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for creating a disturbance on Patterson St.

Lions Club Present Cardigans To Bantam Team

Members of the Lions' Bantam Hockey Team which reached the finals in the Ontario Minor Hockey Association playoffs were honored at a banquet on Monday night given by their sponsors the Peterborough Lions Club.

President Patrick Scollard presented each member of the team with an order for a cardigan sweater in Lions colors. The sweaters will carry the club crest and the crest from the OMHA.

Addressing himself to the players, Kenneth Waters, president of the OMHA summed up his message in the word "Heart."

Health rules must be observed, he pointed out. Sylvanus Apps, captain of the Maple Leafs, was a non-smoker and attributed this as the greatest factor in maintaining sound wind.

Endeavor, the use of teamwork, "to beat the other fellow to it" was the second thing, Mr. Waters pointed out.

As a spur to ambition the speaker said that hockey players receive a minimum of $6,000 which was as much as professional men make.

Under "Rights" he said a team has the right to a good rink, good supervision and good coaching. He said the use of rights may be misinterpreted. "Many fans go haywire because of a referee's decision."

The "ability to stick to it" was his explanation of the last dictum, "Tenacity."

Mr. Waters presented William Stewart, team captain, with an OMHA handbook containing the autographs of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Richard "Dick" Ouimet, local president of OMHA pointed out that last year the team reached the semi-finals, and this year the finals. "If you stick with us we're sure we'll bring you a championship next year."

Mayor Ovens said "On behalf of the citizens of Peterborough I would like to give you my sincere congratulations."

Seated at the head table were Raymond Pammett, coach; Keith "Shockey" Mein, manager; Jack Dane, Director of Recreation; Byron Bond, president of the Boys' and Girls' Committee; Patrick Scollard, president; Mayor Ovens, Kenneth Waters, president OMHA; Otto Hardwicke, vice-president, OMHA; Richard Ouimet, local president OMHA.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. Ouimet and thanked by Jack Dane. William Stewart, team captain, thanked the Lions Club for the banquet and presentations as well as sponsoring the bantam hockey team during the playing season.

Henry "Chris" Jay was boosted by Edward Johnston. The booster prize was won by J. E. Girven.

Home Economics Said Important

TORONTO, March 30.——(CP).—Home economics can contribute effectively to the kind of home and family life needed in this world, Dr. Grace Henderson of the Pennsylvania State College today told the home economics section of the Ontario Educational Association's 88th annual convention.

The social responsibility of home economics is to aid in producing a society of families who join forces to accomplish individual and common values, Dr. Henderson said.

"All families, not a tested few, are served," she said, "And ends are achieved through growth of all to think together creatively."

Prof. John A. Weall of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, outlined methods of school ground improvement in an address to the OEA rural teachers' section.

Mrs. C. V. Murphy of McMaster University, Hamilton, said a more adequate secondary school system and a reorganized elementary school were needed in England.

Keith Headley of the University of Minnesota, addressed the kindergarten section.

German Spy Ring Charged By Russia

MOSCOW, March 30 —(AP)—Pravda said today a German spy ring financed by United States military intelligence and German industrialists is working in the Soviet occupation zone of Germany.

The Communist party newspaper quoted a special correspondent from Berlin as saying the group was headed in Germany by one Gerhardt Pinkert. Pravda identified Pinkert as a former German army colonel and former commander of a regiment in the Brandenburg Division.

Complete operations are directed from Munich by a Colonel-General Helder, the paper said.

Pravda said Pinkert gave full details of the ring's operation, and said "It is a Fascist organization .... (which) receives large sums of money" each month.

The entire organization was made up of former German officers and had as its task, among others, "The establishment of contact with German agents left in a series of countries during the war and with this purpose intends to use such countries as Austria and Sweden, through which there is the possibility to conduct such intelligence work."

Family Court Lauded By Magistrate

"One of the greatest needs of this community is a medical health clinic," Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., speaking at the Rotary luncheon on Monday at the Y.M.C.A. His subject was "Why a family court?" Magistrate Philp maintained that a psychiatric service is of the utmost importance, when dealing with juvenile delinquency and such cases as come before the family court, where the emphasis is on prevention and solution rather than punishment.

He first explained the functioning of the court and emphasized the importance of the two probation officers. It is their work to make friends and build up confidence with the child and parents, in order to find out the reasons for the charge. The background of the case — physical, mental, home conditions, excess or lack of discipline—can be discovered by the probation officers, who have been found to be extremely successful.

Magistrate Philp continued with a brief explanation of the Juvenile Delinquents Act, under which any child guilty of a charge under the act is a delinquent requiring care and supervision, the Children's Protection Act, under which applications are made by the Childrens Aid Society to take children out of the custody of their parents, and the Deserted Wives and Children Maintenance Act. He pointed out the flexibility of treatment under the Juvenile Delinquents Act as compared with the Criminal Code.

He said that the avoidance of the notoriety and publicity of the police court was a great help in the settling of the many cases, which come before the court. "An effort is being made," he said, "to hold the family together." Any steps, which hold the family together and decrease juvenile delinquency, keep down the number of wards and the consequent expense to the community. The cost of maintaining one child from the age of one until that child is 16 years old is $5,000.

"The law must be dynamic and change with changing circumstances and changing society," he said. He ended by quoting Winston Churchill: "The mood and temper of the public in dealing with the criminal is one of the tests of a civilization."

Magistrate Philp was introduced by Jim Dutton and thanked by E. A. Outram, City Clerk, who said that if the court could bring one family together during the year, the whole expense of the court itself was nothing. The prevention of another child becoming a ward with the resultant cost to the community more than outweighed the costs of the family court. W. J. Hamilton, vice-president, presided.

Queensland Strikers Defying Red Leaders

SYDNEY, Australia, March 30. —(CP).—As Queensland's railroad strike drags on into its ninth week, strike leaders are making feverish efforts to prevent its collapse.

The opinion here is that it will end this week as more and more men defy the self-confessed Communists who are leading them and return to work.

The crippling strike began at Ipswich workships, near Brisbane, Feb. 2 when workers' demands for increased marginal rates were refused. The men were advised earlier by Premier Edward Hanlon that the State Government (owners of Queensland railroads) would not oppose their demands if they went to an industrial court to have their claims adjusted.

The men refused "on advice" to deal with the industrial court and went on strike.

Take Third Party To Russia Truman Tells Wallace

WASHINGTON, March 30. —(AP).—Henry A. Wallace came back to the capital today, hard on the heels of President Truman's thinly-veiled suggestion that he take his whole third party movement to Russia.

At the same time anti-Truman Democrats refused to accept as final an official United States army declaration that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is no more available to them than to the Republicans.

And on the Republican side of the political fence, reports bobbed up that Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Senator Robert A. Taft have agreed to combine against Harold E. Stassen's bid for Maine's 13 convention votes.

Truman, who less than two weeks ago denounced "Henry Wallace and his Communists," in a St. Patrick's Day speech, made another attack on his ousted cabinet officer and presidential rival. The setting this time was a dinner meeting of Greek-Americans.

The President was introduced by Dean Alfange of New York who told the audience that Wallace and his followers ought to go to the Rock Mountains "in the role of Greek guerrillas."

Then, Alfange continued, Premier Stalin might recognize the former vice-president as "the leader of the free government of the United States."

'The Dean has stolen my thunder," Truman said in his extemporaneous remarks. "I was going to tell you that the Greeks had a Henry Wallace. I was going to tell you that the Greeks had a statesman, an orator, a demagogue . . . they had the greatest demagogue of all times, Alcibiades."

But, "if imitators of that ancient Greek conqueror want to see . . . liberties subverted, I suggest they go not to the Rocky Mountains . . . he (SIC) ought to go to the country he loves so well and help them against his own country if that's the way he feels."

Democracy Demands Selflessness–Crerar

MONTREAL, March 30 (CP)—General H. D. G. Crerar told the Montreal Rotary Club today that "democracy as a system of government is only capable of functioning if selflessness or public welfare is held of more importance by the great majority of the population than selfishness or personal gain."

Gen. Crerar said that if the general outlook became reversed, and the outlook of each for each rather than each for all took precedence, then distintegration of community life was bound to set in, and the people would turn to some sort of dictatorial government to bring order, of any sort, out of unendurable chaos.

Stressing the need in Canada for a wider and deeper understanding of citizenship, the former Canadian army commander said that the term "freedom" was a much abused word, and in spite of all the eloquence on the subject, he did not consider that democracy implied personal or group freedom unless important qualifications were understood to apply.

Doubt Troop Moves

TRIESTE, March 30.—(AP). — Several sources with official connections expressed doubt last night that Yugoslavia had, as widely reported, moved more troops into its occupation sector of the Free Territory of Trieste. The troop movements were reported two days ago by pro-Italian refugees who moved into the British-American zone from Yuogslav zone.

BLACKHEADS

Get two ounces of peroxine powder from your druggist. Sprinkle on a hot, wet cloth and apply to the face gently. Every blackhead will be dissolved. The one safe, sure and simple way to remove blackheads.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

is a lot of little things

"AUDIENCE ETIQUETTE"

Have you been annoyed when people come in late for a theatre or concert performance? Have you been irritated when someone in the row behind you talks in a loud whisper during the program? Such breaches of "audience etiquette" offend both the artists and the audience. It's worth while occasionally to take stock of one's own little lapses in this regard. Good manners in public places are sure proof of "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Bishop Criticizes Leaders Of Social Credit

AMOS, Que., March 30.—(CP).—Msgr. J. A. Desmarias, Roman Catholic Bishop of Northwestern Quebec, Sunday criticized Social Credit leaders in a pastoral letter for their "unclean demogoguery" and for 'insulting our priests, at a recent meeting in nearby Rouyn, Que.

The Bishop in the letter also ordered all Roman Catholic priests not to rent parish halls and schools for Social Credit meetings. The letter was read in all Roman Catholic churches Easter Sunday in this northwestern Quebec diocese, which includes the only Quebec riding represented in the House of Commons by a Social Credit membe.— Pontiac county.

In his letter, Bishop Desmarias did not give any names but he referred at length to extracts published in the press of speeches at a meeting in Rouyn on March 14 by Real Caouette, Social Credit member for Pontiac, and Patrick H. Ashby, Social Credit, M.P., for Edmonton East.

Must Be Stopped

The Bishop said "it is time for me to stop these tyrants of unclean demagoguery, the Social Credit leaders, who in their public words, acts and wrtings are trying to flood this region. They call everybody fools and use vindictive sarcasm against all authority."

The Bishop quoted speakers at the March 14 meeting at Rouyn as attacking the Premier and the Leader of the Opposition of Quebec and as having said "we will vanquish all these dirty politicians even if they wear white surplices."

In his letter, Bishop Desmarais said that "at the meeting there was a speaker from western Canada, who was here to illustrate principes of Social Credit in the west. I ask myself what French Catholics thought when they heard this speaker saying 'we are not here on earth to work, we are here to seek the results of our work'."

Growers Will Improve Village Approaches

OMEMEE, March 30—(ENS)—topic "What's New?" created an interest in the large attendance at the meeting of the Omemee and District Horticultural Society.

President John Bent asked for suggestions on how to improve the flower gardens along the bridge approaches. It was agreed to meet there with garden tools on an evening in April, clean and cultivate the beds, and report at the regular meeting what additional shrubs and flowers were needed to give the desired effect.

A committee composed of Mrs. H. Bent, Mrs. S. H. Moyer, Mrs. H. Deyell, Mrs. H. Hill, J. Bent, V. E. R. Zufelt and L. M. Curtis was chosen to assist Mrs. R. Price in making arrangements for the fall flower show.

Mr. Zufelt gave a lecture on narcissus, tulips, crocus, hyacinths and iris, calling attention to the newer varieties and their characteristics.

Another feature of the evening was a report on the Niagara Horticultural conference by Wesley Wilson and H. G. Burke. Mr. Wilson outlined the trip to Niagara and gave some points on vegetable gardens. Mr. Burke said he was impressed by the number of delegates about 500. He gave some facts concerning effective treatment for weeds and plant diseases, etc., and called attention to pamphlets on horticultural problems.

More Trains Cancelled

FORT ERIE, Ont., March 30 — (CP). — Further cancellation of trains as a result of the coal strike in United States were foreseen here yesterday, with a consequent loss of employment. Within the last few days two Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo passenger trains were cut off, along with two New York Central passenger trains and a combination mail and express flyer, operating over the Ontario division between Fort Erie and Windsor.

Hints June Election

TORONTO, March 30 (CP). — E. B. Joliffe, Ontario CCF leader, declared last night "don't be surprised if there's a provincial election in Ontario this summer." "It might be in June, it might even be in May," he said in an address prepared for delivery in a free-time political broadcast over the Ontario network of the CBC.

E. H. Blois Dies

HALIFAX, March 30.—(CP).—E. H. Blois, 70, former juvenile court judge and retired deputy minister of public welfare for Nova Scotia, died at his home here last night.

Driver Education Urged For Teachers

TORONTO, March 30—(CP)—Lt.-Col. W. A. Bryce, Director of the Public Safety Division of the University of Toronto, said to-day that Canada's bill for property damage resulting from street and highway transportation is greater than the entire cost of primary secondary and college education.

"If we accept education's responsibilities in connection with traffic safety, we may be reducing this bill and building up an educational entitlement to greater expansion in the future," Col. Bryce told delegates attending the physical education section of the Ontario Educational Association convention here.

He made a plea for driver education and training as part of the physical instructors course.

"The foremost laboratories for teaching discipline and respect for authority are the athletic field and gymnasium," he said.

Don't Want War

WASHINGTON, March 30. — (AP).—President Truman said last night that the U.S. will talk peace with any country, but that it will not see the "liberties of any country debauched." The President told a large gathering of Greek-Americans that the United States does not and has never wanted war. But there are several things worse than war, including "slavery," he added.

Appears Before Board

WINDSOR, March 30 (CP). — Roy England, president of Local 200, United Automobile Workers (CIO), will appear before a United States immigration service board of inquiry April 6, for a decision on his admissibility to the U.S., immigration officials said yesterday.

Pythons And Crocs Are Death On Cats

DARWIN, Australia, March 30 (CP).—Pythons and young crocodiles are wiping out the cat population of this North Australian capital.

A plague of the reptiles has spread along the coast of the territory for about 100 miles on either side of Darwin and for about 65 miles inland to the Adelaide River.

One resident complained that a python snatched her small kitten from in front of the kitchen stove just as she was about to feed it.

But a bigger shock was experienced by a Sydney visitor when he found a huge snake coiled around the bathroom shower leisurely watching him soap himself.

Czech Poet Resigns

LONDON, March 30.—(AP).—Van Blatny, 29-year-old Czech Communist poet, rebelled last night against the party for giving poets "a list of themes for our poems." Blatny said he is quitting the party, resigning from the Czech Syndicate of Authors and refusing to go home.

February Deficit $732,000 For CNR

MONTREAL, March 30.—Operating revenues for the Canadian National Railways system, all inclusive, for the month of February amounted to $34,017,000. Operatings expenses were $34,749,000, the net operating deficit was $732,000. In February, 1947, revenues were $31,068,000; expenses $30,498,000; and net operating revenue $570,000.

SPRING 1¢ SALE ONE CENT SALE AT THE Rexall DRUG STORE SUMMER 1¢ SALE

WED., THUR., FRI., SAT. . . . . MARCH 31, APRIL 1, 2 and 3

In Drugs, If It's REXALL - - - It's Right

There's a world of meaning in that simple statement, and no quicker way to tell you of the rigid scientific control that insures the quality and safety of every REXALL PRODUCT. That control begins and ends in the ultra-modern, expertly staffed Rexall Laboratory, where every step of manufacture is carefully supervised to insure absolute conformity to Rexall standards of purity and quality.

To get acquainted with the quality of Rexall products stop in during our sale and buy any one of the products listed at the advertised price and receive another one just like it for ONE CENT. It's your chance to know Rexall and save money!

THE Rexall STORE

The Reason for This Money-Saving Opportunity

32 years ago, a young Canadian druggist who believed that the actual use of a product offered the most convincing proof of its merits, suggested to the Rexall Drug Company Limited, the Home Office of Rexall, that they inaugurate the REXALL 1¢ SALE. Since that time, this sale has been offered twice a year to REXALL Stores throughout Canada. Through this sale, money which ordinarily might have been spent in other forms of advertising is used to your direct advantage in money saving prices. For the price of one, plus one cent, you get two regular, full size packages of high quality REXALL Merchandise and YOU save money—WE gain friends.

700 at Policemen's Ball Enjoy Gay Easter Dance

That invisible damsel, Lady Luck, hovered over guests at the annual Police Ball last night and never again should "13" be called "unlucky" for there were just that many wonderful gifts handed to couples during the evening by PC Donald S. Mackay, the master of ceremonies. These valuable prizes were donated by local merchants to aid the Police Benevolent Fund which is augmented by the dance proceeds. Carbaret accommodations were provided for more than 700 guests in the Summer Gardens, and whether "sitting out" or dancing to the music by Hal MacFarlane and his orchestra, there were enjoyment for all in the friendly and pleasant atmosphere that prevailed. Majority of the girls were in formal gowns of lovely color and design making a delightful "partyish" scene that became gay and noisy when paper hats and horns were added.

Mayor W. G. Ovens made the first draws for special prizes and the happy winners of a mirror were Mr. and Mrs. Neil Ham, of a cocktail set, Miss Mildred Puffer and Mr. Lloyd Louden, and a portable flourescent lamp went to Mr. and Mrs. Max Elliott. Later in the evening Chief Constable John Thompson drew three more tickets and made Miss Leone Manley and Mr. Jack Orville Wilson owners of a Wilton rug. Mr. and Mrs. W. Cross received the coveted electric blanket, and Mr. and Mrs. Pooley were winners of the radio.

PC Ernest Beatty, chairman of the dance committee, selected the "spots" and the couples who won prizes for being in those places when the music stopped were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Abramsky, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blodgett, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Morin who received the "surprise package".

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Simpson were dancing when it was announced they were winners of a lovely mirror for being married the longest—33 years. A permaent wave will be given to Mrs. Jas. Baird because her birthday fell on the date of the dance, March 29.

Guests included Mayor W. G. Ovens and Mrs. Ovens, Hon. H. R. Scott and Mrs. Scott, Magistrate W. R. Philp and Mrs. Philp.

With Keen Eye for Detail Woman Runs Big Ranches

By MURRAY SINCLAIR

TUSCON, Ariz., March 30 — (AP)—Mrs. Renee Donnet, a Parisian woman with an ambition, is maknig a name for herself in Arizona cattle circles.

When Mrs. Donnet came to Arizona in 1940 she was a greenhorn. Now she owns four ranches totalling 70,400 acres and worth in excess of $1,000,00.

But she's not resting on her laurels. She won't be satisfied, she explains, "until I've completed the full cycle, done everything and my cattle are known as the best going to the markets."

Mrs. Donnet also owns and actively manages a vineyard in southern France, and a sheep ranch. She keeps in contact with her properties by plane. Since last June she has flown more than 180,000 miles.

Prof. E. B. Stanley, head of the animal husbandry at the University of Arizona, says "she is talented, successful, and a devoted ranch woman. She gives all her time to her ranch interests, and is a shrewd business woman. She has one of the state's outstanding registered Hereford herds."

Flying to her four ranches scattered over Arizona is her efficient method of keeping in close contact with every operation. She can reach any of them in an airhour from her Casa Salona home near Camel Back Mountain outside Phoenix. The two most widely separated properties are 550 miles apart by car, an hour and a quarter by air.

Mrs. Donnet says it is her father's fault she became a rancher—he should never have taken her to Argentina when she was 15. Then and there she vowed she would become a ranch woman.

Her father was a portrait painter, and she travelled about Europe with him and her mother.

Knows Europe Well

"I had more freedom than most French girls—six years of Austrian schools, summers in castles in Czechoslovakia and months in Rome while father painted the Pope. That painting hangs in the Sistine Chapel of the Vatican."

She married Julius Rosenberg when she was 19 and they lived in Philadelphia. When that marriage ended in divorce she moved to New York. Later she married Dr. V. J. Donnet, a Swiss surgeon and pathologist.

When she decided to buy a ranch in 1940 her advisers said she was crazy. "Why do you want a ranch out there?" they asked.

"'So I'll have something to trade with the Indians if they decide to take the country back again,' I told them."

Mrs. Donnet bought the Fry ranch near the Fort Huachuca military reservation in 1940, the A-K ranch in 1941 and the big Springerville property the next year. Recently she added a ranch near Willcox, "so my scattered properties will get Arizona's scattered rains."

She now is showing prize stock in western shows. "But, she says, "shows are only interesting and I'm a practical Frenchwoman who knows the practical thing is fat beef in Los Angeles markets."

Recently she offered all American Hereford breeders free air transportation in her private plane to and from any U.S. point to her Springerville ranch.

Hilda Thompson Marries John Dyas of Toronto.

Daffodils, pink snapdragons and fern decorated the Bailieboro United Church Easter Saturday for the marriage of Hilda, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Thompson, to John Dyas of Toronto, son of Mr. J. Dyas and the late Mrs. Dyas of Ireland. Rev. Alvin Keeler of Toronto, cousin of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. B. Heywood of Bailieboro.

Before the ceremony began Miss Ruby Ferris of Toronto sang "I'll Walk Beside You", and during the signing of the register she sang "O Perfect Love". Wedding music was by Miss Joyce Greene of Toronto who also accompanied the soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a dress of white bengaline with satin floral design, fashioned with long sleeves coming to points over her hands, fitted bodice buttoned down the back and full skirt with bustle back falling in a long graceful train. Her finger tip veil was caught to a Queen Anne headdress and she carried a cascade of red Briarcliffe roses and white carnations.

Miss Eileen Thompson sister of the bride was maid of honor, wearing a gown of orchid with top of brocaded satin and full skirt of nylon net. The fitted bodice buttoned down the back and had a low neckline, short puff sleeves and peplum bustle. She wore a matching shoulder length veil, long mittens and carried a colonial bouquet of Queen Elizabeth yellow roses.

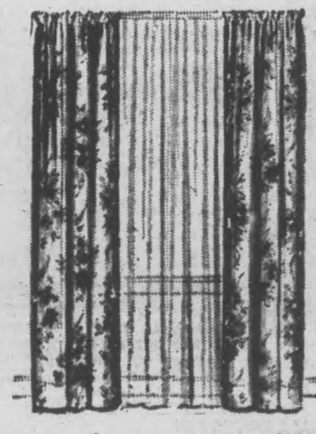
The bridesmaid, Miss Louise Wickett of Ottawa, cousin of the bride was similariy gowned in green and carried a colonial bouquet of pink Delight roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Henry Dyas of Toronto. Ushers were Mr. Fred Tapscott of Port Hope, uncle of the bride and Mr. George Horsborough of Toronto.

The reception was held in Bailieboro Hall and the WA of the church served the dinner. The room was prettily decorated in pink and white. The bride's mother received, attired in moss green with matching hat and accessories and wore a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Henry Dyas sister-in-law of the groom also received wearing powder blue with black accessories and corsage of pink Delight roses.

For her wedding trip to New York, the bride wore a moss green gabardine suit with matching hat, black shortie coat and accessories, corsage of red Briarcliffe roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyas will live in Toronto. Guests from a distance who attended the wedding came from Blenheim, Toronto, Uxbridge, Burlington, St. Catharines, Amherstburg, Ottawa and Hamilton.



At 84, Huntress HeadsforWolfHunt

VANCOUVER, March 30—(CP)—Mrs. L. A. Kean, 84, has departed for the Cariboo country with her rifle "to shoot wolves."

"Scared? I'm not afraid of any animal," she said shaking her snow-white curls.

The fragile little woman who still has a youthful swing to her straight shoulders, she limps a bit because of arthritis, learned to ride and shoot with her brother whom she accompanied to Alaska. In 1898 she travelled through Bering Strait in a sailboat, did a little prospecting and made friends with the Eskimos.

Of Interest to Women

When Incompatible Unions Become Endurance Tests

When we are told that one marriage out of every three ends in divorce, we are horrified at the thought of all of the unhappiness that lies behind the final break of a relationship that was entered into with such high hopes and fond anticipations. We think, with pity, of the broken dreams and shattered illusions, of the cruel fights between the man and woman who had loved each other so tenderly, of the wrecked home, of the bewildered, half-orphaned little children, and we feel that life can have no greater tragedy than divorce.

DOROTHY DIX

But I think there is a tragedy as great as divorce in the long, drawn-out suffering of those whose marriages are merely an endurance test. Husbands and wives whose love has turned to hatred, who take a mericless revenge for their disappointment in their mates by cruel speeches that stab them to the heart, whose homes are places of gloom and strife, and whose children grow up in an atmosphere so filled with quarrels and vituperations that it withers everything that is gay and tender and generous in their souls.

Yet there are thousands upon tens of thousands of such mismated marriages in which husband and wives live together, year after year, and what they endure in the frustrations of all of their plans for a happy marriage, and in their loneliness in being tied to a mate who does not understand them and with whom they have nothing in common, and their despair while they wait for death to set them free, no words can adequately describe.

Selves To Blame

But numerous and pathetic as the unhappily married are, their misfortune is mainly upon their own head, for the average husband and wife trust how their marriage turns out to luck, instead of devoting every ounce of intelligence that they possess to making it a success. Most of them don't even bother to get acquainted with the strangers whom they have taken on as life partners, yet it would save them a lot of grief if they knew how to keep off of Tom's or Mary's pet prejudices.

The general idea with many married couple seems to be that they should save their good manners and their best clothes and their funny stories for company, that they are too good to waste on a mere husband or wife. Maybe so but did you ever know a husband who took to philandering if he had a wife who prettied herself for his coming home of an evening and whose theme song was how handsome and witty he was? And did you ever know a wife whose husband couldn't stop her nagging with kiss? And can't any man feast like a gourmand if he has wit enough to praise his wife's cooking? Yea, verily.

Probably every man and woman start out in marriage to be good husbands and wives, and when they fall down on the job, ninety-nine times out of a hundred, it is because they didn't work on it with intelligence. The husband dropped his love-making at the altar and expected his wife to know that he continued to love her because he didn't divorce her. Or he began fault-finding, or he never took her to places of amusement, or even tried to be interesting companion.

And because the wife felt neglected and got bored and tired of being a baby-sitter, she began using woman's deadliest weapon, her tongue, on her husband, and they quarreled. and killed love. And another marriage that should have been a success turned into a failure.

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: My two children (ages 6 and 8 years) have taken quite a liking to raisins, and I would like to have two or three ways of using them for dessert that the grown-ups would like too —not stewed. Thanking you, Priscilla.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Raisin puffs are one of my favorite raisin desserts. I hope you like these.

RAISIN PUFFS.

Two cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, 2 to 3 eggs, 4 tablespoons melted shortening, 1 cup chopped raisins (plus ¼ cup chopped citron and 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind is optional, but a nice addition), 2 tablespoons brown sugar. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs, add the milk and shortening to them. Stir the sifted dry ingredients into the wet ingredients. Add sugar and fruits. Bake in individual buttered custard cups or muffin pans at 375 deg. Fahr. for about 30 minutes or steam 1½ hours. Serve hot with Hard Sauce.

SCANDINAVIAN RICE AND RAISINS

Put together in top of double boiler 1 cup uncooked rice, 2 cups water, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup seedless raisins, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 quart whole milk, 3 to 5 tablespoons white or brown sugar. Cook over boiling water until liquid is absorbed by rice and rice is tender. This may be served with cream and brown sugar or grated maple sugar. With maple sugar it is an elegant dish.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Could you tell me how to make Pepper Pot — it contains tripe. My son has been in the West Indies and one of the homes he visited employs a native cook who made this dish which he thinks is delicious. I want to make it for him if it is possible to buy the ingredients. Mom.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:

PEPPER POT.

(I am glad to have a request for this. While there are many people who would not eat tripe, there are others who would eat it if they knew how to prepare it. Tripe contains enzymes, and vitamins that are valuable in the human diet.)

Cook together for 2 hours: 1/3 cup each green pepper, chopped onion, chopped beet, ½ tablespoon melted fat, ¼ lb. diced tripe, 2 tablespoons rice, 1 quart cold water or white meat stock, 1 lb. veal knuckle, ¼ to ½ teaspoon black pepper, 2 teaspoons salt. Add ¾ cup chopped or stewed tomato 20 minutes before time is up. Remove veal bone before serving, and meat is usually chopped, and sometimes removed and served sliced separately.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: You gave us a recipe for a rich Pecan Pie once, and it seemed to be somewhat like a pie my father, who was a chef, used to make for us but he called Frangipani, and it contained almonds. I would love to make it, for he is coming home next month and we have not seen him for 12 years. Cassie.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Yes, this is a famous pie, or was in the Mauve Decade.

ALMOND PIE (Frangipani)

One pie crust, unbaked, 3 oz. almonds, 3 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons melted butter, ½ teaspoon each cinnamon and orange flower water, 1 egg, yolk and white beaten separately, 2 tablespoons coffee extract, glaze (see below). Pound the almonds to a paste or put through nut blade of food grinder twice, and pound again with the sugar and the 1 unbeaten egg; add melted butter, cinnamon and orange flower water. Beat together the beaten egg yolk and stiff egg white, add coffee extract, beat again. Combine mixture and pour into pastry-lined pie plate. Bake 35 minutes at 375 deg. Fahr. As soon as taken from oven spread with glaze: cook together 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon water, 1 tablespoon sherry, for 1 minute. Serve pie cold — it is usually served with whipped cream or Baumert cheese.

Menus For Special Purposes

By MARY MOORE

Low-Calorie Dinner
Split Weiners (2) on (200 cal.);
French Mustard
Casserole of Green Beans (see note) (40 cal.)
Mixed Diced Carrots and Parsnips (40 cal.)
Baked Spy Apples (100 cal.)
Clear Coffee (0 cal.)

High-Calorie Low-Cost Dinner
Stuffed Baker Calves' Hearts with Pan Roasted Jacket Potatoes
Tossed Cabbage, Carrot and Cress Salad with Mayonnaise
Mincemeat Tarts with Cheese
Coffee

One-Burner Dinner
Boiled Fresh Pork Shak with White Beans boiled in pork liquor
Tomato Jelly Molds on Leaf Lettuce with Mayonnaise
Toasted Hot Cross Buns with Orange Marmalade Coffee

Directions:

Almost by mistake I ran across this method of doing canned green beans: Mix 1 egg yolk and 2 tablespoons cooking oil and 1 teaspoon cornstarch together and make into a paste with the liquid from 1 can beans; Stir beans into it, sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika and pour into buttered casserole. Cover top with split weiners and place in hot oven until heated through and wieners are tinged golden.

For the one-burner dinner soak 1 lb. white beans overnight. Add cold water to the pork shank and when it boils, time it — it must have 3¼ hours boiling. When it has broiled 1¼ hours add the soaked beans, 2 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon black pepper, 1 tablesoon grated onion, and ½ teaspoon mustard, cover and simmer slowly until both meat and beans are tender. This dish is even better on the second day.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, March 31.

There are excellent prospects of the lightening of the current burden, not only by marshalling of all forces, resources and advantages, but by the friendly intervention of influential persons, impressed by the direct, aggressive and practical tackling of a difficult and stubborn problem. Shrewd and astute measures, with industry, perseverance and unwavering faith in final outcomes, not only in one's own efforts but in timely aid of outsiders are important. Work for high goals.

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be blessed with a far vision of success and high achievement following defeat and frustration of major menace. The long view of final results, backed up by logical planning, industry, unflagging energy and confidence, are bound to attract concrete assistance from influential sources, ready to give due consideration to worthy and realistic effort, diligence and persistency when the going seems all but hopeless and frustration inevitable.

A child born on this day may be well armed for defeat, impediment and frustration by its realistic evaluation of underlying factors, with the vim, courage and determination to win against all odds. This gaining friendly aid from influential sources.

South Africa Enlists Women

CAPETOWN, South Africa, March 30—(CP)—A women's defence corps will in future form part of the South African permanent forces. Recruiting has just been opened for shorthand typists, telephonists, radar operators, dental nurses, ambulance drivers and other occupations in which women proved their ability in the war.

Period of service has been set at three years. Members of the corps will be engaged with the rank of private, but adjustment of rank may be made when experience and service are considered. Applicants must be between the ages of 16 and 40, be unmarried, widowed or divorced, and must have passed the junior certificate examination or its equivalent. The highest rank attainable is major.

COMMUTING COSTS $223.80

PENSE, Sask, — (CP). — Phyliss Lowery and Mrs. Rhoda Taylor live in this community 22 miles west of Regina and commute daily to their jobs in the city. They take a morning train at 7, arrived in the city at 7.25, and leave for home at 8 p.m. Their commuting bill is $23.80 a month — each.

GRACEFUL PASTEL GLOVES—It is the gloved hand that directs the flow of fashion this year, as the glove emerges in new beauty and interest. No longer does the old slip-on glove do for almost every occasion, not when our leather glove manufacturers are turning out all sorts of pretty designs, as well as the sturdy everyday classics. Available in pastel colors is this glove of washable glace kid. Shown here, it is in powder blue with a puff cuff made of inserts of alternating blue and blush pink leather.

Your Canned Fruit Supply Will Make Glamorous Dishes

By MARY MOORE

Sugar is no longer in short supply, so we can use rhubarb as often as we want it.

There is a rumor that pineapples will be permitted entry into Canada next month.

The warm sun is bringing the green shoots out on our own strawberries . . .

. . . So we can pull out all the stops on using our winter's supply of canned fruits — and what a relief. Spring is officially and actually here.

A recipe for Peach Fluff Pudding is what started me off on this little piece, It, theoretically, should have served six, but three of us demolished it in one sitting. I have given you two batters: one, a sponge cake, for company; the other, a cottage-pudding-type-batter for the family.

PEACH FLUFF PUDDING
(2 Choices of Batters).

In saucepan place 2 cups sliced peaches, drained, and ½ cup syrup from peaches. Bring to boiling point, then add 1½ tablespoons minute tapioca and 1/3 cup sugar mixed together. Boil 1 minute. Remove from heat, add 1 tablespoon lemon juice, and pour into greased pudding dish. Cover with Sponge Cake Batter: Onto sheet of paper sift ½ cup flour, ¾ teaspoon baking powder, and shake of salt. Measure ½ cup sugar Beat 2 egg whites until stiff, and gradually add half of the sugar while beating. Beat the 2 egg yolks with 1½ tablespoons cold water until thick, and gradually add the remaining sugar to them while beating. Add 2 teaspoons lemon juice or ½ teaspoon lemon extract, beat 2 minutes, then fold in beaten egg whites. Sift over it the sifted dry ingredients and fold in, using rubber scraper. Pour this over the peaches in pudding dish (or use as a plain sponge cake). Bake at 325 deg. Fahr. for 50 minutes. Nice served with whipped or pouring cream.

Cottage Pudding Batter: Sift 2 cups four with 2½ teaspoons baking powder and ¼ teaspoon salt; work 4 tablespoons shortening until creamy and gradually add ¾ to ⅞ cup granulated sugar, then 1 unbeaten egg. Beat until creamy. Sift in dry ingredients, one-third at a time, alternately with ¾ cup milk mixed with 1 teaspoon vanilla. Pour over peaches in pudding dish and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 50 minutes. (As you can see this a recipe for a one-egg plain cake.)

Does anyone else have, like me, a lot of canned plums left over? I think I must can too many of them, because they are so easy to do.

When I send the children to the basement for a can of fruit, telling them to bring anything they prefer, it is always peaches or pears or black cherries or pineapple they come up with. The plums are passed over. So I have been doing the selecting and here is a quick steamed pudding I used them in:

QUICK STEAMED PLUM PUDDING

Place one or two stoned plums in bottom of 6 or 8 greased custard cups. Add batter of 2/3 depth of custard cup: Sift together 1 cup bread flour, 1½ tablespoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt. Add ½ cup milk and mix quicky. (This is very similar to a dumpling mixture.) Place in steamer, cover tightly, and steam exactly 12 minutes. Serve with Hot Plum Sauce: Mix together ¼ cup sugar and 1 tablespoon cornstarch; add syrup from the plums made up to 1¼ cups with boiling water, and cook, stirring until it thickens, then cook over boiling water 5 minutes. Add shake of salt, 2 tablespoons orange or lemon juice and bit of butter.

CHERRY BREAD PUDDING

(This is fast, economical and good.) Scald 2 cups milk in top of double boiler; add 1 cup stale breadcrumbs, 1 tablespoon butter and ¼ cup sugar. Let cool. Add 1 egg, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 cup drained canned, stoned cherries. Put in buttered baking dish and bake 1 hour at 325 deg. Fahr. Serve with sauce made from canned cherry juice thickened with cornstarch and flavored with almond flavoring.

Urges Teachers Emphasize Qualities of The Mind

TORONTO, March 30 —(CP)— School teachers should put more emphasis on qualities of the mind and give students a better understanding of history, Premier Drew believes.

He told the annual banquet of the Ontario Secondary Schools Headmasters Association last night that besides science and arts, teachers should realize that appreciation of true values in life is the highest attainment of our education system.

The banquet formed part of the annual convention of the Ontario Educational Association which opened here yesterday with more than 5,500 delegates in attendance.

"We have improved our school system physically, but we are not producing many Shakespeares and Aristotles, who had very little in the way of scientific aids to education," said the premier, who is also Ontario minister of education.

Must Give Reality

The premier said it is essential that teachers, who are leaders of thought, interpret their course of studies in regard to local conditions which will give students a sense of reality about their learning.

A panel meeting of school inspectors decided pupils should not be compared with others in the class when test papers were marked. Test papers should be a guide to the teacher as to the progress of the pupil and marks should not be held up which were likely to embarrass him. Dr. Florence Dunlop, Ottawa public psychologist, said that intelligence tests are not the last word on a pupil's ability.

Members of the executive of the Ontario Separate School Trustees went on record as favoring a federation rather than a single trustee organization for the province.

They felt the federation plan would allow smaller groups a certain voice in their own governing.

Too Much Education

In another address, B. K. Sandwell, editor of Saturday Night, said Canada is producing more educated men and women than the national economy can afford. He said only an increase in manual workers will slow down the migration of professional and technical workers to the United States.

Dr. Henry Bowers, principal of Stratford Normal School, said that candidates for teaching positions, who have personality traits which render them poor risks as members of the teaching profession, can now be eliminated by careful pre-training selection.

New York Leads Stock Decline

By The Canadian Press

Canadian stock exchanges resume trading today after a three-day Easter holiday.

Since their last sessions on Thursday, the New York advance has faltered, with slight declines Saturday and yesterday, but with no definite reason given beyond technical readjustment and a tendency to wait for developments in the United States coal strike and the international situation.

The big news in the Canadian economic picture today, which may have some market reaction, is the decision of the board of transport commissioners on the application of Canadian railways for freight rate increases.

Annual Reports

Various companies in their annual reports this year give a caution that present high earnings can suffer quickly from a turn in the economic picture, and the low prices of issues on the stock exchanges has also been evidence of this feeling. Latest to report is Canadian Industries, Ltd., which comments:

"As selling prices have been kept at a minimum, the relationships between costs, prices and profits are becoming increasingly distorted. Profits, therefore, be vulnerable to any marked reduction in the volume of sales."

FEW INHABITED.

There are about 3,000 islands in the Bahamas, including coral reefs, but only 20 are inhabited.

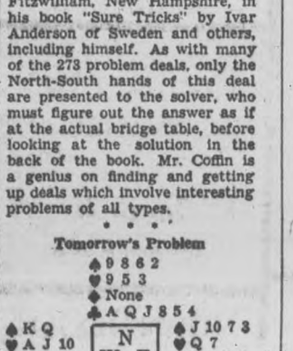
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

ORDER OF EVENTS VITAL

WHETHER one particular development occurs before or after some other occurrence decides the fate of many a contract. This is dramatically so in the case of entries and stoppers in relationship to the establishing of a suit. If the suit gets set up before your side entry is gone, or before the defenders have removed your last stopper in their suit, then you can run it. If either of those events comes before the suit establishment, however, you are usually in trouble.

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	3 ♦	Pass
3 NT



If West leads the heart 8 against that contract, every South player would be tempted to play low from the dummy in order to assure himself four tricks in the suit, even if the finesse against the K loses. But closer study shows that this can beat his contract. East, if he has the K and wins the first heart, can switch to a spade and knock out the stopper. South then has only eight tricks ready to run—his one in spades, four in hearts and three in clubs. To get the ninth, he must lead a diamond. When the A wins that, the defenders can set him with spade tricks.

Brief study will show a sure way to make game by winning with the heart A and leading a diamond before the spade A is gone. This will produce four tricks in diamonds, since dummy's blocking honors can be discarded on South's clubs. The seven minor suit tricks plus two aces make an airtight game.

This deal is one of those published by George S. Coffin, of Fitzwilliam, New Hampshire, in his book "Sure Tricks" by Ivar Anderson of Sweden and others, including himself. As with many of the 273 problem deals, only the North-South hands of this deal are presented to the solver, who must figure out the answer as if at the actual bridge table, before looking at the solution in the back of the book. Mr. Coffin is a genius on finding and getting up deals which involve interesting problems of all types.

Obituary

MRS. ELLEN McPHERSON

COE HILL, March 30—Mrs. Ellen McPherson, pioneer resident of Chandos for 70 years, passed away at her residence in Coe Hill March 23. She was 77 years of age. Her husband, Duncan McPherson, predeceased her one year ago.

Born in Chandos in 1870 she married and settled on a farm there, and in 1939 when they lost their home by fire, they moved to the village of Coe Hill.

She had been in failing health for four years and was confined to bed the past 11 months.

She is survived by a daughter, Marion, Mrs. H. F. Maloney, RN, of Detroit, who has been with her mother the past year.

The funeral, which was held on Friday, was largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. F. Wicks, who was assisted by Rev. F. Whitely. Burial was in the United Cemetery, Coe Hill.

W. H. Armstrong Dies

TORONTO, March 30.—(CP).—William Henry Armstrong, 88, for many years superintendent of the Stormont Light and Power Co., in the Cornwall district, died here yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Herbert Poapst. Before coming to Toronto in 1944, Mr. Armstrong lived for 12 years in Thorold. Besides his widow, he is survived by three sons, Dr. W. E. Armstrong of Washington, George E. Armstrong and Arnold Armstrong, both of Toronto.

Weatherman National Hero In Great Britain

By STUART UNDERHILL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The weatherman was a national hero in Britain today—he accurately forecast sunny days which made the long week-end holiday for many people "the best Easter ever."

The economic crisis, food shortages and Communist scares were filed away from Thursday night to Tuesday morning. Under cloudless skies, Britons in the millions dug in ntheir backyards, happily peddled bicycles along country lanes or crammed into buses and trains for a glimpse of the seashore.

Even newspapers grew lyrical over the Easter gift of good weather. Some gave up precious front-page space to photographers of rural scenes, complete with suitable quotations.

Everybody Happy.

Some holiday editions devoted whole pages to springtime features including the sound advice not to dig too hard or too long in the garden for fear of straining flabby muscles.

Meteorologists attributed the prolonged good weather to an "anti-cyclone" extending over the British Isles.

Despite the lure of the outdoors, religious observances were not forgotten and churches were crowded for Good Friday and Easter services.

Britons returned today to their desks and work benches. But for years to come they'll say: "Ah, do you remember that lovely Easter of 1948?"

MORE ABOUT—
Increase Of 21 PC

board's 21-per-cent order were listed by the chief commissioner as follows:

1. Grain and grain products from all points on all lines west of Fort William to Fort William, Port Arthur and Armstrong, Ont.

2. Grain and grain products from all prairie points to British Columbia ports for export.

3. Grain and grain products for domestic consumption between western Canadian points, including feed grains.

4. Joint international rates between Canada and the U.S., which have been increased in the last couple of years by the inter-state commerce commission of the U.S.

5. Rates between U.S. points on traffic passing through Canada.

6. Exports and import rates to or from Canadian ports which now are on a parity with rates to or from U.S. ports. This would preclude rises on certain hauls to Maritime ports.

7. Agreed charges, demurrage and penalty charges. The agreed charges — contracts between the railways and individual shippers —may be renegotiated on their expiration at modified increases."

The 64,000-word majority judgment also reserved for the board the right to rescind its order at any time should it decide the railways are obtaining more than enough revenue to keep them operating efficiently.

Monthly Statements

The decision says the companies will have to furnish the board monthly statements of their operating revenues, operating expenses and net income.

"Should the board at any time be of the opinion that a greater amount of money is being paid to the railway companies than is actually necessary to enable them to maintain a reasonable degree of operating efficiency, the board reserves the right at any time, on notice, to readjust the rates to meet the conditions then existing," the judgment said.

"On the other hand," it added, "should the amount of advance in rates authorized prove to be insufficient, the railways can always apply again."

On one of the hardest-fought issues of the freight rate battle, the Board sided with the contention of counsel for seven provinces that the Canadian Pacific Railway should be taken as the standard for determining the need for rate increases.

On the basis of the C.P.R.'s requirements and actual results for 1947, the Board found that company had a "deficiency" in gross revenue of $30,345,000 for that year.

The amount of traffic to which a percentage increase would apply, apart from the coal and coke increase would be $137,285,000, giving that company some $27,000,000 in revenue from this source. The balance would be made up from coal and coke and lesser items.

On that basis, the extra revenue accruing to the larger Canadian National Railways would be in the vicinity of $40,000,000.

That would make a total of about $70,000,00 in added revenue for the two major companies, with perhaps another $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 distributed among the 21 other small railways that joined in the application for higher rates.

The Board did not accept the contention of Maritimes counsel in the inquiry that the Maritime freight rates act of 1927—providing lowered charges on some freight hauls in the Maritimes—precluded an increase on those rates under this application.

The Maritimes had contended the railways failed to show railway operating costs had gone up since 1927. The Board, agreeing that the railways had failed to do this, nevertheless made its own survey on that point and concluded operating costs were up 29.6 per cent from 1927 and included the seaboard provinces in the general rate increase.

Heads Comment

MONTREAL, March 30.—(CP)—The amount of the freight rate increase granted by the Board of Transport Commissioners would fall far short of minimum requirements 'but for the unprecedented traffic volume," chiefs of the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company said in a joint statement today.

"It is equally apparent," said the statement issued by R. C. Vaughan, C.N.R. president, and W. A. Mather, C.P.R. president, "that either further increases in operating costs or a decline in traffic volume may necessitate an application for further relief."

"We are naturally pleased that the Board of Transport Commissioners has recognized the need of the railways for an increase in freight rates," the statement said. 'The extent of the relief granted under the Board's order cannot be determined without some study.

"It is clear, however, that but for the unprecedented traffic volume the amount of the increase would fall far short of minimum requirements.

"It is really apparent that either further increases in operating costs or a decline in traffic volume may necessitate an application for further relief."

PERSONALITIES IN THE NEWS—The spotlight shone on Leroy H. Luckey, above, left, a Dallas, Texas aircraft dealer, when he told a House executive expenditures subcommittee on surplus property how he shipped B-24 engines purchased as war surplus to Russia and Poland in 1947. Luckey testified tthat 30 of the engines were shipped to Russia and 16 to Poland upon direction of Alpine Corp., of Washington. The aircraft dealer said that during 1947 he purchased approximately 1,400 engines from the war assets administration at an average price of $214, and sold them at prices ranging from $1,795 to $2,500. Meanwhile Saskatchewan's new lieutenant-governor, John M. Urich, above, right, performed his first official act after he was sworn into office by signing 23 orders-in-council. Camera caught U.S. Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan, below, left, as he told U.S. Congress that mysterious submarines have been operating off the shores of the United States. He said that subs "not belonging to any nation west of the iron curtain have been sighted off our shores." Eyes of the world are on Italy as the April 18th election draws near. Stream Of Oratory In Session Leaves Much Unfinished Business

By GEORGE KITCHEN.

OTTAWA, March 30—(CP)—Parliament, in the three months preceding the current Easter recess, has blown off a couple of million words of oratory, carrying with it the hard core of the session's legislative program but still leaving a sizeable chunk of unfinished business.

On the surface, the achievement appears small, with only 13 bills passed by the sometimes boisterous Commons and its stately elder brother, the Senate, since the sitting began December 5, but those measures include the backbone of the government's so-called emergency legislation.

Most of the emergency bills found the legislative going rough and rocky and the Commons, not to mention the Senate, frequently talked itself into a fighting, angry mood which ended only with a flurry of votes settling the issue.

Challenge Rulings

But not all the divisions came on the legislative side of the program. More than once the division bells sounded as the Opposition parties challenged a Speaker's ruling or sought the tabling of documents which the government felt should be kept secret.

The most controversial of the division-producing issues was that revolving around the report of the Royal Commission which in 1942 investigated the dispatch of the Canadian expedition to Hong Kong. A long Progressive Conservative fight for the production of the Commission's evidence ended with the government tabling 1,000,000 words of testimony and 300 exhibits but keeping secret documents which it said the British Government had refused permission to make public.

Of the emergency bills adopted, possibly the most important was one empowering the government to continue until March 31, 1949, wartime orders giving force to rental, price and other controls.

Say Tax Illegal

A storm of opposition arose over another measure to give the statutory authority to the 25 per cent excise tax imposed in the November 18 dollar-saving austerity program. Opposition members charged that the tax, since it was imposed at a time when Parliament was prorogued, was illegal and without constitutional authority.

Equally contentious was a measure amending the Canadian Wheat Board Act which would, with the passage of complementary legislation by the Prairie provinces, introduce state marketing of oats and barley, the two main livestock feeds. The bill also authorized the 20 cents a bushel in the initial wheat price just announced.

At one stage, a full-dress debate developed on the evils of Communism, with all parties expressing vigorous opposition to the Red doctrine.

Missionary Decides Not To Claim Estate

BRACEBRIDGE, March 30 —(CP).— The Lord of Sinnington Manor, in Yorkshire, England, will not claim the extensive estate left him by his sister.

Instead, the 79-year-old Rev. William Kendall, who forsook a law career in Britain to come to Canada as a missionary student, intends to live out his days on the Muskoka district Indian reservation where he and his Indian wife found happiness.

Hilda Kendall, who died in England not long ago after living as a recluse for 30 years, left her wealth to the brother who came to Canada at the turn of the century.

Mrs. Kendall, a member of the Iroquois tribe, died in 1946.

Haifa Train Blown Up; 40 Killed

Engine, Four Coaches Derailed As 60 Others Hurt

JERUSALEM, March 31 (AP). —A train from Cairo to Haifa was blown up to-day on the coastal plain, killing 40 persons and injuring 60, the government announced. Most of the victims were Arabs.

The blast occurred at Binyamina, 20 miles south of Haifa. The engine and four coaches of the train, enroute to Haifa, were derailed.

A government spokesman said he believed there were few if any British among the casualties.

Four Arabs and three Jews were killed in sporadic gunplay elsewhere.

A dozen Jews raided an army camp near Haifa, police said, and stole a three-ton truck, a 12-ton steam roller and tools.

The Palestine government said three former British policemen, A British civilian and a German internee escaped Acre prison yesterday.

Today's blast occurred in a predominantly Jewish area, and observers expressed belief it was Jewish retaliation for Arab attacks on Jewish transport. Trackage along the right-of-way was ripped up.

Jewish highway convoys particularly have been under attack, and a critical food shortage has developed in Jerusalem's Jewish sector. A high government spokesman said earlier today that the food shortage could be eased if the Jewish agency co-operated with the government and the army. He said the Jews had not sought government help in escorting convoys to Jerusalem.

Jews said their food supplies were "dangerously low." Items already rationed by the Jews themselves are bread, at about three slices a day, one egg a week—two for children—butter and sugar. Meat so far is unrationed, but extremely scarce. save for sausages and dried meat products.

The rationing apparently was necessitated by continued Arab attacks on Jewish convoys and other interference in the moving of food and supplies to the city's 100,00 Jews.

Mob Storms Communist Leader's Home

Crowd Breaks Windows And Furniture After Two Weeks' Heckling

COLUMBUS, O., March 31 — (CP).—Two weeks of heckling by stones and telephone calls were climaxed last night by the storming of the home of a self-proclaimed Communist leader.

A crowd of 300 watched and cheered, 30 or 40 persons who broke into the southside house occupied by Frank Hashmall, 28-year-old former New York college student. He, his wife and child were absent.

Before police came to read the Riot Act, the gang broke all the windows and much of the furniture, but left untouched four bookcases filled with Communist and other literature.

A stone was thrown through Hashmall's window Saturday. Then two men knocked on his door. There was a disturbance and all three went to police headquarters. Hashmall failed to file a complaint and the men were released but police promised to patrol his street.

Last night's affray started after the gang began throwing stones through the windows. A patrol car scattered them, but an hour later they returned.

To File Suit

CLEVELAND, March 31 — (AP). — The Communist party announced today it would file a damage suit against the Columbus citizen and Franklin county for the wrecking of party leader Frank Hashmall's home.

In a statement, Gus Hall, chairman of the Communist party of Ohio, said the "mob attack was inspired by the Citizen and carried through by a German Nazi element, a military organization at Fort Hayes, and followers of the Association of Catholic Trade Unionists."

Both Sides Making Concessions

New Money Agreement Will Float Britain Till ERP Commences

OTTAWA, March 31 (CP). — Britain and Canada will announce to-morrow a short-term extension of arrangements for financing of British purchases of Canadian foodstuffs, it was learned authoritatively to-day.

This extension will cover the period between to-day, when the financial arrangements were due to expire and the date when the United States European recovery program aid becomes available to Britain. It was said the new arrangement involves "concessions" on both sides.

Linked to 2 Contracts

The financing arrangement is linked to food contracts negotiated at the year-end and involving shipment to Britain of bacon, beef, cheese and eggs during 1948. It also includes the four-year Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement now in its second year.

When the contracts were negotiated, an arrangement also was reached enabling Britain to pay for the foodstuffs by drawing on the Canadian loan for the first three months of this year. This arrangement ends today.

The extension tomorrow will enable Britain to continue to draw from the loan until the E. R. P. legislation is passed by the U.S. Congress and funds from it become available to the United Kingdom. This may take several weeks.

Details of the extension arrangement could not be determined but they may mean that during April, Britain will draw $15,000,000 from the balance of the Canadian loan, financing the remainder of the deficit in U.S. dollars.

About $242,000,000 remains of the Canadian loan of $1,250,000,000 negotiated two years ago.

Elizabeth Cuts Engagements

LONDON, March 31—(Reuters)—A Buckingham Palace official told Reuters News Agency today that Princess Elizabeth had made no further engagements after June but refused to comment on persistent rumors that she and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh were expecting a baby in October. The usual procedure for announcing an expected birth in the Royal Family is an official notice from a Royal residence that the member of the family "will not," for the next few months, be undertaking any further engagements."

These announcements in the cases of the Duchess of Kent and the Duchess of Gloucester came four full months before the births of their children.

The last announcement of this kind was the cancelling of engagements for the Duchess of Gloucester April 11, 1944. Her second son, Prince Richard, was born on Aug. 26.

Build Nursery

No such public announcement was made for the expected birth of Princess Elizabeth herself but when the Queen, then the Duchess of York, was expecting her second child, Princess Margaret, an announcement with similar wording appeared in the press April 15, 1930. On Aug. 21, Princess Margaret was born at Glamis Castle, Scotland.

It has been confirmed by Buckingham Palace that a nursery floor is being built into Clarence House, London, which will not be ready for Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip until early next year.

It has also been reported that Princess Elizabeth has given up horseback riding.

An official at Norman Hartnell's, the Queen's dressmaker who made Princess Elizabeth's wedding dress for her marriage last Nov. 20, said that the Princess had ordered no new clothes for the summer.

British Will Not Permit Russian Soldiers To Board Military Trains In Germany

BERLIN, March 31 (AP). — A Russian plan for a new and stringent control on traffic between the western and Russian zones of Germany ran into British opposition today.

The Russians informed the British, French and American headquarters they plan to tighten controls on the traffic.

British authorities rejected a Soviet demand for a Russian inspection of British military trains travelling through the Russian zone and ordered British train commanders not to permit Russian soldiers aboard.

Lt.-Gen. G. S. Lukyanchenko, Russian chief of staff, said yesterday that demands on traffic arteries through the Russian occupation zone made necessary a reconsideration of their use.

The general said the one-track rail line and the superhighway to Berlin through Russian-held territory from western Germany would have to be put under a new control.

5 Bison Players Arrested After Fight

NEW HAVEN, March 31 (AP) —Five members of the Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League were arrested early today on a charge of breach of the peace following an altercation in a New Haven restaurant.

During the altercation, police said, Wallace Holland, 23, of New Haven, a counterman, was injured so severely he was taken to hospital where his condition was reported as "fair."

Those under arrest are: Joe Bell, 24, of Portage La Prairie, Man.; Tommy Cooper, 30, of Winnipeg; Mike McMahon, 32, of Brockville; Les Douglas, 29, of Perth; and Leslie Hickey, 27, of Winnipeg.

They originally were ordered held in bonds of $500 each but the bond was increased to $2,500 each when Holland's lawyer told the court his client apparently was injured severely.

At hospital a spokesman said Holland had a critical injury to his left eye with a haemorrhage just behind it. X-rays were to be taken to determine if the counterman had a fractured skull.

Police said the five players entered the restaurant shortly before 4 a.m. and ordered food from Counterman George Wilson. Holland, off duty, was eating nearby.

The trouble started, police said, when two of the players became abusive to Wilson and a "little cereal was thrown around." Wilson threatened to call the police and Holland was quoted as saying that was the thing to do. The players then pounced upon Holland, police said.

Education High On List In 1948 Ontario Budget

TORONTO, March 31—(CP).—Education will provide one of the big items in the 1948 Ontario budget when Provincial Treasurer Frost brings it down either Thursday or Friday. Education is a direct responsibility of Premier Drew, who holds the portfolio of that department and the Government has promised that grants this year will be "substantially" higher than last year's $30,134,336.

The budget and housing loom as the top items of business for the Legislature to consider when it resumes after its five-day Easter recess.

Legislation enabling the Government to sponsor some program of finance to stimulate construction in Ontario is expected.

Federal Trade Minister Howe's statement last week that the Dominion will discontinue its proposed low-rental program in Ontario pointed up provincial housing difficulties. Mr. Howe said the reason for the move was the Ontario government's crown tenants taxation bill which has been given second reading.

Matters expected to figure in the budget include appropriations to provide for what the government has said will be assistance to the communities in Ontario which depend on gold mining. No indication has been given as to what form this assistance will take.

Promised mining legislation would place 14 geological parties in the field, one to investigate potential iron areas in southeastern Ontario. Other measures still to come implement recommendations of the forestry report and the milk report of Mr. Justice Dalton Wells.

Police Officers Receive Threats

TORONTO, March 31 — (CP). — Laid low by police bullets in an ambush in a darkened warehouse, Norman Bailey, 25, and Albert Smith, 26, battled for life today in a hospital ward. A companion, William Poole, 27, was shot to death during what police described as an attempt to rob the Toronto Florists Co-operative Company.

A fourth man, alleged to have acted as lookout and as driver of a getaway car, was arrested two hours after the shooting early yesterday. He gave his name as Edward Blair, 24.

Blair and his 21-year-old wife, Frances, appeared in court yesterday. The former was remanded in custody until April 6. His wife was freed on $1,000 bail and will face trial on the same date. At the time of the robbery Blair was on $10,000 bail for attempted robbery at Fort Erie.

Bailey, Smith and Blair were charged with shopbreaking and having burglars' tools. They were remanded to April 6.

Two telephoned threats were made last night against the lives of two officers involved in the shooting. Police said they had a good idea of the source of the calls but would give the plainclothesmen no special protection

"They can look after themselves," an official said.

A maroon coupe said to have been seen near the warehouse Thursday was seized by police after the shooting. Police officials said it was owned by an underworld character and that they had asked that the owner's licence be cancelled.

Russia Eases Peace Terms

LONDON, March 31 — (AP).— Russia eased her terms for an Austrian peace settlement to-day.

The Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, N. P. Koktimov said Russia would accept $150,000,000 in cash, with payments spread over six years, as a partial settlement for Austrian property formerly German-owned. Russia claims the property under the Potsdam agreement.

Originally, Russia wanted $200,000,000 in cash in two years.

British observers said Koktimov entered the meeting of the Four-Power Foreign Ministers' deputies "apparently with new instructions from Moscow."

The United States, British, and French deputies expressed what the British observers called "qualified appreciation" of the offer, but delayed acceptance or rejection pending further study.

Finns Fear Communists Infiltrate Into Police

HELSINKI, March 31 — (AP). — Rightists in parliament and the Finnish press aimed a steady fire of criticism today at Finland's Communist Interior Minister. They voice the suspicion he has infiltrated the country's police force with Communists. The Interior Minister, Yrjo Leino, is in Moscow as a member of a seven-man Finnish delegation sent to negotiate a friendship and military pact with Russia. He must answer the charges before parliament when he gets back, but is not expected to reply for several weeks.

There has been no announcement either here or in Moscow as yet concerning conclusion of the treaty, suggested by Prime Minister Stalin. Reliable sources said Finnish President Juho K. Paasikivi summoned the chairmen and vice-chairmen of the six party blocs in parliament to meet with him this afternoon. He took a similar step when Stalin's letter suggesting the pact arrived five weeks ago.

At the same time, Finns paid considerable attention to what the press calls the question of "the Communists and the police." Parliamentary leaders of all parties to the Right have asked the government what it is doing to halt alleged recruiting of Communist-minded persons for the secret police, the mobile corps and other vital police branches, and the assignment of police powers to private persons.

Hertta Kuusinen, Leino's wife and one of the leaders of the Communist party in Finland, said in a speech last week:

'Finland must follow the same road as Czechoslovakia."

Responsible Finnish sources claim that Leino, who has been running the interior ministry for three years, has completed a thorough re-organization of his department, bringing in men he deems "reliable." Aarne Writa, commander of the mobile police force for Finland as a whole, denied parliamentary charges that his organization was trying to recruit only men with Communist views.

Recruit 2,500 For Jewish Army

NEW YORK, March 31.—(AP). —Maj. Samuel Weiser, commander of the Hebrew Legion of England, reports approximately 2,500 men have been recruited here by the American League for a Free Palestine to fight for a Jewish state in the Holy Land.

Three hundred, most of them war veterans, volunteered last night at a rally in Madison Square Park to enlist in an international force in Palestine. More than 2,500 persons attended the recruiting rally, sponsored by the League.

Weiser, who spoke at the rally, came to the United States three weeks ago to spearhead the recruiting. State Department officials in Washington have said that passports will not be issued to Americans seeking to fight in Palestine.

Former boxing champion Barney Ross, 38-year-old wounded Marine Corps veteran who had volunteered earlier, told the Madison Square Park rally that "all I have left is my heart and two good hands to talk for me."

Ross told reporters that Washington's attitude toward passports "will not halt my resolve to go."

Turn Jail Upside Down Seek Escape Devices

TORONTO, March 31 (CP). — The Don jail has been inspected from cellar to attic for prison-breaking devices.

Word of the search caused excitement here yesterday when coupled with rumors of a plot to free Max Beaver, awaiting transfer to penitentiary to serve a four-year term for illegal possession of drugs.

Walter Rayfield, VC, jail governor, said last night the search turned up no files, saws or other devices dear to the break-out fraternity. Nor did he know of any projected liberation of Beaver.

At the time of his arrest, Beaver was described as a leader in Toronto's underworld narcotics traffic.

70 Japanese Die In Wreck

TOKYO, March 31 — (AP). — Between 50 and 70 Japanese were reported killed today in a train wreck near Osaka.

Kyodo News Agency said 50 Japanese had been killed. The United States army later boosted the figure to 70 and said the wreckage still was being probed for bodies.

Details were confused also.

Kyodo said the wreck occurred between Wakaeiwata and Hanazono on the Nara-Osaka line. It added that an electric connection broke and the train crashed when the brakes failed.

The army reported that the electric train was stopped at a station near Osaka and was hit by a speeding express.

Begin Investigating Black Market Butter

MONTREAL, March 30.—(CP). —A Prices Board spokesman said today an investigation had been launched into a black market and other illegal practices in butter in Montreal.

The announcement by the spokesman, who said the illegal operations existed on a "small scale," followed offers by some jewelry and drug merchants of free butter with purchases of $5 worth of goods or more.

Allow U.S. Citizens To Bring Vegetables

WINDSOR, March 31 (CP). — Celery, lettuce and other green vegetables can be brought into Canada by United States citizens under the regulation permitting the import of gifts not exceeding five dollars in value, Don F. Brown, Liberal member for Essex West said here today.

Since the "austerity" regulations came into effect last November, U.S. citizens coming to Canada with small purchases of vegetables have been refused permission to bring them across the border.

Mr. Brown said that Windsor customs officials wre instructed regarding the import of vegetables and there would be "no trouble" in the future.

German Government

BERLIN, March 31 (Reuters). —Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor here, today called for a government of Western Germany — failing an all-German one. He told the American University Club Germany "must have a government representative of the people and recognized abroad. The timing of this government is not important."

Greek Army Pushes Ahead In New Spring Offensive

ATHENS, March 31 (AP)—The Greek army's spring offensive seemed to be unfolding today as troops drove against Communist guerrillas in the snow-crusted mountains of northern Greece.

Fighting was reported on two mountainous fronts, along the southern Albanian border, and near the Yugoslav border north of Salonika.

The Greek general staff issued only a terse communique saying "clashes continued" in the Philiates and Crucia mountains areas. Philiates is near the west coast of Greece, northwest of Konitsa, and the Crucia mountains are northwest of Salonika.

Newspaper accounts in Athens said the army is gaining in a series of fights.

Artillery and rocket - firing Spitfire airplanes are being used to smash against an estimated 600 guerrillas in the Crucia mountains, only 10 to 15 miles from the Yugoslav frontier, press reports said.

A correspondent for the newspaper Embros said Spitfires attacked the village of Pontokerassia, believed to be a guerrilla headquarters, 25 miles north of Kilkis. Pilots reported the village seemed to be deserted.

A high military official at Salonika said the Crucia action is "of local importance against guerrilla forces composed of 500 to 600 rebels."

Heavy attacks by the army were reported 28 miles north of Mount Murgana in the Poginiani area. Mount Murgana is about a 4,500 feet peak and is surrounded on three sides by Albanian territory.

Refugees were reported steaming out of the battle area and into Ioannina, 20 miles from the Albanian frontier.

Pan-American Parley To Discuss Communism

BOGOTA, Colombia, March 31 — (AP). — Diplomats said today the Pan-American conference is almost certain to spell out a strong condemnation of Communist infiltration in the western world.

This attitude of the delegates became clear at yesterday's opening session when State Secretary Marshall of the United States received unanimous assurance that the question of subversive activities could be put on the conference program.

Marshall's query came as a surprise. Observers had not expected the United States to bring up Communism at the parley, called to discuss inter-American affairs of the 21 republics. Canada is not a member of the Pan-American Union.

Military Aid Clause Stalls Finnish Pact

HELSINKI, March 31 (Reuters) —Finland's insistence that Russia send her military aid only if specificially asked for, has caused a hitch in the Russo-Finnish negotiations for a military assistance and friendship pact, it was learned here tonight.

President Juho Paasikivi, his cabinet and leaders of parliamentary political groups, were meeting to work out fresh instructions for the Finnish delegates who have been negotiating the pact in Moscow for the last week.

Charge Freedom of Speech Is Imaginary In Canada

LONDON, March 31.—(CP). — Moscow radio said today there is no freedom of speech or freedom of the press for an overwhelming majority in Canada.

"According to the Canadian Press, the Canadian delegation at the Geneva conference on freedom of the press and information intends to take a firm stand; but representatives of the Canadian government, one may suppose, will not tell the conference that in Canada freedom of speech and the press already do not exist for an overwhelming majority of the population," a commentator said.

To support the thesis, the broadcaster said the "Progressive" Montreal newspaper Le Combat, serving "almost a third of the population," has been banned and the "Association of Canada Radio Industrialists" has "decreed not to admit Progressive (Communist) organizations to radio broadcasts."

The government of Quebec labelled Le Combat a Communist publication last month and closed it up.

The Soviet commentator said that all these activities deprived "the progressive working class" of an opportunity to take part in the elections.

"In March the Canadian government refused an entrance visa to the leader of the British Communist party, Harry Pollitt. In January the president of the Canadian Legion gave instruction to detachments of the Legion to exclude members whose political ideas were undesirable."

The commentator also alleged that there was an "offensive against the rights of trade unions."

Atom Bomb Supply Adequate For U.S.

WASHINGTON, March 31 — (AP). — The United States has "an adequate supply" of atom bombs and is steadily making more, Congress members said today.

They reported that this information came from David E. Lilienthal, Atomic Energy Commission chairman, during secret testimony before the House Appropriations Committee Feb. 28.

On the strength of Lilienthal's statements, the committee yesterday recommended an additional $150,000,000 for the Commission's work, the full amount asked.

While committee members were reluctant to discuss Lilienthal's testimony, they agreed privately with the statement of representative Frank Keefe (Rep.-Wis.) that "we have an adequate supply of bombs already manufactured."

Meanwhile, Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (Rep. Iowa) chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee said in an interview, he believes that if war comes again the United States should use the bomb with the aim of shortening the conflict and saving lives.

Call Special Session On Palestine

All Except Russia Give Approval; Veto May Be Used

LAKE SUCCESSS, March 31—(AP)—Barring a Russian veto, the United States proposal for a special Palestine session of the United Nations Assembly today appeared headed for acceptance.

One small-power delegate said he is convinced the assembly idea will get the necessary seven affirmative votes in the 11-member Security Council. Whether the Soviet Union will veto it is another matter.

If Russia does, the United States could, and probably will, have the 57 member countries polled to have a special session called by a simple majority of 29. The veto does not apply in this method.

The council adjourned abruptly yesterday after hearing United States Delegate Warren R. Austin and Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko. Its next meeting on Palestine is set for tomorrow afternoon.

Gromyko loosed a blistering attack on the United States, accusing Washington of sacrificing the U.N. partition project for oil and strategic military interests in the Middle East. He said it had not been proven, as held by Austin, that partition could not be put through by peaceful means.

The stinging Soviet speech marked a formal break in the rare previous American - Russian agreement on Palestine.

Russia is sticking to that decision. The United States is asking the special assembly to shelve parition and consider instead an interim U.N. trusteeship. The ultimate settlement of Palestine's political future should be left open, the United States says, with partition a possibility.

Seek Missing Heirs

LONDON, Ont., March 31—(CP).—A search for three missing heirs to proceeds of a $430,000 estate was ordered yesterday. The estate is that of Mrs. Elizabeth Lloyd, who died in 1890. Her will provided for sale of six blocks of property here when the last of her children died and for distribution of the proceeds among her grandchildren. Mrs. Grace Lloyd Taylor, the last surviving child, died in Toronto last June. But three grandchildren cannot be found.

Lindsay Police Hold Vagrant

LINDSAY, March 31—(ENS)—Charged with vagrancy, a 25-year-old man who said his name was Howard V. Lunt and that his home was in Dunnville was remanded in custody until Monday by Magistrate E. A. Gee in court Wednesday. O.P.P. Corp. Ralph Taylor said Lunt, who was picked up following a complaint that he was begging for meals in Omemee, had only 5 cents in his pocket when arested in that village March 25. He said Lunt's fingerprints are being checked with the RCMP.

Lunt said he was hitch hiking from Belleville to Hamilton, where he was going to receive an army pension cheque and medical check-up because of a lung injury suffered while in the European theatre during the war. He said he came up to highway 7 because hitch hiking was difficult, on highway number two. He had no army discharge papers and said he lost them in Belleville while seeking employment. He had no means of identification. Corp. Taylor stated accused protested he was a sick man and should not be kept in jail long. "You have no home and no job, you're better off where its warm", said Magistrate Gee. "It's not warm in that place" accused replied.

Industrials Pacing Gains On Exchange

TORONTO, March 31 (CP). — Industrials and base metals paced the upward trend for the second successive day on the Toronto Stock Exchange on good gains for key issues in each group. The golds showed moderate improvement while Western oils continued steady on narrow advances. Actions subsided appreciably and trading was concentrated on selected issues.

The Exchange's noon index showed industrials up 1.19 at 162.41, golds .64 at 94.06, base metals .82 at 86.35, Western oils .38 at 32.81. Volume for the first three hours was 432,000 shares, about 224,000 less than yesterday's siimlar period.

CPR was an active stock, but the trade was around yesterday's close of 14½. Newsprint and utilities showed good form with only the banks easier. Better stocks were Abitibi, Aluminum New, Bell, Burlington Steel, Brazilian, Canada Wire B, Distillers, Dominion Textiles, Fanny Farmer, Walker's, Massey-Harris, Moore, Weston, United Steel and International Paper. Western oils moved narrowly with better gainers Anglo-Canadian, Home Oil and Dalhousie.

Golds in the gain column were Central Patricia, Chesterville, Cochenour, Croinor, Donalda, Hollinger, Howey, Kerr Addison, Macassa, Malartic, Negus, Teck-Hughes, Pioneer, Pickle Crow, and Pamour. Advancing base metals included Smelters, Eureka, Hudson Bay, Nickel, MacDonald, Noranda, Steep Rock, Quemont and Pend Oreille.

In Terrible Condition

HAMILTON, March 31 (CP).—A Hamilton doctor testified yesterday that the four-months-old daughter of Mrs. Electra Cartmell weighed less at death than at birth, that her eyes were sunken, and the skin could be drawn up in loose folds. Dr. W. E. Lamont was testifying at the trial of the 27-year-old mother on charges of manslaughter and failure to provide necessities of life for the infant.

Franco Shuffle Predicted, Premier Likely

MADRID, March 31.—(AP).—Generalissimo Franco may reshuffle his cabinet and install a premier if Spain is included in the United States European recovery program, informed sources said today.

The United States House of Representatives voted 149 to 52 yesterday to designate Spain as a participant under the Marshall plan in the $6,205,000,000 foreign aid program. The House amendment still needs Senate approval.

Rumors claim that Franco plans to create a premier, who would head the cabinet, leaving the Generalissimo as chief of state.

Although all political parties were abolished by Franco decree and merged into the government part (Falange Espanola) there are several factions within Falangist ranks. These include the Fascist Falangists, the Requetes (Carlists) and the Monarchists. Carlists support the Bourbon pretender to the Spanish throne.

Prominently Mentioned

Most prominently mentioned for the position of premier, if it should be created, are Esteban Bilbao Eguita, president of the Spanish parliament, and Alberto Martin Artajo, minister of foreign affairs.

First news of the Congressional action reached Spain last night in regular nightly newscasts of the national radio. The report was followed by a commentary from Pedro Gomez Aparicio, general manager of the Spanish News Agency, Efe, who told his listeners:

'Spain has shown by her acts and her postiion that she can offer more than she could receive. The accord of the North American House is correction of an injustice. As such, we receive it with tranquility, confident as we have been that it would occur sooner or later."

Government press control offices took a similar tack. They ordered that the news be displayed "moderately" in this morning's papers.

It was reported yesterday Franco is ready to increase his army by about 300,000 men. This move, the report said, was to be taken because of the Communist threat in Europe, especially in Italy. There was no official confirmation.

Electric Sign Ban Lifted By Saunders

If Power Reserve Suddenly Reduced, Act On Short Notice

TORONTO, March 31 — (CP). — Display windows, theatre marquees and outdoor advertising signs again can blaze with electric light throughout Ontario. Lighting restrictions which went into effect last November have been lifted.

But Hydro officials emphasize that economy in the use of power still is needed.

"Generating resources are not unlimited," said R. H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, as he announced yesterday that improved water conditions had led to a substantial increase in the amount of power available to the southern Ontario system.

"Should the suspension of these regulations result in an abnormal increase in the use of electrical energy or should the power resources be substantially reduced from any cause whatsoever, it may be necessary either to reimpose the restrictions or allocate power on a quota basis."

Short Notice

That action might become necessary on short notice. Municipalities should "make plans accordingly."

The Commission hoped all consumers would use electricity efficiently, not wastefully, so that power might be kept available to meet the needs of agriculture and industry and avoid reimposition of restrictions.

"With this thought in mind, it is proposed to call a conference within the next few weeks of representatives from the municipalities and other interested groups to formulate plans for the control of the future use of available power."

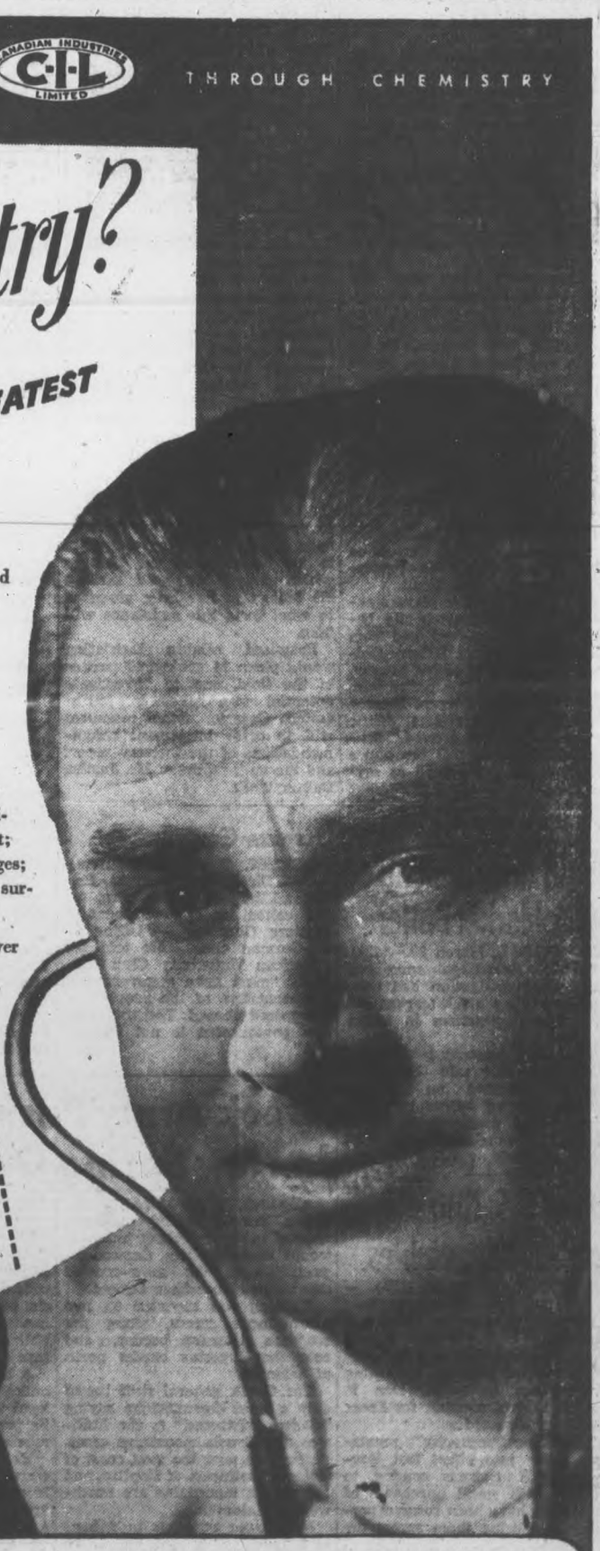
"Chemistry? IT'S MY GREATEST ALLY!"



THE DOCTOR is the only man who sees below the surface, who knows from first-hand experience what Chemistry means to health and to our general well-being.

Aside from its great work in water purification through chlorine and in disease prevention through pest destruction, it helps the medical man in countless other ways.

Chemistry produces light-conducting "Lucite" to be fashioned into instruments for internal examinations; X-Ray film, and chemicals for developing it; skin-grafting cement; sutures of nylon monofilament; cellulose sponges; anaesthetics and many other medical and surgical aids.

Yes, Chemistry is with us everywhere, ever seeking and finding new methods and materials. The C-I-L oval is the symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

Town Of Cobourg Debentures Are Snapped Up

COBOURG, March 31 (ENS).—The town of Cobourg's debenture issue of $168,000 for sewers of which $16,000 is for ten years and the balance for 20, drew an unusually fine tender from the bond house whose bid the town council accepted last night. There were twenty investment companies bidding for th issue, one of the largest responses to the tender advertisement in the history of the town.

The council accepted the bid of $168,984.48 at a rate of 100.586 on a 3¼ per cent issue. This represents a cost basis to the town of 3.1868. In the same tender, the 3 per cent issue was figured at $165,290.16 for a rate of 98.387 and a cost basis of 3.1736. On the 3½ per cent issue, it was $172,300.80 at 102.56 or a cost basis of 3.2238.

A half dozen representatives of bond houses attended the council meeting and after the acceptance of the tender of W. C. Harris and Co., Toronto, the mayor and council were complimented by H. A. Macdonald of the Midland Securities Company.

"I would like to congratulate the mayor and council on the excellent bid received. It is outstandingly high and reflects the confidence of the investment dealer and correspondingly the confidence of the investment buying public. It indicates how sound your financial standing is and I compliment you on it," Mr. Macdonald declared.

Council received word from the board of transport commission, in regard to the Ontario street crossing, that additional safety precautions were needed at this crossing and that the railway companies were being advised to install a safety gate.

Council decided that the regulations regarding licenses of vendors be looked into thoroughly.

Mayor Joe Smith told the council that a poll of 46 merchants in regard to whether they wanted the parking meters left in or taken out, resulted in 35 of them in favor of the meters and 11 against them. The fate of the parking meters will be decided in a few weeks.

BLAMES BEVERAGE ROOMS — Wives of two men wounded by police in Toronto when they tried to remove safe from florist's warehouse are Mrs. A Smith, left, and Mrs. Norman Bailey. "Norman is a good husband," Mrs. Bailey sobbed. She said her husband who had been quite a boxer in Kitchener before he joined the navy and had won several trophies "deserves punishment."

Brother and mother of Norman Bailey are Benny, 17, and Mrs. Walter Bailey. Mother blames beverage rooms, bad companions for getting her son into trouble. "They didn't come any better or finer than my Norman. That's the shock of it," she said.

Oshawa Airport To Be Extended

OSHAWA, March 31.—Facilities at the Oshawa Airport will be extended and the government will consider dredging and other improvements at the local harbor, Trade Minister C. D. Howe said here Tuesday. He paid a brief and what he described an "unofficial" visit to the Motor City. During the afternoon he addressed members of the local Liberal Association at a closed meeting.

The announcement regarding the airport and harbor is looked upon as an obvious move to bolster the Liberal position in the riding which has been unrepresented in Parliament since the death of W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal MP, last November.

"Work on the airport will be started as soon as possible," Mr. Howe said.

The Minister's visit is believed with an announcement of Ontario riding's by-election. Although no date has been publicly disclosed, Progressive Conservatives in the riding will select their candidate Monday.

Mr. Howe had no comment to make on the Crown lands legislation of the Ontario Government which places on the Dominion the responsibility of providing essential services to tenants in those cases where the municipality concerned has no authority to levy for such services.

Nabbed With Beer Pays Two Fines

COBOURG, March 31.—(ENS).—Herman Nelson of Cobourg, was remanded until April 5 when he appeared in police court yesterday on a charge of attempted sucide. Bail was set at $1,000. The charge was laid after the accused was pulled out of the harbor on March 23 by two ferry employees.

James Eads of Port Hope, was fined $10 each on charges of drunk in a public place and having liquor in an illegal place. Eads was picked up near the viaduct at Port Hope with a case of beer in his possession, some of it having been consumed. He told Magistrate R. B. Baxter that an acquaintance gave him the money to buy the beer while he went to get a hotel room in which to drink it. Eads said that when his friend didn't show up again, he took the beer down to the viaduct to drink it himself."

"That is the latest story I have heard," commented Magistrate R. B. Baxter.

Alphonse Loakas pleaded guilty to obtaining lodging without paying for it and was remanded until Friday.

Company, Trenton, was fined $3.50 and costs for driving with one front light out and a tail light not burning. D. Hathay of the The Quinte Drive-Yourself company explained that the car had been rented out and that he didn't know one light was out until he received the traffic summons. The light was out only on the driving beam. Provincial Constable Douglas Wilson told the court that traffic constables were under orders to lay charges where lights were not in good shape.

Think Appeal Against Rail Rates Likely

OTTAWA, March 31 — (CP). — Appeal against decision of the Board of Transport commissioners to grant a 21-per-cent freight-rate increase to Canadian railways today appeared likely.

Out of a maze of conflicting views came the statement of Premier Garson of Manitoba that opposing provinces—excluding Ontario and Quebec—would open discussions toward launching an appeal.

Although there was no immediate comment on Mr. Garson's statement, Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan said the prairies and Maritimes would do well to ask for a Royal Commission to review the decision.

An appeal would delay implementation of the Board's verdict — announced yesterday. It could come on one or both of two grounds — law or fact. On law the appeal would be heard by the Supreme Court of Canada; on fact —as seems likely—by the cabinet. There would be no reference to parliament.

Cross-country reaction was summed by Premier Jones of Prince Edward Island, one of the first government heads to speak: "It's pretty awful."

Some sympathy to the railways' position was given by labor officials. A. R. Mosher, President of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said: "They should have got more than even the 30 per cent they asked for."

J. W. Buckley, secretary-treasurer of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said he hoped the increase would mean a boost in railway workers' pay. That had been the experience of some other industries such as steel.

Oshawa Fireman Hurt Touches Live Wire

OSHAWA, March 31. — Leo Smith, Oshawa fireman, who tumbled from the top of a 25-foot extension ladder when his hands came into contact with a live extension wire, was taken to hospital here. Other firemen formed a human net to catch him, and one of them was injured.

Capt. George Roughley's shoulder was dislocated when Smith dropped on him and two others. Deputy-Chief Milton Osler said Smith had been removing fire alarm wires when he touched the live extension.

What The Housing Deadlock Means To Peterborough

In common with a great many other municipalities in Ontario, Peterborough has been dealt a severe blow by Mr. Howe's announcement that the Dominion Government will not go forward with its plans to build permanent, low-rental houses. As our readers know, the 1947 City Council made great efforts to arrange for the building of some of those houses in this city, and succeeded in getting a definite promise that two hundred houses would be built here. Working upon this understanding, the Council bought 130 building lots, and sought more property to be put to this use. The agreement with Central Mortgage and Housing was signed, and it seemed that work on the houses would soon begin. Mr. Howe's announcement has undone all that had been planned, and Peterborough is left with its housing problem and no ray of hope.

• • •

The reason for Mr. Howe's announcement, as everyone knows, is that a bill which might affect the properties built by Central Mortgage and Housing has been introduced into the Ontario Legislature; Mr. Howe fears that under the provisions of that bill municipal councils might default in their agreements with the Dominion building company. We feel very strongly that Mr. Howe need have no such doubts about Peterborough. This city needs those two hundred houses badly; a great many people who are now living in depressing conditions have kept up their spirits all winter by thinking that relief was within sight; the City Council has given every assurance that Peterborough will do its duty fully in this matter.

• • •

It will be a very great pity if what seems to be, at root, a clash of personalities should destroy a plan which has been so carefully made, and upon which so many hopes have been built. It will be very hard to explain to the ordinary citizen why the Premier of Ontario and the Dominion Minister of Reconstruction should be at loggerheads over a scheme which is obviously for the public good. It will not help democracy if it appears that many little men are to suffer because two great men cannot agree—and whatever the rights or wrongs of the matter this is how it will appear to people who are living in miserable houses, and who have hoped for something better. We feel that it is of the greatest importance that Mr. Howe and Mr. Drew should iron out this matter. It is precisely the kind of thing which can weaken a political reputation irremediably.

Catholicism Vs. Communism

A great deal of attention has been directed during the past ten days toward the resignation of Douglas Hyde, home news editor of the London Daily Worker, from that position, and the announcement of his intention of becoming a Roman Catholic. The connection with the resignation of Louis Budenz in 1945 from his post as managing editor of the New York Daily Worker has been pointed out, of course, but we have not seen the matter pursued as we think it should be. It seems obvious that the Roman Catholic Church, as well as throwing the weight of its influence against Communism, is taking steps to proselytize among Communists, and has had some remarkable successes in converting important Communists.

• • •

In this respect the Church of Rome is a model of energy, resource and common sense which other churches might imitate. Great numbers of Communists have embraced their political creed after an intellectual struggle; they have asked for certainties, a great cause, and a way of life, and Communism has supplied these wants. But Christianity also has a creed, a great cause and a way of life to offer to perplexed people, and it is perfectly possible to became a Christian by a process of intellectual conviction, just as one may become a Communist by the same means. There are, indeed, striking similarities in the two beliefs as regards their ultimate aims in this world. The means, however, by which Christianity seeks to achieve its ends are very different from the means advocated by Communism, and the scope of Christian philosophy and belief is vastly greater than anything which Communism has to offer.

• • •

Why then, do not the Church of England, the Church of Scotland, and the many churches which have derived from Wesley and the great men of the Reformation take steps to point these things out to Communists? Why do they leave this very important work to the Church of Rome, single-handed?

• • •

We hear a good deal about "Communist intellectuals". There are also many Christian intellectuals, and the intellectual appeal of Christianity is profound. Why, then, is the Roman Church the only church which makes a consistent, intelligent effort to enlist the adherence and help of intellectual people? It is a bitter pill to many a man whose cast of mind is primarily intellectual that if he wants a coherent exposition and a philosophical foundation for Christianity he must seek it from the Church of Rome; is it any wonder that the opinion is often expressed among such men that the Reformation spirit is dead, and that the apathy which was once thought to be the vice of Rome has now found congenial quarters in the Protestant Church?

• • •

We are glad that the Roman Church is successfully raiding the Communist camp; we glory in its pluck and determination. But we should feel happier if Christianity as a whole were in the fight. The Church Militant cannot advance on one leg.

Hail, Gladdening Light!

The first injunction, the first order after chaos, was Let there be light. For many dark months we in Ontario have sensed that all was not right with the world, that perhaps civilization was returning not to the Dark Ages but to the formless void. We have been a people walking in darkness. But now, ah now, we shall see great lights — even neon. Queen's Park, through the voice of Premier Drew, has spoken; the response to the first injunction came clear at 16.32 hours yesterday: Let there be light: And there was light. Let us therefore join the hymn (Dr. Watts', we presume) in celebration of the rain which has made the light possible:

See the shining dew-drop
Lighting up the wood,
Saying, ever saying,
God is ever good.

The Domestic Disappearance Of Butter

The principle argument for dropping the ban on margarine is that the ban is an infringement on the civil rights of the people of this country. It gives the butter-producers a monopoly and takes away from the people their freedom of choice. They are allowed to choose between cotton and woollen clothing, but not between butter and margarine. Now they have the alternative of butter or no butter—which is no choice at all.

Many consumers are being forced to take the no-butter alternative, because either the cost of butter is too high or there is no butter for sale. If margarine were for sale, the high costs could be circumvented by families unable to afford butter all the time and the shortage would not exist.

It does no harm to the basic argument to point out that this country's butter production for domestic purposes is declining and that a shortage is far from unusual. What statisticians call "the domestic disappearance of butter" is indicated by the following figures. In 1942 there were 385,946,000 pounds available or 33.12 pounds per person. In 1946 there were 315,323,000 pounds available, or 25.64 pounds per person. That is a decrease of more than 70½ million pounds.

On Monday the Secretary of Dairy Farmers of Canada, Mr. Kitchen, offered the hope that the present shortage of butter would be ended in three weeks. The late winter production of butter is always low, and at the present time about half the butter being consumed comes out of storage (incidentally at a handsome profit for somebody). Mr. Kitchen explained that we could not import butter from New Zealand, as was done last year when six thousand tons were imported. He said that efforts had been made to import butter from Holland, but the cost was found to be prohibitive. The Secretary of the Dairy Farmers of Canada has given some cogent reasons for dropping the ban on margarine.

WEEKLY BOOK REVIEW

Waugh, Love And Death

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

I HAVE just been reading a novel which has made me laugh louder and oftener than anything I have seen in years. It is "The Loved One" by Evelyn Waugh, and it will not be published for general circulation until early summer; it comprises the whole of the February edition of "Horizon", however, and as I am a subscriber of "Horizon", it has come my way a little earlier than it will come yours. There is a reason for this. In the Introduction the editor of "Horizon", Cyril Connolly, writes thus: "This month we let our readers in for a treat—a sneak pre-view! Why have they been chosen to receive this smooth, all-star performance? The answer is partly given by Mr. Waugh himself: 'I anticipated ructions', he writes, 'and one reason for me seeking publication in Horizon was the confidence that its readers were tough stuff.'"

✧ ✧ ✧

THE reason why Mr. Waugh has foreseen ructions, and felt that it would be well to try his story upon a group of readers who are supposed to be, on the average, a little more sinewy of intellect than the subscribers to ladies' lending libraries, is that his story "The Loved One" is the sharpest attack on the U.S.A. that any British writer has made since Dickens wrote "Martin Chuzzlewit". Americans have become a good deal less thin-skinned than they were in 1844, when Dickens smote them hip and thigh, but they are still touchy and there can be no question but that they will resent Evelyn Waugh's attack bitterly. Canadians, sitting on the sidelines and with a good view of both camps, should have a great deal of innocent fun watching the fireworks.

✧ ✧ ✧

AS anyone who is likely to be reading this column knows, Evelyn Waugh visited Hollywood last year, having been invited to assist in the filming of one of his novels. He did not like Hollywood, and refused to permit the movie studios to do things to his book which he felt would harm it. Therefore he left California with no film made, and said a good many sharp things about the movie industry. So far as I know, there was nothing of sour grapes about this; Waugh relinquished a good deal of money rather than allow his book to be distorted, and left Hollywood of his own accord. "The Loved One" is about Hollywood, though only incidentally about the movie industry.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT would rob you of a great treat if I were to tell too much of the story of "The Loved One" here. It is enough to say that it is about a young Englishman who wishes to marry a girl who works as a cosmetician for an undertaker, in order that she shall keep him in idleness while he writes poetry. (This last sentence sounds unkind to poets, but they will understand what I mean; the langour which precedes the birth of a poem looks like idleness to uninformed minds.) Meanwhile he himself works humbly as an assistant to a pets' undertaker — a man who embalms, cremates and buries dogs, cats, birds and other domestic favourites. But he has a rival, no less a person than the most accomplished embalmer in California—a man whose ability to massage the corpse of a suicide back to a semblance of healthy slumber is the admiration of his trade. What happens, and how it all resolves itself is too good to be condensed, but I urge you not to miss it when you have a chance to read the book.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE book will deeply offend many Americans because it is a merciless assault upon their burial customs. It is Christian belief, of course, that the body without the spirit is but clay, and in the countries of the Old World it is not usual for anyone except the members of his immediate family to see the body of one who has died; often even these relinquish their privilege. Only persons of the highest consequence lie in state. Embalmment is not usual, painting the face of the corpse is rarely done, and it is customary to wrap corpses in shrouds. In the U.S.A., as we all know, nothing so simple as this is the custom, and very often funeral arrangements are carried to lengths which suggest rather a frightened attempt to preserve a living being who has unaccountably fallen into a deep fit, rather than the disposal of a shell which was once made animate by an immortal soul. It is the paganism and mawkish sentimentality of American funeral customs, and the fear of death which they imply, which Waugh pierces with the sharpest of scalpels. The result is an uproariously funny book.

✧ ✧ ✧

"THE Loved One" is deep as well as funny. Its implications are vast. Instead of buffeting our American neighbours in a dozen different places Waugh hits them one smashing blow in their tenderest spot. We can hardly expect them to like it, though a minority of thoughtful people in the U.S.A. will agree with Waugh. This is, to my mind, the best book that Evelyn Waugh has given us; it has all the ebullience and brilliant invention of his earliest works, refined and disciplined by technical mastery. Most decidedly this is a book which you must not miss.

Westminster To Be Replanned

Westminster—the centre of government in Britain—is to be replanned. An exhibition opened in London recently illustrates the main proposals contained in a new scheme for re-organizing this historic spot. The main principle of the plan is to restore to this part of London its original character. Then, the precincts of the Abbey were quite free from traffic and as people went about their business on foot they could enjoy an atmosphere which breathed the very essence of Britain's story through the centuries. This has become endangered in recent years by the increase of motor traffic around the Abbey and the Houses of Parliament. The plan accordingly recommends the diversion of all wheeled traffic away from this area by creating new routes for it.—U.K. Information.

Letters To The Editor

WANTS PEN FRIENDS

Sir: A copy of your newspaper was sent to a friend here, and work is much appreciated. So I haste to write you. I hope you will help to publish my name in your paper to promote international friendship. I would like to have some penpals of both sexes. I collect handkerchiefs, rings, cards, and many other things. I also exchange native articles for American articles.

I hope you will not disappoint me. Thanks very much for your help to promote international friendship.

I promise to reply to letters I receive.

Sincerely yours,

BUTTER MONOPOLY IS DEMOCRACY IN REVERSE

Sir: "Farmer" complains that 75c per lb. for butter leaves no profit. How does he explain Mr. Maclean's figure of $600,000 odd for one firm?

Editor's note raises the question of margarine. A small politically active minority dictates to the majority that they shall not eat a perfectly wholesome food, which would prevent the minority from extorting money from them. We read a lot about the threat of Communism, this type of government connivance is just what creates it. They see how a minority can win; no other nation in the world has this vicious legislation.

Why not enforce the burning of coal in place of coke, or force people to travel by train instead of by bus? Why not force us to use vegetable dyes in place of aniline dyes? We use vegetable cooking fats, why not use vegetable butter? By what right do these persons force me to use animal butter? From the standpoint of reason this legislation is an outrage, it is democracy in reverse.

C. W. HOLMAN.

CONSIDERS WORKING CONDITIONS GOOD

Sir: The G.E. worker who says he is satisfied with present wages at Peterborough works knows quite well what he is speaking about. Our wages and working conditions are as good if not better than other factories in the city. I feel this whole wage dispute is caused only by the high cost of living and that's what we must control. A raise in pay today means nothing, for the cost of living takes another jump and don't forget about the income tax.

There is only one solution, get our shoulders all together and bring down the high cost of living.

A Veteran of 5½ Years Service on all European Fronts and a proud G.E. Worker.

GOOD REASONS FOR PSEUDONYMS

Sir: Mr. Muir wrote to say "anyone who writes a letter to the press and is afraid or ashamed to sign his proper name and address without using an alibi name is not telling the truth, he should go and see a donkey and have the donkey kick some brains into his head". I cannot see why the use of a pseudonym should render the contents of a letter untrue.

However my point is that I think that a great deal of credit is due to the editor for his judgement in publishing such of these letters as have some interest. Some Toronto editors are too lazy to do this. Mr. Muir is likely an independent gentleman, if he was a civil servant he might find it very unprofitable to write a letter to the papers criticizing the government. A good example occurred during the war when the L.C.B. put their stamp on a purchaser's identity certificate. Employers examined these certificates from time to time and a teetotal employer might penalize the owner of such a certificate: an example of enforced exposure of a person's private affairs by the government. The writer saw tons of rubber burned at the height of the rubber shortage during the war by the firm employing him, he did not write to the papers about this under his own name.

A great many people smirk and sneer at those who write letters to the papers, they regard it as making an exhibition of one's self, likely they have not enough brains to think of something worth writing about. So a great many correspondents use pseudonyms to avoid these reproaches or for the reasons illustrated above.

No, Mr. Muir, circumstances alter cases, kicking donkeys notwithstanding.

Yours truly,
"PETER".

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand.... For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures: and that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve....

Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen: and if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain....

If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that slept....

For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. But every man in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; afterward they that are Christ's at his coming. (I Cor. 15: 1, 3-5, 12-14, 19, 20, 22, 23.)

Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. (Rom. 6: 3, 4.)

Sucker List For Germans

Bizonia's newest racket is selling names and addresses of Americans to Germans, who then write letters begging for food parcels. The average rate for a 10-name list is around $1.

This flourishing business has put an astronomical value on United States phone books; the current Manhattan directory would yield about $45,000. The biggest prize: a recent Who's Who.—From a Berlin report to "New Republic".

Jeanne: "Did he, dear? He probably meant you were well painted."

NEARLY GOT CAUGHT — Trapped for three hours by rising tides and swift currents that cut off their retreat from rocks below Chain Bridge over the Potomac in Washington, three youthful fishermen are hauled 90 feet to safety by a fire rescue squad. One of the rescuers, Lt. M. C. Fairall (centre), directs Robert Burly (right), 17, as he starts up the ropes to safety. Robert Horne (left), 19, awaits his turn. The third boy, Jackie Hughes, 16, already had been hauled to the bridge when the photo was taken.

Dread Diseases, Few Doctors Plague Pakistan

By NOEL BUCKLEY

KANACHI, March 31 (Reuters) —Twenty mothers and about 160 babies die for every 1,000 births throughout the Indian sub-continent and the expectation of life of those infants who do survive is about 27 years.

There is a doctor for every 6,000 of the population and a hospital bed for every 4,000. Undivided India spent about 6 annas (about 10 cents) per head of the population.

Malaria, still the greatest scourge of the masses, costs India and Pakistan together roughly the equivalent of $44,000,000 in loss of earnings through illness every year, and with other fevers, kill about 3,500,000 people every year.

Cholera, smallpox, plague, dysentery, tuberculosis carry off their hundreds of thousands annually and so far as public interest is concerned those deadly diseases attract little more attention than measles or scarlet fever in Britain.

That is the public health problem which now confronts the new Dominions of India and Pakistan.

And here, in Pakistan, it is further aggravated by the fact that partition has left the Dominion with only one medical college capable of training students to the final year, no facilities for post-graduate training, no research institutes, no pharmaceutical factories nor any institute or laboratory for the preparation of vaccine or sera. In all Pakistan there is only one dental college.

Nursing Not Popular

In addition, Pakistan suffers, in common with India, a grave shortage of doctors and a still more acute shortage of nurses because Indian women, either caste Hindus or Moslems, are not inclined to adopt nursing as a profession. There is also a shortage of all kinds of medical technicians.

Improving the public health of a nation of 65,000,000 people is obviously a long-term project. Even the considerable problem of providing additional medical colleges appears insignificant beside the tremendous task of increasing eight-fold the number of doctors in Pakistan and increasing a hundred-fold the number of nurses.

In the light of this, Pakistan's modest plans to provide a hospital at the headquarters of each district — a district is the administrative sub-division of a province and usually holds about 1,000,000 people — and a dispensary to serve every 50,000 people, take on a new importance.

The hospitals are to be in charge of fully qualified doctors assisted by medical licentiates — a recognized medical practitioner but with lower qualifcatons than a medical graduate of a university. The dispensaries to be located in central villages would be attended by a druggist and a medical orderly and be visited once a week by a medical licentiate.

Pakistan is planning to increase its nursing force by recruiting men to be trained as male nurses or medical orderlies for dispensary work, while by raising the status of nurses and providing training abroad for selected nurses it hopes to attract more women to the profession.

Pat Sullivan Plans Action Against Hayes

MONTREAL, March 31.—(CP). —J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, president of the recently formed Canadian Lake Seamen's Union, said yesterday he will take legal action to make Edward (Ned) Hayes substantiate statements attributed to him in Toronto.

Hayes, an organizer at Fort William for the CLSU, was quoted as saying he had quit the union because 'I can no longer be a party to an anti-labor plot." He said the "plot" was directed against the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC), which Sullivan formerly headed and left claiming it was Communist-dominated.

Sullivan said he was "amazed" at Hayes' statement about quitting the union. He said Hayes was recalled to Montreal from Fort William and "dismissed for cause which the union will substantiate at a later date."

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*

can rob you of energy and ambition!

WE ALL KNOW people whose stamina and spirits seem always under par — who lack ambition and drive — who look like pale, tired failures. Often, such effects come from a blood condition. They may indicate a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron. They may mean that your red blood cells may be too faded and puny to transmit full energy to your body. Many women, men and children go dragging through life with this Borderline Anemia.

How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor

Take Ironized Yeast Tablets if you're too pale, too tired because of this blood deficiency. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells—thus restore vigor.

Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other conditions—so consult your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to help build up your blood. Take them to start your energy shifting back into "high"—help restore your color! Take them so you can enjoy life again!

*A mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA why it can make you TIRED • PALE • LISTLESS

Blood that builds energy! This is how energy-building blood looks under a microscope. Here are big, plentiful red blood cells that can release vigor to all your body.

Blood in Borderline Anemia! Many have blood like this; never know it. Cells are puny, faded. Blood like this can't release the energy you need to feel and look your best.

Ask Tamblyn's

EGG WHITES: "My egg whites will not stiffly beat. I keep them in the refrigerator. Is that the reason?"

Egg whites beat more quickly when they are room temperature. Take them from the refrigerator and separate them. Then let the whites stand 10 minutes before beating. If they are fresh they should peak up to the top of the bowl.

MIRRORS: "I bought a new mirror which had three stickers on it saying: "Plate glass." Since they have been removed there are three distinct squares which cleaning won't budge. What shall I do?"

A good mirror man will go to see your glass and advise you. Mirrors are so expensive these days we need to take care of them.

ACID FREE FOODS: "I am on a diet to get rid of excess acid in my system. Can you tell me what foods contain acid and what are acid free?"

The following foods on being digested leave an alkaline ash. This, according to the experts, combats acidity—Molasses, Olives, Dried Figs, Raisins, Dried Beans, Dried Milk, Almonds, Parships, Dates, Carrots, Turnips, Rhubarb, White Potatoes, Cabbage, Baked Beans, Apricots, Bananas, Oranges, Grapefruit, Condensed Milk, Lemons, Mushrooms, Grape Juice, Apples, Whole Raw Milk, Buttermilk, Pablum, Onions, Ice-Cream.

LAYETTES: "Could you please tell me the number of garments to include in a layette?"

The Red Cross recommend three Vanta Vests, 12 diapers, three nightgowns, a knitted bonnet, sweater and bootees, a blanket, face cloth and towel. This is the minimum. Most mothers add extras.

MY, MY: MOTHER-IN-LAW: "My prospective mother-in-law won't speak to me because I'm marrying her only son. Would you think this looks like a happy marriage?"

From family rows we stay quite clear.

Because to us life still is dear.
But if you marry, do not mar
Or happiness will truly sag.

WINNING SMILE—Flashing that winning smile (as he knocks off some whiskers) is Wally Stanowski of Toronto Maple Leafs. While he didn't score any goals in that 5-1 Stanley Cup semi-final victory in Boston last night, Wally did see off to good effect on some rabid fans who tried to maul Coach Hap Day and some of the Leafs. The Smythe squad can eliminate Bruins on Boston ice tomorrow.

Reds Defeat Barons 8-3

By The Canadian Press

Coach Terry Reardon returned to the active list at Providence last night and led his Reds to their first triumph in series "A" of the American Hockey League playoffs, downing Cleveland's red-hot Barons 8-3.

This was the Barons first setback in 31 games, including 27 league contests and four Calder Cup tilts. Cleveland leads the best-of-seven semi-final series 3-1 with the fifth game slated for Cleveland Thursday.

Reardon, former centre in the National Hockey League banged in two goals to pace the Providence attack. Harry Taylor, Carl Liscombe, Ray LaPlante, Art Michaluk, Jack Stoddard and Harvey Fraser notched a goal apiece to round out the Reds scoring. Tony Bukovich, Roy Kelly and Ed Sprout notched one goal each for Barons.

In the other semi-final, Buffalo Bisons easily skated into the finals by whipping New Haven Ramblers 6-2 to take the best-of-three series two straight.

Freddie sparked the Bisons with a pair of goals while George Pargeter, Murdo McKay, Hal Laycoe and Tommy Cooper picked up one each. Chick Webster and Dunc Fisher scored the New Haven goals.

Raiders Edge Markham

OSHAWA, March 31 — (CP)—Georgetown Raiders last night scored a 4-1 victory over Markham Millionaires in the first game of their best-of-seven Ontario Hockey Association Intermediate A final series. Gibson, Storie, Beaumont, and M. Bradburn tallied the Georgetown goals. Lawrie counted the Markham's lone marker.

RAY PICKED — The Petes' senior "B" puckists last night voted Goalie Ray Harding the most valuable player on the club for the 1948 season, ahead of Honey Tompkins. The starry net-guardian will receive an engraved OHA trophy.

HANK GIVES PAT A HAND—Big Hank Greenberg, the former Detroit and Pittsburgh slugger gives streamlined Pat Seerey a few batting hints in the Cleveland Indians' camp at Tucson, Ariz. Seerey, who has dropped plenty of pounds, hits a long ball but also has a tendency to strike out too often. Hank, who still hasn't signed an Indians' contract, has been working with the Fat Boy.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

May we remind you folks again that this is the time to kick in if you want a rink here next winter? If wishers were contributions there'd be nothing to it—the arena would be an accomplished fact. But the time for talk is past, it's now or never on the secondary rink proposition and it takes money. If you want to see good hockey again and if you want the Peterborough youngsters to have a rink this is the time to peel a skin off the roll and hand it in. Best wishes in the world won't build it—cold cash is needed. Committee guarantees money back if the rink is not ready to start off next hockey season. Let's get back in company with the centres having hockey at home.

Jerry O'Donoghue sent us a two-buck invitation from the Dynamo Football Club of Niagara Falls to a banquet there April 1. Jerry played for 'em last autumn and starred, too. Guest speakers are announced as Larry Sullivan, Frank Gnup, Fred Gabriel, Brian Timmis, Frank Filchock and Len Black. Quite an array of grid talent and no doubt it will be an interesting affair, though we won't be on hand. The gridders are gradually getting going earlier each year what with coaching schools in the winter, spring training and indeed sometimes summertime exhibitions ere an early autumn schedule start. Sports do overlap indeed these years.

Won't Be Long Now

Something should be popping soon on the local girls' softball setup as April meanders onto the scene. It is organization month for summer sports, and no doubt the lasses' annual meeting will be held in the near future. President Bill Bennett announced at the banquet last fall that he wouldn't run for office this year but he might change his mind, who knows? Bill has done a lot for the game here down the years and, even if he decides not to head the loop again, his experience should be utilized. He has been named PWSU convener up this way, too.

* * * * * *

Men's softball circuit has already re-organized with officers elected and a general start made. An early meeting will be held to take entries and clean up other pre-seasonal business. As mentioned before, it will probably be a four-team loop and entries expected are: Knights of Columbus (the '47 champs), De Laval, Legion and a new B-A entry run by Johnny Russelle. These aren't definite yet, but it looks that way at present. Games again at the Bowl, sharing this spot several nights a week with the girls. Floodlights last year made twin bills the order nightly and that will be the case this coming softball semester. Other softball leagues will be getting lined up in April, also.

Ray Harding Chosen

Peterborough Hockey Club had a huddle last night and came out of it to announce Goalie Ray Harding had been voted the most valuable player for the Petes' senior "B" puckists in 1948. He headed Honey Tompkins at the polls. It is a good choice as Ray played bangup hockey between the pipes all through the season, and he earned the OHA trophy, though Tompkins also turned in his usual starry brand of play. And the club decided to give $100 toward the secondary rink project. This is a generous gesture by the Petes as they ran into a lot of rough weather during "home" games all winter and didn't finish in too good a financial condition. Nice work, Prexy Ed Riley and the rest.

Looks like those Toronto scribes weren't sticking their necks out after all in claiming a shoo-in for Leafs over Bruins. The Maples mauled Bruins 5-1 on Boston ice last gloaming and may well make it a four-straight sweep on the morrow there. A rough joust, according to accounts, fights spilling over from the ice to the crowd, and several players were hurt. Bruins' president, Weston Adams, was put out of the Leafs' dressing-room afterward on orders of Conny Smythe, so the feeling must have been high. And, unless the Clapper crew come back strdongly on Thursday, big Dit may be back here this week-end. The surprising Rangers beat Wings 3-1 last eve to sew up their Stanley Cup semi-final serial at two tilts each.

* * * * * *

And This Means You

Secretary Doug Miller Jr. advises us of a junior rugby players' meeting this Saturday aft at two in the "Y", and unless there is a big turnout of players the whole idea of a junior grid club for this year will be dropped. Definite interest must be shown at this time, or else. Spring training is planned and the executive has been doing its part, so now it is strictly up to the prospective players. The club, if formed, will be affiliated with the ORFU in a good grouping, and have first-class equipment.

Harriers Club Prepares For Summer

After a successful winter indoor season, the Peterborough Harriers Club runners are out on the streets now training for the coming track and field season. The club plans an open three mile road race on Saturday, April 17, for the Peter Dominik Trophy. Entry blanks may be obtained at the YMCA or from The Examiner sports editor. New members are welcome to attend training sessions held every Tuesday and Thursday night at seven on the PCVS campus.

The club is gradually growing as new members sign up each week. The latest member to join is Roy Braclough, a former miler with the Edinburgh Harriers in Scotland. He was clocked last summer in four minutes, 23 secons for a mile, which is exceptionally good time. He will train with the local clubs' middle distance runners.

A point system has been set up and an athlete taking first place in any closed Harriers' event receives five points, second place getting three and third two points. Any runners who make a good showing receive one point. At the end of the season the points are totalled and the top point-getter receives a trophy as the club's outstanding athlete for the year.

Curling Season Concludes

By HERB MARTIN

With rinks entered from Kirkland Lake, Timmins, Collingwood, Guelph, Galt, Oshawa, Cobourg, Pembroke, Belleville, Lindsay and Peterborough, the Peterborough Kiwanis Club held their second annual Kiwanis bonspiel at the Charlotte St. curling rink on Monday.

So popular has this event became in the short space of two years that the entry this year was just about twice that of last year. The keynote of the day was good fellowship and this was clearly shown throughout the bonspiel, both on and off the ice.

Jack Allan was master of ceremonies for the day and he did his job well. He was all over the place extending the glad hand to all. He had his committee on their toes all day, and the visiting Kiwanians were generous with appreciation.

Governor Here

Ken Greenaway, Guelph, district governor for Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime provinces, was an interested spectator throughout the entire 'spiel. Many of the visitors were here for the first time and promised to be back again next season.. After the prizes had been presented the boys left for their homes, all declaring it was the best Kiwanis 'spiel held yet.

The prize winners were published in last night's Examiner.

When C. Glassford played his last stone on the last end, playing against R. Akers, the curling season for 1947-48 came to an end.

Last Game

It was the final game of the Neill Consolation and also the final game of the year. The game was see-saw all the way through and a break either way would have meant the game. It has been a good series, lots of games, lots of good curling and a good long season. Congratulations to everybody.

The curlers are reminded of the annual meeting Friday, April 2, at 8.00 p.m.

Dickson Hurls No-Hit Game

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 31 — (AP). — Murray Dickson of St. Louis Cardinals hurled the second no-run, no-hit nine inning spring exhibition game in baseball history yesterday. The performance showed manager Eddie Dyer he was justified in standing by the little right-hander last year when he couldn't win for losing. The Cards won 7-0.

The Cardinals, and Dickson in particular, had tough luck all through the 1947 season. He wound up with 13 victories and 16 losses. The fans were down on him, but Dyer kept rushing him into vital contests despite the boos from the crowd.

Murray picked on the world champion New York Yankees yesterday. He faced 30 batters, walking five and hitting one. He struck out six. The Yanks' best effort was a screaming liner that Joe DiMaggio hit straight at shortstop Tommy Glaviano.

Dickson didn't have to work hard The Cards stepped out in the first inning and clubbed Bill Bevens for seven runs.

NEW GOLD CUP RECORD — Guy Lombardo, shown above, shakes hands with Gar Wood just before he set out to break Wood's record of 124 miles per hour in a speedboat at Miami, Fla. Lombardo, in his Tempo VI, below, did not beat the Wood mark, but did establish a new world's record for Gold Cup class boats. Lombardo's 113.028 miles per hour bested the old Gold Cup record of 100.987, set in 1940.

Overtime Victories For Millers, Kansas

By The Asociated Press

Overtime victories, both by 2-1 scores, highlighted the United States Hockey League playoffs last night.

Minneapolis won the opener of a best-of-three series at Fort Worth by that score, and Kansas City drew even at two games apiece with Houston in the best-of-seven at Kansas City.

The Minneapolis-Fort Worth series resumes in Minneapolis Thursday night. Kansas City and Houston wind up their playoff in Houston, beginning Thursday.

Bear Strike Trouble May Delay Racing

NEW YORK, March 31—(AP)—The New York racing season is scheduled to begin tomorrow at Jamaica, but labor trouble may postpone it.

Grooms and exercise boys announce that they would strike against some 130 horse owners and trainers at 6 a.m. tomorrow unless they sign an agreement with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL). The union said it believed such a walkout would halt racing.

However, Luke H. O'Brien, general manager of Jamaica, declared: "We will operate."

Owners and trainers withheld comment.

Leafs Easily Beat Bruins 5-1 Chalk Up Third Straight Win

BOSTON, March 31 — (CP)— Whatever hopes Boston Bruins fans might have had of bringing the Stanley Cup to Boston this year suffered a serious setback last night as the high-stepping Toronto Maple Leafs racked up a convincing 5-1 decision over the home team, their third straight victory in the best-of-seven post-season playoff series.

The champion Leafs, playing before a packed house of 13,909 disappointed fans, outplayed the Bruins by the widest margins and are top-heavy favorites to take the series here Thursday night.

The Bruins were hopelessly bogged down and it took them 40 minutes to get five shots on Toronto's Turk Broda and their sole counter, made just after a face-off, was a fluky affair.

Jack Crawford, whose return to action had heartened the Bruins, fired a 50-footer in the general direction of the Toronto net and the puck glanced off Milt Schmidt's chest.

Howie Meeker and Bill Barilko sent the Leafs into an early two-goal lead, and eight minutes after Crawford fluky shot, the Leafs again flashed the light to bring the count to 3-1.

Other Toronto goals went to Garth Boesch and Nick Metz. The game was a bruising affair and a number of penalties were handed out, including majors to Moe Henderson and Harry Watson.

Rough It Up

Aside from the Toronto team's big margin of play, the contest had little to offer in the way of clever hockey. Most of the excitement stemmed from a deliberate Boston attempt to rough up the Leafs in the first period. This action backfired to such an extent that it overflowed into the railside seats, culminating with fans swarming on to the ice after the game in a vicious attempt to get at Coach Hap Day and several Toronto players.

This interlude had its aftermath when Boston president Weston Adams entered the Toronto dressing-room after the game and was brusquely ejected at the vehement demand of Leafs' managing director Conn Smythe. The latter charged the Boston executive with adding to the hard feeling by refusing to permit the police officials to remove a belligerent fan early in the game.

The bad-tempered display of the fans, one of whom managed to slug Garth Boesch over the head from behind, dazing him, was deplored by the Boston sport writer, Herb Ralby of the Globe, went to the Leafs' dressing-room to apologize for the action of the fans, maintaining that the Toronto team were 100 per cent in the right in the demands for the removal of the disturbing fans early in the game.

Fight promoter Leo Leavitt of Honolulu said yesterday he will offer Rinty Monaghan of Belfast, Ireland, $12,500 to defend his world flyweight title against Dado Marino at Honolulu this spring.

Rangers Toss Aside Wings In Sparkling 3-1 Triumph

NEW YORK, March 31 (CP)— That wizard guesser Frank Boucher probably is revising his choice of Boston Bruins as Stanley Cup favorites in the light of the sparkling display last night of his own New York Rangers.

The underdog Rangers tossed aside Detroit Red Wings 3-1 to even the best-of-seven series at two games each.

Claude (Chuck) Rayner stopped 31 shots of the outplayed Detroit team which took the first two games of the National Hockey League post-season play 2-1 and 5-2 and then toppled 2-1 last Sunday.

Stretching their unbeaten record in home playoff games against Detroit to five, the Rangers forced Harry Lumley to make 20 saves as they overcame a one-goal deficit marked up in the first period by goal-hot Jimmy McFadden. The rookie centre scored his third goal and fifth point of the series on the poke shot.

Boucher hit the mark in a pre-season prognostication on how the NHL teams would place in the season play.

Come To Life

Rangers came to life in the second period last night and notched two markers within 34 seconds.

Bryan Hextall tied the score at 10.07 on a 25-foot drive with Phil Watson and Buddy O'Connor setting up the play. Then Ed Kullman drifted in on Lumley and his 10-foot shot found the mark.

Ted Lindsay was languishing in the cooler for tripping when Hextall scored and had been on the ice only six seconds when Kullman tallied what proved to be the winning marker. That was the costliest of the seven penalties handed out.

A centre-ice pass from rookie Fred Shero shot Tony Leswick into the clear for the clinching goal of the third period. The scrappy left winger scored his second goal and fifth point of the series when he pushed the puck under Lumley.

Whipper Watson Takes On Davis Tonight At Brock

Tonight on the Brock Arena mat will be decided whether the gigantic 270-lb. Wee Willie Davis is more than a match for Canada's own Whipper Billy Watson. The Whipper won their first go here but Davis had some grounds for his complaint that ringsiders kept him from getting back into the ring to beat the ten-count. Even the most biased fan will admit that the Hollywood bad man was justified in seeking more protection from the Arena management. Tonight will settle it and a smashing rough bout is expected.

Cardiff Giant

The Cardiff Giant will be in against that case-hardened Ohioan Big Jack Moore who partnered with Davis to beat the Sharpe boys here two weeks ago. If the Cardiffian can get that back-breaking bear-hug of his on the villainous Moore the fans will be happy.

Nanjo Singh meets Jimmy "Red" Simms in the opening bout to start off an evening that spells thrills and excitement throughout.

Flyers Down Lions 11-5; Get Midget Title

BARRIE, March 31.—(CP). — Another hockey honor was added last night to this town already holding the Junior A Ontario Hockey Association championship.

Barrie Flyers last night captured the Midget NHL championship of Ontario and the Calder Cup by defeating Weston Lions 11-5. The other clubs in the four-team round robin series were Copper Cliff and Simcoe.

This was the first time in eight years of competition that Copper Cliff failed to make the finals. Although they walloped Simcoe 22-0 in the afternoon, a previous loss to Barrie and a tie with Simcoe left Copper Cliff with insufficient points to enter the final. In the other afternoon tilt Weston eked out a 5-4 decision over Barrie to give them first and second final placings respectively.

Danny Poland paced the Flyers in the final victory by firing four goals. John Walton and Dan McDonald each scored twice, while Bill Sexton, Dick Delaney and Lloyd Pearsall scored singles.

George Screen led the Lions with two markers, while Wilf Chard, Orville Calhoun and Ray Morris scored one each.

In the earlier afternoon game, Weston snipers were McConnel with two, Calhoun, Morris and Cruickshank with one apiece. For the Barrie squad, Garrett, McDonald, Walton and Poland all potted singles.

Copper Cliff displayed a powerful scoring punch in bowing out of the picture in the afternoon as Baker and Smith scored five goals apiece. Kavanagh sniped four, Holden three, Sleaver two, Clelland, Prescott and Toppazzini one each.

AS RED WINGS CLIPPED NEW YORK IN STANLEY CUP PLAY-OFFS — New York Rangers' goalie Rayner makes a fast save after a hard shot by Detroit Reds Wings' Syd Abel in the first quarter of the semi-finals played at Detroit recently. A small crowd of 12,249 saw Detroit beat New York at Olympia Stadium with a score of 2-1. By virtue of Rangers' win over Detroit at Madison Square Garden last Sunday and Tuesday nights, the New Yorkers are now tied with Wings in the best-of-seven semi-final series for the Stanley Cup.

Role Of Juliet Lures Star From Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 31 (AP). (AP)—Olivia DeHavilland, who is eager to star in "Romeo and Juliet" on Broadway, seeks Michael Redgrave to appear with her.

Max Reinhardt, who discovered Olivia for his "Midsummer Night's Dream" in 1934, told her she would be a perfect Juliet, and she has wanted to play the role ever since. She hopes to do the play during the next New York season and Redgrave is her first choice as co-star.

Slowing Down

Fred MacMurray, who has been slowing down his movie-making pace, swears he will break away from Hollywood this summer. "Unless of course, Miss Bergman wants me for a picture," he jests. He has promised his children he will spend all summer with them on his northern California ranch . . .

Robert Preston and Robert Mitchum were engaging in a strenuous slugfest for a bar-room brawl in "Blood on the Moon." The scene was stopped by a pained cry from Preston. "Did I hit you?" asked Mitchum. "No, you stepped on my toe," replied Preston . . .

Bob Hope and Madeline Carroll are planning a revival of their successful screen romance (remember "My Favorite Blonde?").

Trigger Safe

Roy Rogers was asked if he ever feared losing his famed nag, Trigger. "It isn't likely," he answered. "Trigger is 15 years old and I don't use him for dangerous stunts. For a long chase or rough riding I use one of several doubles. I figure Trigger is good for 10 more year."

Jack Benny's radio fans will get a look at his gal friend, Gladys Zabisco, in "The Gay Intruders." She's radio actress Sara Berner, who also play Eddie Cantor's Ida and Andy's girl friend on Amos 'n' Andy.

What's What In Baseball

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP)—Branch Rickey announced today the purchase by Brooklyn Dodgers of Roy Campanella, Negro catcher, from Montreal. That Campanella would be moved up was announced some time ago, but the deal wasn't made official until today. Rickey also intimated that Dan Bankhead, Negro pitcher, would be farmed out.

Washington Senators had some pitching today where they had a couple of question marks last week. Walt Masterson, out of action for a month, pitched three good innings in an intrasquad game at Orlando, Fla., yesterday. That Milo Candini, another doubtful quality, tossed six frames and allowed only two hits.

New York Giants' home run attack seems to be in form and Pittsburgh Pirates ought to know it. The Giants have whipped the Pirates two straight days at El Centro, Calif., on four-baggers.

A 30-man Detroit Tiger squad in trim left its Lakeland, Fla., quarters today and headed for New Orleans.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Policeman golfer Henry Martel of Edmonton, Canada's amateur champion in 1946, has forsaken his amateur status to become professional at Edmonton's Highland Golf Club, it was announced at Edmonton yesterday.

St. Catharines Lions, champions of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association Juvenile A series, left today for South Porcupine to defend their all-Ontario title against South Porcupine Tee Pees. The best-of-three series will be played Thursday and Friday nights there, with the third game, if necessary, at Schumacher.

The Province of Quebec Golf Association at its annual meeting last night temporarily shelved the proposed dollar-a-year plan after retiring president J. Albert Blodeau told the session that it would not be wise for the Quebec Association, with its present sound financial standing, to embark on such a course without the plan first proving itself.

Five thousand pigeons will be released when the summer Olympic games open July 29. The birds will be symbolic of the ancient custom of sending Olympic results to all parts of the Greek empire.

Larry Pennell, manager of the Brantford Red Sox senior baseball club, announced yesterday he has signed Frank Gnup, football coach of the Hamilton Wildcats, to handle the club in spring training. He also wants Gnup to handle the team as playing-coach through the regular season.

If the club can provide him with a pair of shoes, Wong Chen Ling wil be the lone Chinese runner in the annual Boston A.A. Marathon April 19. B.A.A. president Tom Kanaly yesterday received a letter with tracing of Wong's feet.

Classifications for women and junior players will be inaugurated next year by the Kitchener Granite Curling Club, it was announced yesterday. L. P. Malone succeeds J. M. Laing as president for 1948-49. Dr. S. T. White, of Orangeville, first vice-president of the Ontario Curling Association, was named a life member.

Top amateur golfers are expected to contest the annual invitation tournament of the London Hunt and Country Club this year, Jack Bash, games chairman, said yesterday. The event will be staged June 16.

Ten Teams Remain In Allan Cup Race

By The Canadian Press

Ten teams remained in the running today for the Allan Cup and the Canadian senior hockey championship, six in the east and four in the west. The survivors:

East—

Renfrew Lions, Hamilton Tigers, Ottawa Senators, Quebec Aces, Sherbrooke St. Francis, Victoriaville Tigers.

West—

Trail Smoke Eaters, Edmonton Flyers, Winnipeg Flyers, Fort Frances Canadians.

Appointed Parish Priest

KINGSTON, March 31.—Rev. Simmons Lesage, Stirling, former chaplain of the Hotel Dieu Hospital here, has been appointed parish priest of St. Mary's church at Chesterville. The appointment was made by Most Rev. J. A. O'Sullivan, DD, Archbishop of Kingston. Father Lesage, who was born at Tweed, was ordained to the priesthood in 1924, and has served as pastor of St. James' church at Stirling for several years. The transfer will take place in May.

U.S. Skaters Vie For Crown At Colorado

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., March 31 — (AP). — Nearly all of the United States Olympic skaters are here for the national figure skating championships which open a four-day stand today.

Presence of such stars as Dick Button, Gretchen Merrilll, Johnny Lettengarver, Helen Uhl and Yvonne Sherman promised a good show for the first big skating event ever held in this part of the country.

Champions will be crowned Saturday.

Miss Merrill, Boston veteran of 24, is so serious about winning the senior women's title for the sixth year in a row that she has been practising here for three weeks.

Miss Uhl, pretty Berkeley, Calif., girl, and the 17-year-old Miss Sherman of New York are looked upon as Gretchen's leading rivals.

Button, 18-year-old Olympic champion from Englewood, N.J., is a wide favorite to win the senior men's title for the third consecutive time.

Hamilton Tigers Walk Out Second Time

OTTAWA, March 31 — (CP)— It's a brave Wildcat that can put a Tiger in the bag. . . . And it's an old Tiger that jumps out of one into an other.

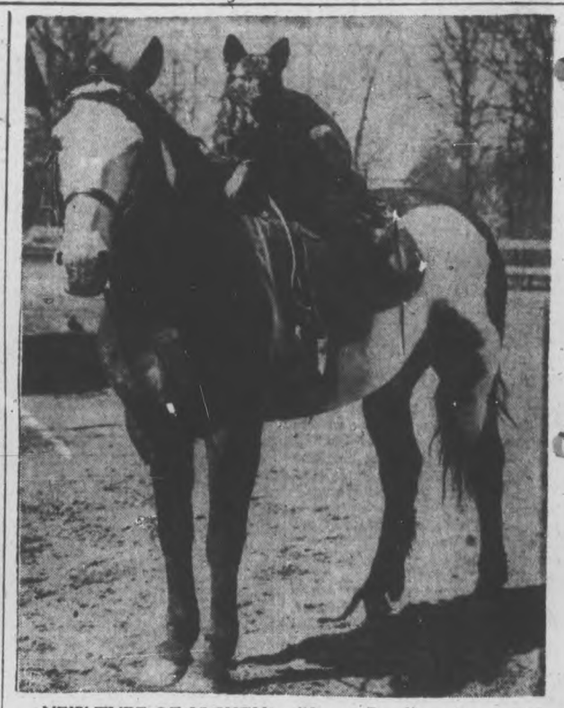
This is the case of the Hamilton Tigers, 42-year-old football fighters in the Big Four. Yesterday they blocked their last kick in the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union and left the field wide open for the football youngsters—the Hamilton Wildcats — to walk in.

After 10 days of wrangling and seeking a solution, the Tigers' executive yesterday officially — for its second time—quit the IRFU. E K (Eddie) Emerson, Big Four president, announced that Wildcats would be admitted at a meeting to-day in Toronto

Crux of the Tiger withdrawal was failure to obtain an adequate money division on away-from-home games and to effect an amalgamation with Wildcats, powerful crowd-pleasers in the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

It started in Ottawa when the Tigers sought a 33 1-3 split. They scaled the percentage to 20 per cent, and when this was not met they formally resigned from the league.

A meeting was called to consider a bid from Wildcats, but the Tigers urged a last-minute review and a "Big Five" appeared in prospect.



However, the IRFU insisted on the traditional Big Four and an attempt was made to promote a Tiger - Wildcat amalgamation — this failed.

Baseball Bonus Rule Headache

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP).— From now until May 15 a lot of baseball managers and club owners will be nursing a headache spelled "B-O-N-U-S" . . . That is to say they're just discovering what the bonus rule means . . . The rule says that a player who has received more than a certain amount in bonuses for signing can't be optioned out to the minors, without waivers, once he is brought up to the big league. The object, apparently, was to curb the custom of handing out huge amounts to youngsters by clubs which happened to be in the chips. All it accomplished was to keep these youngsters, many of whom need seasoning, sitting on benches in major league parks . . . Clark Griffith already has voiced the suspicion that some clubs have been cheating and covering up bonus players and it looks like a safe bet there'll be more of that unless the rule is repealed.

The Right Slant

Between halves of one of the Olympic trial basketball games the other night, members of the Olympic fencing team put on an exhibition with electrical epees . . . these swords have a device which flashes a light and sounds a buzzer when an opponent is touched with the tip . . . At one juncture there was a double touch and both gadgets sounded off . . . The basketball fans caught on immediately. From all sides came a chorus: "Tilt."

NEW TYPE OF JOCKEY!—"Sonny Boy," canine mascot of the Maine Chance stables at Belmont, N.Y., is quite at home in the saddle of "Major," one of the stable's ponies, during an early morning workout. Many a horseplayer will tell you that a dog might do just as well as some jockeys. And by the same token, some jockeys might do better with a dog!

Seek Clarification Of Robertson Will

TORONTO, March 31—(CP)—A motion for clarification of 12 questions arising from the will of John Ross Robertson will be heard today at Osgoode Hall.

The questions, submitted by the trustees of Mr. Robertson's estate, deal mainly with the clause governing sale of the Toronto Evening Telegram and disposition of income from the estate.

The will provides that the newspaper be sold by the trustees following the death of the last survivor of Mr. Robertson's widow and two sons. His widow outlived her sons and died last July.

Garson Urges United Appeal Against Rates

By The Canadian Press

A suggestion that Manitoba and other provinces which opposed an application for a freight rates increase unite to appeal against the 21-per-cent increase granted the railways was made yesterday in the Legislature at Winnipeg by Premier Stuart Garson.

Mr. Garson said the increase was "unfavorable for Manitoba because it adds substantially to our freight rate bill." Other prairie provinces opposed the application .

At Halifax, Opposition Leader Russell Cunningham (CCF—Cape Breton East) urged increased coal royalties as the Nova Scotia Legislature resumed sittings after a five-day Easter recess. He said revised royalties would bring an extra $100,000 into provincial coffers.

Lands Minister R. J. Gill petitioned the New Brunswick Legislature for introduction of a motion asking incorporation of a proposed $65,000,000 paper mill. The bill went to the standing rules committee and will return for first reading.

Quebec Premier Maurice Duplessis and Liberal Leader Adelard Godbout engaged in a debate on Communism as the Legislature Assembly studied the labor department budget. The assembly continued study of departmental budgets and aproved credits for the trade and commerce department totalling $1,256,000 and $882,600 for control of game.

Works Minister E. C. Carson told the British Columbia Legislature his province should have federal aid in carrying out highway programs. He said Dominion assistance should apply "not only on what is known as the Trans-Canada Highway but also on other main east-west and north and south routes."

Montreal To Build Huge Civic Centre

MONTREAL, March 31 (CP). — Montreal's proposed Civic Centre, backed by a group of business men and expected to cost between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000, will house a convention hall, auditorium, theatre and rinks for hockey games and ice shows.

The proposed site, already approved by the Greater Montreal Economic Council, is centrally located, between St. Antoine and Lagauchetiere Streets, near downtown hotels, railway stations and bus terminals.

Ernest Genest, president of the Montreal Tourist and Convention Bureau, said the new centre will accommodate 16,000 persons for conventions and prove a boon to building up the tourist and convention business.

The building will be air-conditioned and movable walls will provide smaller rooms. There will be an opera house with 3,500 seats and a smaller theatre for radio shows, plays and concerts, seating 1,500. An exhibition hall, with mezzaine floor for small exhibitions, will house automobile and machinery shows.

A gymnasium, swimming pool and parking space for 500 cars are included in the plans and there will be an office building of 10 to 12 storeys with space for radio-broadcasting stations.

Springville United Gets 11 New Members

SPRINGVILLE, March 31 — (ENS)—Easter sacrament service was held in Springville United Church at which 11 new members were received, four on certificate from other churches and seven young people on profession of faith. There were also two baptsims.

The choir, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Seymour, Guelph, contributed special Easter music. Dr. Reddick delivered the Easter message, based on the text, "Becaus He lives, I shall live also."

Find Murder Weapons

BRANTFORD, March 31 (CP) —A bloodstained axe and shovel were found in the garage where 77-year-old Isaac Hill was fatally beaten last November 9, an Ontario Supreme Court jury was told yesterday. The murder scene was described by Donald Davis, one of the first Crown witnesses in the trial of Maynard Jonathan, 18-year-old Indian youth accused of the murder.

Hurled Through Window

SOUTHAMPTON, England March 31.—(Retuers). — Donald Wolfit, Shakespearian producer and actor, was hurled through a plate glass window Saturday while returning to England from Canada, he revealed when the liner Aquitania docked here yesterday. The 34-year-old ship was buffeted by high seas almost all the way from Halifax to Southampton.

Say Canada Has 10 Years To Prepare Atom Defence

TORONTO, March 31 (CP)— Ontario Educational Association delegates turned their attention to new phases of teachers problems today after hearing speakers on a list of subjects ranging from possibilities of atomic warfare to panel discussions on education for family life.

Col. Wallane Goforth, a leading economist and scientist, told the technical section of the association's annual convention yesterday that Canada probably has at least 10 years to prepare a defence against atomic warfare.

A member of Canada's research advisory council on special warfare, Col. Goforth said: "We should assume Soviet Russia has her first uranium piles in operation, that she has produced enough plutonium for her first atomic bomb."

Premier Drew told the Trustees and Ratepayers Association, amid applause, that there will be no teaching of Communism in Ontario schools.

"There have been attempts to do it in some places under various guises," he said, "but they will not succeed. If we learn of a teacher who is spreading such doctrines, he will not be tolerated."

A panel discussion debating the question "are we really educating?" heard G. L. Roberts of Oshawa take a negative stand.

Language Courses Fail

Addressing the Modern Languages' Association, Dr. J. G. Althouse of the Ontario Department of Education, questioned the value of teaching foreign languages.

Speaking before the Science Teachers' Association, R. W. E. McFadden of Brantford deplored the fact that during the war the great increase in school population jumped sizes of classes from 20 to 40 or even 70.

He said the effectiveness of teaching seems to be inversely proportional to the size of the class.

The rural trustees section was told by Winnifred Ashplant counsellor for London secondary schools that sex education for the teen-ager must be tackled on a co-operative basis by the church, the school and the home, with such education beginning in the home.

The guidance section was told by J. A. Edmison of Toronto that teaching of skills provides both a preventative and a cure for crime. He referred to the success on reformatories at Brampton, Galt and Bowmanville which gave courses to penal offenders.

One of the highlights of the section was a symposium on "ideas that work," with those participating including Miss B. Cunningham, Sault Ste. Marie, K. Weaver, Owen Sound, J. H. Moebus, Peterborough and E. Arnold Orr, Windsor.

Hear Wage Requests

MONTREAL, March 31 (CP)— A Federal Government Conciliation Board considering a demand for a 35 cents an hour wage boost by 18 Canadian Railway Brotherhoods adjourned hearings yesterday and prepared to report its findings to Labor Minister Mitchell.

Ex-Dishwasher Buys Town Hopes To Put It On Feet

LANGELOTH, Pa., March 31.—(AP).—This once bustling community of 3,000 was rescued from a "ghost town" fate Tuesday by Gus (the Greek) Barbush, who as an immigrant boy got his start by washing dishes 36 years ago.

Gus saved Langloth by the simple process of buying it — the whole town—for a reported $500,000.

The town's troubles began when the American Zinc and Chemical Company decided to close its local zinc plant. The major industry here, it provided 800 jobs and a $9,000-a-day payroll. Officials explained the company's process was obsolete and the plant wasn't worth rebuilding.

Things looked pretty gloomy until Gus surveyed the scene. Gus lives in nearby Burgettstown, where as a lad of 13 he got his first dishwashing job. Working hard and saving his money, he build his original $7 into a small fortune. At Burgettstown he owns a large country store, a large restaurant, and a hotel building with a half-dozen stores.

Gus thought he might put Langeloth on its feet. He went to the Burgettstown bank, which showed its faith in him by advancing a $200,000 loan—largest it ever advanced to an individual.

With the loan Gus had little difficulty in buying the 390-acre property of the zinc company, which includes 261 houses, a water company, community hall, church, school, scout hut, sportsmen's club-house, park, and incidentals.

Gus's main objective is to induce a new industry to move into the empty plant. Then he wants to improve the town by laying out a baseball diamond, fixing the park, and similar projects.

BUSINESS AS USUAL—This is the scene on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange in Manhattan's financial district, shortly after the exchange opened for business recently, despite picketing of the Stock Exchange and of the Curb Exchange by striking members of the United Financial Employees' Union (AFL). Emil Schram, president of the Stock Exchange, reported that business was "normal." It was the first strike experienced by the Stock Exchange in its 156-year history.

IT'S FANTASTIC, but true, over 4,000,000 soldered connections must be made to complete a modern dial telephone exchange. This is but one of the operations in the mammoth programme of assisting your Operating Company by Northern Electric, Canada's largest makers of telephone equipment.
